I DREAMED OF THEE.

Thy head was on my shoulder leaning; Thy hand in mine was gently prest; Thine eyes, so soft, and full of meaning, Were bent on me, and I was blest.

No word was spoken-all was feeling, The silent transport of the heart; The tear that o'er thy cheek was stealing, Told what words could ne'er impart.

And could this be but mere illusion? Could fancy all so real seem? Here fancy's scenes are wild confusion; And can it be I did but dream?

I 'm sure I felt thy forehead pressing, The very breath stole o'er my cheek ; I 'm sure I saw those eyes confessing What the tongue could never speak.

Ah! no, 'tis gone, 'tis gone, and never Mine such waking bliss can be; Oh, I would sleep, would sleep forever, Could I thus but dream of thee.

Agricultural.

Farmers Educate your Sons.

We ask the Farmers of this State to consider carefully the statistics and remarks which we copy below, from a paper devoted exclusive to their interests. the evidences of rapidly accumulating wealth among the tillers of the soil are unmistakeable. Princely mansions, mammoth barns, extensive orchards, constantly improving fields, superior stock, are to terior of these rural homes the evidenand spinning wheels, once were. These farmers' tables are loaded with every than now exists in Western New York. The church spire is as common as the religious necessities of the people. In most families God is acknowledged at the table, and the altar; the Bible is loved, and the Sabbath observed. We believe these to be characteristics of the great mass of the farming population in Western New York; and that the portion which has not reached this standard, are rapidly attaining to it. These farmers are men of broad common sense, and are only lacking in that measure of mental cultivation, which would enable them to secure the social and political influence which rightly belongs to them. What reason is there why such men so situated, should stand dumb-foundered at the recently acquired Greek and Latin of a college stripling? Why should they look aghast when the professional technicalities of the village physician are so solemly enunciated? Why should the minister give such men the meaning of the Scriptures in their original tongues, and his say so, be their only resouce? Why the whiskered witlings of our with more lungs than brains may enter in, and sit as law makers? Why should such men cultivate their farms and lands by formulas which others have thought out for them, and be as ignorant of the reasons for the most common transactions getting away from a Grizzly would be inin practical agriculture, as the oxen they plow with, or the horses they drive. There is no reason why it should be so, and so it will not be much longer. Many farmers in this and the sorrrounding

PERMANET PASTURES .- We have often advised the formation of permanent pastures, and will here suggest a very easy method by which those who have worn out old fields may convert any portion of them they may please, into these desirable appendages to a farm. If there be no fence around any such old field that may fence around any such old field that may be destined for a permanent pasture, put few yards behind her was a grizzly, not up one; then put on 8 or 10 bushels of bone dust; break it up thoroughly; harrow it well; sow on each acre 10 pounds bushel of orehard grass seed, 5 pounds of place she ever did git me into. I hadn't a sweet scented vernal grass seed, and & a bushel of Kentucky blue grass seed; then sow a bushel of plaster to the acre, and roll or first harrow in lightly, and then rool; keep the stock off the first season. and spread 50 bushels of lime, or 100 bushels of marl thereon, per acre, the succeeding fall or winter; and a permanent pasture will have been formed. This will relieve you from the disagreeable alternative of forcing your cattle to the necessity of subsisting in the woods or on the roads, and relieve you also of the pain of being frequently brought into collision with your neighbors, on account of the depredations of your stock. Your good example will make those neighbors emulate it so that Old grizzly drawed up, when he seed me, in a few years you will have just cause to be proud of your provident care, in marshalling them in the way they should for; and I'd jest given him that mule easy, have gone years before; besides which, your cattle and other stock will be kept in better plight, and as a consequence, yield you more profit.-Am. Smoking a Grizzly. BY SOLTAIRE.

"What, you hev never seen a lice Grizzly?" exclaimed an old Oregon gold digger, with whom we were engaged in a "bar" conversation one evening on James-

A RARE PATRIMONY .- A young man of Nuvemberg, who had no fortune, requested a lawyer, a friend of his, to recommend him to a family where he was a daily visitor, and where there was a handsome daughter who was to have a large fortune. The lawyer said he did not exactly know, but he would inquire.

The next time he saw his young friend he asked him if he had any property at all. "No," replied he.

"Well," said the lawyer, "would you suffer any one to cut off your Nose if he would give you twenty thousand dollars for it?

[What an idea.] " Not for the world!" "Tis well," replied the lawyer, "I had a reason for asking."

The next time he saw the girl's father, ne said-"I have inquired about the young man's circumstances. He has indeed no ready money, but he has a jewel for which, to my knowledge, he has been offered and he refused twenty thousand dollars,"

This induced the old father to consent of the jewel!

Edgefield Female Institute.

Edgefield C. H. S. C. IIIS Institution closed for the Winter Vacation on Friday the 20th inst., and will e-open on Monday the 13th of January 1851. The Principal offers his very sincere thanks to his Patrons for their liberal support and kind encouragement, which he hopes the result of his labors will justify, and that the ensuing year will prove their unabated confidence. Having become Proprietor as well as Principal of the Institute, an additional guaranty is thus given to the public, that every exertion on his part will be made to deserve and ensure its success and to make it what it professes to be, a superior School. Every means has been taken in the choice of Assistants and Text Books, to render it more than ever an essentially Southern Institution. and in the Music Department it will be found that few schools can vie with the amount of talent and the number of Teachers employed. Circulars of Terms &c. can be had by applicaion, by mail or otherwise to the Principal, and a Catalogue is on the eve of publication.

R. H. NICHOLLS,

Principal and Proprietor. Edgefield, December 25th, 1850.

Edgefield Female Institute. THE Trustees of this Institution have much pleasure in announcing to the public its perfect success during the past year, and they feel more than ever justified in recommending it to public patronage.

Believing that private direction of Scholastic Institutions is more condusive to their success and utility than public governance, they have disposed of the property; under proper restrictions, to the present Principal—Professor R. H. Nich-olls, and feel confident, that, under his experienced guidance, the Institution must prosper. Every step has been taken to render it a truly SOUTHERN SCHOLL by divesting it, as far as possible, of Northern influence, either literary or personal, and they feel that they have now a School in their mids, adapted to their utmost preent and future need. In relinquishing the proprietorship of the Institute, they by no means lose their solicitude for its success—on the contrary, they will always remain watchful guardians of its vital interests, and existing still as a corporate body, they will ever be ready to protect and foster it.
