MESSES. EDITORS: In accordance with my promise in my article on guano, I propose giving you my views on the culture of fulls of saleratus, four ounces of butter, cotton. The cotton plant is not easily suited in and corn meal sufficient to make a stiff bat-soft and climate, and it seldom happens that ter.-Exchange. they are so-combined as to perfect the plant. The best cotton lands are of a deep, rich, soft mould, a medium between the spongy and sandy. The most important part of the eultivation consist in a judicious and proper terially. Green and fermentable food propreparation of the soil for planting. All duces flatulency, and this mixture affords a sotton lands should be broken up deep and remedy. break it up deep, at least one foot. About the 25th of March I prepare for planting. I lay off my rows from 32 to 36 inches wide. Cotton should be so planted, that when it arrives at maturity the branches will slight interlock on every side. I lay off these rows as deep as I can with a shovel or scooter from two to three inches broad, the plough is one half inch broader at the point. then drill my manure as regular as possible. I follow with a turning plough, laying on two furrows, raising the bed as high as possible; I then break out the middles. If the land is low, I draw up the bed with hoes : with a small, narrow plough I lay open the bed, making a furrow of uniform size and depth. A careful hand follows, strewing the seed evenly in the furrow, always using enough to secure a good stand, about three bushels per acre. I cover with a boad of hard wood, an inch or inch and a half thick, seven or eight inches broad, and a foot in length, slightly notched in the centre. This board is screwed on the plough foot, and when drawn over the row covers the seed nicely. If the ground is well broken up

As soon as the cotton is up, I commence thinning out, leaving bunches from 8 to 12 inches apart, passing along rapidly with hoes. I follow with a small shovel, running close to the cotton, ploughing very deep and throwing up a little light soil to the roots of the cotton. This ploughing, too should be close and deep, so that the roots may easily penetrate the soil, as they strike deep into the earth. If the ground is very rough the ploughs should precede the hoes.

and the seed well planted, half the labor is

In the second working, which should follow as soon as possible, the ploughs go before the hoes. This ploughing also should be deep and close. I now bring my cotton to a stand. This should be carefully done and the hoes attentively watched, as a stand is often ruined by this working. Sore shin, rust, &., are often chargeable to the way in which this working is done. I now leave one stalk in every bunch heretofore left, making my cotton stand from 8 to 12 inches apart? I throw a little dirt to the stalks of cotton, and leave the crop clean, free of grass and weeds. The cotton will then grow off finely, and not suffer for work for twenty or twenty-five days. Every subsequent ploughing should be shallow and not close, sufficient, however, to cover all the small grass that may have sprung up since the last ploughing. The hoes should also pass over the crop, killing such grass and weeds as the ploughs cannot reach. It is difficult to say how often the crop should be ploughed, as that will depend a good deal upon the season. My rule is to keep the crop clean of grass and weeds, and to keep the earth well stirred up untill the branches interlock, or the cotton commences to open. The two first ploughings should be deep and close, the subsequent one shallow. I use the sweep, bow, twister, side plough, scraper and the old fashioned shovel, in my crop. The selection of seed is also a matter of great importance. But I must close, for fear I tire you.

How to BE A GOOD FARMER.—Here is the secret of good farming. You cannot take from the land more than you restore to it, in some shape or other, without ruining it, and so destroying your capital. Different soils may require different modes of treatment and cropping, but in every variety of soil these are the golden rules to be ob-served: Drain until until you find that the water that falls from Heaven does not stagnate on the soil, but runs through it and off it freely. Turn up and till the land until your foot sinks into a loose powdery loam, through which the air and heat will readily penetrate. Let no weed occupy the place where a useful plant could possibly grow. Collect every particle of manure that can be obtained, whether liquid or solid. Let nothing on the farm go to waste. Put in your crops in that course which experience has shown to lead to success in their growth. and to an enrichment and not an impoverishment of the land. Give every plant room to spread its roots in the soil, and leaves in the air. And, in all your operations, endeavor to be a little ahead of your neigh-

FARM ACCOUNTS .- No person can become a thoroughly skillful and successful farmer, who does not keep accurate accounts of all his farming operations, that he may know precisely the amount of profit or loss on each of his experiments, and consequently which to adopt in his future movements. It is true, he may by shrewd guessing and a keen memory, form some estimate of the most profitable crops; but to comprehend accurately at a glance, the precise amount of expenditure through all the multifarious operations of a whole season, for even a single crop, would be almost as difficult as to undertake to decide, by means of the memory solely, the profits of a bank or railroad, and to divide the proceeds by guessing among the stockholders.

DOWNING'S CEMENT, made by dissolving shellac in alcohol, has never been surpassed as a shield for covering the wounds made by pruning trees. All wounds upon trees should be covered with this composition.

HOME-MADE VINEGAR .- Mix with three gallons of soft (rain) water, and one quart of molasses and one pint of yeast. It will ferment and turn to vinegar in four weeks. To CURE WARTS .- Bind a leaf of house-leek, from which you have removed the skin, upon a wart a few nights in succession, and then see where your wart is.

To MEND IRON POTS .- Mix finely sifted lime with some white of eggs till a thin kind of paste is formed; then add some iron filings. Apply this to the fracture, and the vessel will be found to be nearly as sound

FALL TRADE, FOR 1853!

THE UNDERSIGNED having given a further trial to the CASH SYSTEM during the past season, have become still more convinced that it is the only true system of doing a GROCERY BUSINESS on terms advantageous to both seller and buyer, being the cheapest, safest and surest for both. While the seller is benefitted by getting the CASH PAID DOWN for his Goods, enabling him to turn his money over many times in the year, the buyer has the advantage of getting his Goods

Ten or Fifteen per Cent Cheaper

I nan they can be obtained from those who sell on credit; they being compelled to sell at this difference of per centage to cover bad debts and pay the additional expense of keeping and collecting long accounts. It only requires a little reflection, aided by a slight examination, to convince those who visit Hamburg for the purpose of purchasing SUPPLIES, that the Merchant who deals exclusively on the Cash System in purchasing his Stock, lays it in cheaper than those who lay in large Stocks on credit, with a view to selling them out in the same way below to the same way below to sell at this ment of PAINTS and OILS of all kinds, Window Glass and Sashes, Spis. Turpentine, Camphene, Spirit Gas, Tallow, Grindstones, Cordage, in large Stocks on credit, with a view to selling them out in the same way, being enabled to turn his capital over only once a year, must of course get larger profits to sustain his business, than him who on the Cash system, buys moderate Stocks, SELLS QUICK and TURNS OVER his capital every thirty to sixty days. The intelligent planter will perceive that the CASH SYSTEM Merchant will have made more money at the end of the year, by making five per cent profit, than the credit system man will at twenty-five, and that those who buy Goods had better borrow the money at home, and allow even fifteen or twenty per cent inferest, and pay CASH for his supplies, than to purchase on time even from the best CREDIT HOUSES. The Undersigned having made ample arrangements to keep on hand a LARGER STOCK, and much better assortment of ALL KINDS OF GROCERIES Than they did the past season, only ask of their friends and others visiting this market, to give them a call, where they will find, in addition to FINE FAMILY GROCERIES, a large supply of nearly all the staple Goods usually used in the country, such as Saddlery, Hats, Shoes, Calicoes, Shirtings, Sheetings, Blankets, FLANNELS, &c., &c.

THE MARRIAGE STATE; Shall Happiness and Health, or Misery and Sickness, attend it f MOST STARTLING CONSIDERATIONS!

Reflections for the Thoughtful.

Strange that countless human beings exist and drag through life as do the beasts of the field, or the insects of the earth, ovincing no more thought or reflection than though the noble faculties of mind were not vouchsafed to them.

Many such are husbands and fathers, upon whom are dependent the health, the well-being, and 'he happiness of a confiding and affectionate wife, with perhaps a family of children.

HOW OFTEN IT HAPPENS THAT THE WIFE LINGERS FROM YEAR TO YEAR In that pitiable condition as not even for one day to feel the happy and exhilerating influence incident to the enjoyment of health.

She may not be an invalid confined to her bed, She may not be an invalid confined to her bed, or oven to her room; as her pride, ambition and energy induce and nerve her to take personal charge of her household, even when her health will not admit of it; but she is nevertheless perceptibly sinking from day to day, and always ailing.

Thus, day after day, and always ailing.

Her health daily sinks, till finally even the hope of recovery no longer remains. And thus

THE BLOOMING BRIDE, But a few years ago in the flush of health and youth, and buoyancy of spirits, rapidly, and appa-rently inexplicably, becomes a feeble, sickly, do-bilitated wife, with frame emaciated, nerves un-strung, spirits depressed, countonance bearing the impress of suffering, and an utter physical and mental prestration.

impress of suffering, and an utter physical and mental prostration.

Sometimes this deplorable change may and does arise from organic or constitutional causes. But oftener, by far oftener, to gross and inexcusable ignorance of the simplest and plainest rules of health as connected with the marriage state, the violation of which entails disease, suffering and misery, not only to the wife, but often

And must this continue? Shall we be wise in all that concerns the cattle of our fields, our horses, our sheep, our cows, our oxen, the nature and character of the soil we possess, the texture and quality of our goods and merchandise; but in all that concerns ourselves as human beings, with human functions and passions, subject to great derangement, involving our future peace and happinessin all that concerns the health and welfare of the wife of our affections, and the mother of our children; in all that concerns the mental and physical well being of those children, we should be immersed in the darkest and most from the Parents.

BENIGHTED IGNORANCE, AS CULPABLE AS INEXCUSABLE! How long shall this ignorance prevail so productive of its bitter fruits? How long shall the wif tive of its bitter fruits? How long shall the wife and mother be ignorant of the nature, character and causes of the various womb and sexual complaints, embittering her dr.ys by suffering—suffering often prolonged to years, eventuating in a complication of diseases utterly and hopelessly incurable? Shall we for over close our eyes to the results of physiological science by which we may arrive at an understanding of ourselves as men and women, subject to serious life-long enduring diseases, and perpetuating them to our children.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER. No husband or wife need be ignorant of what concerns them most to know to secure their health and happiness. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled Sudden, Jan. 25th, 1851.

Dr. Ayer: In the month of July last I was attack ed by a violent diarrhea in the mines of California. I returned to San Francisco in hope of receiving benefit from a change of climate and diet. My diarrhea ceased, but was followed by a severe cough—and much soreness. I finally started for home, but received no benefit from the voyage. My cough continued to grow worse, and when I arrived in New York, I was at once marked by my acquaintances as a victim of consumption. I must confess that I saw no sufficient reason to doubt what my friends all believed. At this time I commenced taking your truly invaluable medicine with little expectation of deriving any benefit from its use. Dear sir: Feeling that I have been spared from a premature grave, through your instrumentality by the providence of God, I will take the liberty to express to you my gratitude.

A Cough and the alarming symptoms of Consumption had reduced me too low to leave me anything like hope, when my physician brought me a bottle of your "Pectoral." It seemed to afford immediate relief, and now in a few weeks time has restored me to sound health. The Rest Female Medicine kingwas.

The Best Female Medicine known. The Best Female Medicine known.

The peculiar maladies to which females are subject, commonly produce great bodily exhaustlen, accompanied by a depressed and often gloomy state of mind. As the system declines in strength, there is a loss of nervous power, and this very maturally impairs the energy of the mind and disturbs the equanimity of the temper. Every candid woman who has suffered from female complaints, will admit this to be the mournful truth. Now, to obtain relief, it is only necessary to stop the tend-ney to depletion and debility. This is done by renewing that fountain of health and strength, the BLOOD, and no incidient accomplishes this sesirable result so speedily and complete as "Dr. Guysott's Improved Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla."

Ladies of pale complexion and consumptive habita, and such as are debilitated by those obstructions which females are liable to, are restored, by the use of a bottle or two, to bloom and to vigor.

Upon the recommendation of Dr. Cockes, one of our Physicians, who had seen the medleine used with happy effect, I obtained of your Agents here, one bottle of "Dr. Guysoft's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparrilla," and as my sette found retief from the shottle, I hought some six bottles, which she has taken with the most astonishing benefit, for I am pleased to say it has entirely cured her, for ahe has entirely recovered from her illness, and the Scrofula and Cancer are cured sound and well.

Accept my gratitude.

Yellow Dock Sarsaparilla gives great satisfaction in every case.

A very respectable gentleman informed me that his daughter was iroubled with difficult menstruation and diseases peculiar to her sex. She had not had her regular menaitual discharge for a long time; but by the use of Dr. Guysoti's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla was radically cured. She used Townsend's and others without receiving the slightest benefit. He had one daughter to die from the same cause.
