FOR MRS. J. L. HILL

Mrs. D. H. Hill is entertaining today for her mother, Mrs. J. L. Hill, whose birthday it is. Mrs. Hill is the mother of a large and devoted family whose pleasure it is to honor her.

SEVEN YEARS OLD

Miss Mary McKee Camp of Due West celebrated her seventh birthday last Friday by inviting in forty-five of her little friends to enjoy it with her. All kinds of games were played. Just before they were invited into the dining room a box full of small packages was placed in the middle of a ring and each child was blindfolded and went up, drew out a package. They had lots of fun untying their packages.

After this they were invited into the dining-room which was decorated with double pink and white cosmos and autumn leaves. The big birthday cake with seven different colored candles graced the table. Ice cream and nabiscos were served. Each guest, as they departed for their homes, was given a bag of popcorn and candy. Contributed.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. Lula Mc. Hillhouse and Mr. S. A. Evans were married, November 20th at the Presbyterian manse by Dr. R. F. Kirkpatrick.

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Evans over the state, will be greatly interested in this announcement and extend congratulations and best wishes.—Anderson Daily Mail.

Mrs. Evans, as Mrs. Hillhouse, has many friends in Abbeville who will be interested in the above announcement.

Mrs. J. S. Starke Better.

Mrs. J. S. Stark has been quite sick for about a month and her friends will be glad to hear that she is able to be out on the front porch again.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Mr. Weeks will preach Sunday at 11:00 a. m. on the subject: "The Heart of Man and the Heart of God."

The 7:30 p. m. service will be the usual monthly union service. It will be held at the Methodist church, the sermon by Mr. Weeks.

The Sunday School Institute was the source of great inspiration and information on Sunday School ideals and work. It is confidently hoped that the Sunday School may soon have at least 75 per cent of its teaching force holding normal diplomas.

The Junior department will soon be fully graded and beginning with January the graded literature will be used. This is a splendid step forward in making the Sunday School the efficient means of the church in teaching as it should be.

The pastor is planning to lead a class as the "Normal Manual" as soon as a sufficient number signify a willingness to take this work. The plan is to meet once a week and take about two chapters at a lesson, thus completing the course in four months. A course of this kind should appeal strongly to all those who really desire to be better teachers or who wish to know the Bible more adequately.

The prayermeeting of the church is now appealing to all the members for sympathetic cooperation and encouragement. This splendid part of the church work has been of unusual interest and helpfulness lately. All the members and friends are urged to attend these services. The subject for Wednesday, Nov. 29th, will be "Some Improvements I Would Like to See in My Church."

Our young people of the age of 12 to 16 are being organized into an "Intermediate, B. Y. P. U." This is a splendid body of young people and they are starting this work with characteristic enthusiasm. The leaders are Mr. C. L. Gowan and Mrs. J. A. Grant. The Senior B. Y. P. U. is also carrying its work forward in an inspiring manner. These organizations have as their great aim the training of the young Christian in all forms of church activity. The day is not far distant when the church will have a large number of splendidly equipped and well trained leaders and workers.

SOCIETY

ENTERTAINS TEACHERS

Mrs. W. E. Leslie entertained Thursday afternoon at her home near town in honor of the teachers of her children in the school here, and enough friends to make out four tables of bridge. It was a very pleasant party and after the games Mrs. Leslie served a salad course with coffee.

MRS. HORTON ENTERTAINS

Mrs. E. C. Horton entertained about sixteen of her friends at a rook party Thursday afternoon at her home on Ellis Avenue. There were four tables filled with players and a most enjoyable time was spent by the guests. Mrs. H. L. Weeks and Miss Fanny Stark assisted Mrs. Horton in entertaining. After an hour or so at cards refreshments of chicken and perfection salad, pickle, crackers, cheese toast and coffee were served.

BOOK CLUB MEETS

The Book Club met with Mrs. J. D. Fulp Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting. Everybody was on time and the club was called to order at 3:30 o'clock and the following program carried out:

Mrs. Floyd Graves — A Piano Solo
Miss Rachel McMaster — Reading
Mrs. Sallie Bradley — Piano Solo.
Mrs. Fannie Marshall and Mrs. Sallie Bradley — Instrumental Duet.
The house was attractively decorated in vases of pink roses, and with Mrs. Fulp as hostess, the evening was quite a success.

The following ladies assisted in serving the guests with tea and sandwiches: Mrs. A. B. Morse, Mrs. J. R. Power, Misses Mae Robertson, and Rachel McMaster, Mrs. Fuller Reese, Mrs. W. A. Lee, Mrs. C. E. Williamson and Mrs. Frank Poole.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY.

One of the most interesting events of the week was the party given by Mrs. C. E. Williamson Thursday afternoon to the younger set of the society people of Abbeville. The guests were invited to play bridge and the game was enjoyed for an hour after which the guests were invited into the dining room. The table was prettily dressed in pink candelabra and cluny lace and in the center was a dainty bride and groom and a handsome cake.

In the cutting of the cake Miss Vic Howie cut the ring, Miss Susie Mabry, the dime, Miss Mary Milford, the thimble and Mrs. Willie Speed drew a telephone in which was secreted the following poem, which announced the engagement of Miss Nona Barksdale and Mr. Doyle Hendricks:

There is a young lady
Who is very fond of cards,
She follows most any lead
Specially when trumps are hearts.

She bids very recklessly—
Tries to take all the tricks,
She's about to make a grand slam,
She's bid on Mr. Hendricks!

If this girl's name
You haven't guessed yet,
I'll tell you the secret,
It's Nona, you bet.

Go on Dan Cupid,
Do your worst,
For they're to be married
December the 21st.

After this pleasant announcement a buffet luncheon of salads, with Russian tea was served. The bride was presented with a dainty piece of lingerie by little Mette Williamson.

Miss Barksdale is the third daughter of Mr. W. D. Barksdale and is a young woman of many fine qualities. She is a graduate of Coker College and an accomplished musician. She is an enthusiastic worker in the many activities of the Baptist church.

Mr. Hendricks is a native of Gaffney and has made his home in Abbeville for the past year. He is a graduate of Clemson and is an expert on farming. He has had charge of the Rosenberg farms since coming to Abbeville.

EDUCATED HORSE WONDERFUL

Mr. Verchot is putting on at the Opera House tonight and tomorrow and night two educated horses. The leading horse is "Beautiful Charm," and is supported by "Blackberry" a small pony that will be the joy of the children.

These horses are in charge of their trainer who hails from the state of Kentucky. He has been a lover and trainer of horses all of his life, having helped train the show horse "Jim Key." He speaks in a gentle voice, as if speaking to a child and has found a horse as intelligent and easy to teach as the ordinary child.

In the demonstration at the Opera House Thursday Blackberry the little pony, was able to pick out the policeman in the crown, could count how many ladies and how many gentlemen present, when asked to pick out the lady with the white sweater, he did so without hesitation, and he could not possibly have known she was going to wear that sweater, so the natural conclusion is that these horses are not only educated but are possessed of about as much brains as people.

It is worth the price and every child in Abbeville county should be allowed the privilege of seeing how capable of learning their pets will prove if always spoken to gently and with patience. This would also be a good lesson for some parents and those in authority everywhere.

VISIT AT MANSION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Brown of Abbeville arrived yesterday morning and are now guests of Gov. and Mrs. Wilson G. Harvey at the executive mansion. Captain Brown is the grand keeper of records and seals of the Knights of Pythias which office he has held for nearly a quarter of a century, and his friends predict that he will hold it for the balance of the century. He will go to Johnston today and deliver one of the addresses at the district convention to be held in that city.—The State.

Y. W. A. MEETING.

Miss Lizzie Edmunds entertained the Young Woman's Auxiliary of the Baptist Church Thursday night at the regular meeting. After the business was disposed of a musical program was given, after which sandwiches and coffee were served.
