NEW ORLEANS, July 16.

From Texas .- The arrival of the steam er Columbia, last night, puts us in possession of news from Texas to the 12th instof which the following may be considered the principal items.

Some sickness prevailed in Houston. It was reported that an army of 4000 Mexicans had advanced to Matamoras .-This intelligence made little impression on the minds of the Texians, whose attention was principally turned to the Indian frontier. A large body of Texians, regulars, volunteers, and militia, had marched to the Northern frontier, where it was understood Indian parties from 20 tribes, were about to meet them, The result was expected anxiously. The Texians it was said, were determined to compel the Indians to abandon the Northern counties, and it was thought the savages would give battle rather than consent. We shall not know the result of this meeting for some weeks.

More than 1000 persons are said to have already squatted on the site of the new capital of Texas on the Colorado; and it was thought the competition would be very great at the approaching sale of the lots.

The citizens of Houston appear to have had a very serious brush with the gam-

It is said the cotton crop of Eastern Texas, will this year fall little short of 20,-

Besides the marauding parties of Camanches on the Western frontier, the trade betwen Texas and the country beyond Rio Grande del Norte is now said to suffer from the depredations of land pirates, or armed bands of white men, who plunder alike Mexicans and Texians, when the oppor-

He brings no news of particular importance Parties of Indians occasionally make their appearance in the neighborhood of Bexar; but do comparatively little damage, except in the way of plunder. It seems that the white "land pirates" are much more troublesome than any of our enemies .-One of the worst features in their robberi es is that they are principally confined to Mexican traders, between whom and our citizens, Congress, at its last session, attempted to encourage trade. They are by no means particular, however-any thing in the way of plunder is acceptable. We learn that a company is about to be raised to proceed to the West, to preserve the citizens and readers from further vio-

A REMARKABLE HISTORY.

Zerah Colburn .- No phenomena in the whole history of intellectual man, have been more remarkable than those attending the life of Zerah Colburn, whose death has been recently announced.

He was born at Cabot, Vermont, on the 1st of September, 1804, and was the sixth child of poor, but respectable parents. His father was a farmer, and he first discover ed his son's peculiar faculty some time in August, 1810, the boy being then about six years old. The child had been at a district school only about six weeks, which comprised all his opportunity for education and the first indication he gave of his uncommon command of numbers was by running through the multiplication table. while sitting on the floor of a carpenter's shop, and watching chips as they were thrown off by the tool.

He was taken to several places in Vermont, and examined by distinguished mer who were astonished at his power, which was no less incomprehensible to them than to himself. By the advice of friends, his father was induced to take Zerah a bout for exhibition, though several capital offers were made (especially by Pr fessor Adams, of Dartmouth College,) to take him in charge and give him a complete education. All the offers were refused by the mercenary spirit of the father.

In Boston the father received a munificient offer to educate the boy, which his mercenary temper induced him to refuse. Jas. Perkins, Daniel Sargeant, Josiah Quincy, Isaac P. Davis, Wni. Sullivan, and W. S. Shaw, agreed to contract with the father, to raise $5000 by subscription, and without exhibition, one half of which should be given to the father, and the other applied to the education of the child, under the direction of trustees, although the father should be allowed to be with, and have the personal charge of his son. This offer was refused.

Zerah was soon taken to England, where he excited as much wonder as he had done here. The desultory character of his fath er, however, ruined his prospects, and made enemies. After travelling through the United Kingdoms, receiving much money, and borrowing more, this wicked father took the boy to France, where, in 1814, without giving any intimation of his name, person, or character, he was taken to Dr. Gall, the father of phrenology, who immediately remarked upon the promipence of the organs of number, and desired to make a mask of his face. Here, also, great astonishment was excited, and vast sums of money taken by the exhibition or received in loans; but it was all expended, and they returned in poverty and distress to England.

In July, 1816, the Earl of Bristol, with a princely liberality, took up the patronage of the boy, with the hope that, in the course of a good education, he might be enabled to reveal the secret of his mysterious power of computation. He offered to pay the expenses of his education at Westminster; and, in the meantime, to allow the father twenty-five pounds per annum. At this institution they had a quarrel and left on account of the practice of fugging, and went to the Rev. Mr. Bullen, in Buckinghamshire, where the Earl of Bristol consented still to defray the expenses of private tuition.

Zerah was taken from Mr. Bullen's in 1819, on account of some freak of his father, and was taken to Edinburgh to be prepared for the stage After studying some time with several actors, with whom

Province of Corrientes, encouraged by the | it was impossible for the father to agree, French authorites at Montevideo, about to Zerah was put under the care of Charles Kemble, and received lessons from him .convenience sake they directed their first He was taken round to Ireland and the provincial theatres without success, during 1820 and 1821; and in 1822, having been reduced to destitution, application was made to the Earl of Bristol for farther assistance. The Earl very properly said he would do nothing for the father, but separate and independent of him or his control. he would assist the son, then 18 years old.

Compelled to labor by necessity, Zerah in that year took a small school in the country, which be continued until near the death of his father, which happened in Feb. 1824; and in May, by the renewed liberality of the Earl of Bristol, he sailed for this country.

There is nothing more to relate of Zeral Colburn, but that the he has lived in Vermont ever since, a Methodist clergyman with no distinction or eminence of any kind. His talents were far below mediocrity as a scholar and as a thinker He had not even the gift of clear conception or strong expression of thought but dwindled down into one of the lower classes of those who, though pious and useful to a certain extent in the ministry, are not enabled to shine

His power of calculation was lost some time before he left England. The secre of its origin and end rest, only with his Maker .- Boston Duily Times.

HON. JOHN C CALHOUN .- We have he high satisfaction of copying from the Washington G obe in another column of our paper of to-day, the reply of this great man to an invitation to deliver an oration on the fourth of July, in the city of N. York. Like every emanation from the mind of the acknowledged greatest American stateman now living, every line hears the into the great pocket of labour, will no doubt pour out a fresh torrent of reproach es and stale calumnies upon his head. It is cheering to the patriot's heart in these days of political degeneracy, time serving and hypocritical expediency, to witness. thought it occurs but seldom, a towering intellect devoted to the rights of man in the aggregate, instead of using his democpropensities. We rejoice that at this crisiof legislative fraud, folly, falsehood and corruption, we do now and then find a politician who dares to demand back for the people those natural rights of which they have been defrauded by ignorant or dishonest legislators. We rejoice with immeasurable joy, that among the mighties of the age, we find one, at least, faithful to the boly trust that has been confided to his keeping by a magnanimous people.

From the Y. Y. Journal of Commerce. July 22. ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT WESTERN. The steamer Great Western, Capt. Hosken, has just arrived. She left Bristol or the 6th inst., and brings London papers to the evening of the 5th, Liverpool of the 5th, and Bristol to the 6th.

We are sorry to say there is a material decline in cotton, amounting in the aggregate to about three-fourths of a penny.— The decline from the 14th to the 21st June. was 1-4 to 3-4ths; from the 21st to the 28th, 1-4; and from the 28th to July 3d. also, 1-4. After the 3d. no change.

Of political news the most important is the commencement of hostilities between Turkey and Egypt: an event which from its liability to involve other powers, is of more importance than might at first be imagined.

The Great Western arrived out in the very short passage of thirteen days. The British Queen was to sail on the

THE BOUNDARY .- The following is an extract from a London letter in the Quebec Gazette, dated June 12.

"I think you may take it as certain, that special convention has either left this country, or wi speedily be sen to America, for arranging the basis of settlement of the disputes with the government of the United States, relative to the boundary

Her Majesty's advocate, Sir John Dod son, has for some time, been engaged in drawing up this convention, which, I am told, is in strict conformity with the instructions sent to the American minister at our Court. The other mentioned facts I am not at liberty, at present, to communicate. But I think the knotty point is in a fair train of arrangement.

A Queer case is now undergoing examination before Alderman McMichael, of Spring Garden. It is nothing more not less than the investigation of a marriage ceremony, which is alleged to be illegal on the one hand, and legal on the other. The facts as we understand them, are the following.

In April last, Mr. Scott, Benj. Hutchnson, Esq. and another gentleman, whose name we have not yet ascertained, were perambulating the streets of Kensington. When in the neighborhood of Mr. Scott's house, he politely requested them to walk in and take something, a very significant word and one which, no doubt was correctly interpreted by the gentlemen. In they went, and the Alderman seeing a young lady seated in the room, asked Scott if that was his wife. "No," was the reply, but accompanying it was an intimation that there was a young lady up stairs who had "found grace in the eyes" of Mr. Scott, and with whom he would not object to contract matrimony. The lady was called, Mr. S. took her by the hand, and the Alderman, robed in his official dignity, duly pronounced the marriage ceremony The unconscious bride, however, did not say "Yes," that awful ave, that fatal word, acknowledging the correctness of the matrimonial rule of arithmetic, which adds one to one, and yet makes but one. The Alderman, however, nothing loath, attributed this omission to those causes to which all Aldermen would attribute it, first, to his presence; second, to his dignified manner and magisterial looks; and thirdly, to modesty, when appearing under similar circumstances. Suffice it to say. they were married, yes, and married to the Alderman's satisfaction, too. After having performed his duty, he wandered his way homeward, and the next day issued certificates for the parties to the atter asmark of a gigantic intellect. The hand of tonishment of the bride, who had considered social depredators, the privileged brood of the whole as a joke, and had never dreamed paper money changers, who have been so of making pretensions to the title of wife. voraciously preying upon the vitals of the Inquiries were instituted; and the lady was people, the favored few who are enabled informed that she was actually and legally by fraudulent legislation to put their hand | married. The fee for performing the ceremony, we understand, was n morecau de bocuf, which translated into pure English, men sa piece of beef. The case now pending before Alderman McMichael, charges the parties with conspiracy. It came up on Monday last, and was then continued until Friday next, at 4 o'clock. F. Brewster, Esq. acts as one of the counsel, and Alderman Hutchinson. racy to hide his selfish views and avaricious intends to act as his own attorney, and will we understand, make his remarks in the case on next Friday. The wedded parties were both single previous to this transnction .- Phila. Public Ledger.

> Great Sale .- We learn from the Baltimore American, that a gentleman of that city who has a field of fifteen acres filled with a crop of flourishing morus multicau lis, has sold the crop during the present week for the sum of thirty-two thousand. five hundred dollars!

The Cause of Bilious Complaints and a Mode of Cure.

A Well regulated and proportionate quant ty of bile upon the stomach, is always re quisite for the promotion of sound nearth-i stimu ares digestio:, and keeps the intestinacanal free from all obstruct ons. On the inferior surface of the liver is a peculiar bradder, in which the bile is first preserved, being formed by the liver from the bood. Thence it passes into the stomach and intestines, and regulates the indigestion. Thus we see when there is a deficiency of bile, the body is constantly costive. On the o her hand, an overabul dance of bice causes frequent nausea in the stomach; and often promot s very severe attacks of disease, which sometimes end in death.

Fevers are always preceded by symp.oms of a disordered stomach; as are also scrotuleus disorders, and all sympathetic functional, orga ic or februe diseases. From the same cause, the natural and healthy action of the heart, and the whole vascular system is impaired and reduced below its natural standard as exhibited in palpitations, languid pulse, torpor of the limbs, synch, e. and even death itself, it co and ence of an overabundance of a peculiar offensive substance to the di-estive organs.

The approach of bihous diseases is at ah times at en led by decided symptoms of an existing diseased state of the stomach and bowels; i. e. with hose which are known to poi, t. out. then centents to be of a morbid icri ating natur ; but whenever the alimentary canal happens to be lorded with irritating matter, some derangement of hea the operation either of the general system, or of some particular organ of the body is the certain result, and when this state happens to be united with any other symptoms of disease, its effects are always thereby much aggravated. The progress of organ cobstructi is often so rapid as scarcely to admir of time for the application of societa as is to be ordered by art, yet, in general the pre conitor, a imptonis of gastric oad are erceptible for a day of two previous to the feverish paroxism,a period, when the most efficacious assistance may be given, by unloading the stomach and alimentary canal of its irritating contents and thus reducing the

May 21, 1830 About Brandreth's Pills, THEIR EFFECTS.

HESE Pills are a Vegetable and Univer sal Medicine, proved by the experience of thousands to be, when properly persevered with, a CERTAIN cure in every form of the ONLY ONE DISEASE, all having the same origin, and invariably arise from the UNIV. RSA:
ROOT of all diseases, namely, IMPURITY, or IMPERFECT circulation of the BLOOD. In a period of little more than three years in the United States, they have restored to a state of HEALTH and enjoyment, over ONE HUN-DRED THE USAND persons, who were given over as incurable by physicians of the first rank and standing, and in many cases when every other remedy had been resorted to in

In all cases of Pain or Weakness, whether it be chronic or recent, whether it be deafness or pain in the side, whether it arise from constitumai or from some immediate cause, whether it be from internal or external injury, it will be carred by persevering in the use of these Pills. This great principle of "PURGING" it side.

ness is beginning to be appreciated. It is found much more convenient to take an occasional dose of half a dozen Pills, and be always well, than to send for a Doctor and be bled, blistered, and salivated-with the certainty that if you are not killed, you are sure to have months of miserable weakness, and the only one who is benefitted is your Doctor Look at the difference between the appearance of those two personsone has been treated by your regular practitioner-see how pale and debilitated he is, see how the shadow of death throws his solitary glance from his emaciated constenance, see now he trembles in every limb; his eyes sunk, his teeth destroyed—his constitution perhaps, irre-ocably go e-yet, just hear how the Ductor arrogates to himself credit. He says, most inveterate case of liver complaint"-"nothing but the most energetic remedies sared him."-Energetic measures! i. e. Merenry and Bleeding, rained his constitution, better say. So to save life, you must half poison with that comforter of the teeth and goms-MacCURYand positively make a man miserable the sad remainder of his existence; this is called curing. Shocking folly!

Let us now look at your "purged" man-the man who has taken Brandreth's Pil's for Liver Complaint—he has the fire, elastic tread of conscious strength, his counterance is clear and serene, his eye is full and spackling with the feeling of new life and animation; he has been confined a few days to his bed, but he used nothing but the TRUE LEANDRETH PILLS. and soon rose without any injury being sustained by his constitution. Instead of being months in a weak star ,he will be -tro ger after he has entire y recovered the attack; because his blood and fluids have become purified, and having tition of the said Lewis Rodgers will be heard considered in the Court of Common Pleas, ids are thereby renovated, and he is not borne down by useless particles but has renewed his life and body both.

This principle of purging with Brandreth's Pills, removes nothing but the useless and decayed particles from the body.—the morbid and corrupt humors of the blood; those humors which cause disease-they impede the functions of the liver when they settle upon that organ, and which when they settle upon the muscles, produce rhenmatism; or, upon the erves produce gout; or, upon the lungs produce consumption; or, upon the intestines, cos-tiveness; or, upon the linings of the blood vessels, apoplexy and paralysis, and all the fram of disorders so metancholy to the sufferer and all who behold them.

Yes purging these lumors from the body s the true cure for all these complaints, and every other form of disease; this is no more ssertion, it is a demonstrable truth, and each day it is extending itself, far and wide it is beoming known, and more & more appreciated. The cure by purging may more depend upon the laws which produce sweetness or purity than may be generally imagined. Whatever tends o stagnate will produce sickness, because it tends to purrefaction, therefore the neessity of constant exercise is seen.

When construt exercise cannot be used FROM ANY CAUSE, the occasional use of OPENING MEDICINE IS ABSOLUTELY required. Thus the conduits of the Blood, the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE are kept free from those impurities which would prevent its steady cur-rent ministering health. Thus, morbid bumors are prevented from becoming mixed with it.— It is no ure which is thus assisted through the means and outlets which she has provided for herself.
