

Farmers Department.

Messrs. Colter & Scooter, Editors.

The "Soil of the South." By the last (January) number of this Journal, we observe that the editorial department has been much strengthened by an additional chair for Mr. Wm. H. Chambers.

The Working Farmer. This is a New York agricultural monthly, edited by Professor J. J. Mapes of Newark N. J., at the usual rates, one dollar in advance.

Although we believe this to be a good paper of the kind, neither our politics or local prejudices, will permit us to recommend it very cordially to the patronage of our readers.

Wanted to know. 1. The best Plow to be used in breaking up clay lands, and the reasons of its superiority.

Whether it is better to burn off new ground late and plant immediately without further preparation; or whether it may not be better to burn off early and break up well.

Whether or old fashioned strait shovel plow is not equal for most purposes to any other plow yet invented.

Save Your Bacon. In order to preserve bacon from the fly, bugs and skippers, we furnish the following recipe:

well coated with a paste made of three parts of dry slaked lime to one part of common black pepper, mixed with a quantity of molasses sufficient to form a good, stiff paste.

Agriculture and the Ladies. We like to see ladies skilled in all the business of the vegetable garden.

Remarks. We are under many obligations to friend "Bad Luck" for the benefit of his experience.

Manures. Messrs. Editors:—I congratulate your readers on the Agricultural arrangement of your paper and have but few remarks to make.

Now, the same negro will produce "in liquid and solid excrements on an average 1 1/2 lb. daily (5-4 lb. of urine and 1/2 lb. feces).

Work for January. We take from the "Soil of the South" the following hints to farmers upon the matters demanding their attention at this season:

Notice. I thus give to all persons indebted to Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, dec'd., to make immediate payment, and all persons indebted to the said Estate, will render them in forthwith, properly attested.

FOR THE ADVERTISER. Mr. Editor:—I am glad to see that you have added to your invaluable paper the Farmer's Department, and if it will only hold out as it has begun, I shall look with more than ordinary anxiety for the weekly visits of the Edgefield Advertiser.

Early in the last spring I laid out my melon-beds ten feet each way. Every hill was prepared in the following manner. After digging out holes eighteen inches deep and about eighteen inches wide, the bottom was covered with stable manure about three inches thick.

Remarks. We are under many obligations to friend "Bad Luck" for the benefit of his experience. We hope that others will follow his example and let us hear from their unsuccessful operations.
