

"We will cling to the Pillars of the Temple of our Liberties, and if it must fall, we will perish amidst the Ruins."

FOR PRESIDENT: JOHN C. CALHOUN, Subject to the decision of the Democratic Republican Convention, to assemble in May, 1844, as recommended by the States of Maryland, Michigan, Kentucky, Louisiana, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Alabama and Mississippi.

TO DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS.

We once more call the attention of our distant Delinquent Subscribers to a settlement of their accounts, some of which has been forwarded them six months ago, and of which there has been no more notice taken, than if they were blank paper. The troubles and cares of a proprietor of a newspaper is bad enough at the best, but to be weekly entering for a number of subscribers hundreds of miles distant from him, who must know his want of the needful, and who refuses to forward their yearly stipend, knowing, on account of the smallness of the demand, the difficulty of collecting it, is not only hard, but shows a disposition on the part of the subscriber to act dishonestly. After having waited so long, and not wishing to act rashly towards any of our patrons, we will now inform them, that all those who have received their accounts from this office, during the past spring and summer, by mail, and have never attended to answering them, that those which remain unanswered on the 1st day of February next, will have their names erased from our list, and placed upon a black list which we intend publishing monthly.

The Legislature of this State meets at Columbia, on Monday next the 27th inst.

At a called meeting of the Edgefield Philosophical and Agricultural Society, on Monday the 20th inst. The Hon. F. W. Pickens, James Terry, Esq., and Dr. Harwood Burt, were appointed Delegates to attend the Annual meeting of the State Agricultural Society, in Columbia, on Monday evening the 27th inst.

The Weather.—For the last few days we have had remarkably mild weather for the season, in fact, some days have been disagreeably warm upon those exposed to the sun. We have not had, as yet, but a few days of winter, and have a hope that we shall be more easily dealt with by Jack Frost than we were last season.

Palmetto Fire Company.—Our citizens were, on Saturday last, highly gratified at the parade for exercise of this Company, with their Apparatus. Though we were not present ourselves, we have been informed, that the Company generally, displayed considerable skill in the management of their Apparatus, which, on its part done wonderful well. We hope our citizens will, one and all, assist those worthies, who have commenced this good work, for the benefit and preservation of their property, in such manner as they may deem expedient, so as to enable them to carry out their good work. To our active young men, we would say, attach yourselves to this Company, as the exercise of working their Apparatus, will be beneficial to your health.

The Mails.—We have, for the last year, almost weekly, been receiving, from our subscribers, or Postmasters, communication like the annexed. We are at all times anxious to serve our patrons with the earliest possible news, but without the facilities, which ought to be extended towards us by those at the head of our Post Office Department, are better attended to than they have been latterly, we have a fear that we shall be unable to save our friends the trouble, which we are thankful for, of complaining.

Now, for the truth of the complaint.—Until our last number, (Nov. 15.) we have uniformly been in the habit of sending the packages named in the Postmaster's note, with some others, to our Post Office, on Tuesday evening, before dark, now whether they are mailed that night, or whether they lay in the Office, until those whose duty it is to mail them, has leisure to attend to them, we cannot positively say, but we are certain that, with the exception of the publication stated, which was kept back on account of the great press of advertising, we have not missed sending our packages to the Post Office, in time for all the mails, but twice, since the first week in July. We will, when in the wrong, acknowledge our faults, but we are not exactly satisfied at having to bear the faults of others, at least to our own injury.

We are, and ever shall be thankful to our patrons and friends, for any information in regard to the irregularities of the arrival or delivery of our paper, as we shall, at all times, try to remedy them.

Mr. Duriso.—Your paper, as usual, failed to arrive yesterday. Your subscribers complain bitterly. They would be much accommodated could you get it out of press early enough for Wednesday morning's mail.

The Offices of Fruit Hill, Richardsonville, Half Way Swamp, and Cambridge, are supplied by a mail that leaves this office every Wednesday. Unless your paper reaches here by Wednesday's mail, your subscribers on that line, do not receive their papers until one week after date, or about the time they get their papers from New York.

With much respect, &c.

The Governor of Georgia has offered the reward of one hundred dollars for the apprehension of Samuel Mattox, charged with the offence of Murder, and one hundred dollars each, for Tarlton Swain, and John Strickland, charged with the offence of aiding a prisoner to escape from Jail.

New York Election.—By the returns received from the interior of New York, there is no doubt, but that the Democrats have been as triumphant as they could wish, having elected 26 of the 32 Senators and 91 of the 128 members of Assembly. The Democrats have a majority on the popular vote of about 20,000.

At the Annual Election, held in Charleston, on Monday the 13th inst., for Directors of the Bank of Charleston, S. C.—the following gentlemen were unanimously elected:

H. W. Conner, Kerr Boyce, James Adger, L. M. Wiley, Joseph Leland, G. A. Trenholm, Henry Goudin, Jonathan Lucas, F. D. Fanning, D. Boinest, Alexander Robertson, R. C. Smith, A. Rose.

At a meeting of the new Board held on the same afternoon, Henry W. Conner Esq., was unanimously re-elected President of the Institution for the ensuing year.

The Governors of Georgia and Alabama, have appointed John R. Hays, Esq., of Charleston Commissioner to take testimony and receive acknowledgment of deeds, &c. to be used in those States.

The Governors of Georgia, Alabama, and North Carolina, have appointed Arthur C. Waugh, Esq., of Charleston, Commissioner, to take acknowledgements and proof of the execution of deeds, mortgages, and other conveyances of lands &c. &c. for those States.

The Governor of Alabama has appointed and commissioned Wm. D. Porter, Esq., of Charleston, Commissioner for this State, to take testimony, and receive acknowledgements of deeds and papers, to be used in the State of Alabama.

Counterfeit Dimes.—The Charleston Courier of the 16th inst., says: "We were shown, last evening, a counterfeit ten cent piece (several of which are said to be in circulation) dated 1838. It was taken with several others, from a soldier at Fort Moultrie, who is said to be the counterfeiter. Some of his comrades detected and informed against him, and had him in custody on Tuesday, to be brought to the city for trial, but he made his escape that night."

Mail Robberies.—The Augusta Chronicle of the 14th inst., says: "Since the 25th October, the Western mail to and from this city has been several times robbed, of amounts already ascertained to be $1800 to $2000. Suspectives have settled upon the Post Master at Camak, E. A. Crandle, and a man by the name of Wm. Butler, who had charge of the mail on the Georgia Rail Road, they have been both arrested."

The Court of Sessions and Common Pleas for Spartanburg District commenced its Fall Term on Monday last. Judge Butler presiding. We do not learn that there is any case of general interest to be tried. The docket is very large, however, and will occupy the whole week, not withstanding the unusual diligence of the presiding officer.—Greenville Mountaineer.

Fatal Accident.—We are informed that a valuable Negro man, (belonging to Capt. John Snoddy, who resides five or six miles this side of Spartanburg C. H.) was almost instantly killed on Monday morning last, by the falling of a block attached to a cotton screw, called the follower. The blow was received upon his head, crushing it in a shocking manner, and also broke his neck.—Ibid.

Information Needed.—Among the matters to which our attention is invited this week, is the case of a Welsh brother, a member of the East Baptist Church in Brooklyn and a licentiate, who has been absent from his wife and family for several months. His name is David Thomas. He took letters from brethren Perkins, Dunbar, and others, designing to travel towards the North and West, occasionally officiating, especially when he met with a Welsh congregation, as he spoke our language rather imperfectly. As he had on other occasions of absence been very punctual in corresponding with his family, and in this instance promised to write very soon, his unexplained silence, and the fact that nothing has been heard concerning him, have created great alarm. Any person who may see this notice, and has seen or heard of him, since he left the city will much oblige his family and friends by immediately transmitting intelligence to the office of the Advocate, 122 Nassau street.—Baptist Advocate.

Dissensions in the Cabinet.—The rumors of dissensions in the Cabinet of Washington, to which allusion was made in our last, appear to be well founded. All accounts agree that Mr. Upshur coincided with the President, while all other members of the Cabinet dissented. Precisely what was the subject of difference, is not so clearly ascertained. One gentleman who is likely to be well informed, thinks, it was the question of further removals of the Whigs from office; and that the President and Mr. Upshur opposed the measure.—Another gentleman whose opportunities of information are equally good, if not better, is confident that the dissension arose upon the question of introducing prominently into the forthcoming President's Message, a recommendation to admit Texas into the Union; and that the President and Mr. Upshur were decidedly in favor of the recommendation, but were decidedly opposed by the other members of the Cabinet.

We are inclined to think the latter version is nearest the truth. Of course we cannot undertake to say precisely what were the points of disagreement in the case but that they related to the Texian question, in connexion perhaps with the overtures of England, for the abolition of slavery in that Republic, is more probable.—N. Y. Jour. of Com.

What's This.—We copy the following from the Baltimore Sun:

Protection of Colored Seamen.—The Governor and Council of Massachusetts, says the Journal of Commerce, have appointed Messrs. John A. Maybin of New Orleans, and B. F. Hunt, of Charleston, agents for that Commonwealth under a resolve of last winter, to represent the rights of colored citizens of Massachusetts who may be restrained in those ports when arriving there as seamen, with power to test the question before the United States Supreme Court. The resolve was the result of a petition from the most respectable ship owners of Boston, and has to relation to the question of Abolition. The agents selected are said to be gentlemen of elevated and philanthropic character.

Among the pleasing incidents connected with the manifestations of respect and regard shown by our citizens to Gen. Bertrand, on the occasion of his recent brief visit to Baltimore, it affords us gratification to refer to one which only came to our knowledge yesterday. The Gen. and his suite, it is known, were accommodated with elegant apartments and all their attendant appliances, at the City Hotel, and every attention was paid to the comfort of the illustrious guest. On the morning of the day of his departure when the Gen. sent for his bill for the purpose of liquidating the call was answered by the worthy landlord in person. He stated to his guest, with an honest candor and unaffected feeling of manner which showed how sincerely his heart was in the matter, that he could not consent to receive any compensation—that the high esteem in which he held the character of the General, both as a gallant soldier, and a faithful, devoted friend—and further, that the sentiments of lively gratitude towards the French nation for their important aid to this country in the Revolutionary struggle, which had been impressed upon him when a boy by a father who was himself engaged in that struggle—were all considerations which prompted him to say that the bill was already discharged. This avowal, made in the manner and terms just stated, was anything but what the General was prepared for, but his subsequent efforts to effect a reversal of it on the part of the worthy head of the City Hotel, were of no avail.—Baltimore American.

HAMBURG November 14.

Cotton.—The accounts per steamship Britannia, at Boston, revived our market, and since Monday, prices have gone up about 1/2 on last week's quotations. Buyers, to day, however, are disposed to fall back in the going rates, and we would not be surprised if previous quotations should be our next notice. The extremes of our market are 5 1/2 to 7 1/2 cts.—principally sales 6 1/2 to 7 1/4 cts. The arrivals are not so heavy as usual at this season of business, owing to the disposition of planters holding back for better prices, and perhaps they are right.—Journal.

Augusta Nov. 16.

Cotton.—The receipts during the week have been moderate. The market up to the first of the week was firm, and the prices given in our review of Thursday were fully sustained. On Saturday night latest advices were received per the Britannia from Liverpool, showing an advance in that market, variously estimated, at from 1/8 to 1/4 per pound. The prices which holders had been asking, were upon the receipt of this intelligence advanced 1/4 of a cent, to which buyers refused to accede as they were not yet apprised of the effect which the news had produced upon the New York market. On Monday Evening we received New York advices showing an advance in that market of fully 1/4 of a cent, with large sales. This produced a corresponding effect here, and on Tuesday sales were readily made at the offering rates. Yesterday the demand was fair and though the business done was not so large as that of the day before, yet this must be ascribed to the fact that a more limited amount was offering on factors tables. The range of the market may be stated at from 6 1/2 to 7 1/4 cts. Sales have been made principally at from 7 1/4 to 7 1/2 cts.

Groceries.—We have no alteration in prices. The market continues well supplied with every description of goods, except Molasses and Sugars of a low grade, which are scarce and in demand. There have been no large sales during the week, but a steady demand for all descriptions from the country, principally for consumption. The stock of Bacon, Flour and Bagging is very heavy, with a light demand.—Constitutionalist.

COLUMBIA, November, 16.

Cotton.—The receipts still continue to be comparatively small, (and the prospects are strengthening, that the crop will be a short one, perhaps one fourth less than that of last year;) but the market is animated, with a slight advance in prices, which we now quote at 7 1/4 to 7 1/2 cts. extremes—while most of the sales have been made at 7 1/2 to 7 1/4 cts.—Carolinian.

CHARLESTON, NOV. 18.

Cotton. In our review of the 11th inst., it will be recollected, we stated that on the preceding day (Friday) there had been a good inquiry for Upland, which resulted in the sale of fully 2100 bags, at improved rates, viz: 1 1/8 to 1 1/4 based upon a live received that morning from the other side per the Britannia. The market opened on Saturday with an increased demand for the article, and the belief is that sellers, in most instances, had the advantage. On Monday a good business was also done, and the 1/4 cent advance was fully established. Throughout Tuesday there was a disposition manifested by purchasers to open to some extent, but they were unwilling to come up to the views of holders, who were generally very firm in their demands, in consequence of the falling off of the receipts, and the reduced stock on sale; hence the sales on this day did not exceed 800 bags. The business of the three days as stated in our semi-weekly report, were 6917 bags. On Wednesday purchasers had, in a measure, reconciled themselves to the advance quoted above, and operated to a moderate extent, at full prices Thursday being observed as a holiday, the market was quiet. Yesterday there was a general attendance of dealers and a further improvement of 1-8 was obtained on the middling to the middling fair and fair and good fair qualities. The receipts of the week have been 6985 bags, and the aggregate transactions in the same time foot up 10,457 bags, at prices, ranging from 6 to 8 1-2; and 123 bags at prices not made public.—Courier.

OBITUARY.

Died, at Aiken, on the day of July last, of illness superinduced by a fracture of the hip joint, Dr. WILLIAM BRAZIER, supposed to be upwards of one hundred year old. From a long acquaintance, and a social intercourse of the most friendly and intimate character, the writer feels warranted in giving to the public such incidents of an eventful life as seem to be well authenticated; though he feels conscious, that much is necessarily omitted which, if known, would be curious to the general reader, and exceedingly interesting to the friends of the deceased.

Dr. BRAZIER was born in London, of highly respectable parents, as he has informed the writer, and was cousin to Capt. LAURENT of the British Navy, who fell mortally wounded in the Java, captured by the Constitution, and of General Lambert who commanded the British reserve at the battle of New Orleans.—His connections were such as to give him favor in the eye of the British Government, and at an early age—probably at 21 or 22 years of age—he received a Commission, during the Frenching of Lord Chatham, as collector of the port of St. Christopher, one of the West India Islands. Being an enthusiast in religion, however, he resigned the office of Collector and engaged in the duties of Missionary among the black population of that, or one of the same group of Islands, preaching the doctrines of the celebrated Reformer, John Wesley.—About the year 1791 he was invited by a Society of Primitive Wesleyan Methodists, to take charge of a congregation in Charleston, S. C., which invitation he accepted, and arrived in Charleston some time in that year. The society or congregation, however, being still under the care of the Minister whom he was appointed to succeed, he determined to enter upon the study of Medicine, and for this purpose, went to Philadelphia, it is believed, in 1792, or 1793. Shortly after his arrival in that city, he published a pamphlet on some subject connected either with theology or politics, which from the boldness and originality of its views, attracted the attention of Dr. Rush, who, upon ascertaining the name of the author, invited him to become a student in his office. This invitation was accepted; and throughout his stay at Philadelphia which embraced a period of about 2 years, and during which time he availed himself of the instruction of the Pennsylvania University; he continued to receive from his distinguished patron, the most marked assistance and attention. The last six months of 1795, he was permitted, by a licence from the officers of that institution, to practice among the inmates of the Philadelphia Alms House. He then returned to the South, and practised medicine at and near Augusta Georgia, and in Edgefield District, until 1803, when upon the death of the incumbent, he was called to take charge of the Church in Charleston, to which he had been previously invited in 1791. But owing to indisposition or some other cause, after preaching only nine months, he abandoned the pulpit, and removed to Columbia, where he practised medicine a short time, and thence, he removed to the neighborhood of Edgefield Court House, where he continued to practice his profession, until about 1827. Since that time, he has spent five or six years in the Valley of the Mississippi—occupied principally in travelling; in these excursions he visited and spent a portion of his time among the Shakers, to whom he became strongly attached.

As a physician, Dr. BRAZIER stood well among the profession of his day. As a theologian, his principles were not always clearly understood by the writer of this humble tribute to his memory, probably because his arguments and illustrations were strongly tinged by the metaphysical cast of his mind. He was brought up in the Church of England; he became a disciple of John Wesley, and preached his doctrine—he was once a member of the Baptist Church, and it is believed, he died in the faith of the Broad School.—As a Christian, he cared less about sectarian creeds, than the fruits of a well spent life, and a conscience void of offence; and as an illustration of his practical belief, he once remarked to the writer, that he who should refuse the benefits of the Gospel plan of Salvation because they happened to be preached to him by one particular set, rather than another, would be guilty of the same folly, as a drowning man who should refuse assistance from the shore, because it was offered to him in the shape of a fence rail instead of a plank.

His intellect was of a high order; but for want of that cultivation and discipline which insure logical precision and perspicuity, and owing to an ardor of temperament which rendered him impatient of contradiction, he was not always successful in removing doubts or convincing the understanding of his hearer. He was an inveterate talker, but a bad listener; so much so, that he has been known to talk his friend into a sound sleep, and then to arise him by a verbal chastisement for his inattention or want of capacity to understand him. In his domestic and social intercourse, he was kind and courteous—cheerful and gay—exhibiting none of that peevishness and intolerance of mirth and joyousness which usually characterize extreme old age; and if a perfect indifference to this life may be regarded as evidence of a solid preparation for the future, there is strong reason to believe that his spirit rests in Heaven.

Died, at his residence in Edgefield District, on the 29th ult., our brother JAMES HARRISON, in the 63rd year of his age. Brother Harrison had been for a number of years a steady and acceptable member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and for a great part of that time had acted, both as a Class leader and Circuit Steward, and had fulfilled the duties of his office, both as Leader and Steward, with fidelity and diligence, so that no charge or complaint had ever been brought against him. He was charitable to the poor, and his house was always open to receive and entertain the wayworn travelling Preachers and administer to their wants as far as he was able. So, if we view him in every relation of life, either as a citizen, as a neighbor, as a head of a family, or as a Christian, his character stands fair. Aed citizen, honest and upright; as a neighbor, benevolent; as a husband and father, kind, affectionate; as a master, indulgent; and as a member of the Church, faithful and diligent, both in his private capacity and in the duties of his office; so, that in his death, his family and neighbors have lost a kind friend, and the Church a valuable member; but we believe that our loss, is his eternal gain.

He died of the Billious Congestive Fever. Some months previous to his death, he was in a feeble state of health but he kept about, and was not confined to his bed until he took the fever with which he died; he was then closely confined, and died the ninth day after he took it. For three days before he died, he was so prostrated and feeble that he could hardly speak; but before he got into that feeble state, he expressed his confidence in God, and died in the triumph of a Gospel Faith, and a strong believer in the doctrine of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He died as though he was in a deep sleep, and breathed his last without a struggle or a groan; and thus fell asleep in the arms of his blessed Redeemer.

Yes—He sleeps in Jesus, and has gained, A glorious crown above. And with his blessed Lord shall reign, In everlasting love.

Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his. J. M.

Notice. BANAWAY from the subscriber, the 18th inst., my boy TUTT, he is about 18 or 20 years of age, slim made, long legs, and tolerable tall, walks rather stiff and warbling, with a Rheumatic in his hips; his apparel not exactly known, when he went off he had on white homespun clothes, a satinet pair of pantaloons, a black fur hat, a pair of boots, footed, almost new. He is supposed to have carried off a bay Horse, and wagon saddle and bridle, belonging to Wm. Holmes; the Horse has a large blaze in his face, some of his hind feet white, if not all, has on three shoes, one off behind. Said boy made a start once before, and when taken up he had in his possession a free pass written by himself, stating that he had permission to hire his own time, and called his name John; I have no doubt but that he has a similar one with him, written by himself or some white person. He is my carriage driver and hostler, and was born and raised in the family. I am not aware of his direction, but have reason to believe he has been his course for a free State. Any person apprehending said boy and putting him in Jail, or delivering him to the subscriber, living on Scott's Road, 12 miles west of Edgefield C. H., S. C., will be liberally rewarded, and all reasonable expenses paid. Letters addressed to Cold Spring P. Office, Edgefield, S. C., will be promptly attended to. Nov. 22
