

MRS. KABER'S TRIAL DEMANDS SPIRITS

MEDIUM TELLS OF VISIT TO KABER HOME AND RELATES CONVERSATION OF DEFENDANT—WOULD BE RID OF MR. KABER.

Cleveland, O., July 7.—Mysteries of the spirit world were discussed today in the trial of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, charged with the murder of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber.

Mrs. Mary J. Wade, who claims to be a medium, capable of communicating with spirits, told on the witness stand of visits by Mrs. Kaber to her home to obtain advice.

"I want you to try to get rid of Dan Kaber for me," Mrs. Wade said Mrs. Kaber told her on the last visit.

"How?" Mrs. Wade said she asked Mrs. Kaber.

"I want you to kill him—any way to get rid of him. The man I love has no money, only brains, and Mr. Kaber has 50 thousand dollars life insurance," Mrs. Kaber was alleged to have replied.

Mrs. Wade previously had told of a visit by Mrs. Kaber to her home when she said Mrs. Kaber told her that she had met a professor of an eastern college where her daughter, Marian McArdle, was in school and that she loved him.

On cross examination by Attorney William J. Corrigan, Mrs. Wade said she had been able to communicate with the spirits ever since her birth.

"Can you get into communication with the world now?" Corrigan asked.

"Yes, sir."

"Go ahead."

The jury and spectators were all set for a seance, but the court sustained an objection interposed by County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton.

Mrs. Wade then told briefly how she communicated with spirits.

On one visit Mrs. Wade said Mrs. Kaber was accompanied by her spirit friends.

Mr. Corrigan asked if they were "good spirits." She said they were. Mrs. Wade said Mrs. Kaber came to her the first time to get her to intercede with her first husband, Mr. McArdle, to send money to Marian McArdle to pay her way in school.

Mrs. Betrah Mieshke, grandmother, of Patricia, the little girl adopted by Mrs. Kaber, testified the latter had told her she "hated Dan Kaber and was going to be rid of him within the next six months in some manner or other."

JUDGE DEFINES VAMP

New York, July 7.—The "vamps" got everything, but until now they apparently have failed to lay their hands on a formal and official definition.

Justice Norman S. Dike in Supreme Court, not only pigeonholed the species "vamp," but added a sharp commentary on the methods pursued by the tiger skin loungers.

The definition and comment were produced by the case of Frederick Linde Ryan. The judge ruled that he was not responsible for his wife's debts. They being in this particular case a result of wanton extravagance. Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan is in jail in California charged with an attempt to defraud a hotel. She is described as a "Greenwich village belle." It was shown that in three months Mrs. Ryan spent more than $16,000 for "fineries." A department store which had seized mortgages valued at $14,500 belonging to Ryan, as payment for debts, was ordered to return them.

"I have not found in any up-to-date dictionary a definition of the word 'vamp,' so frequently used nowadays," said Judge Dike, "but if it can be that the female in pursuit of the male, whose physical attractions are as marked as her moral qualities are missing, then I may properly term the woman in this case a vamp."

"The result of her calculating activities has resulted in the tragic disillusionment of a very credulous young man who through her has seen his little fortune shattered and the hopes of a happy married life destroyed."

Brownstone mansions, formerly occupied by New York millionaires, have been, in many instances, made over into "three rooms and a kitchenette" for young couples.

GOVERNORS MEET IN CHARLESTON

Columbia, July 7.—Governor Cooper today received advices from two of the three members of the executive committee of the governor's conference, to the effect that they favor holding the 1921 meeting of the governors, to be held in November, in Charleston. The two governors voting for Charleston are Sprout of Pennsylvania and Roberts of Oklahoma. Governor Allen of Kansas is the only other member of the committee to express himself.

The governors had planned to take a trip into Alaska, holding their 1921 conference there, but this had been found impracticable and has been given up. Some months ago Governor Cooper extended to the conference, on behalf of the city of Charleston, an invitation to have the 1921 meeting in this state and in Charleston. This is the invitation that is now about to be accepted.

The exact date for the November conference has not been arranged.

CHIEF OF POLICE GREATLY AMAZED

Paris, July 7.—"Bon Soir" today prints a dispatch stating that the Dublin chief of police on beholding De Valera for the first time on the occasion of his recent arrest discovered to his amazement that they were members of the same club and had even played whist together. Prior to the arrest the chief of police had spent more than nine months hunting for the Sinn Fein leaders. De Valera was a member of the club under an assumed name.

When you sail, sail under the Stars and Stripes to any part of the world

PRESIDENT HARDING has summed up the merchant marine by saying that we know "We cannot sell successfully where we do not carry."

And now we have a great American Merchant Marine, with ships sailing under the Stars and Stripes to every port of importance in the world.

Certainly the American people will never permit this merchant marine to decline from its present preeminent position. Nor will it—if each one of you will ship and sail under the Stars and Stripes.

IN HONOR OF MRS. JOHNSON

Miss Jessie Hill gave a lovely party Thursday morning at her home on Ellis Avenue in honor of her visitor, Mrs. Jessie Hill Johnson, of Spencer, N. C. The home was made lovely with vases of cut flowers and the enjoyment of the morning was in playing rook. Miss Mary Louise Dargan cut the lucky number for the prize.

Tea and sandwiches and cream and cake were served at the close of the morning.

YOUNG GEORGIA MEN TO ANSWER CHARGES

McCormick, July 7.—Three young white men giving their names as Moody Wright, Ed Massey and Ernest Wright of Lincoln county, Georgia, appeared before Magistrate J. B. Holloway here today and entered into a recognition of $300 each, conditioned for their appearance here at the October, 1921, term of the court of general sessions to answer to a charge of violating the state prohibition laws.

The men were arrested on Saturday evening by Sheriff Milton R. LeRoy and Deputy J. R. Brown at the still, a 25 gallon copper outfit which is said to be one of the most up-to-date stills ever captured in this county. Sheriff LeRoy had been watching the still and 1,500 gallons of mash for some time in an effort to catch the owners and operators and when he went to look after it on Saturday afternoon in broad daylight he was rewarded by finding the three men named above at the still, which was in full blast and a steady stream of whiskey pouring out at the rate of five gallons per hour. The still was found just on the South Carolina side of the Savannah river and about ten miles from McCormick in McCormick county and just across the river from the home of the young men in Lincoln county, Georgia.

Although the impression has gone out that the prohibition laws of the state are being openly violated in McCormick county, and judges presiding at the courts here have emphasized this impression scattered broadcast to the grand jury, and the grand jury having at the last term of the court recommended that the sheriff be given a deputy, it is pretty well known locally that the greater part of the whiskey in this county is either made in Georgia or is made on this side of the river by those from Lincoln county who have been run out of that county by the sheriff of Lincoln county, Georgia.
