

Great Britain, consistently with our commercial interests, with the peace and security of the Southern States, and with the policy avowed by this government during Mr. Monroe's administration, is a matter for grave consideration. On the other hand an annexation of Texas to the Union, with the assent of both parties, promises great advantages to the manufacturing and navigating interests of this country. What the Southern agricultural interests are to gain by it, is more than I can see.—True, it will relieve the Southern States of their slave population, it will drain them of population, capital, and energies, and give them no political advantages, of corresponding importance.

Latest from Texas.—We extract from the N. O. Picayune a few of the most important items of news from Texas. The schooner Galveston arrived at New Orleans on the 15th and brought dates from Houston to the 1st and from Galveston to the 4th inst.

The brig of war Archer and the schooner San Bernard were offered for sale at Galveston on the 14th ult. A strong opposition to their being sold was evinced by a large portion of the people and the press of Galveston; the consequence was that the Government agents found no bidders, and the sale was indefinitely postponed. The sloop of war Austin and San Antonio are also advertised for sale; but it is believed, as was the case in the instance of the other vessels, that no purchasers will be found to offer for them.

We are indebted to Captain Ricketts for the foregoing items of information. The following we make up from the Houston Telegraph of the 25th ult. and the 1st inst. the only newspapers we received.

The alleged undue interference and dictation of England with the internal policy of Texas, attracts considerable attention on the part of the press of Texas. General Murphy, our Charge d'Affaires, we learn, fully alive to the importance of the proceeding, and is engaged in ascertaining to what extent this interference or dictation has been carried.

The editor of the Telegraph says that documents have been obtained by Gen. Murphy, in Texas, and by Gen. Thompson, in Mexico, which will furnish evidence of the intentions of Great Britain relating to Texas, that will convince the American statesmen that there are but few alternatives left to remedy the evil.

Yucatan.—The New Orleans Bee, of the 16th inst., says:—The schr. Creole, Capt. Tremis, arrived yesterday, from Laguna. She brings no news of importance. The accounts previously published by us of the non-intercourse existing between Mexico and Yucatan are confirmed. Both governments are making extensive preparations for war.

The remains of Commodore Porter are daily expected at Philadelphia in the U. S. brig Troxton from Constantinople.—The U. S. Gazette says that the body will remain on ship board until the funeral preparations are made, when they will be taken to St. Stephen's (Dr. Ducache's) Church, and be deposited in a vault; and when a place of final sepulture shall have been prepared at the Naval Asylum, the body will be privately carried thither, and laid at rest.

The Somers Mutineers.—We are credibly informed that one of the mutineers who was brought home in double irons is now employed about the Treasury Department in this city.—Wash. Spectator.

Over 30,000 bbls. of flour arrived at Albany, New York, on Monday and Tuesday last. The canal is about closed for the season.

Disastrous Fire.—The St. Louis Republic states that on Thursday night, about 11 o'clock, the large flouring mill of T. Harrison & Co., at Belleville, Ill. was discovered to be on fire, and from appearance it was believed that the whole building would be destroyed. The loss not short of $30 to $40,000.

The Lure of Trade between the interior of Maryland and the sea-board is immense. On Monday last 22 car loads, containing 1125 head, were brought to Baltimore from Cumberland on Rail Road. This mode of transportation has great advantages over driving, requires less outlay for feeding, drivers wages, loss of flesh, time, &c.

Good.—A Submarine plough for removing sand banks, has been constructed by Dr. Eddy, Cincinnati, somewhat on the principle of the Archimedian screw, boring up the sand at one end, and passing through the screw to be discharged at the other extremity. What next?

Horrors of Smoking.—An acquaintance, who has for years been alternately a smoker and chewer of tobacco, tells us that, although in good health and prosperous in his affairs, he was frequently low-spirited, he could never tell why. Besides he was troubled with twitching in the corners of his eyes, which sometime extended to the corners of his mouth. At last he began to accuse his beloved cigars as the cause, and with much effort broke off from smoking and chewing. The consequence is, that all disagreeable things which he endured have disappeared. His spirits uniformly buoyant, and muscles quiet. As to the fellows who smoke in Broadway, spoiling the common air of heaven, we wish spasms would seize all their mouths so that they could not hold a cigar.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

Evening.—Evening is a precious time for friends who live together. Married people know it well, and brothers and sisters know it too. Contrary to the flowers of nature, which close their chalice at the close of day, the loveliest flower of friendship—confidence—loves most to expand itself at evening, and breaths forth its fragrance most gladly under the protection of twilight and silence. Then talk we over the questions of the day; then conclude we peace with our hearts; if we have opened them before to our friend; then seek we reconciliation from heaven, and offer it to the world, ere yet the night comes; and then sleep we so sound and sweetly.—Miss Bremer.

FOR THE ADVERTISER.
THE PALMETTO FIRE COMPANY.
Mr. Editor.—It will be remembered, that only a few months have elapsed since the project of a Fire Company was originated in this place. At this time, there is a regularly organized Fire Company, and an excellent Second class Engine has been placed in their hands, by the Town Council, aided by the Muficent liberality of the public spirited citizens of our Town. It was with great satisfaction, that I witnessed a turn out of the Company, on Saturday last, and was much pleased with their performance. No Company, in any part of the world, with the same experience, could have performed better; and from the materials of which the Company is composed, officers and men, I am not saying too much, when I say, that they can, after sufficient practice, do what any other Company, furnished with the same facilities, can do. I am not one of those, Mr. Editor, who think that fire Companies can be efficient in New York, Philadelphia, Charleston, and other cities only; I have a better opinion of my fellow-citizens than that; I think, if they will, they can do what can be done by men any where else, upon the habitable earth. It is a disparaging reflection upon the intelligence and worth of our people, to say, that such and such things can be done at some other place, but cannot be done here. Why cannot we do here, what can be done any where else? Is it so, that our people are so utterly worthless, that the attempt to do any thing good or great, only excites the ridicule and animadversions of the self-constituted wise ones amongst us. Let us attempt great things, and determine to accomplish our purposes, and we will succeed in spite of every thing discouraging. It is true, that there are some in our community, who cannot, or will not believe, that our people are capable of doing any thing serviceable or creditable, either in a public or private capacity; and would, (if we could believe them,) prefer a ladder and two negroes, in case of fire, to the Engine and company. But that is too incredible; such sentiments may furnish those who entertain them, with a flimsy excuse for not aiding in such an enterprise, but they will not stand the test of fire.—In case the property of such should be on fire, such notions would soon evaporate in the smoke of their burning houses, and "now leten on your Engine" would be the loud cry heard far and above every other clamor. I do not pretend to censure you man for his opinions, but it makes me feel sorry to hear any man underrating the capacity and genius of our people, and prophesying evil or at least, no good, from so useful and praiseworthy an undertaking, or the formation of a company for the purpose of protecting property, public and private, against destruction by fire.—In the name of all that is good, let those who entertain such sentiments, let the Engine and company alone, they will do no harm—they will set no man's house on fire, neither will they make it burn faster if it should be; but I think there is a probability, even if it be a remote one, that it would not burn quite so fast; and further, I should not be at all astonished to see the fire altogether extinguished. If, then, there be only a remote probability of some good being accomplished by the organization of this company, let no good citizen say ought against it, but give it his most hearty approval.

While I am on this subject I would beg to offer a few suggestions for the consideration of the citizens of our Town. No man knows how soon he may stand in need of the service of the Engine Company—they, I have no doubt, will do all in their power to render assistance to any and every one who should be so unfortunately as to need it. The citizens should co-operate with this company, by furnishing them with all the facilities in their power—fire cannot be extinguished without water. It should, therefore, be a matter of the first importance with every man, if possible, to have a good well of water upon his premises—a good well of bad water, will do as well as any to put out a fire. A pump in the well will vastly facilitate the operations of the Company, and increase their efficiency. Wells should be a sufficient distance from every building upon a lot, that they may not be inaccessible on account of the heat of a burning building.

Another important article in case of fire, is, what I venture to say, not three men in this Town have at their command, a good ladder—every man who has a house liable to be burnt, should furnish himself with a ladder; because the Company is not strong enough to man the Engine and carry a ladder, by the use of which that timely aid may be rendered, even without the Engine, which is often the salvation of a man's property. The Commissioners of Public Buildings should have two good ladders deposited in the passage thro' the Court House, where they will always be ready in case that building should ever be in danger. These few suggestions I hope, will not be considered wholly unimportant.

I will now make one suggestion for the consideration of the ladies. The gentlemen have formed a Company and provided themselves with an Engine, to protect your houses and your homes from the all devouring element. Now, will not the public spirited ladies of this Town, make and present to the Company, a beautiful Palmetto Banner, with some suitable device? I know they will!

Died, in this village, on the 23rd inst., of Consumption, Mr. GEORGE DENNY, aged about 40 years.
Mr. Denny was a stranger, who had been in our village but a few months, in which time he had gained the respect and esteem of all those with whom he had any dealings. He was a member of N. York Lodge, No. 10. I. O. F., and it may be gratifying to his friends, and the brethren of the Lodge, of which he was a worthy member, to know, that although there was no Lodge, belonging to the Order, in the village, he was attended to during his illness by the few brethren of the Order that resides here, and interred in a respectable manner, under their direction, attended by a large number of citizens.
Charles and N. York Papers please copy.

Died, at his residence in this District, on the 23rd inst., Mr. WILLIAM HOWLE, Junr., aged sixty-five years, ten months, and eight days. The deceased has left a widow, seven children, and a large circle of relations to mourn his loss.

Commercial.

HAMBURG, November 21.
Cotton.—There is a full share of Cotton coming in this week, and a better feeling is visible among buyers, although they have not advanced much in prices since our last review. Prices range today from 7 to 7 1/2 cts, and in some instances 8 cts, has been paid for a choice article; principal sales 7 1/2 to 7 3/4. Upon the whole, the market remains in or about the same situation, as to prices, as we left it last week; and we look to the next accounts from Europe for a change of present rates.—Journal.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 23.
Cotton.—The receipts during the week have been moderate, with the exception of Saturday and Monday, when they were pretty large. The market on Friday and Saturday last exhibited much activity, and though there has been less doing since, still we cannot note any change in prices which remain firm at our last week's quotations, from 6 1/2 to 7 1/4. We learn that 8 cents was offered and refused, a few days since, for a very fine lot of square packages. Principal sales have been made at from 7 1/4 to 7 3/4 cents.—Constitutionalist.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 23.
Cotton.—The receipts are light for the season, and indicate a deficiency in the crop. The demand is good, and the market brisk, with an advance in prices of 1-5 to 1 cent since our last report; and we now, therefore quote prices for new, at 7 1/4 to 8 1/8 cents, extremes, while most sales are at 7 1/4 to 7 3/4 cents.—Carolinian.

Notice.
AN AWAY from the subscriber, the 18th inst., my boy TUTT, he is about 18 or 20 years of age, slim made, long legs, and tolerable tall, walks rather stiff and warbling, by having the Rheumatism in his hips; his apparel not exactly known, when he went off he had on white homespun clothes, a satinet pair of pantaloons, a black fur hat, a pair of boots, carried almost new. He is supposed to have carried off a bay Horse, and wagon saddle and bridle, belonging to Wm. Holmes; the Horse has a large blaze in his face, some of his hind feet white, if not all, has on three shoes, one off behind. Said boy made a start once before, and when taken up he had in his possession a free pass written by himself, stating that he had permission to hire his own time, and called his name John; I have no doubt but that he has a similar one with him, written by himself or some white person. He is my carriage driver and boiler, and was born and raised in the family. I am not aware of his direction, but have reason to believe he has bent his course for a free State. Any person apprehending said boy and putting him in Jail, or delivering him to the subscriber, living on Scott's Road, 12 miles west of Edgefield C. H., S. C., will be liberally rewarded, and all reasonable expenses paid.

THE Subscribers have determined to put down their stock of well at the lowest possible prices. They will not enumerate articles, but assure those that will favor them with a call of a saving of 33 per cent. As times are hard, and a Dollar saved, is a Dollar made, those who are in want of Goods, would do well to give us a call, prior to their purchasing elsewhere, and we assure them they will not be disappointed.
