

MISCELLANEOUS.

From the N. Y. Herald, October 27. ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT WESTERN. The news brought by the Great Western is not of very great importance.

Trouthout Europe every thing appeared very quiet, and as happy as things can be under monarchical governments.

There was a tremendous storm in Ireland on the 8th and 9th inst., in which several lives were lost. We had this storm on the 6th inst., therefore it took three days to cross the Atlantic.

Growing Cotton in Cheshire.—Mr. Maury, son of the respected gentleman who for so many years filled the office of American Consul at Liverpool, has recently been making a successful experiment in the growth of cotton, at his residence, Liscard, near the mouth of the Mersey, on the Cheshire side.

Louis Philippe in England.—The King of the French and his suite embarked at Trepoint on Monday evening, 7th instant, on a visit to the Queen at Windsor, and on the following day his Majesty landed at Portsmouth.

His Majesty's reply, which was spoken in English, gave the greatest satisfaction. He spoke with great fluency, in the purest English accent, and evidently with much feeling.

"Gentlemen, I can give you no copy of this address for I have improvised it, and I assure you it comes from my heart. I hope, however, there is some one here who will be able to record it."

The last time King Louis Philippe visited England, was in 1815, during the hundred days. When Louis XVIII went to Ghent, the Duke of Orleans took refuge in England, where he remained until the battle of Waterloo enabled him once more to return to the Palais Royal.

Great Storm in Dublin.—A violent storm from the S. S. E. has prevailed during the last two days, and last night it blew with terrible severity, almost equaling the memorable gale of January, 1830.

The damage done to the shipping in the river has been unusually extensive. In Halpin's Pool, a place of shelter for vessels, at the extreme end of the north wall, several ships were injured, and one, the Thistle, of Wick, with a full cargo of oats, was completely sunk.

The Island of Clontarf, well known as a bathing place, was completely covered, and an unfortunate man named Cromwell and his son, who resided in a small house on the Island, were swept away by the restless flood.

At the long level of the canal, where it joins the river Liffey, the tide rushed up with such violence that it overflowed the banks and flooded completely the fields and cottages adjoining.

The orchards in the neighborhood of the city suffered very much, the fruit having been all scattered to the ground. The Dargle was swollen to considerable extent by the rain, and the water twenty-four feet deep in places where two feet only was the depth on the previous day.

The King's visit to England is distinguished by an act of Royal clemency—an ordonnance which gives grace and pardon to fifty political state prisoners.

Affairs in this county continue in a very unsatisfactory state. The Cortes re-assembled on the 30th of September, without the Queen being present, or any message from her as had been anticipated. Costa Cabral wished that body to be further prorogued, but the Duke of Palmella would not consent.

The first anniversary of the revolution of the 15th September was celebrated with all the solemnity of a national fête. The King and Queen attended a solemn thanksgiving in the principal church, the whole of the troops were under arms; and, in the evening, the city was illuminated.

The accounts from Algiers show that the Kabyles, an active, enterprising, fanatical race, have not deserted Abdel Kader, in his fallen fortunes. They are still the devoted friends of the Emir, and the uncompromising enemies of France.

At Springfield, Mr. Webster admitted that there was one sort of distinction between the Whig party, and what is called the "third party," (Abolitionists); but in his speech in Boston Common, on the 19th ult., it appears that this distinction has melted down into "mere non-essentials."

"No great good is to be done except by the entire union of the Whig party, and that is not to be brought about without mutual accommodation and the cession of private opinion on mere non-essentials.

"It is the very error of the Moon! She comes more near the earth than she was wont, And wakes man mad!"

The Arkansas Banner of the 16th inst. says: "We have heard from twenty odd counties, embracing those in which the Whigs are supposed to have the most strength, and so far, the result is much more favorable than we anticipated."

More of the Millerite Delusion.—Cases of the most painful kind continue to be detailed to us, as connected with the recent deplorable delusion of Millerism.

Some of the accounts are almost incredible. But "the time" having gone by, it is the duty of the humane, while assisting to dispel the delusion and its folly, also to soothe, and by every means in their power, to restore the minds of the mistaken to a condition of calmness and reason.

THE TROUBLE IN CANTON. Our readers will recollect that the first row between the Americans and Chinese at Canton, was caused by umbrage being taken by the Celestials at an arrow having been placed on the flag staff for a yane.

Now, the fact is, some of the Ministers from upon all these general efforts, and will not announce them from their pulpits. Others will not give up an ordinary meeting of their own in order to encourage them, and still others treat them with a cold and chilling indifference.

Earthquake in Western New York.—On Tuesday morning last a very perceptible shock of an Earthquake was experienced in the town of Alden, Alban, Alexander, Attica, Batavia, Bethany, Darien and Elba.

Some of the accounts are almost incredible. But "the time" having gone by, it is the duty of the humane, while assisting to dispel the delusion and its folly, also to soothe, and by every means in their power, to restore the minds of the mistaken to a condition of calmness and reason.

Christians to aid in this great object and said that the first step to be taken was to obtain the permission of the Turkish Sultan for the Jews to become owners of the soil.

From the Charleston Observer. CHRISTIAN UNION. The time was when professedly Evangelical denominations could unite in forming Societies for the promotion of those objects of general benevolence in which none of their peculiar and distinctive principles were compromised—such as the Bible, Tract and Sunday School Societies.

Now, the fact is, some of the Ministers from upon all these general efforts, and will not announce them from their pulpits. Others will not give up an ordinary meeting of their own in order to encourage them, and still others treat them with a cold and chilling indifference.

Earthquake in Western New York.—On Tuesday morning last a very perceptible shock of an Earthquake was experienced in the town of Alden, Alban, Alexander, Attica, Batavia, Bethany, Darien and Elba.

Major Noah's Lecture.—Notwithstanding the severe inclemency of the weather, Major Noah's Lecture last evening at the Tabernacle, on the Restoration of the Jews, was attended by a pretty numerous audience, composed of both Jews and Christians.

From the Louisville Courier. Terrible Steamboat Disaster. Explosion of the Lucy Walker—60 to 80 Killed and Wounded. It will be seen by the accident below, taken from the Louisville Courier of Thursday, that another frightful steamboat explosion, attended with great loss of life, has occurred on the Ohio, and that among the list killed and missing, is Phillip Wallis, Esq. formerly of this city, which we trust may prove to be erroneous.

It is with feelings the most acute and painful that we record the following fearful disaster; and the loss of so many valuable lives. The steamboat Lucy Walker, Capt. Vain, left this place for New Orleans yesterday, crowded with passengers.

Before Captain Dunham reached the place where the Lucy Walker was, he saw a number of persons who had been thrown into the river, drowned. He however saved the lives of a large number of persons, by throwing them boards and ropes, and pulling them on his boat with hooks.

John Hixon and Mr. Henry Belter, passengers on the Lucy Walker, deserve notice for their coolness and their efficient services in saving the lives of drowning persons. The following are the names of the dead, missing and wounded, as far as we have been able to learn them.

Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

The Advertiser. EDGEFIELD C. H. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1844. [Illustration of an eagle with wings spread, perched on a globe, with the text 'We will cling to the Pillars of the Temple of our Liberties, and if it must fall, we will Perish amidst the Ruins.']

Democratic Re-Annexation Ticket. FOR PRESIDENT. JAMES K. POLK, of Tennessee. FOR VICE PRESIDENT. GEORGE M. DALLAS, of Penn.

Large Cabbage.—In our last number we told our readers, that we had been presented with a couple of fine Turnips. This week we have the pleasure of informing them, that we have had the largest and heaviest CABBAGE sent to us, as a present, that we have ever seen.

We perceive by our exchanges, that some of our cotemporaries have had the impudence to DUN their DELINQUENT subscribers. Now we should like to know, what right a poor Publisher of a New-paper has to dun any of his rich patrons.

TREATY WITH CHINA.—A treaty of commerce has been formed between the United States and China. This will extend the intercourse between the two countries, and will be very advantageous to the United States.

The South Carolinian of the 31st ult. says, "At the adjourned meeting of the Managers of Elections for Richland District, on Thursday last, to hear evidence on the protest, in the case of the Sheriff's election, Mr. DeBrahm withdrew his protest, and Maj. Theodore Stark was declared elected."

It is known to many of our readers, that Mr. Clay has recently written several letters in reply to questions which were asked him, in reference to political matters.

Mr. Follett, Assistant Postmaster at Batavia, says the shock was felt there at 7 minutes past 8, and lasted about two seconds.

A gentleman from Elba estimates the duration of the shock in that place at half a minute, and describes it as heard enough to jar open several doors.

Taking time by the fore lock.—The Whigs of Petersburg are having made a transparency which is to be illuminated on the night that the news arrives of Mr. Clay's election.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

North, were deluded by his prophecies, and made preparations to await the second advent. The time passed by and the earth was not destroyed. But the delusion of his followers remained. Many of his disciples still spoke and wrote about the coming destruction of the world.

Seriously, this Millerism is doing incalculable mischief. About 2,000 residents of this city, besides several hundreds from the country around, have abandoned all their goods and chattels, their families, their duties, and their homes—and herded together for the last seven or eight days, in the Tabernacle in Howard street, with the expectation of the world's ending on or before the 22d of the present month.

The most singular revelations growing out of this monomania, are not those of pretended divinity. By far the most curious, are the confessions of theft, and other crimes, which careless of human ends, and only thinking of appeasing the offended God, before they expect so soon to be summoned, are publicly made by these unhappy wretches in the Second Advent Synagogue.

An unfortunate Affray.—We understand that a difficulty arose a few days since, in the upper part of the district, between two men named Fielding, Sudduth and Jesse Cockrum, during which the former shot the latter in the back with a musket, wounding him so severely that his life is despaired of.

It will be seen by the accident below, taken from the Louisville Courier of Thursday, that another frightful steamboat explosion, attended with great loss of life, has occurred on the Ohio, and that among the list killed and missing, is Phillip Wallis, Esq. formerly of this city, which we trust may prove to be erroneous.

It is with feelings the most acute and painful that we record the following fearful disaster; and the loss of so many valuable lives. The steamboat Lucy Walker, Capt. Vain, left this place for New Orleans yesterday, crowded with passengers.

Before Captain Dunham reached the place where the Lucy Walker was, he saw a number of persons who had been thrown into the river, drowned. He however saved the lives of a large number of persons, by throwing them boards and ropes, and pulling them on his boat with hooks.

John Hixon and Mr. Henry Belter, passengers on the Lucy Walker, deserve notice for their coolness and their efficient services in saving the lives of drowning persons. The following are the names of the dead, missing and wounded, as far as we have been able to learn them.

Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.

From the Louisville Courier. Killed and Missing. Geo. J. W. Peggam, of Richmond Va. Sam'l. M. Brown, Post Office Agent, of Lexington, Ky.