

BY PIERCE M. BUTLER, Governor and Commander in chief in and over the State aforesaid.

Whereas information has been received by this department that an atrocious murder was committed in the District of York, on the 14th inst. on the body of Wm. Nance by a negro man slave, named Jack, the property of Ceorge Mc'Alliely, and that the said negro Jack has fled from justice, a

Now Know Ye, to the intent that the said Jack may be brought to trial for the said erime; I do hereby offer a reward of two hundred dollars for the apprehension of snid Jack and lodging him in any juil of this State. Jack is about 45 years old, 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, weigns about one hunthed and fifty or sixty pounds, complexion yellow black, loves a dram, talks much, and brags greatly of his knowledge of Farriery and Wagoning, of which it is said that he has been driver in almost every State south and west of New York. He was sometime ago purchased by his present ow-ner from a Mr. Waugh of North Carolina. \(\sum_{\text{L.S.}}\) Given under my hand and sent \(\sum_{\text{L.S.}}\) of the State at Columbia, this () 24th day of October 1837. PROSPECTUS

Southern Freacher. poses to publish a monthly periodical of 24 pages octavo, neatly stitched and covered, containing Sermons by living authors, and adapted to the state of our churches in the South. Destitute as we are in the Southern States of preaching and of preachers, t has been thought that a publication such as proposed, containing approved discour-ses on doctrinal and practical subjects, would be found both acceptable and useful to the religious public. And as the thing has been repeatedly suggested by judicous friends, we have concluded to adopt this method of ascertaining the wishes of our brethren gen erally on the subject. Should the proposed work go into effect, as it can interfere in no way with any of our religious newspapers, we shall expect to see it circulate freely thro the Southern States. It will be menced as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers shall be obtained, and contin-
