Receiving & Forwarding AGENCY,Factorage & Commission BUSINESS:

HAMBURG, S. C.
THE Subscriber respectfully takes leave to renew to his customers, his sincere acknowledgments for the extensive patronage hitherto bestowed on him; and would beg to assure them of a continuance of that strict attention to their interests, which, from a largely increased business, he flatters himself has been appreciated.

He deems it unnecessary to dilate, to MERCHANTS, on the evident superiority of his claims to their patronage as a RECEIVING AND FORWARDING AGENCY;—his long experience in that department; rigorous observance of instructions, and the rules of Handling; his entire attention being restricted to a Commission Business alone; and the isolated and elevated position of his warehouse, thus lessening the risks from fire and inundations; are circumstances, which, with all due deference, entitle him to a precedence.

To PLANTERS he would again tender his services in the sale of their cotton and other produce; to his department he appropriates his personal attention, and from his practical knowledge of this business, he feels assured he will promote the interests of those who may consign to him.

J. F. BENSON,

(Water-Proof.)WARE-HOUSE,*AND Commission Business.

THE Subscriber is much gratified that he is once more able to offer his services to his friends and old customers, and the public generally in the Ware-House and Commission Business. He flatters himself that the eligible location of his Ware-House, and its comparative immunity from the risk of fire and flood, will procure him a liberal patronage.

He has rebuilt the Ware-House formerly known as Adams & Walker's, and is filling up one wing of it above the highest water-mark of the late freshet, for the purpose of storing therein the Cotton of Planters and Country Merchants. This site is at least two feet higher than any other ware-house in town; and the division that has been elevated will score from 1800 to 2000 bales.

He will sell Cotton, and attend to such business as is usually transacted by Commission Merchants, at as low a rate as others engaged in the same calling.

In again offering his services to his friends and the public, the subscriber cannot refrain from acknowledging the liberal patronage he once received from them; and hopes by his attention to business that it will be renewed, and it will be thankfully received.

COTTON WARE HOUSE.

THE Subscriber having put his WARE-HOUSE in thorough repair, and raised it about five feet higher than before, which makes it to high water. Planters and Merchants may rest assured of no danger from high water, in storing Cotton in this Warehouse.—He is thankful for the liberal patronage of his friends heretofore, and flatters himself that by his personal and a strict attention to business, he will merit a continuance of the former liberal patronage bestowed on him.

Any Cotton that he may have in store, or that may be sent to him to be shipped to Charleston or Savannah, will be strictly attended to.

ESTRAYED,

FROM the Subscriber, about the 19th of March last, 2 Colts, one a dark iron grey filly, three years old; when she left, she had on a common size iron bell, attached to a leather collar, fastened on with a leather latch. The other a year old bright bay horse colt, with some white hairs on the body, and a blaze in the face. I will satisfactorily reward any one who will stop said colts, or either of them, and give me information; direct to Mt. Willing Post Office S. C.

A CARD.

THE Subscriber takes this method of informing his friends and the public generally, that he will continue a General Commission and Factorage Business, in this place. He will attend to the selling, receiving, forwarding and storing of Cotton, or other Produce and Merchandise, and to the buying any article or bill of articles entrusted to his charge, to all of which he will give his personal attention, and will also make liberal advances on Cotton shipped through him, to Charleston or Savannah. Whilst soliciting the patronage of his friends he begs leave to return them his sincere thanks for past favors.
