The superintendent of schools, Major Fulp, gave a demonstration of the use of the stereopticon in the teaching of geography, the feature proving of practical interest to those in attendance. The views were of South America, the country now being studied.

SOUTHERN IS SATISFIED

Has Made No Request For Wage Reduction.

Richmond, Va. Oct. 18.—The Southern Railway was not represented in the Chicago executives' meeting, nor has it made request of the railroad labor board for a further reduction in wages, according to a telegram received tonight by C. G. Arthur, superintendent, with headquarters in this city, and signed by R. E. Simpson, general manager of the Southern Railway lines East, with offices in Danville.

The telegram follows:

"Mr. Harrison authorizes me to say to our employes that the Southern Railway was not represented in the Chicago executives' meeting, nor has it made request of the labor board of the men for a further reduction in wages. You are at liberty to impart this information to the press and to all employees, as I feel they should know it."

TRAINMEN TO WORK ON PENNSYLVANIA

Fifteen Thousand Will Not Strike, Says Chairman Of Brotherhood.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—C. E. Musser, chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen of the Pennsylvania railroad said tonight that 15,000 trainmen of the Pennsylvania would refuse to obey the order for a general railroad strike and would continue to work "if the road operates trains." The organization of which he is head recently voted against a strike.

The fight of the union should be with the labor board, not with the Pennsylvania, said Mr. Musser. "The railroad has been fair in its dealings with our men and has lived up to its agreements. We have no quarrel with the management."

Reports that the Pennsylvania was making secret agreements with its employes and had obtained pledges not to strike from a large percentage could not be confirmed.

H. E. Core, general chairman of the locomotive engineers and firemen, denied that the Pennsylvania railroad was shifted from the first to the fourth group in the strike order because of any fear its men would not obey. He said it was the brotherhoods' policy to start the walkout where there is the most disagreement.

BILL TO EXTEND LIFE OF TARIFF MEASURE

Emergency Law Extension Approved by Vote of 197 to 74 In House.

Washington Oct 18.—A bill to extend the life of the emergency tariff law to February 1 was passed late today by the house, 197 to 74. The measure now goes to the senate.

If the extension is not authorized the emergency expires November 22.

Democrats with only a few exceptions opposed the proposed extension which Republicans practically unanimously supported. Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee, held that the temporary measure shouldn't be kept in effect until the permanent tariff schedules could be made operative.

An amendment by Representative Newton (Republican) of Minnesota, to exempt from the extension the duty of flax seed was rejected, 44 to 96.

CAN GET FREEDOM IF THEY LEAVE THE COUNTRY

Washington, Oct. 18.—Any anarchists in federal prisons for political offenses can secure their liberty by giving assurance that they will leave the country and never return, Attorney General Daugherty declared tonight.

The supreme court of the state of Washington has fixed the minimum wage of women working in hotels and restaurants at $18 a week.

$100,000 Left Town

At least that much money left Abbeville never to return in the interval that elapsed between the failure of the last bakery and the establishment of the present one. Some of it is still being carried away. We have made every effort to make bread that is better than the other fellow's. We have compared and tested both, and have had other people test both. They can find no difference. If you can get more value for your money out of town, there is sense in sending it away. Give us a chance—if you don't like our bread tell us what is wrong with it. That's a fair proposition.
