SANTA ANNA'S LETTER OF RESIGNATION.
MEXICO, May 26, 1847.

Your Excellency—Since my return to the Republic I have had but one grand and sacred object in view, which has occupied my mind—for which object the nation recalled me: it was the defence, the integrity, the independence of my country. My efforts were unlimited, and I worked incessantly for this object. On my arrival I found nothing—neither army nor resources. I succeeded in my exertions, finally, and procured both.

I gave the nation to understand that I was taking charge of its government, in a manifesto published on the 22d inst., in which I related the success which have attended our arms up to my arrival in this capital, and also the motives which moved my return, and the benefits that might result from it. I arrived at the head of only part of an army, in the greatest destitution and disgrace, in order to reinforce this garrison, and entered with the full power to obtain every thing that was necessary for its defence. So successful have I been that I can now with pride say, that the city of Mexico is now provided with means of defence to resist all the efforts to subvert it which the enemy can now command.

I have always refused supreme power, except in cases of emergency, whereby the interest of the nation might be endangered. At present circumstances require from me a sacrifice of all I possess, which sacrifice is even attended with danger and a gloomy prospect, besides disgrace attached to it: this is no less than the consecration of myself, by marching forward and set at defiance the calamity and perfidy of my enemies, and with deeds of valor revenging myself against their venomous imputations. This I am ready and willing to perform, if in any way the result thereof can benefit my beloved country. I am fearful, however, that such will not be the result; and I have come to the conclusion that by holding the seat of the chief magistracy I will be founding impediments against the attainment of my most ardent wishes.

The enemies of my country have emissaries in every part of the Republic, whose artifices mislead and create distrust and calumny to such an extent that it is impossible to convince the Mexicans other than that I am an insuperable barrier to my country's welfare, and particularly that my love of power will ever be a curse to its tranquillity.

It is easy to perceive the reason why they spread such reports to my detriment—men who are afraid to defend the country wish for peace, and are fearful that they will not enjoy it as long as I am at the head of the government. They are well aware that my determination has been to put down the different parties which have endeavored to destroy one another, and which, even now, have entirely forgotten the common danger, in order to be benefited by such division, hoping that a change may place them in power, and free them from their responsibility to the nation. The foreign enemy's policy is to foment such a division: in order to obtain it, they have selected me as the most probable person by the ruin of whom it may be obtained. I am consequently a target for the shafts of all parties. Therefore my position is full of danger; but I do not fear it. The difficulty lies in preventing me from doing what I could to save the Republic. The intrigues of a revolution are well known. On that account the enemy are now advancing towards Puebla and Mexico, as they have been given to understand that a revolution would take place in the capital. With one act alone I can stop such a revolution, which I consider is the most important service I can render the Republic—that act is my present resignation as President pro tem. of the Republic, with which my nation has honored me. I am fully persuaded that this resignation will save the country.

I respectfully request the Sovereign Congress to accept immediately my resignation, and to declare its session, in order to appoint a person well qualified to discharge the above responsible office. I have discharged my duty towards my country as far as in my power. I have dedicated my life to it—my fortune and that of my family, as well as my own reputation—my blood has been spilt and my limbs lost in its defence: and now with pride I forever resign my public career, without fear of disgrace, and conscious that my services have been faithful and patriotic.

In any part of the world where I may place me, I can raise my head with pride, and with satisfaction carry a man that has never been stained with shame—but on the contrary, they will see me a faithful and patriotic Mexican, who in all his actions has striven for the honor of being instrumental in elevating his nation to prosperity and honor.

Your Excellency will report the same to the Sovereign Congress, in order that it may accept of my resignation, for which I will remain yours, respectfully, with the highest consideration.

God and Liberty!
ANTONIO LOPEZ DE SANTA ANNA.
To their Excellencies the Secretaries of the Sovereign Congress.

ANTI-SLAVERY IN BOSTON.

We take the following extract, from a letter published in the Pendleton Messenger, of the 11th inst. The letter was written by Rev Joseph Grisham, who is now on a visit at the North. He gives, in a part of his correspondence, a deplorable account of the distress among the poor, in the city of New-York, whom he represents as "worse off than most of our slaves."

"I attended, in the Marlboro Chapel, at an Anti-Slavery meeting—Francis Johnson, of the City, in the Chair, Eliza J. Kenney, of Salem, Secretary. The meeting was addressed by Wendell Phillips, said to be one of their best speakers; he was cheered as he mounted the stage; he is something of an orator; has a good opinion of himself. He abused South Carolina, and Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Webster, but poured out most of his abuse on Webster; he praised the Society, Samuel Hoar and himself. After him, Mr. Carson introduced a colored man, who said he had been born in Boston free was stolen when a child, kept in slavery until about two weeks ago, when he ran away, and got back to the cradle of Liberty; he said the man should speak for himself. He commenced, but spoke so low I could not hear him; I left the place, perfectly satisfied such meetings would produce no good here, and but little influence abroad. I never saw such a mixture; a few decent, well-dressed men and women, but most of them dirty, and some ragged; black and white, male and female sat on the same seat. I saw a genteel woman stand a considerable time conversing with one of the blackest men of the city. There is one thing appears strange to me: that the good benevolent anti-slavery men and women do not aid the hundreds of poor foreigners in their streets, wanting bread and employment! and their benevolence, I am told, ends mostly in public applause and kind words to the colored people, and abuse of slave-holders!"

The Cotton Crop.—In this State, although there are some exceptions, in general the Cotton crop is far from promising. Indeed we may say, from information derived from reliable sources, widely diffused, that it cannot reach a moderate crop except under the most favorable seasons from now to the end of a very late fall. The probability is greatly in favor of a decidedly short crop. The plant has died beyond prospect, and the replanting has been continued in most of the best Cotton Districts to the 10th of this month. The Cotton lice have been more destructive in many places than ever known—the frequent replants giving a very irregular growth, greatly increasing the difficulty in the proper management of the plant. In short, it is the belief of the best informed planters that nothing but the most favorable seasons, and a very late fall, can bring up the Cotton to a moderate crop.

The provision crop is as promising as the Cotton is unpromising. The Wheat has improved, and the Corn is very fine. We hear much the same report of Georgia, and of the other Cotton States.

Application of Ether for Insanity.—Dr. Gazanova, head surgeon of the lunatic asylum at Pau, has tried the use of Vapor of Ether, or, as is sometimes called, Anodyne Vapor, on a mad girl. This poor creature had been unable to procure sleep for five months. She was made to inhale this Vapor, and her agitation soon ceased. After five inhalations, she fell into a complete state of insensibility, which lasted twenty-five minutes, at the end of that time the torpor ceased, and no symptoms of disorder remained.

Turning the Penny.—An instance of the freight mania, at Buffalo, has been related to us. A poor man on the Ohio canal bought a scow for $550; and freighted it with flour to Cleveland, his profits paying for the scow. He then hired it towed to Buffalo, and in a few hours sold the old scow for $1100! So much for twenty days work, and a little enterprise.

Tight Lacing.—A learned doctor, referring to tight lacing, avers that it is a public benefit, inasmuch as it kills all the foolish girls, and leaves the wise ones to grov to be women.

FOR the cure of DEAFNESS, Pains, and the discharges of water from the Ears. Also, all those disagreeable noises, like the buzzing of insects, falling of water, whizzing of steam, &c., &c., which are symptoms of approaching Deafness, and also generally attendant with the disease. Many persons who have been deaf for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and were obliged to use ear trumpets, have, after using one or two bottles of this medicine, thrown aside their trumpets, being made perfectly well.

The application of the Oil produces no pain, but on the contrary an agreeable and pleasant sensation. The recipe for this Medicine has been obtained from an Aristocrat of great reputation, who has found, from long observation that deafness, in nineteen cases out of twenty, was produced either from a want of action in the nerves of hearing, or a dryness in the ears; his object, therefore, was to find something that would create a healthy condition in those parts. After a long series of experiments, his efforts were at last crowned with success, in the discovery of this preparation, which has received the name of "SCARPA'S COMPOUND ACOUSTIC OIL." It has been used in this country about six years, and is wonderful has been its effects in curing and remaining the deaf, that from pure motives of humanity, it is now offered to the public, that all may have an opportunity of proving its efficacy. A long list of certificates might be given but such is the confidence in the medicine, and high its reputation, that but few of them will be published.

It is only necessary to add, that this medicine has been recommended and used by many of the best physicians and surgeons in Europe and in this country.

SALEM WITCHCRAFT OUTDO.—Mr. T. Rowand—Dear Sir—For four or five years I have suffered greatly from Rheumatism in my head, which during the last year became worse and worse. For four or five weeks previous to the 15th inst., I had suffered without intermission, my general health was much impaired, my sight injured, and my head so sensitive, that I could scarcely rest it on the pillow. Two days since, a single application of your "MAGIC LOTION," relieved me entirely in two or three minutes. I have applied it occasionally since, and the soreness is nearly gone! So great and sudden was the change, that I can scarcely realize that I am the same man.

I have also cured one of my children, and a female friend of headache in two or three minutes.

So great is my confidence in the "MAGIC LOTION" that I would not be without a bottle for "fifty times its cost."

Yours respectfully,

WAREHOUSE AND FACTORAGE.

THE Subscribers have purchased from Nathan L. Griffin, Esq., the Cotton Warehouse in Hamburg, recently occupied by Dr. J. F. Griffin, and formerly by Messrs. H. L. Jeffers & Co., situated at the foot of the Hill, and immediately at the head of the main business street. From its superior location, and being surrounded by a stream of water, it is comparatively exempt from the casualty of fire and entirely above the reach of high freshets.

They propose to carry on exclusively the WAREHOUSE & GENERAL FACTORAGE BUSINESS, under the firm of GEIGER & PARTLOW.

Having engaged an experienced and competent assistant, in addition to their own personal attention, and possessing means to make liberal advances on Produce consigned to their care, they hereby render their services to Planters, Merchants and others, in the storage and sale of Cotton, Flour, Bacon, and other Produce, in Receiving and Forwarding Merchandise, and purchasing goods to order.

Their charges will be regulated by the usual rates of the place.

DR. JACKSON'S PILE EMBROCATION

Warranted to Cure. HEMORRHOIDS, OR PILES, is a disease produced by local irritation, costiveness, purgative stimulants, undue determination of blood to the hemorrhoidal vessels by excessive riding or walking, or a congestive state of the liver, and peculiarity of the constitution itself.

It is usually considered under three forms, or varieties, as follows—Blind Piles, White Piles, and Bleeding Piles.

This disease is so common, and so very well known, that a description of its symptoms is not deemed necessary.

The success that has followed the use of the Embrocation in the cure of this disease, has been truly astonishing. Physicians now advise their patients to try it, as the only Pile Medicine.

In addition to its being a positive remedy for the Piles, it never fails to cure that intolerable itching, which is so very common, and has its location in the same parts as the Piles.

Read the following, from the editorial columns of Alexander's Weekly Messenger—Found at last—A cure for the Piles.—Physicians and Chemists have long been anxious to discover a medicine that would cure one of the most troublesome diseases, the Piles. Success has at last been the result. DR. JACKSON'S PILE EMBROCATION not only stops all bleeding, allays pain and inflammation, subdues that intolerable itching, but effectually cures, like a charm, and in a very short time, persons whose lives have been rendered miserable for years.

Beckwith's Pills.

THE Proprietor, many years ago, while searching for a remedy for his own health which the prescription of the famous pills failed to benefit, hit upon the composition of these Pills, and they proved entirely successful in restoring his health. Their composition was freely communicated to many Physicians, and it was not the design of the Inventor that they should extend beyond the private practice of himself, and that of his medical friends. Applications for them, however, began to multiply, and he was advised by many of his professional brethren, and other gentlemen, of character and distinction, to prepare a quantity of them and place them in the hands of an apothecary. Even this seemed insufficient, and he was urged to send them, by means of agencies, throughout the country. Calomel had long been a common domestic remedy. There was scarcely a family in which a vial of it was not to be found, and in which it was not used with a degree of freedom that was entirely unbecoming to a physician should shrink. A strange notion too seemed to exist among many of the Faculty. Hardly a case was prescribed for, whether acute or chronic, in which Calomel was not given, in some stage of the disease, without fear or reflection; and thousands are still suffering from its pernicious effects. Calomel is, without doubt, a most valuable medicine, and in some cases may be regarded as essential, but it should not be stricken from the list of domestic remedies, and be administered only under the prudent and judicious advice of a thoughtful Physician. Unpopular, as many Physicians and others, these Pills were found to be a substitute for mercurial preparations in a large number of cases, and hence their popularity, and the large demand for them. The idea of obtaining a Patent for them was never entertained, nor has it been sought to this day. It was believed that by giving them a popular form and circulating them through the country, thousands would be benefited by their use, who would, otherwise, never hear of the prescription and never learn that a preparation had been compounded which rendered the indiscriminate and pernicious use of Calomel unnecessary. These were some of the inducements which led the Inventor of the Pills to consent that they should become an object of public sale.

IT HAS PERFECTLY CURED ME. PHYLADIA, December 1837.

To Dr. D. Jayne—Dear Sir—The astonishing and miraculous beneficial effects your valuable EXPECTORANT had on my neighbor, the Rev. Mr. Kushing, made so favorable an impression on my mind, that after consulting with several friends, and learning that you were a regular Practitioner of Medicine, I called upon you, and purchased half a dozen bottles, and told you that if I lived to take them, you should have a good report from me.

I am alive and well this day! Thanks to a merciful God, and your Expectant; and how I come forward cheerfully to fulfil my promise.

For twenty long years I had been a constant sufferer from the effects of a hard, dry, cough, pain in the breast, and difficulty of breathing; the last five of which, chills and fevers, every spring and fall, added to my misery. I was worn away to a mere skeleton; with the greatest difficulty only could I get up and down stairs; my appetite was gone, and my strength had so far failed me, that my friends were persuaded I could not survive many weeks, unless I obtained relief. Indeed, my situation was so perfectly miserable to myself, and so distressing to my family, that I felt willing to die whenever it should please the Master to take me home. But I heard of your medicine, and relief came. Yes! it proved the "Balm of Gilead" to my poor afflicted body. Before I had taken ONE BOTTLE, I experienced a mitigation of all my symptoms, and to my great joy I found in the continued use of it, a most precious relief. In short, sir, IT HAS MADE A PERFECT CURE OF ME—and I can truly say, I have no desire to be better.
