From the Charleston Observer

PAY YOUR DEBTS:
Mr. Editor.—The following remarks, from a Northern paper, are, I think, very appropriate to ourselves; and as this is a subject on which it is verry difficult for Ministers to preach plainly, without preaching personally. Those you will give it an insertion and ask every reader of your paper to read it, to pray over it, and to ask, "Is it I ?"

Religion that does not make a man honest is good for nothing. If a man pro-fesses to be a Christain and defrauds his neighbor, that man's religion is vain. And he is dishonest who withholds from another that branch which is his due, when it is in his power to pay it.

We, in this country, have acquired a bad name abroad for our State repudiations, but it is not this of which we wish to speak just now. It is of the laxness, not to call it by a harsher name of many professors of religion, who seldom or never pay their debts until after being called upon again and again, and perhaps finally threatened with a suit at law. There are some such men in almost every community.

We have one of these men now in our eye. He is a very amiable, easy man, who never wishes to quarrel with his neighbors and is always willing to do them a favor when they are in want of help. But he never pays his debts if he can avoid it: His bills at the store, at the shops of mechanics, perhaps for the food which he eats or the raiment which he wears, are unpaid, and he feels not the least compunctions of conscience on the subject. He prays in his family and in the social meeting, and some people think he may be a Christian; but men of the world say that if he would be honest they would have a better opinion of his religion.

We see another debtor. He has no objectious to boying any thing that he can get upon trust; he will even enbscribe for a religious newspaper, or a new edition of the Bible, and makes loud professions of his willingness to aid this effect and that but when called on to pay his subscription he is unfortunately just then out of money be will certainly pay it in a few days; but he is no more ready a mouth afterwards than he was before, and he never intends to pay. He pretends, nevertheless, to be a pious man but he deceives very few.

Just now, we see another man of this always-owing and never-paying class. Sometime ago, he contracted a heavy debt and he has never yet seen the time when he could pay the whole of it at once; and therefore, he has paid none of it. His income has been such that he might, with a little economy and much self denial, have paid a part of the debt every year, and by this time have extinguished it; but his conscience does not seem to trouble him at all, although he lives on that which does not belong to him.

Men may sophisticate as they please they can never make it right and all the bankrapt laws in the universe can never make it right for them to neglect to pay their debts. There is sin in this neglect as clear and as deserving church disipline, as in stealing or false swearing. He who violates his promise to pay, or withholds the payment of a debt, when it is within his power to meet his engagement, ought to be made to feel in the sight of God and of all honest men, he is a swindler. Religion may be a very comfortable cloak under which to hide, but if religion does not make a man deal justly,' it is not worth having.

But what shall a poor man do who is in debt?-Let him work hard and pay it. Deny yourself all the tuxuries and very many of the comforts of life; be willing to take a humble place in society, and mortify your pride, in dress and style of living be as simple and economical as possible; if necessary, live on bread and water and labor dilligently until you satisfy the demands of your last creditor; but never lay up a cent of money or spend a cent needlessly, while you owe it to another. We wish that this principle could be ingrained into the hearts and cousciences, at least of professing Christians. There is a looseness on the subject in the Church that is perfectly irreconciliable with the law of God and the maintainance of a good reputation in the eyes of the world. Let no man be trusted who neglects to pay his debts. If misfortune has suddenly denrived him of the ability to pay, that is another thing; but if by his conduct he has no disposition to meet his engagement especially small debts, let him not be trust-ed. He that is unjust in a little, will be unjust in much. He who defrauds will steal and there is scarcely no difference between stealing and wilfully neglecting to discharge a debr."

A discovery has been made by which cannon can be discharged by the simple action of compressing the atmospheric air contained in the vent of the gau, by an application of means the most certain and nomical that have ever been invented for this purpose, dispensing with the lock & port fire; and which had it been known, would have saving to this Government of many thousand dollars within the last ten priting Paper, Type, Presses, Ink, &c. years. There are frequent complaints of the falling of plastering from the ceiling of dwelling houses, and other buildings, owing, as it is supposed, to the fact of the moriar not being pressed up sufficiently to turn over and clinch above the laths. It has been suggested by an observing friend that the evil might be easily remedied by taking off the upper edge of the laths so that the mortar in being pressed up should form a dove-tail, and consequently be held fast. We think this hint may be of value manufacturers of lumber and to builders, as any one would be willing to incur the al expense, if thereby they can be secured against the annoyance of falling plastering.—Bangor Courier.

Answer .- It will answer well. To the quantity of poudrette recommended per acre, add one bushel of plaster and five of ashes, and let the whole be harrowed in-the application. Question 3 .- May they (the mixture) be applied in either dry or wet weather, Answer .- If applied in dry weather, the operation should be performed in early morn while the dew is on the ground, se as to prevent loss by blowing away, and be harrowed in immediately. It matters not whether the weather be dry or wet, provide the harrow follows the sower of the mixture, to bury it by a light harrowing as Cutting Grain Larly.-We copy the Mr. Editor-I wish to make known through your paper, some facts which I think will be of some service to the farmers of Michigan: Amassa Andrews, Esq, of this town, harvested sixty acres of wheat, this season, while it was so green and unripe that every farmer in the neighborhood thought and did not besitate to declare him as mad. He commenced cutting it ten days before any others had begun. The berry, when cut was soft, and in that state known as being "in the milk." He has now threshed it, and being somewhat curious to learn the result of so novel a proceeding, I to-day went in company with Mr. Andrews to the mill, and found it plump with a peculiar transparency of the berry which I never before saw-which is to be attributed to the very thin coating of the brau. We weigh ed some and found it weighed just sixty three pounds to the measured bushel; and an experienced one informed me that it made more flour and less bran than any wheat he ever saw. Now the above facts are worth knowing from several considerations. By cutting so early, no wheat is shelled and lost, and the harvesting season can be lengthened out, so as not to make it necessary to work so hard; besides the wheat is beyond a doubt better, and will make more and bet-

Yours, truly.

The Coffee Plant .- We use Coffee as a pleasant beverage, without troubling ourselves much how it grows. A correspondent of the New Orleans Bee, from Guin-ia Cuba, says: "After the Coffee is taken from the field, it is placed in large square beds, in rows, to dry, and covered at night; after remaining there long enough, it is placed in a round place, encircled by boards; and about a foot wide. In this circle there is a large wheel drawn by two oxen, which passes over the coffee and takes off the hull; when his is done, it is put in bags, and is ready for the market. The shed this machine is under the lounging place of the proprietor and here he is always to be found. The negro liuts are made of bamboo twined together: there is just space enough between lem for a hog pen. The negroes are fed principally and some estates altogether, upon plantains, reasted as bread The only meat they get is from what hogs they raise; this is no small luxnry, as the pork here is said to be the best in the world. Taking every thing into consideration, I was much pleased, and think I could live on one of these estates some time without its becoming tiresome.

Allum Spring Pills, For the Cure of Dyspepsia, Scrafulus and Liver Diseases.

THESE PILLS are prepared by Dr. S. R. Campbell, from the water of the highly celebrated Mineral Springs in Rockbridge county Virginia, called the Alum Springs.

These Pills, like the water from which they are prepared, are a diuretic, promoting the secretion of urine and an alteratives increasing the secretions of the glambular system generally, and particularly of the liver. They act gently, but effectually upon the bowels, after two or three days use of them, producing copious dark, billious evacuation.

They also effect a determination to the surface, increasing the perspiration; there. fore, they are a great purifier of the blood, and equaliser of the circulation. Each pill is equal to a common glass of the water. They should be taken before each meal, and from six to ten or twelve should be taken in the course of each day, for a fortnight, and then omit them for the same period. For the cure of the above diseases, perseverance in the use of these Pills. oseph M. Terry, Ebenezer Partition for Chamberlain & wife. Su- account and setsnn. Martin N. Minns, S. thement of the es.
S. Minns, William C. Ro- tate of D. Minns, der any other treatment hereiofore discovered, except from the use of the water, from which they are prepared, either by an attendance at the Springs or otherwise. They very speedily cure diarrhoeas, attended with acidity of the stomach, and are a very useful remedy for the summer bowel complaint in children, as also for expelling worms from children. From one, to four should be given in three equal portions each 'ay, to a child under six years, according to age. When given to children, they should be powdered and mixed with syrup. These Pills are easily taken, having no nauseous taste, are perfectly safe in all cases, where active fever does not exist, and do not sicken persons while using them. S. R. CAMPBELL,
