

AN ALL ABBEVILLE TEAM

Sporting Editor Picks Two Teams To Meet All Corners.

If interest continues to grow in the second national game at the rate it has developed in the past few weeks, the time will soon come when every town will have its football team. In preparation for that day the sporting editor of The Press and Banner picks the following all-Abbeville team, which, after a few days' practice, will be ready to take on all comers:

- Calvert, W. A., center. Barksdale, W. D., right guard. Kerr, left guard. Cason, F., right tackle. Telford, left tackle. White, W. H., right end. Cochran, J. S., left end. Roche, P., quarterback. Nickles, F., right half back. White, T. G., left half back. Barnes, full back.

To furnish the opposition in practice, the following would be available:

- Richey, Lamar, center. Ladd, right guard. Anderson, left guard. Galloway, right tackle. Gilleland, left tackle. Miller, D. right end. Hafner, left end. Nickles, J. M., quarterback. Arnold, left half. Smith, A. M., right half. Morse, A. B., full back.

PLAYING THE GAME

Fans Who Saw Clemson-Furman Battle Talk It Over.

Following their return Friday night from Greenville where they saw Furman and Clemson battle for "nine innings" to draw, with a naught on both ends, about twenty-five expert fans spent the day Saturday relating the details of the great battle to their friends. And some of those who saw the game were so full of enthusiasm that they were able to make their friends tingle with some of the same thrills as caused their own knees to tremble in Greenville.

According to the variety of opinion expressed both teams won the game, though the referee declared it a tie. One man declared that Clemson outplayed Furman every minute. Another made the same claim for Furman. The newspaper account clearly favored Furman. As for us, we were not among "those present." "If I had been betting on Clemson, I would have shot that quarterback before he left the field," declared one Clemson supporter. Another fan with the same vivid hopes for the "Farmers," who was betting on the game, said he won and lost his money a dozen times. One time he almost had the money spent and was, a new gold headed cane with yellow stripes being one of the purchases, when he came back to earth with a "dull thud" to find that he was losing again. Then as he settled down to enjoy the game for the sport's sake, having lost his money once and for all, he thought, his favorites rallied and again his hope ran high. He was glad when the game was over, and no doubt he was glad that, since he could not win, it was all off.

"Both teams ought to have won by 50 points," said one fan who described the glaring examples of poor headwork said to have been pulled.

And Abbeville was there. "Old George Cann played a great game," they say, and there were none who wished to deny it. He got a few more scratches in the game but he came out about as strong as when he went in. Thornton was the other Abbeville lad in a Clemson uniform. He was put in at end and did some good defensive playing "they say."

It would not be surprising if G. Barnes, D. Wilkinson, G. White, F. Nickles, B. Reese, C. Swetenburg, R. Cox, J. Fulp and C. Williamson get up a team and challenge either or both of the contestants.

FAVORS SHORT SKIRTS

Mary Garden Finds "Prettiest Legs in World" in America.

New York, Oct. 20.—Mary Garden director general of the Chicago Opera Company, returned from Europe today with bobbed hair and a conviction that American girls might well ignore the Parisian suggestion that longer skirts are the mode.

"Why should our girls give up short skirts?" she asked her interviewers aboard the Aquitania. "They have the prettiest feet and the prettiest legs in the world."

Then Miss Garden told of the new operas and singers the Chicago company would introduce, and confirmed reports that she had become weary of "Thais" and would not appear again in that role. Lina Cavaleric and Margaret Namara would sing it, she added.

Miss Garden will leave for Chicago next week. She said one would stick to the job of director for one year at least.

FOUND NOT GUILTY OF MURDER CHARGE

Mrs. Emma Colavito Acquitted of Connection With the Death of Kaber.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 21.—A verdict of not guilty was returned tonight in the trial of Mrs. Emma Colavito for her alleged connection with the death of Daniel F. Kaber, a publisher over two years ago.

Mrs. Colavito was tried on an indictment charging first degree murder.

The trial has been in progress several days.

Mrs. Colavito is the fourth person to face a jury in this case. The others were Kaber's widow, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, now serving a life sentence at Maryville, Ohio, reformatory; Salvator Claas, recently found guilty on a first degree charge and sentenced to life imprisonment in Columbus, and Marian McArdle, daughter of Mrs. Kaber, acquitted.

U. S. LABOR BOARD ORDERS HEARING

EXECUTIVES AND EMPLOYEES REPRESENTATIVES TO MEET WITH VIEW TO AVERTING STRIKE—WARNS MEN NOT TO STRIKE.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The United States railroad labor board today, backed by all the authorities which the government can place at its disposal, called the railroads of the country and the five big unions to appear here next week, and solemnly warned the unions not to strike until the board has heard their grievances and rendered a decision.

The board's action virtually means that there will be no strike October 30, unless the unions should choose to openly defy the government, for it is hardly probable that a decision will be rendered by the board before that date.

The hearing will be open to the press and public, and with more than 200 railroads and approximately 30 unions involved either directly or indirectly, probably will last several days.

While the transportation act gives the board no power to enforce its decisions, it is understood that last week's conferences between President Harding, members of the board, Attorney General Daugherty, Secretary of War Weeks and the interstate commerce commission, placed all the departments of government in accord as to what shall be done if either side moves in open defiance of the labor board.

Should the unions refuse to abide by the board's order, it has been pointed out, the board will, under the law, issue a statement to the public to that effect, and the president and his advisors can then proceed to take such action as they consider necessary.

There has been some doubt whether the board could intervene and summon the roads and unions to a hearing prior to the actual walkout on the roads, but the board apparently has evaded that difficulty, by its reference to the conference held a week ago tonight by union leaders and railroad executives. The board assumes jurisdiction because that conference failed to reach a decision and a dispute is pending as a result.

Will "Recognize" Order.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 21.—W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen had not received official notice of the labor board's citation at 1:30 p. m. When the dispatch was read to him Mr. Lee said: "While I am very busy here I am perfectly willing to recognize any order from the board or any other proper authority that will tend to prevent the strike, even though it keeps me continually traveling out of Cleveland."

"I have not received any order to

JUNIUS BROWNE HOME FROM SOUTH AMERICA

Had Lengthy Trip Around The Continent In His Travels For Printing House.

Junius F. Browne, formerly of the Daily Mail, returned to Anderson this morning from South America, where he was literally encircled the continent, while engaged in his duties as foreign erector for a big printing machinery export company.

Mr. Browne left New York February 16th, and since that time has visited Panama, Quito Ecuador; Santiago, Chile; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Montivideo, Uruguay. In Quito and in Montivideo, Mr. Browne installed printing plants.

"Conditions in South America," said Mr. Browne, "are much worse than they are in the South in the United States. Exchange there is unfavorable, and the people have lots of stuff to sell, and no one to sell it. Wool is there in great abundance, and there is no market for it."

Mr. Browne brought home samples of the money from most of the countries which he visited in South America. Most of this money, except in the case of one country was printed in the United States. Among this collection, Mr. Browne has a bill calling for 2,000 reis, the basis of Brazilian money. The mill is a two millreis, meaning two thousand reis. Mr. Browne said that he enjoyed the distinction of being a millionaire in Brazil for he had many million reis at one time. (Note—The value of a reis can not be computed. It takes between 6 and 8 thousand of them to make a dollar in American money)—Daily Mail.

appear before the railroad labor board next Wednesday, but if I am ordered to do so I certainly will be there," said Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. "You may also say that the other chief executives of the railroad transportation brotherhoods will attend such a meeting and will go anywhere they are ordered to appear in connection with a settlement of the strike."
