GIVE THE FACTS.

The South Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative Association is now fully organized and it has begun to function. We were among those responsible for the success of the movement in this county and we believe we have a right to speak in behalf of those farmers of Abbeville County who have become members.

Having such right, we desire to say that the acts of the governing body of this organization must be open. The organization will not succeed without publicity as to all matters affecting the welfare of the members. Having this truth in view the officers have announced the selection of certain employees of the organization, but no announcement has been made of the salaries to be paid these officers.

It is a fact that the men employed by the organization for the selling and handling of cotton must be men of great experience, men who have been accustomed to receive large remuneration, and it will take large salaries to employ the right kind of men. We all understand that, but then that is no reason why we should not know what our officers are doing, and it is no reason why the public should not be advised as to these salaries when we are still asking others to join the organization. It is a mistake to have the appearance of trying to conceal anything. We take it that the directors of the organization have nothing to conceal, but when they fail to give publicity to these matters, they appear to conceal. The fact that officers of a kindred organization are now being criticised for taking large salaries should warn the officers of the new organization of the danger.

We notice that an attorney has been employed for the organization. He is a man of ability and it is stated that he is greatly interested in the farmers' movement. An attorney is necessary in a good many matters pertaining to the organization and the management of the new enterprise, but the public should know what services are to be rendered by the attorney and what salary, if any, is to be paid him. The people will support all legitimate expenditures for the success of the movement, but they will not undertake to pay unnecessary salaries and expenses.

Publicity is the word, and without it we will not succeed.

TEXTILE MILLS FACE PROBLEM OF COAL

Clark Thinks Many Plants in Carolinas Will Be Forced to Close

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 19.—Many of the several hundred textile plants in the Carolinas will be closed down within the next ten days or two weeks, on account of the inability to secure coal, in the opinion of David Clark, editor of The Southern Textile Bulletin, who has just completed a tour and survey of manufacturing centers in the two states.

This does not apply, Mr. Clark said in a statement today, to mills using beyond the reach of the hydro-electric transmission lines and also those within that territory which operate partly by steam.

Even with a large number of coal mines resuming operation, said Mr. Clark, the fuel problem of the textile mills is by no means solved, because of the railroad strike situation which makes it impossible to haul anything like a normal tonnage.

SIZE OF FIELD.

There has been considerable discussion on the streets the past week of the correct size of a regulation football field. Estimates of the distance from goal to goal have been given from 90 yards to 110 yards. Spalding's Official Rules for 1921 state that a regulation football field is 100 yards from goal line to goal line and the width is 160 feet. End zones behind each goal are provided for the completion of forward passes etc. These end zones should be 10 yards each.

All of the discussion was brought about by the grading of the athletic field in rear of the new school building. The actual grading being done there is 100 yards by 100 yards. But there remains sufficient space for end zones which will be provided before completion of the field.

It is also estimated that by placing home plate in rear of the corner of the athletic field next the Link property that a baseball diamond of ample dimensions may be provided. Looking from the proposed site of home plate it appears to even so ardent fans as Col. Jim McMillan and Claude Neuffer that a player who knocked a ball over the embankment behind center field would be entitled to a home run without further discussion.

GOOD ROADS BILL FAILED TO PASS

Georgia Legislature Votes Millions For Pensions.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 19.—Following an all-night sitting, punctuated with stormy debate the 1922 session of the Georgia state legislature came to a close at 5 o'clock this morning with many bills of more or less importance crowded out.

The final session, however, accounted for the passage of the appropriation which provided $2,451,000 for Confederate pensions for the years of 1922-23 and wiped out the present distinction between the old and new pensioners.

The good roads bonds issue bill which was to provide $9,000,000 to match a federal appropriation after a spirited debate, was killed out by the house, when a substitute proposed by the senate in the afternoon was introduced on the floor. A bill to provide a biennial session of the legislature instead of the present annual session was also killed.

Special appropriations for the state university system, were passed in the closing hours of the session, but no provision was made by the legislature to raise the revenue to make the funds available.

Only a few members remained on the floor of either house when the resolutions to adjourn sine die were passed. The sessions, whose legal

300 NEW MEN ENTER CLEMSON THIS FALL

Old Students Must Report September the 5, Others One Day Later.

Clemson College, Aug. 20.—Only three more weeks remain before the opening of the thirtieth session of Clemson College during the first week in September. All old students, according to an announcement made by the president's office, are required to report back on September 5, and all new students on September 6, except those entering the one-year agricultural course, who are due to arrive on October 2. Students who have made-up work to remove are of course due back sufficiently in advance of the opening dates to remove their conditions.

Though the entrance requirements have been raised, the prospects for a large freshman class are unusually good, says J. C. Littlejohn, registrar who states that approximately 300 new men will enter this fall, this being the maximum number of new men that can be taken because of the unusually large percentage of old men returning. The majority of the applicants, Mr. Littlejohn says, are graduates of four-year high school courses, a noticeable improvement in this respect over the past years. The total enrollment is likely to be 1,000 or more, at least as large as the enrollment last session, which was 1,007.

In view of the present financial situation, an additional reduction in board is effective at the beginning of the session, the price of board per month now being fixed at $16.00. Slight reductions in other fees are also effective with the opening of the session.

Clemson College being on the distinguished list of the war department, students who pass the required examination for the R. O. T. C. are entitled to certain commutation for subsistence. This, while small in the first two years, is considerable in the last two years for those taking the advanced course of R. O. T. C. work, and is practically equal to a state scholarship.

TO CONTINUE WORK THROUGH SEPTEMBER

Final Action Upon Charleston Navy Yards Awaits Return of Secretary Denby.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The acting secretary of the navy in consequence of a request by Representative J. F. Byrnes of South Carolina instructed officials at the Charleston navy yard this morning that the Lucas in course of construction was not to be moved prior to October 1. "This means that 500 of the 800 men working at Charleston will remain on the job, and that the remaining 400 will be given employment at Newport News," according to Mr. Byrnes. "It will mean also, that the organization at Charleston will be maintained, and that nothing in fact will be done to detriment of the yards until the return of Secretary Denby September 15."

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt made it plain to Mr. Byrnes that his order providing for the abandonment of the yards would not be rescinded in any event unless by order of the president or the secretary.

Mr. Roosevelt admitted that he himself was standing and would continue to stand pat.

SMITH-THOMAS.

Miss Kathleen Smith, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith, was married Saturday evening, August 12, 1922 to Ralph Thomas, son of John Thomas. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Wilson, pastor of the Holiness church at the cotton mill, at his residence.

Maj. Madison Pearson, commandant of cadets, is at his post of duty making preparations for the opening of the session, and President W. M. Riggs, who is now away on a short vacation in the North Carolina mountains, will return early next week. All members of the faculty will of course be on hand in ample time for the beginning of the year's work.
