

last ten days, amounting to twenty-six thousand dollars. This is good evidence that the trade of Charleston is rapidly increasing and of the prosperity of the Company.

The Evening News.—We have the pleasure to state that Mr. W. Y. PAXTON, who is interested in the circulation of this very valuable paper, and who is endeavoring at this time to increase the number of its subscribers, can be seen at Comply's Hotel. He will probably remain in the village for about a week.

The Charleston Evening News, is a neat and handsome paper, of convenient size, and of excellent print, published tri-weekly at $4 per annum, and daily at $6. But it is not to the skill of its workmen, that it owes its so general and deserved popularity. We claim to have some experience in matters of this kind, and we can freely say, that it is unsurpassed, at least by any paper in this State, for its high moral tone, for its general truthfulness, and for the careful and laborious selection of its matter. When we receive our exchanges, it is among the first to be opened, and the last to be dismissed from our printer's desks. Mr. Cardozo, by his great diligence, and by a well cultivated judgment, has succeeded in giving his paper a practical, a business shape, which renders it most useful indeed, as well to the best editors as to readers in general, and to families. His miscellaneous selections are made with taste and discrimination, and his editorials are written with precision, with spirit, with independence. We never felt greater pleasure in recommending a newspaper to the public patronage, for in doing so, we feel that we are rendering a real service to the community.

The News is independent in politics, and being published at Charleston, it always contains the earliest and most useful intelligence, both of a foreign and a commercial character. We are also informed, that it has a faithful reporter at the Head Quarters of the army, from whom it can obtain the earliest and most faithful accounts of the achievements of our arms in Mexico.

Baltimore.—In the recent election for Mayor and Aldermen of the city, Davis, the Democratic candidate was elected by a majority of 106 votes. The Democrats have a majority of two in the Council. The vote is said to be the largest ever polled in the city.

Camille Sivori, the Violinist.—Some of the N. York papers, have recently been discussing the merits of this Musician, who has lately made his appearance at the North. Some of the papers represent him as not equal to De Bériot, Viarum, Meyereber, and others of great celebrity. The North American gives him a very high rank. The following criticism upon his musical skill is certainly in the colleur de rose style.

"Sivori proved himself a great artist—a perfect master of the intoxicating witchery of the violin. His music is so beautiful that it seems as if it must proceed directly from the fingers of Creative power—the soul of the listener being reluctant to admit that it could have emanated from any mere mortal and physical agency. It is as if the far unobtainable beauty of starlight mingling in the heavens should be brought near and become a tangible presence—or as if a pleasant dream of the first sweet sleep of night should gradually change itself to sound, and float by upon a sea of music. His tone is the laughter of a troop of fairies prolonged by moonlight echoes—his execution as brilliant and infallible as the falling of sunbeams. Every phrase he utters lies like a living thing of beauty in the brain. One ceases to be astonished—to remember the immense difficulties he overcomes—and is conscious only that the Spirit of Grace is flinging her divinest enchantments upon the very air he breathes. We feel that it would be simply absurd while thus giving expressions to our now delight, to attempt an analysis of Sivori's playing—yet for fear of being misunderstood hereafter, we will say that, with so much in his favor, he lacks that overwhelming magnetic force by which Ole Bull and Meyer take the will helpless and draw us irresistibly wherever they may. This opinion will draw a well bred sneer from the Parisian and Italian critics and cognoscenti who undertake the modest office of directing and controlling public taste in the Metropolis—but it is simply the truth, for all that. Sivori differs from Ole Bull as fairies from women. The fairies both of Shakespeare and of Sivori are more exquisitely and faultlessly beautiful—but they have no souls."

Meeting of Delegates from the Bible Societies of South Carolina.—The Executive Committee of the Bible Convention, held in Columbia, in November last, they leave to notify the officers and members of the several Bible Societies of this State, that the Convention of the present year will be held in Columbia, on Tuesday, the 1st day of December next. The place and hour will be announced in the Columbia papers of the previous day. The Committee earnestly request that all the Societies will appoint Delegates to the meeting, the design of which is to confer on the best means of furnishing the Holy Scriptures, with or without price, as circumstances may require, to all who are destitute of them, throughout our State.

Ohio Election.—The returns from Ohio come in slowly. Gen. Taylor, Whig, is elected to Congress in the Ross District, by a decided majority—a Whig gain.

Lahn, Independent, elected to Congress in Wayne District, over Starkweather—a Tariff gain.

Fisher, Duncan, Whig, is elected to Congress from the Columbus District by a majority of about three hundred and fifty over Samuel Medary, democrat, and editor of the Ohio Statesman.

Sudden Death.—A gentleman, named C. C. Oliver, one of the editors of the Little Georgian, published at Forsyth, (Geo.)

who had been in this city about two weeks, under medical treatment, for the recovery of his health, expired suddenly yesterday morning, at the Planter's Hotel, where he had taken lodgings. Mr. Oliver had been walking about the preceding day, and in the morning, when breakfast was sent to his room, declined partaking of it, but still made no complaint as to being ill. In the course of the forenoon, however, the servant entered his room, and found him a corpse.—Chas. Courier.

Citadel Square.—We are informed that at a meeting of the Directors of the South Carolina Rail Road Company, held on Tuesday last, a resolution was adopted to appropriate the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, for the purpose of purchasing from the City Council, the square in front of the Citadel, as a Depot for the Company.—Chas. Courier.

The Cotton Crop.—The Tallahassee Sentinel, of the 15th inst. says: "From all the information we can gather, the cotton crop in this vicinity, will be quite as light, if not much lighter than was anticipated. We see scarcely a planter, who in gathering his crop, does not find himself disappointed in the estimate he made on a mere survey of the field; so much does the yield turn out below his anticipations."

JACKSONVILLE, (Fla.) Oct 16.
The Late Gale.—On Monday last, this place was visited with a gale, which, in severity, was beyond any thing in the recollection of that ancient individual, the oldest inhabitant. It commenced to blow on Saturday evening. The gale increased until Monday, the wind coming from the Eastward. The river rose six feet above high water mark, and at two o'clock on Monday afternoon had flooded the wharves and had entered the lower floor of nearly all the stores of Bay street, which runs parallel to the river. On Monday night the wind dropped round to the South East, and the gale was at its height. The violence of the storm and the height of the water united in producing a fearful scene of devastation. All the wharves in town were carried away, and several buildings, contiguous to the river, were destroyed.—The saw mills in the vicinity of the town have lost all their lumber and logs. The total loss is estimated at $5,000.

The appearance of Jacksonville at the present moment is as amusing as it is distressing. The scattered fragments of one large wharf are blocking up the streets of the lower part of the town. Those of another are floating up a creek some 6 miles from the place. A large brig lies high and dry with its stern in the market house.—We ourselves narrowly escaped being blown through the sides of the printing office, press, type and all, but they say, the devil takes care of his own—the printer's devil, we mean—and his extraordinary exertions may be attributed our exemption from total destruction.

Religious Revivals.—For some time past we have noticed in our various exchange papers, many accounts of extensive revivals of religion, in various sections of our Union, particularly in the States of Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Maryland, where thousands of persons are said to have been hopefully converted and attached themselves to the churches of the various denominations of christians. The revival in Baltimore is justly regarded as a most extraordinary one. Upwards of two thousand members have been added to the Methodist Episcopal churches in that city during the past few weeks. To give some idea of the state of religion in the adjoining district of Marlborough, we will mention that the Rev. H. H. Darant, Minister of the M. E. Church for the Benettsville Circuit, has, since May last, admitted 1100 members, about 700 of whom he believes have been soundly and evangelically converted to God.—Cheraw Gazette.

From the Baltimore Sun.
Later from Santa Fe.—Doings of General Kearney.—Br. Craig, of Kentucky, who has been residing in New Mexico and California for fifteen years past, reached St. Louis on the 11th inst. He left Mazatlan on the 1st of June, Chihuahua on the 15th of July, and Santa Fe on the 6th of September. Dr. C. brought in a mail, and despatches from Gen. Kearney to the Government, which he mailed at Independence. The St. Louis Republican, says: General Kearney, with about 1000 men, left Santa Fe on the 2d, for the Rio Abajo, or to the settlements below on the Rio Grande. It was understood that he would descend to Socorro, where he was to erect a fortification. On his route he intended to visit Albuquerque, seventy five miles below Santa Fe, the residence of the ex-Governor Armijo. The position of the ex-Governor was not known. By some it was thought that he had gone south; others believed that he was still in the vicinity. Gen. Kearney expected to be absent on this expedition from fifteen to twenty days.

About three hundred men, with all the horses and cattle, not on duty, were at pasture on the Castello creek, fifteen or twenty miles from Santa Fe. Gen. Kearney was erecting a fort on an eminence to the northeast of Santa Fe, by throwing up a strong embankment, and covering the exterior with sun dried bricks. A good road had been constructed by the eminence to the fort. Its position is such as to command the town and the surrounding country. The work was progressing rapidly. The General was rapidly winning the good opinion of the Mexicans by his mild and conciliatory course. All dread of the army was fast leaving the minds of the people, and many of them seem pleased with the change of government, especially as General Kearney had promised them protection from the Indians.

Effects of Intemperance.—At a recent mass meeting of the friends of temperance, held in the Park, New York, it was stated by the Rev. Dr. Dowling, that he was once present in Court when the Hon. Judge Ogden Edwards was called upon to perform the painful duty of sentencing a wretched criminal for the murder of his wife, and the learned Judge had stated the impressive fact that of eleven criminals tried before him for the murder of their wives, ten of them had committed the awful deed under the influence of intemperance. Judge Edwards, who was in the chair, immediately confirmed the statement of Dr. Dowling, and said that he had no doubt that an equally large proportion of all the murders committed are attributable to the same cause.

OBITUARY.
Departed this life, after a protracted illness of 13 days, ANGELINA POWELL, daughter of C. S. Powell, and Martha Powell, in the tenth year of her age. She appeared to be perfectly resigned to the will of her Heavenly Father. A short time before she died, her father asked her if she was willing to die, she said she was perfectly willing; she then called for her sister and kissed her, and bid her farewell, calling on her Lord and Master. "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord, henceforth, they rest from their labours, and their works do follow them."

AN IMPORTANT CURE BY DR. JAYNE'S ALTERATIVE.

We have been informed by Mrs. Mahan, a grand-daughter of old Gen. Wayne, that she suffered for a number of years from the growth of a large Goitrous Tumour of the Throat, which, besides great deformity, produced both a difficulty of deglutition, and of breathing. In deed, she says, the pressure upon the windpipe was so great as to prevent her from sleeping in a recumbent position, and often suffocation appeared inevitable. She often labored under severe indigestion from Liver Complaint and Jaundice, with a horrible train of nervous affections, for which she commenced the use of Dr. Jayne's Alterative, which she took regularly for six or seven weeks, with occasional doses of his Sanative Pills; and her general health was thereby completely re-established, and now perceiving some diminution in the size of the Goitrous Tumour, she was encouraged to persevere in the use of the Alterative until every vestige of the painful tumour was entirely removed. We think, therefore, that such an important remedy should be more generally known.

The following is from a Physician and a much respected Clergyman of the Methodist Society, dated Modest Town, Va., Aug. 27 1846.

Dr. Jayne—Dear Sir—I have been using your Expectorant extensively in my practice for the last three years, and for all attacks of Colds, Coughs, Inflammation of the Lungs Consumption, Asthma, Pains and Weakness of the Breast, it is decidedly the best medicine I have tried. Very respectfully yours,
