HOPE.

"Hope looks beyond the bounds of time,"
For fruits of culture here;
Hope soars away to Heaven's fair clime,
And casts its anchor there.

Hope cheers the weary, panting soul,
And bids it ever rise
Above this earth, and seek a goal
Far, far beyond the skies.

Hope bids us look to Canaan's shore
For friends that here we mourn;
And says we'll meet them there once more,
Though to the tomb they're borne.

Then hope in life, aye, hope in death,
And hope whate'er may come;
With all thy hopes be strong in faith,
That Christ may bring thee home.

"Hope thou in God," through Christ the Son,
The Spirit guides the way;
Then shout in death the battle's won,
And soar to endless day:

Where in the mansions of the blest,
Thy trials all shall cease;
And hail thy friends in Heaven's rest,
To dwell with God in peace.

OBEDIENCE.

A Discourse was recently preached in the City of Washington, by Rev. Dr. Dewey, enforcing the principle of obedience. This sermon has been published in New York and Boston by Messrs. Francis and Co. The preacher devotes a portion of his sermon to the subject of family government, which he thinks is not arranged as it should be in this country. We quote from this part of the discourse:

Let us go back then to the family discipline, and see if we can determine what it should be.

A parent is one, to whom is committed the charge of training beings, utterly ignorant, incapable of reasoning—incapable at first, of knowing the reasons of things—up to knowledge, virtue and happiness. To his care, to his love and tenderness, to his guidance and control, they are committed. His very position implies authority; divest it of that, and it loses all dignity, fitness and reasonableness. It cannot have been meant, that his wisdom should be thwarted, and his life distracted by the passion, caprice and wilfulness of his children; but that their passion, caprice and wilfulness should be subject to his authority, Could there be any such thing as compact, in the case, we should say, it is but a fair compact between the two—"I will train and take care of you, if you will obey me." It was never meant, in the ordinary course of things, that duties should be martyrdoms. And yet, half a dozen little children, irrational beings, ungoverned or only half governed—wilful—breaking out constantly into screams of passion, turning things into perpetual disorder and disarray, doing this and that—running this way and that way, without check, or controlled only by momentary expedients to get along—must make of the mother's life, or of some other person's life who has the charge of them, a sort of living martyrdom. It is an absolute and enormous wrong in the nature of things. It must be a sad teaching of right to those young minds; for it is a wrong; it is an unrighteousness, enacted into the very government, or rather mis-government of a family.

And there is no necessity for it. These children can be governed. They in some respects, is natural to them; and they are trained by neglect or by a false system of treatment, to a disobedience, that is unnatural and monstrous. A child disobeying its parents!—God's law—nature's law is against it. Let the rightful law be laid upon it from the very beginning. I am persuaded it is a great mistake we make, in supposing that nothing in this wise can be done, till the child is a year old. It would be nearer the truth to say, something can be done when it is a month old. Just as soon as it has a will, rising above instinct—i. e. a conscious and persisting will—that will should, on proper occasions, be gently and firmly restrained. And that discipline continued, ever gentle but firm—ever loving, considerate and sympathising, but to its point firm—from its point, immovable—will secure a patient and perfect obedience.—If the child is never permitted to disobey, it will soon cease to think of it as soon as possible. And it should never be permitted! I say it is a sin before Heaven; and is no more to be tolerated than lying or stealing is to be tolerated in the house. Such a law established, and the house would be builded anew. Passionate self-will—the most hateful thing, I believe, on earth—would be driven out of it. The sweetness of obedience would enter in. It would be that peace, that family love, which the Psalmist celebrates when he says, "How good and pleasant it is!" It would be like that perfume of holy incense to which he compares it. It would be like "the dew of Hermon"—like "the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion; where the Lord commanded the blessing, even life for evermore."

Yes, the children themselves would be incomparably happier in obedience. We do them the cruelest wrong, if we give them up to their own self-will. To give them comfits and sweetmeats, that make them ill, because they cry for them is but an illustration of the evil and wrong which we do, in this way, to their whole moral nature. It might seem at first sight, that indulgence would make them happier; and with many kind hearted but mistaken parents, that is the plea; but it is not true. Wilfulness and waywardness, in child or man, is the unhappiest of all states of being. Ever in such state, are things growing worse—the craving for gratification more intense amd more unreasonable—the whole life and being more truly miserable. Only when living under law—only when walking in obedience, is child or man, family or State, happy and truly prosperous. Selfish passion everywhere is anarchy, begetting injustice, and bringing forth destruction. The reign of conscience only is calm. The reign of order is "peace and quietness and assurance forever."

THE CHARMS OF LIFE.

There are a thousand things in this world to afflict and sadden, but O! how many that are beautiful and good! The world teems with beauty—with objects that gladden the eye and warm the heart. We might be happy if we would. There are ills we cannot escape; the approach of disease and death; of misfortune; the sundering of early ties; and the canker-worm of grief; but a vast majority of evils that beset us might be avoided. The course of intemperance, interwoven as it is with all the ligaments of society, is one which never strikes but to destroy. There is not one bright gage on the record of its progress; nothing to shield it from the heartiest execration of the human race. It should not exist; it must not. Do away with [illegible] let wars come to an end; and let friendship, purity and kindness, mark the intercourse between man and man. We are two selfish, as if the world was made for us alone. How much happier would we be were we to labor more earnestly to promote each other's good. God has blessed us with a home which is not all dark. There is sunshine everywhere—in the sky, upon the earth—there would be in most hearts if we would look around us. The storm dies away and a bright sun shines out. Summer drops her tinted curtain upon the earth, which is very beautiful, even when autumn breathes her changing breath upon it—God reigns in Heaven.

PRIDE.—A proud man is a fool in fermentation—swelling and boiling like porridge pot. He sets his feathers like an owl, to swell and seem bigger than he is. He is troubled with an inflamation of self-conceit, that renders him the man of paste-board and a true buckram knight. He has given himself sympathetic love-powder that works upon him to dotage, and transforms himself into his own mistress, making most passionate court to his own dear perfections, and worshipping his own image. All his upper stories are crammed, with masses of spongy substances, occupying much space; as feathers and cotton will stuff cushions better than things of more compact and solid proportion.

ADVERSITY.—"Earthly prosperity," says a thoughtful writer, "should be estimated by its influence on the soul. What we hear termed adversities, may in reality be blessings. When we cast off these vestments of clay, they will, perhaps, come in shining garments to welcome us to everlasting habitations."

This is a beautiful sentiment. How often does it happen that we do not know our own strength until we have been thoroughly tried in the furnace of affliction! We find ourselves coming forth from the fiery ordeal, stronger than when we entered—refined, perhaps, in some degree, from the dross of earth, and prepared to exclaim, with the philosopher, "sweet are the uses of adversity."

INDUSTRY may be considered as the purse, and frugality as its strings, which should rather be tied with a bow than a double knot, that the contents may not be too difficult of access for reasonable people.

MAN is born passionate of body, but with an inmate though secret tendency to the love of good in his mainspring of mind. But, God help us all, it is at present a sad jar of atoms.

MANY a man will retract praise; none but a high-spirited mind will revoke its censure, or can praise the man it has once attacked.

DR. HOOFLAND'S
CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS, PREPARED BY
DR. C. M. JACKSON,
AT THE GERMAN MEDICINE STORE,
120 Arch Street, Philadelphia.
THEIR power over the above diseases is not excelled—if equalled—by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases after skillful physicians had failed.
These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the ratification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are withal, safe, certain and pleasant.

Read and be Convinced!
The editor of the "BOSTON BEE," said in his paper of the 23nd of June last:
DR. HOOFLAND'S CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver Complaint from the use of this remedy. We are convinced that, in the use of these Bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor—a fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in taste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomachs with safety, under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use.
"SCOTT'S WEEKLY," one of the best Literary papers published, said,— DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, manufactured by Dr. Jackson, are now recommended by some of the most prominent members of the faculty as an article of much efficacy in cases of female weakness. As such is the case, we would advise all mothers to obtain a bottle, and thus save themselves much sickness. Persons of debilitated constitutions will find these Bitters advantageous to their health, as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems."

More Evidence
The Hon. C. D. HINELINE, Mayor of the City of Camden N. J., says:
"HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.—We have seen many flattering notices of this medicine, and the source from which they came induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say we found it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organs, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration is really surprising. It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.
"If this medicine was more generally used, we are satisfied these would be less sickness, as from the stomach, liver, and nervous system the great majority of real and imaginary diseases emanate. Have them in a healthy condition, and you can bid defiance to epidemics generally. This extraordinary medicine we would advise our friends who are at all indisposed, to give a trial—it will recommend itself. It should, in fact, be in every family. No other medicine can produce such evidences of merit."
Evidence upon evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last three years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than all other nostrums combined, a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form.
That this medicine will cure Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can doubt after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the stomach and liver; it is preferable to calomel in ALL BILIOUS DISEASES—the effect is immediate. They can be administered to females or infants with safety and reliable benefit at any time.
Look well to the marks of the Genuine.
They have the written signature of C. M. JACKSON upon the wrapper, and his name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.

DR. ROGERS'
LIVERWORT AND TAR!!
A SAFE and certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma, Consumption of the Lungs Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Hooping Cough, and all Pulmonary Affections.

A Lovely Young Lady Cured of Consumption!
THE following is from the pen of WM. H. LEVISON, Esq., the distinguished editor of the U. S. Military and Naval Argus, under date of New York, January 26, 1851. What could be more conclusive!
"It is seldom we permit ourselves to occupy a space in these columns to speak in praise of any article in the patent medicine way; but when we see the life of a fellow creature saved by the use of any medicine whatever, we consider it as our right, if not our duty, to give a simple statement of facts, that others may, in like manner, be benefitted. The case which has induced us to pen this article was that of a young lady of our acquaintance, who by frequent exposure to the night air, contracted a Cold which settled on the Lungs before its ravages could be stayed. (This occurred two years ago this winter.) Various remedies were used, but with very little effect or benefit.—The Cough grew worse, with copious expectoration, and the sunken eye, and pale, hollow cheek, told plainly that pulmonary disease was doing its worst on her delicate frame. The family physician was consulted, and although he would not admit to the young lady that she really had the Consumption, yet he would give no encouragement as to a cure. At this crisis her mother was persuaded to make use of a bottle of Dr. Rogers' Compound Syrup of Liverwort and Tar, and we are happy to state she was perfectly cured in less than three months by this medicine alone, after even hope was destroyed. It is useless to comment on such a case as this, for the simple truth will reach where polished fiction never can. If any doubt the authenticity of this statement, let them call at this Office.—U. S. Military and Naval Argus.
TESTIMONY OF THE PRESS.
From the N. Y. Courier, Aug 13.
DR. ROGERS' SYRUP OF LIVERWORT AND TAR.—We have heard of several important cures recently effected by this excellent medicinal preparation, and in one instance that came under our observation, we can speak confidently. One of our employees who had suffered severely from a long standing cold, during the past week commenced the use of this medicine, and his Cold has entirely disappeared.
From the N. Y. Mirror, Sept. 2.
LIVERWORT AND TAR.—Of the virtues of Dr. Rogers' Cough Medicines prepared from the above articles, it is needless now to speak; its efficacy in speedily curing Coughs, Colds and other lung complaints, which too frequently, if neglected, result in Consumption, is too well established in public confidence to need eulogy now.
From the N. Y. Despatch, Aug 25.
WE have heretofore taken occasion to give our testimony in favor of the curative properties of Dr. Rogers' Compound Syrup of Liverwort and Tar, and would here repeat the advice already given, for all persons who are afflicted with Consumption, or any of the premonitory symptoms, to make a trial of Dr. Rogers preparation.

Land for Sale!
THE Subscriber wishing to change his business offers his land for sale situated in Edgefield District, six miles below Liberty Hill. The Land is in two tracts—one containing eight hundred acres, the other four hundred and fifty acres.
I will sell said lands separately or together as may best suit the purchaser. The above places are well improved and will well reward the cultivator if judiciously tilled.
The Terms will be made easy to a punctual purchaser. I also have some LIKELY YOUNG NEGROES for sale. Among the number is a first rate House Carpenter. Any person wishing to purchase can procure a great bargain by applying to the subscriber on the premises.
JOHN TOMPKINS.
