

ALUM SPRING PILLS.

FOR THE CURE OF Dyspepsia, Scrophulous and Chronic Liver Diseases.

THESE Pills are prepared by Dr. S. A. Campbell, from the water of the highly celebrated Mineral Springs in Rockbridge county Va., called the Alum Springs. These waters in their effects upon the system are tonic, increasing the appetite, and promoting digestion; they are alterative, acting on the secretions of the glandular system generally, and particularly of the liver and kidneys; they are cathartic, producing copious, dark, bilious evacuations, and they also effect a determination to the surface, increasing the perspiration. From the combination of all these effects upon the system, they are a great purifier of the blood, and equalizer of the circulation. The effect of the Pills, made from these waters, are in all respects, similar to the water itself, and each pill is equal to a common glass of water. For the cure of the above diseases, and all other chronic (or slow) diseases, perseverance in the use of these Pills, according to the directions given in the small bills, accompanying the pills, is all important; and if they are perseveringly used as directed, a cure may be more certainly expected, than under any other treatment heretofore discovered, except from the use of the water, from which they are prepared either by an attendance at the Springs or otherwise. They very speedily cure diarrhoea attended with acidity of the stomach, and what is commonly called heart-burn; two or three pills may be taken at any time, when the stomach is troubled with acidity, with the happiest effect. These Pills have an excellent effect in preventing the attacks of nervous or sick-headache; from three to six pills should be taken at once, when the symptoms are felt.

These waters are an effectual remedy for all hemorrhages; and as the Pills have the same effect in other cases, it is believed they will also have the same effect in cases of hemorrhage. They cure dropsies in some cases, but are not an infallible remedy in all cases of this disease.

From the efficacy of these waters and pills in purifying the blood, they are invaluable in the cure of all diseases of the skin, and all indolent sores, not disposed to a healthy action. In the use of them for such diseases, if the disease of the skin appears to be rietated at first, or if the ulcers become more inflamed and discharge more freely, let not this circumstance alarm any one, or deter him from persevering in their use. These are evidences of the good effects of the Pills in expelling the vitiated humors from the blood to the surface, and until the blood is purified, such disease cannot be cured. In scrophulous ulcers, the use of these waters and pills, invariably cause them to discharge more freely, and in a short time, of a more healthy appearance. They are a very useful remedy in Cholera Infantum or the summer bowel complaint in children; as also for expelling worms from children. They immediately give a good appetite, promote digestion, and will effectually correct and cure acidity of the stomach. From their cleansing and purifying effects upon the blood; and from the tone, vigour and energy, which their operation imparts to the whole system they will be found a great preventative of the fevers, which prevail in low and unhealthy regions; hence, persons living in such regions, will find it greatly to their advantage to use the pills, for a fortnight, at the commencement of every spring and fall season, as a preventative, and to build up constitutions broken down by previous attacks of fever.

These Pills are a valuable assistant to the use and efficacy of sulphurous and saline mineral waters, and three or four of them taken each day, at different times, which in attendance at other mineral springs, would add greatly to the curative effects of these waters.

These waters and pills are worthy of the notice of the Medical Faculty; and in their hands would be a valuable article in the treatment of many diseases, otherwise unmanageable. In amenorrhoea, dysmenorrhoea and leucorrhoea, the waters of the Alum Springs are peculiarly efficacious; and we believe the pills made from these waters, would have the same effect in the treatment of those diseases, that the water has; therefore, we would recommend a trial of them, by the Faculty, in those diseases. These Pills are easily taken, having no nauseous taste, are perfectly safe in all cases where active fever does not exist and do not sicken persons while using them.

Water Proof Warehouse.
HAMBURG, September 20, 1841

THE Subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public, that he continues the WAREHOUSE and COMMISSION BUSINESS, at his former stand, known as the Water Proof Warehouse.

Detached as it is from other buildings, its location renders it nearly as secure from fire, as it were fire proof. The floors of its two wings have been elevated above the high water mark of the great freshet of May 1840; and each of these divisions of the building, will store from 1,500 to 1,800 bales of Cotton, both of these are designed to be exclusively set apart for the Cotton planters and country merchants, who will thus be secured from the possibility of loss and damage by freshets.

He avails himself of the present occasion to return his thanks to his friends and patrons, for their liberal support during the last season. He solicits from them, and the public generally, a continuance of this confidence, and assures them, that in return for their patronage he will use his best personal efforts to promote and protect their interest committed to his charge; that he will in no case purchase a bale of Cotton directly or indirectly.

He will attend to the sale and shipping of Cotton, the receiving and forwarding of Goods, or any other business usually transacted by a Commission Merchant.

Facture & Commission Business,
HAMBURG, S. C.

AS I have declined selling goods, I beg leave to return my grateful acknowledgments to my friends, and the public generally, for their liberal patronage while thus engaged. I now offer my services to the public as an Agent, to receive and forward all kinds of merchandise and produce. And as I will not be engaged in any other business, I will pay strict attention to the interest of all those consigning their produce or merchandise to me, and while in my house the best care will be taken, and forwarded with despatch, or orders promptly obeyed.

From experience and observation, I have long thought that a faithful agent could render considerable service to the planters, in selling their cotton and flour, and buying their groceries. And, as I have been engaged in this market, for the last ten years, and acquainted with the general routine of business, I therefore offer my services to my friends and the planters generally, and will faithfully devote my undivided attention to the interest of all those who may commit to my charge the selling of their produce, and buying such articles as they may order.

In all cases, my commission shall be moderate.

The Wonderful Cures

PERFORMED BY
DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF PRUNUS VIRGINIANA, OR WILD CHERRY.
CINCINNATI, February 15, 1840.
DR. SWAYNE—Dear Sir—Permit me to take the liberty of writing to you at this time to express my appreciation, and to recommend to the attention of friends of families and others your invaluable medicine—the Compound Syrup of Prunus Virginiana, or Wild Cherry Bark. In my travels of late I have seen in many instances the wonderful effects of your medicine in relieving children of very obstinate complaints, such as Coughing, Wheezing, Choking of Phlegm, Asthmatic attacks, &c. &c. I should not have written this letter, however, at present, although I have felt it my duty to add my testimony to it for some time, had it not been for a late instance where the medicine above alluded to was instrumental, in restoring to perfect health the "only child," whose case was almost hopeless, in a family of acquaintance. "I thank Heaven," said the doating mother, "my child is saved from the jaws of death! O how I feared the relentless ravager! But my child is safe! is safe!"

Beyond all doubt Dr. Swayne's compound Syrup of Wild Cherry is the most valuable medicine in this or any other country. I am certain I have witnessed more than one hundred cases where it has been attended with complete success. I am assize it myself in an obstinate attack of Bronchitis, to which it proved effectual in an exceedingly short time, considering the severity of the case. I can recommend it in the fullest confidence of its superior virtues; I would advise that no family should be without it; it is very pleasant and always beneficial—worth double and often ten times its price. The Public are assured there is no quackery about it.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE THIRD VOLUME OF
The Hamburg Journal.
Published Weekly, at Hamburg, S. C.
Terms—$3 per annum—incorally in advance.

TWO years has nearly elapsed since the JOURNAL first made its appearance before the public, and asked only a narrow share of patronage from its friends, and the time should arrive when confidence could be placed in its success. The editor has now the pleasure of announcing that this enlarged periodical has arrived, and he now earnestly solicits a liberal support from the reading community, and the business portion of those, who may favor him with their support. The first number of the third volume will be printed on or before the first day of April next.

When the JOURNAL was about to be issued two years ago, promises were made by the publishers to the public, that they would exert themselves industriously and employ the best efforts of their humble abilities to make their paper entertaining, useful and instructive. These things have been fulfilled; our time and money spent to sustain our promises, and bring out a paper every way worthy of the growing prosperity of Hamburg. And now that these promises have been accomplished, and the Journal passed the goal at which such enterprises, either fail or rise, may not find a share of support be expected by us from those who should give a helping hand?

Many believed that the Journal was established for certain private, party purposes, and we have endeavored ourselves to let them remain in this belief, knowing that TRUTH will work its way and frown down every thing that leans to error. But now that we have surmounted every difficulty and spread our pennant to the breeze we fearlessly proclaim, that the good of Hamburg alone in every and any case, has been our earnest design. Her interest demands a public paper, and we have supplied her want. Here shall the Press the People's rights maintain.

Used by influence unbrided by gain; Here Patriot Truth its glorious precepts draw, Pledged to Religion, Liberty and Law. Promises were likewise made by the publishers, that their columns should not be burthened with the partisan essays and speculations of the day. These promises have been adhered to, and although we have no great desire to launch out on the troubled sea of politics, we shall speak that which we may feel bound to condemn the wrong, and hold up light to the people, let our words offend what party it may. It is the duty of the press to watch over the liberties of our common country, and warn the people whenever danger is visible. We adhere to the Democracy of this country, yet if this party goes astray, we shall endeavor to bring it back by timely and virtuous reproof.

The duty of an editor is a distinct and lofty profession, exercising great influence over society. It is a power that has never been cherished, and we shall endeavor to sustain and cherish the moral agencies which the functions of editorship holds among the world, and endeavor to persuade our contemporaries to improve the character of the Press, to rescue it from infidelity to itself, and from the indifference and contempt of the public; assert its claims, vindicate its dignity and exhort it to its duty, by a straight forward virtuous course. These admonitions we have learned from wise and experienced heads, and we will profit by them.

The columns of the Journal are devoted to Foreign and Domestic News, the Markets, Literature, Science, etc. Our readers will be furnished with correct information in relation to passing events in every quarter of the globe—the state of the markets at home and abroad, and every description of business intelligence, besides a great variety of miscellaneous matter. The great increase of trade to Hamburg, her natural advantages for health and business, and her flourishing condition, renders a paper indispensably necessary here, as well to the citizens as the planters and others who trade to this place; all of whom should partize a paper of correct information. Therefore, the editor of the Journal knows that he can send out a weekly sheet as well worthy of patronage as any other now before the public. He respectfully solicits from a liberal and enlightened community, that increase of patronage which he believes his work deserves.
