The Commissioners of Roads are requested to examine the excavations that are daily being made, in various parts of the roads leading from this village to Columbia and the Pine House, and pass their judgement upon the propriety of persons hauling away sand from said roads, and thereby, in case of a hard rain, causing the fields to be more or less miured, by the forming of washes in them. If there should apply to the Legislature to enact one. | Bal. Spa. Gaz.

The Nomination -So far as heard from, the Democracy of the Union, have expressed their ntire-satisfaction at the result of the labors of the Democratic National Convention. In the cities of New York, and Philadelphia, it was received with great acclamations of joy, by the largest concourse of citizens that have been assembled, in political meeting, in either of those cities, since the last election of General Jack. son. In every village and hamlet it has been greefed as the omen of better days; and from present appearances, the flag, upon which is nscribed Polk, Dallas, and Re-Annexation, will float triumphant upon the breeze, support ed by the yeomen of the North, South, East, and West, side by side with our beloved Stars and Stripes, under both of which every lover of his country will rally, and upon the altar of Democracy declare to "do or die," in support of the Union ..

Re-annexation.-It is extremely gratifying to the friends of the South and her institutions, to find, by the numerous and well attended meetings throughout the Union, that this great question, so absolutely necessary for the safety of our liberty, has become the order of the day and that among those who cry loudest in favor an immediate action upon it, are those whom have done the country "some service," in the trying times through which our Republic has passed; whilst those who oppose it, are either such as have ever been the opponents of a De mocratic administration, or weathercocks, who. if not consulted, upon all, and every measure, use their influence, if perchance they possess any, to put it down,

The Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier, under date of the 30th ult. writes: " As an on dit. I will mention that I have it from good nuthority, that Judge Huger intends resigning his station as United States Senator. Already have I heard the names of several mentioned as candidates for the place -among them, Pickens, Rhett, M'Willie and

Flour .- The Augusta Constitutionalist states that this necessary articles is now being manu factured in Georgia, " which, if tasted in the form of bread or biscuit, will be found to be weeter than bread or biscuit made of Ricmond or Baltimore Flour, and as white, if not whiter." We have, for some time past been purchasing Flour, brought to this village, from mills in the upper part of this State, which is equal

Great Temperance Contention. - The Boston Post of the 31st ult. states that the Washingto nian Convention which convened in that city processions ever witnessed. The number of the cold water army, upon parade, was estimat-

IF At a numerous meeting of the Democra tic party in the Congressional District of Char leston, on Thursday the 6th inst., the following resolution, among others, fully according in the sentiments expressed by the Baltimore Convention was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That we cordially approve, and accept of the nomination of those distinguished citizens, James K. Polk, of Tennessee, and George M. Dallas, of Pennsylvania, as the candidates of the Democratic Party, for the offices tespectively, of President and Vice President of the United States; and that we will heartily co-operate with our democratic brethren in this State, and throughout the Union, in such measures as may be necessary to ensure their united action in the approaching election."

The Ball set in motion .- The Toscin of Liberty, published in Lawrenceville, Indiana, says .- "The son of Judge Isaac Dunn of this selves under the glorious banner of democracy. It is said that young Dunn is making speeches, in which he exposes the corruption of the whigs in a most masterly manner. Roll on

The N. Y. Plebian of the 3d inst., says We learn that a great ratification Convention will be held at Hoboken on Tuesday evening. It is expected that after the adjourment of our meeting the various associations, and many of the citizens will cross the river, and Join our brother Democrats of New Jersey. New Jersey is safe for Polk and Dallas by thousands."

The following letter, written to the Hon. R. J. Walker, long before the Cabinet was advised of the assent of Texas to the negotiation of annexation, shows the feelings of the Democratic Candidate for the Vice-Presidency, upon that all important question;

Puiladelphia, Feb. 5, 1844. "My Dear Sir: I cannot resist the impule to tell you how much delight I have taken in reading your pumphlet on Texas, &c. It is comprehensive, clear, argumentative and eloquent. Nothing can remove or resist your facts, and I defy ingenuity to assail the justice and integrity of your deductions. . In the midst of all my distraction at the Bar, my head has been running on this topic for some months, and your admirable brochure comes to me like manna, in the way of starved people. I cannot tell you, without using words which you might consider extravagant, how highly I appreciate your labors, and how sincerely, as an American Democrat, I thank you.

Truly, and ever yours, "GEORGE M. DALLAS." To the Hon. R. J. Walker.

Millerism gives it up. - The "Midnight Cry" of the 23 ult says: We Confess that our published time is past, and that, us houest men, we cannot point to definate days in the future. We believe that the end can only be delayed so long as our published time, reckoned by inspired chronology, may have varied from God's time.

Death of three Revolutionary Pension rs .- The following persons died in Glenville, N. Y. last week, viz: Garrett Van Eppes, aged 80 years:-Hedding aged 94; -Van Voast, who served in the French is no law to prevent such trespossing, it is high- and American wars, aged 104 years. For the Advertiser. Ma. Entron. You will oblige usby not pub lishing our last article. Our sole object, in opening, and conducting this correspondence was to draw the attention of the Editor of the Hamburg Journal, and his readers, to the fact, that South Carolina could not, consistently with her principles, support Mr. Clay. But since he regards us as an enemy, our arguments and opinions can, of course, have no eftect on him, and as our articles are excluded from his paper, they can produce none on his readers. Our only motive for conducting this correspondence baving thus been removed, we have determined to discontinue it.

We regret that the Editor of that paper did not cousent to a calm and dispassionate discussion of the subject. Such discussion would have elicited truth, but one like the present can lead to no good result. In conclusion, we will simply say that the Editor of the Journal is mistaken, in supposing that we desire to injure either his person or his pulse. We were one of his first subscribers, and we expect to be one of his last. We regret, from his last editorial, to find him so much incensed against us, and we are surprised at it, as we are not conscious of having given him any just cause of offence. He differed with the party with which he was acting in this State, as to Mr. Clay, and has lately spoken of them in terms which were neither kind nor complimentary. We thought his course inconsiderate, inconsistent, and illadvised, and we were in hopes that discussion would bring him back to his old and early friends-but, we are now convinced that, by continuing this correspondence, we shall only annoy and irritate him, without producing any good, and we have, therefore, determined to terminate it: CAROLINA

For the Advertiser.
DIVISION! DIVISION!!

Mr. Editor.-I am fearful that the ex ertions of the citizens of the Saluda Regigiment to have the District divided will go no further than repeating and lament ing their grievances. Do they expect to effect any thing in this way? Do they expect to gain their object by sitting down at home, and repeating over what they iutend to do, or what ought to be done? If they do, they will in the end, find themselves coming out at the "diminutive termination of the trumpet"-vulgarly called the little end of the horn. The truth is, they need not expect to do anything unless they meet together and adopt such measures as will enable them to act in concert. But how to get a meeting appears to be the difficulty. In a communication, which appeared in the Hamburg Journal, some time since, signed "Perseverance," it was suggested that a meeting of the citizens be called by means of a Barbecue at Richardsonville, on the 4th of July, and that suitable measures be there adopted. This I thought a very good idea, and would be acted upon; but from its not having met with an immediate response, t appears that it has been dropped, on the ground that it is now too late to make preparations for a Barbecue by the 4th of July, and the matter now stands in statu quo. If a Barbecue is necessary to call the people together, I cannot see why some other day would not do as well as the 4th of July-say some day in August, when the farmers will have faid by their crops But why go to the trouble and expense of a Barbecue? I can not see why it is necessary to call a meeting of the peoplecertainly it is not indispensable. If they stand upon such an incentive as this, it will look a little like that although "they. love Division more than they love Annexation," yet they love a Barbecue more than "Division," and if they love a Bar-beeue more than "Division," the latter is not worth seeking after, and had better be given up at once. But this is not the case The minds of the people are evidently highly excited on the subject of Division, therefore let a meeting but be called, and I entertain not the faintest shadow of doubt that it will be well attended. We see accounts of large meetings of several Districts to express their views in relation to the "Annexation" question. How are these meetings formed ! Simply by notifying the people that a meeting will be held at a specific time and place, and requesting them to attend. Then, I would say, let a meeting of the citizens of the Saluda Regiment, aye of all who are friendly to Division, whether belonging to the Regiment or not, be called at Richardsonville on some convenient day, and my word for it, it will meet with a bearty fes ponse. Friends of Division! Citizens of the Saluda Regiment! do not give up the contest. Arouse yourselves to action. Put on your whole armour, and prepare yourselves for a charge—"a long and strong pull." "Saluda," "Justice," "Perseverance," what will you do? You are evi dently looked to for advice and direction. Lead on, and the people will follow youstand firm to your posts, and they will sup-

LIBERTY. The Season .- So far as we can learn, the present season is one of the most propitious for agriculture ever known. In this section, the crops of Corn and Cotton look admirable—in oats, alone, there is a partial failure. Some of our townsmen are rethemselves on new Potatoes and mutton Corn! We believe we are not wrong in stating, that agricultural productions of all kinds are at least three weeks more forward than they were at this time last year.

The Wheat harvest has commenced. and we understand, the quality and quantity of the grain are both superior .- Cheraw Gazette.

We learn that Mr. Alexander Hogg and his brother John Johnston, were arrested at their house in this district on Wednesday last and conveyed to Chester jail charged as being concerned in the murder of Mr. Allen DeGraffenried, of the latter district .- Yorkville Miscellany May, 25,

Anti Slavery Incendairism .- The Amer ican Anti-Slavery Society assembled in discussing a series of resolutions advoca- trine of his honor was just as we stated it, ting a dissolution of the Union as the only and we are assured by a gentleman it means of abolishing Slavery. These res- whose legal opinion we place great confimeans of abolishing Slavery. These res-olutions were passed. They declare that the connection of non slave holding States the law. Young gentleman, therefore, in the Union with slaveholding States need not subject themselves to the inconinvolves the former as the aber of slavery and that every abolitionist "mould make it one of the primary objects of his agitation to disolve the American Union!"

THE WESTERN WATERS. The Mississippi .- The St. Louis Reporter of Wednesday week says: "The river rose yesterday about six inches and is still rising. It has already entered many of the stores on the wharf, and from present appearances the first floor of but few of them will escape inundation,-Illinois town is scarcely vissible. The American bottom is covered with water to the bluffs, except in a few spots or ridges. The rivers above are still rising.

The village of Cahokia, a few miles below this city, on the Illinois shore is almost entirely inundated."

In addition to the above, we learn that at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, the water had reached within 13 inches of the fluor of the old warehouse of the American Fur Company, which is the most elevated building on the levee.

The Missouri river was reported as rising fast, and the bottoms from the mouth of the Osage down, covered with water. The Oswego was out of its banks and had spread over the bottoms in some places near the mouth, two or three miles wide. The Lexington which left Weston on the 16th instant, reports a rise of five or six feet behind. This is supposed to be the spring flood from the mountains, which, at the present high stage of the Missouri and Mississippi, will do a great deal of damage.

The Illinois river was reported as very high and rising; a rise of three feet had taken place at Peru within a day or two past; there was more than eight feet water on the Rapids, and the water in numerous places was out of the banks and overspeading the country

The Reveille reports the death by drown ing of a drover named John M. Bnrnwell. who lost his life on his way to St. Louis, in attempting to cross a small crock in the bottom about a mile from the Illinoistown.

A thrifty negro man, by the name of Sancho, who had been to this city in his liule wagon, purchasing provisions, was returning through the bottom; when he suddenly found himself, wagon, horses and provisions, all swimming ! He was obliged to let the horses go, tie the wagon to a tree, and swim to Illinoistown for a skiff, in which to go and save his goods.

The people are bringing over their furniture and goods in the ferry boat, and the scene opposite is most desolate.

The rise now is within a foot of that o 1836, and the massive foundations of the gass Works are quite covered."

The Wabash is said to be very high covering the bottoms. It is ton miles wide at Vincennes.

Mysterious Occurrence. - Coroner Davis was called upon on Sunday by several persons, who informed him that on Saturday night about eleven o'clock, a young man named Edward Moran, an apprentice to Daniel T. Adams, a painter, in Poydras street, died suddenly and was buried at an early houron Sunday morning, and that there were circumstances connected with his sudden death and burial, which led to the suspicion that the boy had come to his his death by unfair means. In consequence of these representations, Coroner Davis examined the body on Monday, and a post mortem examination was had, which was attended by several medical men, when it was found that the deceased had received a severe kick or blow on the left side, where, on opening the body, a quantity of coagulated blood was found lodged. The coroner held an inquest on the body, and on examination of the evidence, the Jury returned a verdict that the death of the boy was caused by "blows or kicks received on the left s body just below the ribs, inflicted by a person or persons, so far, to the Jurors unknown in consequence of these proceedings, and of certain representations made to the Coroner, he informed Recorder Baldwin of all the facts connected with the case which had come to his knowledge, whereupon the Recorder issued a warrant for the apprehension of Adams, who was brought before him yesterday, and informed of the nature of the charge made against him, and then remained until this morning, when an investigation of this melancholy affair will take place. We have heard many stories of this matter, but abstain, in such a serious case, from Tropic. Abusing a Child-Unparallelled Barbarity .- The Hartford Courier says : On Monday last, Cynthia Roberts of Hartford was brought before Justice Mann, on two complaints for assault and battery, on Sarah Ann Bunnell, a little girl about 7 or 8 years old, who was bound out to ser Vice to Wm. J. Roberts, the husband of Cynthia, by the Selectmen of Farmington. The girl testifies that the ends of her fingers had been dreadfurly pinched with a pair of pinchers, taking off the nails, as a punishment, and her toes and fingers islature. which were exhibited to the court, showed the very marks of the pinchers, as did also her tongue which was much swollen HOLLAND, Esq., a candidate for a seat in the and discolored. Her body from head to House of Delegates, at the ensuiting election. foot, exhibited marks of the whip in almost innumerable stripes, and whales as large as the fingers. The testimony was ample to prove the cruehy charged, and the court sentenced the wife on each of said complaints, to 30 days imprisonment estate are invited to come forward and settle. in the Work House, and a fine of $7 and costs-and to stand imprisoned till paid. W. J. Roberts for countenancing and aiding in this cruelty was also fined and imprisoned for the same time and amount.

saying one word which can excite any prejudice, one way or the other .- N. O.

Marriages .- The Brooklyn Eagle, says: The Sun asked us two or three days ago if we were not in error as to the charge and opinion of Judge Ruggles in the case of the people vs. Horatio G. Onderdonk-tried lately in the Queen's county Over and Terminer-in which marriage was pronounced a civil contract, that any one might take cognizance of and certify? To New York recently; and were engaged this we reply in the negative. The docvenience of going before a magistrate or clergyman to avow their intentions, and have solemnized in due form, but merely call upon a friend, or a stranger for that matter, execute the contract in his presence and the deed is done. We are not surprised that this decision should excite the alarm of staid and rational citizens, who regard marriage as an institution of some consequence, and think that its obligations are not to be assumed hastily-after a flirtation in the ball room, perhaps, or a brisk run from a boarding school. The people, however, are sovereign, and can fix' it to their liking.

Death of Geo. Goodwin .- George Goodwin, the oldest printer in the Union, died a short time since in the city of Hartford, Conn. in the 88th year of his age. He lafored as a journeyman printer in the Hartford Currant office (of which paper he was proprietor for sixty years) a period of seventy five years! He never travelled, and was scarcely ever out of his native State. He had been for some years in the enjoyment of a fortune, and yet worked at setting types and folding newspapers the same as when he was obliged to do so for a livelihood. He was neither parsimonious of time nor a lover of money. A remarkble man. The world cannot produce another of his kind .- N. Y. Aurora.

Frost in Ohio .- At Canfield, Trumbull county, Ohio, there was a severe frost on the night of the 21st May; cora and potatoes were killed to the ground, most if not all of the fruit was killed; grape vines looked as if they were scorched by fire. It is hoped the wheat escaped, as but little of it had eared out.

OBITUARY.

Died, at the residence of her mother, in this District, on the 24th ult., Mrs. ELIZABETH BELL, consort of Mr. Isaac A. Bell, in the 30th year of her age. The deceased had been a consistent member of the Gilgal Baptist Church for about twelve years; and from her amiable disposition and upright deportment, had gained the esteem of all who knew her. An illness of several months continuance, reduced her to a state of great bodil; debility, which, however, she bore with extraordinary patience and re-signation to the will of God. For some four or five weeks previous to her decease her friends watched over her, almost daily expecting her departure into another world. emonitions were given her that the messenger for her release was near at hand. Not larmed at his approach, but roady to welcome his arrival, she called her friends to her and spoke of her departure with as much apparent omposure as if she were going on a short visit to other friends; then in a most affectionate and earnest manner exhorted them to meet her in Heaven. There was one friend, particularly, for whom her heart was ardently engagedwas her husband. She testified to his kind and faithful attention to her, but yet she knew that he had professed no hope in Jesus; looking at him with anxious solicitude for his future happiness, she charged him to prepare to meet her in Heaven, where they should be called no ore to part.

From her exercises, in uttering praise to God for his goodness, and in exhortations to her friends, a kind female friend proposed the taking of a little water to moisten her lips, to which she replied, "I shall soon drink of the which she replied, I shall sook urink of the water of life, of which, whoshever drinketh shall never thirst." Again a proposition was made to change her position to render her comfortable, at once she remarked, "I am comfortble," and repeated that well known verse of "Jesus can make a dying bed,

Feel soft as downy pillows are; While on his breast I lean my head, And breathe my life out sweetly there. Then bidding her friends an affectionate fare ell, she sweetly fell asleep in Jesus. Who would not wish to die like those, Whom God's own spirit deigns to bless ? To sink into that soft repose,

Then wake to perfect happiness."
