

calf of the leg is now satisfied, and the one who was shot in the artery and now lies tumbling on the very verge of death is also perfectly satisfied, and what is more, every body knows they are satisfied. How easy it is to be made happy! A bullet through a man's lungs at the South seems to be a great satisfaction.

EDGEFIELD C. H.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1844.

"We will cling to the Pillars of the Temple of our Liberties, and if it must fall, we will perish amidst the Ruins."

We publish with pleasure, the communication of "Many Planters," upon the subject of the Governor's election, having some time since declared our columns open to the friends of all the candidates; and at the time of making such declaration, being fully convinced, that the people had little to do with that election, after having mentioned who was the candidate of our own choice, we had determined to drop the subject, and as regarded our self, to allow each and every candidate, through their friends, by the aid of our columns, to have a fair hearing; knowing what little influence we had, could avail nought, we had come to the same conclusion with our friend of the Hamburg Journal, "that there is but little to be made in puffing and blowing for men who care nothing for us, and know us not from a side of sole leather," and, who just before they are elevated to office, will bow and scrape to every one they meet; but, after they are snugly seated, carry their heads so high, that they know not a "poor devil" of an editor, unless he be one of those canting, hypocritical mortals, who has been raised from the dust for their use, and is ever at their heels for orders—that is, to know what is the will of the incumbent, or who is to be denounced, through the columns of his press to please his master. So long as we have been at the head of a press, we have used every means in our power to steer clear of all party Cliques, and in making our present choice, we never consulted any man or set of men, but from motives, which we are confident is pure, have selected Mr. Seal, as the most fitting of the candidates now before the people, to fill the gubernatorial Chair, he having been for a number of years, and still remains, the leader in all great Agricultural movements in our State, and a practical, as well as a "Book," Agriculturist. That there has been Cliques in our State, at all gubernatorial elections, we presume, no one will deny, but, at this time we are not acquainted with the secret proceedings of the friends of either of the nominees, therefore are unable to say which is the no more of the strongest and most powerful Clique. We are satisfied, that under the present state of affairs, it would puzzle a wiser head than ours to tell who was the "People's Candidate," as the "dear people," have so little to say, as regards who shall be the Governor of our beloved State, that at least one-eighth of the population at the present time, can hardly inform you who is the Governor, or how he is elected; their representatives make them a Governor, and that is enough for them to know, as they are elected to attend to that, in connexion with other business, they think, as is generally the case, that what their representatives do is right. Therefore, the idea of any one of the candidates now before the people, being the "people's candidate," is fallacious, as neither has been nominated by any body of the people, but by what may be termed in every sense of the word a clique, the people, or at least the great body of them never having been consulted upon the subject. We have long since stated, and still adhere to the principle, that the election of Governor belongs, of right, to the people, and until our Constitution is so amended as to put into the people's hands the glorious privilege of voting per capita, for their Governor, they never can expect to have a "People's candidate," but must submit to the rule of Cliques.

Having been requested to notice our friend "Many Planters," we have been forced to take this mode of doing so, to clear our skirts of the charge thrown out towards us of being under the rule of a Clique.

Fire.—On Sunday last about two o'clock, the Crib, Shuck House, and Cattle Shelters, belonging to Mr. James Cochran, in the vicinity of this village, with their contents, consisting of a quantity of Corn, Peas, Shacks, &c. were destroyed by fire. Upon examining into the cause of the conflagration, it was satisfactorily ascertained to have been the work of a black boy, belonging to the Rev. William B. Johnson, who visited the Shuck house with a piece of lighted vine in his possession, for the purpose of robbing a hen's nest, which he had previously seen there, and either accidentally or purposely applied the fire to the Shucks.

The Hon. Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, has been appointed, Minister Plenipotentiary to Brazil, and Richard R. Cuyler, of Georgia, Attorney of the U. S., for the District of Georgia, in place of Alexander Drysdale.

The Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier, under date of the 12th inst. says: "It appears to be now settled that Mr. Gilmer, of Va., will take the Navy Department, and Mr. Wilkins, of Pa., the War Department."

The Mobile Tribune still keeps the names of J. C. Calhoun and Levi Woodbury, as candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency; and contains a call for a meeting of the friends of the former, to consider his recent address withdrawing his name from a nomination by the Baltimore Convention.

Cotton.—Our exchanges give the following, as the prices of Cotton in their respective markets:
Charleston, Feb. 17, 8 1/4 to 10 cts
Hamburg, " 13, 9 1/4 to 9 1/2
Augusta, " 15, 8 to 9 1/4
Columbia, " 15, 8 to 9 1/4
The Charleston Mercury of the 16th inst. contains the following cheering news to planters:

More News—Rise in Cotton.—The Mail failed yesterday beyond Richmond, but by a passenger who came through on the Bay route we learn that the packet ship Europe arrived in New York on Sunday from Liverpool, whence she sailed on the 16th ult. The advices of the market are in a high degree interesting, to the effect that on Saturday the 13th ult., sales of Cotton were made to the extent of 20,000 bales, at an advance of 3d on previous quotations; on Monday, the 15th ult. 20,000 bales were sold at a further advance of 3d, and it is added, holders very unwilling sellers at that rate. These advices are likely to lead to large shipments, but their effect was not fully seen in our market yesterday. A paper was brought through by a passenger, but he refused to part with it.

The following from the Charleston Courier, of the 16th inst. shows the state of the English Cotton market at the time of the sailing of the Europe:

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 15.
"On Saturday afternoon, the Hibernia, Boston packet, was telegraphed off Ormshead, and the intelligence by her was looked for with considerable interest. It was very evident the brokers would not dispose, until the upshot was known; and no sooner did they receive her papers than a very brisk demand sprung up for speculators' account, and 5000 to 6000 bales were sold at full and advancing prices. This morning the market opened with a very active enquiry. Prices fully 3d per lb. higher were readily paid, and in some instances 3d per lb. was asked. At this advance about 20,000 bales have been sold—14,000 to speculators, the remainder to the trade; and at this advance holders seem unwilling to bring out their stocks—consumers have been taken by surprise, and it yet remains to be seen in what light they may view it. An advance of fully 3d per lb. has been established on the prices ruling last Friday week."

Bone's Manure.—We have received a communication from Mr. Charles Baer, Partner and Agent, for vending the Patent and Books for making Manure, by this new system, which informs us, that he intends paying our village a visit in the course of a few days, for the purpose of giving the Planters in this vicinity the opportunity of testing the benefits arising from this new method. Persons purchasing rights, can, for a slight compensation, have the assistance of Mr. Baer, in making their first Manure, which, from his knowledge of the manner of proportioning the ingredients of which the mixture is composed, will give them insight into the process.

As this Manure has received a trial in many of the States and succeeded well, we have no hesitation in saying, from our knowledge of the preparation, that it cannot fail in being of great advantage to those who manufacture and use it upon their worn out lands, and without a doubt, it is the cheapest plan that has, as yet, been made known.

Gentlemen desirous of purchasing rights, or to avail themselves of Mr. Baer's instructions, will please leave their names at this office.

On the 12th inst. the following were elected Directors of the Bank of South Carolina, for the ensuing year:
John S. Cogdell, Robert Brown, Samuel McCartney, Wm. Birnie, P. A. Neyle, S. Holmes, B. J. Howland, Wm. Calder, J. C. Blum, James Gadsden, James Bancroft, Thos. Middleton, Wm. McBurney.

At a meeting of the Board on the 14th John S. Cogdell, Esq., was re-elected President.

The N. O. Bee, of the 10th inst., says—"Robert Burns alias Owen, who murdered a Mr. Collier a short time since in the streets of Augusta, and whose arrest we mentioned on Saturday last, arrived here yesterday on board the steamer Nashville in custody of the officers who had been despatched in pursuit of him, on his way to the scene where the bloody deed was committed, for trial."

A Post Office has been established at Providence, Sumter District, and W. M. H. Bowen, Esq., appointed Postmaster.

For the Advertiser.
Mr. Editor.—Sir.—As the subject of the Governor's election appears to excite a good deal of interest, we indulge the hope, that it will not be considered presumption in us to say a few words, in support of one, who we every reason to believe will be acceptable to the good people of South Carolina, and especially to the great body of the planting interest; we allude to our worthy friend the Hon. William Aiken, of Charleston, he is a gentleman of a high order of talents, and served in both branches of the Legislature, with distinction and ability; Mr. Aiken is exclusively a Planter, and devoted to the soil of South Carolina, he is no "Book Planter," but an energetic, practical, and experienced Farmer, who gives his personal attention to the cultivation of the soil; with his experience as an Agriculturist, together with his general information, we feel confident that the impression of public opinion through this section of the country, he will be as acceptable to the great body of the people as either of the gentlemen spoken of as candidates. There is another consideration which influences us, and which will influence the planters through the up-country, and we trust the whole State, in favor of Mr. Aiken; he is the nominee of no Clique or Secret Caucus, neither is he brought out to answer the purposes of any particular party, but is truly the Peoples candidate; having full confidence, in his honesty and integrity, we feel well assured, if elevated to the gubernatorial Chair, his administration will be conducted in such a manner, as will be conducive to the general interest and prosperity of the State. We are truly gratified to learn from different parts of the State, that Mr. Aiken's name is so favorably spoken of as the successor of Governor Hammond; the fact is, we know of no man, from his zeal in the cause of Agriculture, his acknowledged talents, and sagacity of manners, that would be more acceptable to every class of the community.

MANY PLANTERS.
February 7th, 1844.

Arrival of the British Minister.—H. B. M. sloop of war, Vestal, of 26 guns, Capt. Charles Talbot, from Portsmouth 16th January, arrived at New York on Monday evening, having on board the Right Hon. Richard Pakenham, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States, from Her Britannic Majesty.

The promptitude with which the British Government has acceded to the request of our government, by sending a special envoy to adjust the Oregon boundary question, by negotiation, is an earnest of its pacific intentions. We consider the transference to Washington of the negotiation a compliment if not a concession. The appointment of a special Envoy, as in the case of the North Eastern boundary dispute, shows conclusively, that the peaceful relations which now exist between the two countries, there is no wish on the part of the British government to disturb.

It will be fortunately for the U. States if this new controversy should be taken out of the hands of the time-serving politicians and popularity-hunters with which the country is infested. The Oregon question is a political hobby which certain Western members of Congress were determined to ride for their own selfish ends. They discovered that political capital could be made out of it. A debate on this subject had been opened in the Senate apparently, for popular effect. Fortunately the firmness of the Committee on Foreign Affairs in the Senate removed the question from the dangerous arena of legislative debate and wisely placed it with the Executive department, where it will be considered free from the contagion of political passions and the influence of political calculations. Let us hope that the same fortunate issue that accompanied the Ashburton Treaty will attend the result of the present negotiation.—Charleston Patriot.

From the Pendleton Messenger.
We alluded last week to the manner in which Mr. CALHOUN's letter was spoken of by some of the papers as a withdrawal of his name from the presidential canvass; and expressed the opinion, that it could be regarded as nothing more than a declaration that he would not permit it to go before a convention composed as that at Baltimore will be of delegates not fairly chosen. We have seen nothing to change that view of the subject; and we find that we are far from being singular in our opinion. Besides the expression we have heard from various other quarters, we find the following in a letter from the Washington correspondent of the Charleston Mercury, which shows the view taken there.
"Mr. Calhoun's letter has reached us, and many of his friends say that he is the moral property of the country, and that whatever may be the course of a packed convention, he shall be at the call of the people."

Commercial.

HAMBURG, February 13.
Cotton.—The receipts this week have been light, and sales from warehouses limited. On Sunday we received Liverpool dates up to the 8th January, and as that market was heavy, with a decline, we note a like reduction in our prices of full 1/2 ct. from our last week's highest quotations. We quote to-day from 8 to 9 1/4 cts. according to quality—principal sales 9 1/4 cts.—Journal.

AUGUSTA, February 15.
Cotton.—The receipts during the week have been light. Since our last report the market has been subject to much fluctuation. From the advance then noticed, a decline commenced, upon the receipt of the first irregular intelligence from Europe, and the market sunk to the condition of the previous week. On Tuesday evening we received intelligence, apparently more favorable and the market had revived at the close of the week, and an advance sustained of fully one quarter of a cent. Very little has been doing during the week. The market closes, however, under more favorable auspices. We quote the extremes at from 8 to 9 1/4 cts.—Constitutionalist.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 15.
Cotton.—The receipts have increased, and there is now considerable coming in, by boats and wagons; and although prices have declined about 1/2 a cent since our last report, and not yet recovered from this decline, under the influence of the late favorable advices from Liverpool, the market is nevertheless quite animated, and some improvement in prices may reasonably be expected. We now quote the current rates at 8 1/2 to 10 cents, extremes—white most of the sales have been made at 9 to 9 1/2 cts, and some choice lots at 10.—Carolinian.
