TO BE ENTITLED THE SOUTH CAROLINIAN.

BY A. H. PEMI ERTON.

NCOURAGED and stimulated by the kind and flattering societations of postucar friends and an all-absorbing interest in the great question of the day, the undersigned (formerly editor of the Augusta Chronicte,) proposes to publish a new paper, in Columbin, and respectfully submits to the consideration of the public, the principles and opinions by which is with be the principles and opinions by which it will be governed. Firmly convinced that the future liberty, happiness, independence and prosperity of the Southern States, and indeed of the whole Confederacy, are vitally involved in the momen-tous question now pending, between a gigantic National Bank, and the constitutional currency of the country, the main object of the CAROLINIAN will be to discuss that question freely & thorough by throw all its lights lairly and fully before the people; and shew thereform, the a National Bank is unterly unconstitution and inexpedient, and violent y inimicat to free trade and industr and violent y into reat to free trade and industry, the liberties of the country, and especially the trade, commerce, and prosperity of the Southern States—that their direct import and export trade, once so flourishing, and conducive to their general wealth and prosperity, was destroyed by the overwheiming power and influence of its capital, aided by the immense credit and resources of the Government, and a kindred system of partial and unconstitutional legislation—that an emittid and unconstitutional legislation—that an emitted tial and unconstitutional legislation—that an em-ployment of the State Banks, as fiscal agents of the Government, in any shape, must be even more dangerous and corrupting than a National one, and necessarily productive of the same efone, and necessarily productive of the same effects on our Southern commerce, since the great credit and resources of the government would necessarily be absorbed and monopolized by the Northern Ganks, and defy all chance of fair competition on the part of the Southern ones, of Southern merchants—and that the only effectual and permanent remedy for these evils, and the commercial embarrasments and distresses of the country, is an entire. Divorce of the Government. country, is an entire Divorce of the Government from all BANKS, State or Federal, & a return to the from all danks, state or reactar, & action now er-true constitutional currency & system, now er-med "the Sub-Treasury System," as evide thy designed by the framers of the Constitution and first in operation after its adoption, till the combined power of he Federal party, and Bank wealth and aristocracy of the country, triumphed over the wise and salutary provisions of that saover the wise and saintary provisions of that sa-cred instrument, and the great rights and inter-ests of the people it was framed to protect—that this system is not an "experiment." but an old and safe method successfully processed for centuries, by the most on ightened and civilized nations of the earth, till the rapidly growing power of the Banks, (then an "experiment") enabled bem to draw within their control, and wield to their own individual profits, the immense credit and finan es of Government—that, so far from increasing the power and patronage of the President, it cannot under any rational or probabe organization of the details, but decrease them, to a very great extent; and while the future interest and character of its advocates in Congress are deeply involved to rendering those details as per-fect as practicable, and the whole system as safe. efficient, and salutary as human wisdom and foresignt can devise, the continua and entire power over it on the part of Congress, and the people. (so whody anlike an arbitrarily indepen-dent National Band,) would always afford the opportunity of rectifying whatever might be found erroneous, and improving upon all that should be beneficial—yea even, of abolishing the whole, it is should disappoint the expectations of the country; thus howe. whole, it is should disappoint the expectations of the country; thus happi y and properly keeping the great money- ower of the Government in the hands of the people and their representatives instead of madly and unnecessarily surrendering it in the hands of a few presponsible private in-dividuals, to be directed, wholly beyond all ap-ular or legislative coursel, according to their own selfish many amaly making and selfish money-making and power-sceking inter-ests—that instead of deranging the currency, it will of ad things render it settled and stable, and scure from future "experiments," since it will separate it and its commercial elations from poli tics, and deprive farme Presidents of all power of intelerence with it; waile, from that deep y-root-ed hostility to a National Bank, which is co extensive with the Re oblican party of the Co federacy and, commence g with the existence of the present Government, must continue in all probability to its end there can be no hope of any organization of the currency, by such a Bank but what must be greatly deranged and becken up, as at present, whenever the period of its dissolution arrives; to say a other of its being always necessarily dependent on the form, es and speen lations of private is dividuals-that the Sub-Trea. ury system does not aim at the establishing of "an exclusive metal ic corrency," but one of only about ten millions of gold and silver, to about four hundred millions of Bank paper, since the receipts and disbursements of the Government will require only about the former sum, while the Bank paper in circulatio—amounts fully to the latter, and probably near one-fourth more-that it will effectually restrain the alarming and ruinous tendency of the Bank to over issue; constrain them to keep their paper up to the standard value of the specie currency; insure their immense in fluence every where, in behalf of low Tariff duties a limited revenue, and economy in the expense of the Government; and thereby completely settle the Tariff and other distracting sectional ques tions, and promote the harmony and perpetuity of the Union—that the principles of this system have formed an essential portion of those of the Republican or State Rights party, from the adoption of the Constitution, to the present time—and that the present Northern "Whig" party, which is now laboring for the establishment of a gigantic and overshadowing National Bank, is nothing more than the old Federal party, under a new name; that party which has always stroggled name; that party which has always strongled against the rights, welfare, and principles of the South, and is now a plain and odious combina-tion of Bankites, Parifites, National Internal Im-provement men, Consolidationists, Colonization-ists, and Abelitionists—every thing most obnoxi-

Southern people.

Considering this measure of an Independent Treasury, or Divorce of Back and State, as d dially act, in its support, with all who advocate it, and oppose all who oppose it—wholly forgettal of all past differences on settled questions, and ready to extend the warm right based of fellowcidedly a test question, the Carolinian will co rendy to extend the warm right hand of fellow-ship to all who accord with it—conscientionsly believing ethis great measure of deliverance and liberty." in all its immensely wide and vitally important political and social relations, to be the commencement of one of the great-stand noblest and ultimately most triumphant, peaceful strug-gles for the great principles of human liberty and happiness that the world has ever known— Carolina, with her accustomed chivalrons devo-tion to liberty, has thrown herse if into the front rank of the contest; and here, principally, must rank of the contest; and here, principally, must it first be waged. The eyes of all her sister States will be fixed upon her with the deepest interest. Much very much—almost everythin—must depend upon the inflexible courage and virtue, disinterestedness and patriotism, of ner-gallant people; for no efforts or means are spared, or will be, to distract and divide them, and allure them from their type and tried faith. But rethem from their true and tried faith. But re-cently a resident of this State though uniformly a zealous and enthusiastic coadjutor, in her strug-gles for Southern interests and principles, the undersigned brings with him the highest regard for and confidence in her chivalric people, but none of the personal feeings or hostilities which have unhappily marked the present ifferences between old political friends, and his dearest ob-iget, next to the success of the great cause in ject, next to the success of the great cause in which he is engaged, will be to soothe these asperities, and sucourage forgettuluers of all perous to the feelings, interests, and safety of the sonal feelings or considerations, in ardent devosonal feelings or considerations, in ardent devo-tion to the great principles involved—trusting that our respected friends of the past, will again become ossociates at some early period of the future, and earnestly striving to guard against mose disgusting and degenerating personal con-tests and parties, from the deep disgrace and curse of which, this state has heretotore been so neculiarly, hamily and homealth against peculiarly, happily, and honorably exempt.

Fully concurring and co-operating with the Carolina people, heretofore, in the noble, dignifi-Carolina people. heretolore, in the noble, dignifi-ed, and self-respectful aversion they have mani-lested toward engaging in any partizan contest for the Presidency, the editor will spare n-pains to incubate the propriety of pursuing a similar couste aereafter—outy to his principles, however, will constrain him to determinately and uncompromising to masse the preferance of the uncompromising ty oppose the pretensions of one of the present candidates, however he may be disposed to avoid all advocacy of the other. The annot but look upon Mr. Clay, both in his principles and pretice. oris cipies and practice, now, and ever since has a andonment of the Reyublican party in 1818. as the most deadly, dangerous, and successful enemy of the South, and the true interests of the whole confederacy, that either have ever known.

A the acad of the old Federal pary—an open and avowed Bankite, Tariflite, Colonizationist, and advocate of the Proclamation and Force bill—and now too plainly associated with the infamous opinions and principles of the Abo-liciousts—his elevation, as a slave-holder, and from a slave State, to the Executive chair of the Confederacy, would be one of the most deadly and destructive blows to the South, and the stability of the Union, that could possibly be in flicted upon them, from any quarter Between other, the Carolinian could not hesitate to party, shall faithfully and honestly adhere to the great Republican and State Rights principles and measure to which they are openly and throghly pledged, in the late extraordinary and admirable "Address" of their Congressional Representatives, it will be very far from desiring that he should have any other opponent even if the present one were to withdraw. Be it remembered, however, that all this is qualified by an important "if;" and the only true and only true course of the Southern States and people—no master who may be a candidate—is to deal with all men according to their measure keep the control of their own interests, princi pies and destines, in their own hands—stand aloof from all personal contests, or entangling thances - and become the partizans of no man

In other respects, it will zealously and unequivocality advocate, the dectrines of the Republican and state Rights school, as set forth in the Virginia & Kentucky Resolutions--General Education, pub ic order, virtue, and morality-the Union of the States, as estab ished by the Conattution, for the strengthening and securing, not stroying or weakening, of the institution lib-erties, rights, interests, and independence, of the several states—and our mestimable domestic in stitutions, as decidedly a blessing, both to the santtons, as accidently a viessing, both to the master and the slave, and for ming, in comex on with our political ones, a combination the wisest and best, for the promotion of public liberty, or-er, virtue, and morality, that the world has ever

It will determinately oppose all intrigue, deception or indirection in politics, and advocate and encourage rigid honesty, as always the best policy—will fearlessly uphold the right, even policy—will fearlessly uphold the right, even though in opponents, or enemies, and oppose the trong, though in political or personal friends—will be governed by "principles, not men"—priciples being always the object and men the means—and zealously advocate and support all who support its principles, and oppose all who oppose them, no matter who—will desire and encourage the friendly advice of all, but submit to the dictation of none, and bold its always. the dictation of none, and hold its columns always the dictation of none, and hold as columns always open, free y and cordially, to those who differ from almost continuous and intermediate and intermediate, will can essive and intermediate, will can essive and intermediate, will can essive and intermediate its honest opinions, however nestatingly declare its non-stopmons, nowever impopular, on all proper subjects of discussion, and fairly lay before its readers the arguments arged against them—holding no preference or regard for its own opinions, beyond the honest regard to its own opinions, beyond the honest co-viction that they are correct, and being always early to submit them to the follest scrutiny, and abandon and oppose them as freely as those of others when proved to be erroneous. In short, it will be, it shall be, a Free Press, thoroughly and unequivocally, but yet rationally and temperately; and (in all that an earnest and si cere estre and effort may be allowed to triumph over tournan weakness;) as far removed from licentagens. human weakness;) as far removed from licen tous aces, on the one hand, as a tie id or selfish time serving subverviency on the other. If this be premising much, it is not without a disherent and consecution. iberate and conscientions determination to perform it come what may; nor is it more than here tofore performed, as he feels assured his for near readers will admit; and as he has had every reason to be satisfied with the results of such a course, heretofore, he will scarcely be likely to deviate from a hereatter. Fully conscious of is humble expacity, and making no pretensions o talentsor literary acquirements, he will spare no efforts, he reafter, as heretofore, to make a-mends, as far as possible, in his own plain, blum way, by untiring industry, application, zeal, and prisely range, and unfactoring faith in God and a good cause, for the want of abilities more en-parged and powerful and talents of a higher and order. His undivided attention will be devoted to the paper, and nothing will be wanning, that his omnost capacity, mental, physical, or pecu-cary, may effect, to make it all that he may bumb y hope from it himself, or that may reason-
