When cares flesh is heir to perplex us, And trifles, more harrassing far, Arise in our path and sore vex us, How soothing a fragrant segar! If friends should prove false and leave us, We can pass off the thing with a joke, Nor allow their desertion to grieve us But let the wound vanish in smoke.

When riches seem slow in collecting, And prospects look gloomy as night, There's nought like segars for directing Our fancy to visions more bright. Though life seems unpleasant and weary, And its path unblest by a star, Yet the smoker will feel, when he's weary, That there's bliss in a fragrant segar.

Case of Joe Stransbury. One of the best founding stories we have read since the cold weather set in, is found in the police corner of the Philadelphia Pennsylvanian, of last Thursday, as follows. As Mrs. Esther Stransbury (residing in a court running from Race below Sixth,) was about to bring a bucket of water from the hydrant last night, she found an old basket suspended from the knob of the front door. Putting her hand into the basket, she felt something alive and kicking-but so enveloped in rags that no further discovery could be made without unwrapping the object. A piece of paper folded like a letter, lay by the side of the animated bundle. Mrs. Stransbury immediately returned into the house, and by the light of the lamp, examined the billet. It was addressed to her husband. She tremulously broke the seal and read as follows:

To JOE STRANSBURY .- Sir: I send you the baby, which you will please to take good care of and bring up right, so that it may turn out to be a better man than its daddy. Oh Joseph! what a sly old rake you are !--who would think that such a staid, sober old spindle-shanks could be such a tearing-down sinner? The child is yours. You may swear to that. Look at it; it is Joe Stransbury all over. You deceived me shamefully, Joseph-letting on to be a widower-but do a father's part by the young one, and I'll forgive you.

Your heart-broken,

P. S. Don't let that sharp-nosed wife of yours see this letter. Gammon her with some kind of a story about the baby."

Mr. Stansbury was in the basement kitchen quietly eating his supper, and little imagining what a storm was brewing over his head. The door of the kitchen was violently thrown open and Mrs. S.'s voice velled out, "Stransbury-come up his mouth and obeyed the summons .-"Don't you want to see Nancy? the heart-broken Nancy!" cried Mrs. Stransbury, when her guilty husband hobbled up into the room.

"Nancy-what Nancy's that?"-said the sly old rogue in well feigned perplexity. "Why Nancy, the mother of this baby that's been hung up at your door, Mr. Stransbury. Oh you look mighty innoness. I'll expose you before every body."

Stransbury had collected a room full of him. spectators, (half the inhabitants of the Court) to witness the process of unwrapping the baby. Anxious expectation sat on every countenance, as the jealous lady tore away rag after rag from the body of know and darfore draps the subject' the foundling, the vigorous movements of which astonisned everybody. "It is full of the devil already," said Mrs. S.; "that like him in everything."

At last all the swaddling clothes being removed, out jumped the baby and made its escape through the open door.-It was a big TOM CAT.

THE NEGLECTED SON .- A certain farmer, in England, had an only son, to whom he was greatly attached, and never could think of chastising him for his faults .-When he arrived at the age of twelve years, he bid adieu to his father's house. and went with a band of gipsies. For nearly twenty years he was never heard of. It happened, however, that the old man was under the necessity of taking a journey a considerable way with a large sum of money. He had to pass a wood, and as he went on, a man rushed from it, seized his horse, and demanded his money. The old man remonstrated with him.-He would not hear, but again demanded his money. Most reluctantly he gave it up.

The robber, gazing at him, said, "Do you know me?"

" No," said the old man.

"Well," said the robber, "I am your son!" and returning his money, added, "Had you corrected me when young, I might have been a comfort to you; but now I am a disgrace to you, and a pest to society."

THEY say there is a saw mill Down East which saws so easy, that, while a young man was sitting on a log while the saw was running through, he was sawed in halves, and did not discover it until the overseer told him to roll off.

RUINOUS EFFECTS OF RUM.-A starting incident, connected with the misery which follows in the train of King Alcohol, says the Pottsville (Va.) Press, occurred in Rev. Mr. Johnston's Second Methodist Church, of that borough, on Sunday evening last. While the collection was being taken up, a man whose personal appearance evidently denoted a shattered constitution, and consequent misery and suffering, threw into the basket a small paper carefully rolled up, which on subsequent examination was found to contain a half dime, the remnant, it seems, of a wasted patrimony; for on the paper was written, " This is the last of four thousand dollars left me by my father-Rum and Effects !!" Who the poor fellow was, or whence he came, is not known, for he was a stranger, and evidently a wanderer upon the face of the

AN ELOPEMENT .- Some astounding developments, relative to the recent disappearance of a young girl, name Brown, the daughter of a highly respectable abolitionist, have been made. It appears the father had expressed himself as indefferent as to whether his daughter married a white man or negro. She took him at his word, and few weeks since eloped with a black man, married him, and in his company went to the different dens of Ann street. in one of which she was discovered by an officer, and carried to her father. She is now in the lunatic asylum. The affair has been hushed up here, on account of the respectability of the parties.

We should think there was very little respectability involved in the matter .-Philadelphia Sun.

THE FOOL'S REPROF .- There was a certain nobleman, says Bishop Hall, who kept a fool, to whom he one day, gave a staff, with a charge to keep it until he should meet with one who was a greater fool than himself. Not many years after, the nobleman fell sick, even unto death. The fool came to see him; his sick lord said to him: "I must shortly leave you." "And whither art thou going?" said the fool. "Into another world," replied his lordship. " And when will you come again? within a month?" "No, never."

"Never?" said the fool; "and what provision hast thou made for thy enterainment there, whither thou goest?"

"None at all." "No!" said the fool; "none at all? Here take my staff, for with all my folly, I am not guilty of such folly as this.

IN AN OUT .- An Irish preacher was considerably annoyed (as many before and since have likewise been) by persons getting up and leaving the Church during his sermons. His patience being exhausted, he stopped his discourse, and in a rowdy way exclaimed-

"Go on me lad, I've seen the top of your head, that's enough." The fellow turned around with an angry menacing look, muttered-"I'll see you again, sir." "You had better see me now," replied

> A CUNNING Fox .- An English paper relates the following:

A farmer had discovered that a fox came along a beam in the night to seize his poultry. He accordingly sawed the end of the beam nearly through, and in the night the fox fell into a place whence he could not escape. On going to him cent; but just read that letter and then in the morning, he found him stiff, and as look in that basket. Don't be afraid, it he thought lifeless. A poor widow woman was relating to a neighbor how fond her husband was of having a good fire; how busy he would make himself in fixing it so it would burn.

REV. DR. LANDIS, A CLERGYMAN of New Jersoy, of distirguished attainments and ex alted reputation:

SIDNEY, New Jersey, July 12, 1849.

DR. A. H. CHRISTIE—Dear Sir: You wish to know of me what has been the result in my own case, of the application of THE GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE. My reply is as follows:

For about twenty years I had been suffering from Dyspepsia. Every year the symptoms became worse, not could lobtain permanent relief from any course of medical treatment whatever. About fourteen years since, in consequence of frequent exposure to the weather, in the discharge of my pastoral duties, I became subject to a severe Chronic Rheumatism, which for year after year, caused me indescribable anguish Farther: in the winter of 45 and 46, in consequence of preaching a great deal in my own and verious other churches in this region, I was attacked by the Bronchitis, which soon became so sovere as to require an immediate suspension of my pastoral labors. My nerrous system was now thoroughly prostrated, and any Bronchitis became worse, so also did my Dyspepsia and Rheumatic affection—thus evincing that these disorders were connected with each other through the medium of the Nervous System. In the whole pharmacopacia there seemed to be no remedial agent which Could reach and recuperate my Nervous System; every(Ling that I had tried for this purpose had completely failed. At last I was led by my friends to examine your inventions, and (though with no very sanguine hopes of their efficiency.) I determined to try the effect of the application of the GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE, with the MAGNETIC FLUID.
This was in June, 1816. To MY GREAT ASTONISHISTERT,
IN TWO DAYS MY DYSPEPSIA HAD GONE; IN SIGHT
DAYS I WAS ENABLED TO RESUME MY PASTONISHISTERT,
IN TWO DAYS MY DYSPEPSIA HAD GONE; IN SIGHT
DAYS I WAS ENABLED TO RESUME MY PASTONISHISTERT,
IN TWO DAYS MY DYSPEPSIA HAD GONE; IN SIGHT

For the Removal and Permanent Cure of all NERVOUS DISEASES, And of those Complaints which are caused by an impaired, weakened or unhealthy condition of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. This beautiful and convonient application of the mysterious powers of GALVANISM and MAGNET ISM, has been pronounced by distinguished physicians, both in Europe and the United States, to be the most raduable medicinal discovery of the Age.

Dr. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC BELT MAGNETIC FLUID, is used with the most perfect and certain success in

GENERAL DEBILITY, GENERAL DEBILITY,

Strengthening the weakened hody, giving tone to the various organs, and invigorating the entire system. Also in FITS, CRAMP, PARALYSIS and PALSY, DYSPETSIA or INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, ACUTE and CHRONIC, GOUT, EPILEPSY, LUMBAGO, DEAFNESS, NERVOUS TREMORS, FALFITATION OF THE HEART, APOPLEXY, NEURALGIA, PAINS in the SIDE and CHEST, LIVER COMPLAINT, SPINAL COMPLAINT, and CURVATURE of the SPINE, HIP COMPLAINT, DISEASES of the KIDNEYS, DEFICIENCY OF NERVOUS and PHYSICAL ENERGY, and all NERVOUS DISEASES, which complaints arise from one simple cause—namely,

A Derangement of the Nervous System. 67-In NERVOUS COMPLAINTS Drugs and Medicines increase the disease, for they weaken the vital energies of the already prostrated system; while under the strengthening, life-giving, vitalizing influence of Galvanism, as applied by this beautiful and wonderful discovery, the exhausted patient and weakened sufferer is restored to former health, extenent leasticity and vigor. strength elasticity and vigor.
The great peculiarity and excellence of Dr. Christie's Galvanic Curatives, consists, in the fact that they arrest and care disease by outward application, in place of the usual mode of drugging and physicking the patient, till exhausted Nature sinks hopelessly under the infliction.

They strengthen the whole system, equalize the circulation of the blood, promote the secretions, and never do the slightest injury under any circumstances. Since their introduction in the United States, only three rears since, more than 60,000 Persons including all ages, classes and conditions, among which were a large number of ladies, who are peculiarly subject to Nervous Complaints, have been ENTIRELY AND PERMANENTLY OURED, ENTIRELY AND PERMANENTLY CURED, when all hope of relief had been given up, and every thing else been tried in voin!

To illustrate the use of the GALVANIC BELT, suppose the case of a perron afflicted with that bane of cirrilaration, DySPLTSIA, or any other Chronic or Nerrous Disorder. In ordinary cases, stimulants are taken which, by their action on the nerves and muscles of the stomach, afford temporary relief, but which leave the patient in a lower state, and with injured faculities, after the action thus excited has ceased. Yow compare this with the effect resulting from the application of the GALVANIC BELT. Take a Dyspeptic sufferer, even in the worse symptoms of an estack, and simply tie the Belt around the body, using the Magnetic Fluid as directed. In a short period the insensible perspiration will act on the positive element of the Belt thereby causing a Galvanic circulation which will puss on to the nogative, and thence back again to the positive, thus keeping up a continuous Galvanic circulation throughout the Edgefield Female Institute. Edgefield C. H. S. C.

HIS Institution closed for the Winter Va-cation on Friday the 20th inst., and will re-open on Monday the 13th of January 1851. The Principal offers his very sincere thanks to his Patrons for their liberal support and kind en-couragement, which he hopes the result of his la-bors will justify, and that the ensuing year will prove their unabated confidence.

Having become Proprietor as well as Princioul of the Institute, an additional guaranty is thus given to the public, that every exertion on his parill be made to deserve and ensure its success and to make it what it professes to be, a superior School. Every means has been taken in the choice of Assistants and Text Books, to render t more than ever an essentially Southern Institution, and in the Music Department it will be found that few schools can vie with the amount of talent and he number of Teachers employed. Circulars of Terms &c. can be had by applicaion, by mail or otherwise to the Principal, and a Catalogue is on the eve of publication. R. H. NICHOLLS, Principal and Proprietor. Edgefield, December 25th, 1850.

Edgefield Female Institute. HE Trustees of this Institution have much pleasure in announcing to the public its perfeet success during the past year, and they more than ever justified in recommending it to public patronage.

Believing that private direction of Scholastic Institutions is more condusive to their success and utility than public governance, they have disposed of the property; under proper restrictions, to the present Principal—Professor R. H. Nich-olls, and feel confident, that, under his experienced guidance, the Institution must prosper. Every step has been taken to render it a truly SOUTHERN SCHOLL by divesting it, as far as possible, of Northern influence, either literary or personal, and they feel that they have now a School in their mids, adapted to their utmost present and future need. In relinquishing the proprietorship of the Institute, they by no means lose their solicitude for its success—on the contrary, they will always re-main watchful guardians of its vital interests, and existing still as a corporate body, they will ever be ready to protect and foster it.

The Faculties, for intellectual abilities, moral worth and professional acquirements, will compare favorably with the most distinguished in our country. The medical faculty constitutes an anomaly in this or any other country—all of them are able lecturers and the best of teachers.

Those who will contemplate our geographical position, and the extent of our population, can have no doubt as to the eligibility of our situation for an enterprise of the kind. As to health, incleding all seasons of the year, we deny that any ding all seasons of the year, we deny that any ding all seasons of the year, we deny that any other city has more.

A common error exists in the minds of many students relative to the place of studying medicine; those who intend practicing among the diseases of the West and South should certainly educate themselves at a school whose Faculty are practically acquainted with those diseases.

That the public may be satisfied of the permanency of this school, we feel it our duty to state, that the Trustees and Faculty form a unit in action, which angurs well for its future success; and that the peculiar internal organization which connects
