"THE MAKER OF DREAMS" A SUCCESS

"The Maker of Dreams," a musical comedy presented under the auspices of the U. D. C.'s was shown Wednesday evening. The play was gotten up by Miss Gladys Wilson, who took the part of Pierette in the plot. There were two other main characters in the play, Miss Vic Howie, acting the part of Pierrot and W. E. Hill as the "Maker of Dreams." This cast was admirably supported by a scintillating chorus of choice beauties. It was a fine chorus and had a kick to it.

There were two quartettes with choruses between the scenes of the play. They were excellent in every respect. A write-up of the play would be incomplete without mentioning the masterful way that Mrs. Floyd Graves handles a piano.

Games of draughts is said to have existed long before the time of the ancient Egyptians.

SEPTEMBER 1ST 1919--1922

We realized that we were up against a hard proposition when we bought out a run-down business. It would have been much smoother sailing had we started new in business in another store. But nothing succeeds like success and we are beginning to feel that we are about out of the woods, thanks to our loyal friends, both white and colored.

So now upon this our Third Anniversary in business we take this opportunity to express our appreciation of your patronage.

Very truly,
