

THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

A change having taken place, in the departure of the horse mail from this place, our next number will not be published until the 7th of March next, which will be on Saturday week.

To Correspondents.—We would recommend to our correspondents, the observance of the following rules:

Write your communications in a plain legible hand. Carefully punctuate every sentence, and be particular in spelling every word correctly.

Do not write on more than one side of a leaf of paper, in order that your article may be divided out to two or more compositors, if necessary.

The communications of all, who do not observe the two first of these rules, will be considered out of order, and will be laid on the table, perhaps, not to be called up again.

We will continue the publication of the acts passed at the last session of the Legislature, when we receive a copy of them.

The Charleston Courier, in a recent article, complains that Gen. McDuffie in his eulogy on Gen. Hayne, spoke too much, and too strongly in favor of the doctrine of Nullification, as a large number of those who had assembled to do honor to the illustrious deceased, were Union men, and of course, opposed to Nullification.

The present number terminates the connexion of the subscriber, with the "Edgefield Advertiser." Ill health, under which he has labored for some time past, is the principle cause which induces him to take this step.

He would have been delighted to have given the Advertiser, a more literary cast, had circumstances permitted. But in this utilitarian and political age, and in this, his beloved State, Belles-Lettres are at a discount.

Who has not smiled on reading the elaborate essays of some of the ablest writers of the day, upon the price of cotton, the building of Rail Roads, and other things of the like perishable nature?

At bona pars hominum decepta cupidine falso, Nil satis est, inquit, quia tanti quantum habes sis.

But why write a homily? The subscriber promised to be brief. To his editorial brethren, he has ever been courteous. He has never indulged in ill-feeling towards those of either party, though he has never concealed his political principles.

To the State Rights branch of the Democratic party, he would say, Macte virtute esto.

Go on. Assert your doctrines boldly.—They are founded on truth, and must prevail.

The Advertiser will still be published by the Proprietor, Mr. Wm. F. Durison.—There will be no change in its political principles. The subscriber trusts that it will receive that support, which the experience and long connexion of the Proprietor with the press, under whose control it will be placed, will doubtless deserve.

PIERRE F. LABORDE.

We recommend to our readers, a careful perusal of all the articles, on this subject, which appear in to-day's paper. Three of them are written, by gentlemen of great ability and distinction, and of decided influence in this section of the State.

By particularly recommending this article to the attention of our readers, we do not design instituting a comparison between it and the others. They are all ably written. And we recommend the one alluded to, simply because it contains a thorough discussion of the subject. We feel convinced that no one, who is open to conviction—who will go for measures and not for men—who will act from principle and not from prejudice, can, after a careful perusal of that article, doubt, we will not say the propriety, but the necessity of the Sub-Treasury party supporting Col. Richardson.

Though we were fully convinced that the opinions, of the people of "Edgefield," and the "Up Country," were not expressed by those, who assumed to speak for them, we thought it more becoming, to let them answer for themselves. THEY HAVE ANSWERED! And we are gratified to find, that in advocating the claims of Col. Richardson, we are but expressing the sentiments, of this entire section of the State.

A Post Office has been established at Fruit Hill, Edgefield S. C.; John C. Allen, Post Master.

A Post Office has been established, at Cairo, Edgefield District, and Martin's Creek, Pickens District, S. C. and Chas. Freeman and Thos. Dawson, appointed Post Masters.

Wilson Villines, has been appointed Post Master at Long-street, Lancaster District.

The Charleston Courier of the 21st inst. says: "We learn that about 20 bales of much damaged and stained cotton was sold, yesterday, at 2 1/2 cents.

Governor of Virginia.—Thomas W. Gilmer, (Whig.) was elected Governor of Virginia, on the 14th inst., at the 8th ballot, which stood thus: Gilmer 83, McDowell 68, Nicholas 21, Scattering 2; necessary to a choice, 83.

From the Charleston Mercury.

GENERAL BANKRUPT LAW. Several of the leading organs of the Whig party in New York have recently come out strongly in favor of a general Bankrupt Law to be enacted by Congress.

When an older thing approaches one of the older dogs, his eyes flash, he roars with rage, and twists like a serpent to escape from his chain, the keepers have them under subjection, but have frequently to maintain quiet order by inflicting heavy blows with a cudgel, when the dog lays down with an air, which seems to say, "I will be civil to accommodate you; but—your stick," for they neither wince or howl.

A few days since, as an experiment, a negro was sent a mile into the woods to climb a tree, and in an hour afterwards, a dog was put upon the trail—he followed it direct, through all the windings of the bushes, without faulting. The only question is, will they follow the trail of an Indian? If they will, they will be a great acquisition, to the country, for as to fighting, I am satisfied they would grapple with any thing. The way two or three of them would rattle a dozen Indians out of a scrub, or a bay-gall, would be nobody's business. I can only add that I am very much pleased with the blood-hounds, and would like no better fun than taking a hunt with them.

Four keepers have come with them from Cuba. The elder a very respectable sort of man, as I believe a runaway negro hunter by profession, and he has such confidence in his dogs, that he is ready to lead their way against Indians, wherever ordered—there is nothing of the flucifer in his appearance.

Fire.—We are informed by the Post Master at Cowpens, Spartanburgh District that the house of Mrs. Elizabeth Lipscomb was destroyed by fire on the evening of the 25th ult., together with all the furniture, and about $500 in money. The fire is supposed to have been accidentally communicated to a bed, which was not discovered in time to extinguish it.—Greenville Mountaineer Feb. 14.

of doubt that among the acts which must be classed in that definition, as amounting to bankruptcy, will be a deliberate declaration of any man or company, of an intention not to pay their debts—in short, that a suspension of cash payment will be set down as an act of bankruptcy.—And the conspiracy of several men or companies so to deny payment, will, or ought to be defined, fraudulent bankruptcy. The law must embrace corporations as well as individuals, otherwise it would be a very poor and partial thing, tending rather to increase than mitigate the evils of the present confusion. It must embrace banks and merchants, and the administration of it in all its mighty power over commerce and currency must be entrusted to the officers of the Federal Government.

The measure is urged as a relief to insolvent merchants, providing for the final adjustment of their affairs with every body so that they may be troubled with past debts no more. Something might perhaps be gained in this respect, but the present mode of relinquishment on the part of creditors, is in general satisfactory, and in nine cases out of ten, frees all honest merchants from subsequent persecution—for the dishonest, it is scarcely worth while to legislate any more in their favor.

From the St. Augustine Herald. THE BLOOD HOUNDS.

Thinking it quite probable that the newspapers would soon magnify the blood-hounds brought from Cuba, into creatures about the size of an elephant, with teeth like a shark's, and jaws longer than an alligator's, I galloped over to Magnolia yesterday, and passed the day with the amiable animals.

So various are these dogs, in color, shape, size, and age, that at first sight they appear like an ordinary pack barking about a planter's dwelling, but examination proves them quite another thing. To describe a dog so as to be understood, is difficult. I must therefore convey a general idea by requesting you to imagine a short-haired, black, red, yellow, brindled, or spotted dog, or any color that ever hedecked the species, 24 inches high, and 36 inches long (or thereabouts) with a head, breast, forehead, and shoulders like a light-made mastiff, and snout somewhat elongated, ears erect like a grey-hound, (mostly cropped where they bend) and loins, croup-haunches, and tail, like a grey-hound, only thicker set. This combination, you may conceive, produces an animal of great nerve, strength and agility, and such to all appearance, are these blood hounds.

They are thirty-four in number—5 or 6 old dogs, well trained—the remainder are younger—some I should think not a year old; one of these, a lady blood-hound, walked about the village with me as familiarly and lovingly as a spaniel; but her kindness was imperious upon the rest of her clan, for such a set of ferocious beasts I never before saw. That modern Daniel, Van Amburgh, who goes among the lions, would stand no chance among them.—When any older thing approaches one of the older dogs, his eyes flash, he roars with rage, and twists like a serpent to escape from his chain, the keepers have them under subjection, but have frequently to maintain quiet order by inflicting heavy blows with a cudgel, when the dog lays down with an air, which seems to say, "I will be civil to accommodate you; but—your stick," for they neither wince or howl.

A few days since, as an experiment, a negro was sent a mile into the woods to climb a tree, and in an hour afterwards, a dog was put upon the trail—he followed it direct, through all the windings of the bushes, without faulting. The only question is, will they follow the trail of an Indian? If they will, they will be a great acquisition, to the country, for as to fighting, I am satisfied they would grapple with any thing. The way two or three of them would rattle a dozen Indians out of a scrub, or a bay-gall, would be nobody's business. I can only add that I am very much pleased with the blood-hounds, and would like no better fun than taking a hunt with them.

Four keepers have come with them from Cuba. The elder a very respectable sort of man, as I believe a runaway negro hunter by profession, and he has such confidence in his dogs, that he is ready to lead their way against Indians, wherever ordered—there is nothing of the flucifer in his appearance.

Fire.—We are informed by the Post Master at Cowpens, Spartanburgh District that the house of Mrs. Elizabeth Lipscomb was destroyed by fire on the evening of the 25th ult., together with all the furniture, and about $500 in money. The fire is supposed to have been accidentally communicated to a bed, which was not discovered in time to extinguish it.—Greenville Mountaineer Feb. 14.

No less than twenty-eight printers lost their lives at Fannin's massacre, in Texas. Printers are always among the first to dip into any affair where the liberties of their fellow men are at stake, or the yoke of an oppressor needs to be broken.

Exploring Expedition.—The New York Journal of Commerce states that Mr. B. C. Cutler, of Brooklyn, has received a letter from the Exploring Expedition, dated Matavai Bay, Island of Otaheite, Sept. 1st, 1839, and post-marked Woods' Hole, Mass. 26th Jan. 1840. It is from Camden Hudson, of the U. S. ship Peacock. He speaks of Capt. Wilkes and the officers and crews being on shore. Nothing said of the mission vessel. The expedition, at the date above mentioned, was on its way to the far south, being last from Callao and (we presume) the Sandwich Islands. From the tenor of the letter it is inferred that the health of the squadron was good.

The Revenue—the Tariff Silk.—It was stated recently, by Mr. Buchanan, of Penn., in presenting to the Senate a petition for duty on imported silk, as a matter beyond doubt, "that before the close of the present session of Congress, we should be compelled to raise additional revenue to meet the necessary expenditures of Government;" and he added, that upon no one article of imports, could a duty be laid, with more propriety, than upon silk, which is now free.

It is manifest from this indication and others, that the Tariff question will, and must be broached before the adjournment of Congress, for no one duty can be touched without bringing into discussion, the whole question, Compromise act and all.—Alex Gazette.

The debts due to a newspaper establishment, in general, though large in the aggregate, are often found inadequate to balance the debts payable from it. One class is composed of innumerable small demands, scattered over the whole country—the other of a few large ones, which may generally be found lodged in a bank for collection. If any set of men have reason to say "Perish Credit!" the proprietors of newspapers may be justly entitled to the privilege.—Boston Courier.

Going Back.—Great quantities of goods, on consignment to various houses, are in the progress of transhipment to Liverpool. This is the sure mode of decreasing our foreign debt, and relieves the country from the excess of importations.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

A judgment for $38,000 against the U. S. Bank was sold at auction at 97 per cent. the accumulated interest since October to the purchasers. Some marked notes of the same institution sold at 93 1/4 per cent.

The Rev. Dr. Olin, now travelling abroad, has accepted by letter of the Presidency of Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn. This station has been vacant or temporarily supplied, since the death of Dr. Fisk.

An extensive failure has taken place in Baltimore, which has, it appears, created great excitement in that city. The name of the individual is Mr. Steubener, a great cattle dealer, who has, it is said, controlled the cattle market of Baltimore, and some other cities for several years past. The amount of the failure is said to be upwards of one million of dollars—the U. S. Bank being implicated to the amount of something like $600,000.

The N. Y. Express, states that Robert Lennox, Esq. who recently died in that city has left an estate estimated to be worth three millions of dollars. He was supposed to have been the richest man in the city of New York, with the exception of John Jacob Astor. Mr. L. was a native of Scotland.

OBITUARY.

"Death has been busy at his appointed work."

DIED.

In this Village, on the 15th inst. Mrs. Eliza Burt, wife of Dr. Harwood Burt, in the 48th year of her age.

When one is called from us who has acted well their part in life, whether it be in the domestic circle, or in the councils of a nation, it is fit, both in justice to the dead, and for the benefit of the living, that a simple record be made of those virtues for which they were loved while living, and lamented when dead. The subject of this obituary was one of those happy spirits, whose highest aim ever was to discharge faithfully, the duties of a woman and a wife. She was a zealous and devoted Christian; who "served God not only with her lips, but in her life—and was for many years a member of the Baptist Church. She was one, who in no station of life was either ashamed or afraid of discharging her duty, and acting her part with firmness and constancy; true to the God whom she worshipped, and the faith which she professed; full of affection to all around her, faithful to her friends, warm with compassion to the unfortunate, and abounding in charity to the poor; self-denying to little private interests and pleasures, but zealous and active in the cause of her Master; simple in her manners, but generous and elevated in her feelings, she lived in the fear of God, and died in the hope of a glorious resurrection—leaving behind her a name that will long be cherished by all who regard domestic virtue, and christian piety.

At his residence, in this District, on the 31st January last, Mr. Allen Y. Burton, in the 46th year of his age. The deceased was well known in this community as an honest and industrious man, and was characterized by a kind and obliging disposition.

At Wetumpka, (Ala.), on the 4th inst. Mrs. ELIZABETH McWHORTER, aged exactly 71 years. She left this world in the happy assurance, that she should enjoy eternal happiness in that better one to which she was going. The remains of her husband, the Rev. George G. McWhorter, who died in 1829, were removed from an adjoining county, and interred with her in the same grave in Montgomery.

Land! Land!! Land!!!

5,000 Acres of Land at Sheriff's Sale.

WILL be sold on the 1st Monday in March next, at Edgefield, C. H. S. C. by the Sheriff of said District, to satisfy divers Executions, Mortgages, &c. Five Thousand acres of land, more or less, lying on the waters of Big Horse Creek, four miles from Hamburg, and within two miles of Savannah River, and extending four miles on the Rail Road, known as Milton's Mills. On said place is an excellent set of mills in good order, consisting of four run of saws, and one Grist Mill. The saws are capable of cutting from twelve to fifteen hundred feet of lumber each, per day. A never failing stream of water, sufficient to propel ten saws at all times. It is navigable for Petersburg boats, to the Mills, and can easily be made so for much larger ones. There is sawing lumber enough on the land to run the Mills 10 or 12 years, allowing each saw to cut 1200 feet per day, and has the great advantage of Hamburg, Augusta and Savannah markets, all by water. One hand will, in two days, make his raft, run and deliver two thousand feet in Hamburg or Augusta, and two hands will, in twelve days, raft, run and deliver 40,000 feet in Savannah. These Mills have also annually furnished large bills of lumber for the Charleston Rail Road, which passes within 150 or 200 yards of the Mills.

There are 150 acres under cultivation, and 2000 more suitable for cultivation. There is on the place, one good well finished dwelling, pleasantly situated, together with Kitchens, Smoke House, Store Houses, Stables, Blacksmith, Wheelwrights, and other shops. Also 12 or 15 other small dwellings, in the vicinity of the Mills, suitable for small families, and here, at no very distant day, (with the permission of the proprietor) will be erected numerous summer seats, where the busy merchant of the city may retire, after the labors of the day, in twenty-five minutes, to a pure atmosphere, free from the fatal miasma insipensque ad dust, and refresh himself among the numerous springs of as pure water as can be found in the United States. Nor is there any place in the Southern country better calculated for an extensive manufacturing establishment, there being no want of water; and for health unparallelled.

Their is much Pine Timber in the vicinity adjoining this tract, which must be saved at these Mills. We will now suppose that the four saws cut but 1,300,000 feet annually, and after deducting all expenses, you have but four dollars per thousand. You will then have $4,800 per annum, or the sum of $48,000 in ten years. You may also employ one team and three hands, which will deliver in twelve months, fifteen hundred cords of lightwood on the Rail Road, for which they pay $2 1/2 per cord; which will make $3750—$3000 out, for team and hands, leaves $750—$700, or, with the same hands and team, deliver on the bank of the Savannah River, twelve hundred cords of lightwood, for which the Steamboat Company pay $3 03 per cord—which will make $3600, $900 out, leaves $2700—or, in ten years, $27,000. You may also employ three more teams, and five hands, which will deliver in Hamburg, or Augusta, (as the Bridges are now free, but for Wood and Lumber,) one thousand cords of hard wood, which brings from $3 50 to $6 00 per cord, say $400. You will then have $4000. Hands and team, say $1500—it will leave you $2500 per annum, or $25,000 in ten years. Thus, you see, that in ten years, according to the above calculations, (which no experienced man will say are large,) you will take from this land, one hundred thousand dollars, and still have your land and mills left.

It is estimated by good judges, acquainted with the land, that it will average, at least, four cords of light wood, and four of hard wood, per acre. And those best acquainted with the rapid growth of hard wood, and the production of light wood, from the bodies of fallen Pines, will readily perceive that the above named teams could never divert the land of wood. And while it continues fashionable, to have good fires in cold weather, and for Steamboats and Locomotives to burn wood, so long this land must remain valuable. The Rail Road Company, by purchasing this place, may supply this end of their road with sawed lumber Ranging timbers and lightwood and thereby save their thousands annually. And let them and other Capitalists, reflect, that five thousand acres of land in a body, with a Rail Road passing through it, on which, is one of the finest Mill streams in the United States, with a super dam and mills, all in order, within a few miles of one of the best Lumber and Wood markets in the South, is not to be found every year at Sheriff's Sale.

To My Creditors.

Gentlemen, my property is all in the hands of the Sheriff. It is misfortune, heavy losses, unparalleled hard times, and your Impatience, that has placed it there. Should it bring one half its intrinsic worth, you will all be safe. If it does not, it is my all. Do the best you can with it. Expect no more from me.
