

Arrival of the Steamer Asia. THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALF-PAY, June 20. The Cunard steamer Asia, which has this morning, with Liverpool dates to the 9th June. The news by this arrival is again highly exciting. The bombardment of Sebastopol was recommenced on the 6th. The greatest gallantry was displayed on both sides, and the losses sustained by both the Russians and French were very great, but no figures are given. This event caused a great buoyancy in public feeling in England, and caused a slight rise in consols. With the exception of the above, there is no other news of special importance. On the day the steamer sailed, a despatch was received from Lord Raglan, dated the day previous, June 18th, at 6 o'clock p. m., announcing that, after a fierce bombardment, the French attacked and carried the famous Mamelon and White Tower batteries!

The buoyant feeling in the cotton market at the departure of the St. Louis subsequently gave way, and prices underwent a partial decline, which however was afterwards recovered, and the market closed steady, at about previous quotations. The business of the week embraced about 107,000 bales, mostly taken on speculation.

There was no change in breadstuffs of moment, except in corn, which has advanced 1/4 since the departure of the Atlantic. Provisions were generally firm, and in some cases there has been an advance.

LONDON MONEY MARKET. The market is still steady. There has been another great increase in bullion in the Bank of England. Consols closed at 92.

Peace negotiations are not likely to be resumed unless Russia requests it. Austria considers herself released from all engagements with the Western powers, but still proposes an alliance with France and England. The Russian Plenipotentiaries were still considering the proposition of Austria, the ambassadors of the allies had left Vienna.

The allies had not advanced beyond the Tchernaya.

GOV. READER AND KANSAS SPECULATION. The Washington Union of the 18th inst., occupies several columns with a very piquant and interesting correspondence between Mr. Reader, and Commissioner Manypenny, Mr. Clark, Indian Agent, Secretary Mary, &c., in which there is considerable sharp shooting, and a very decided indication that the official days of Gov. Reader, Judges Johnston and Elmore, and Attorney General Isaacs, of Kansas, are numbered.

Improper speculation in Indian reserve lands by these high officials, is the grievance of their office as charged. We can see no prospect of their relieving themselves, even on the statement of Gov. Reader, from public rebuke and political condemnation.

The Charleston Standard of yesterday, contains a letter from a Washington correspondent, in which we make the following extract on this subject:

WASHINGTON, June 19th, 1855. A few days since I gave you the result of a consultation held at the President's House, in relation to Governor Reader and his speculations in Indian lands. I then stated that it had been determined by the President, that Governor Reader should not return to Kansas, and that his associates in land speculation should be removed from office.

A Distinguished Visitor.—Edmund Lafayette, grand old man of the Republic, was distinguished as the brave and generous champion of American Independence has been spending a few days in Delaware with the Du Ponts, who were the early friends of the General.—The Wilmington Journal says:

In company with a few friends, he has visited all the places of interest in the vicinity, one of which is the scene of the battle of the Clouds, in which his ancestor first shed his blood in our cause. The very spot upon which the General was standing when he was wounded, was pointed out by some of the old residents.

Mr. Lafayette is about 28 years of age, of fine countenance and engaging manners. He bears some resemblance to his grandfather, though not so much handsome man.

NOT MUCH LIKE FAMINE.—The receipts of breadstuffs at the upper lake ports are tremendous, and in the face of the immense receipts of corn, and the export demand but nominal, with a limited distilling business, the present prices of this description of grain cannot be maintained. 103,436 bushels were received at ports on the Upper Lakes in one day. At Buffalo and Oswego the receipts reported on Monday reached 7,824 bushels flour, 82,897 bushels of wheat, 180,227 bushels corn, and 193,275 bushels oats.

THE NEBRASKA KANSAS BILL.—The New York Journal of Commerce estimates that 100 members are already elected to Congress (or to be elected from the South) opposed to the repeal of the Nebraska bill, and but 18 more are needed to make a majority against touching it. We quote:

"It is not impossible, nor very improbable, that this number will be found, (among the 134 members not included in the above calculation,) will oppose repeal, although some of them voted against the bill on its passage. In other words, it is by no means certain that a bill to repeal the Nebraska law can pass the house. But if it should, it will be defeated by a large majority in the Senate. And before a new Congress is elected, Nebraska will probably be knocking for admission into the Union as a State."

COMPLIMENTARY.—In the brilliant debate that took place in the recent General Assembly, between the intellectual giants of the Church, on the subject of extra-church organizations, Dr. Thornwell, of South Carolina, being named by Dr. Boardman, in reference to the political history of South Carolina, replied:

"He could not conclude these remarks without an allusion to what he considered the highest compliment ever paid him, when his brother said he occupied the same position in the Church that was occupied by a distinguished politician of his State, (South Carolina). He believed that ever was a man upon whom every god had set his seal to give the world assurance of a man, that man was John C. Calhoun."

A NOBLE EXAMPLE.—The Presbyterian Church of Marietta, after raising a considerable amount of money for building their new and commodious brick church, found a debt of about $3,500 remaining. At a recent meeting, we understand that members agreed that an assessment should be made upon them in proportion to their property, referring to the tax-book if necessary, and that they would then pay off the church debt. We do not remember having ever before known this principle of contributing according to means, and ability adopted, and carried out by any body of Christians or others.

It is the correct principle, and the church thus acting has set an example worthy to be followed in other parts of our land, and by all denominations.—Atlanta Intelligencer.

SOUTHERN COLLEGES.—There are one hundred and thirty-four students in Howard College, Marion, Alabama.

There are one hundred and twelve students in the University of Alabama.

In Europe, people take off their hats to great men; in America, great men take off their hats to the people.

ADDRESS To all and every Agricultural Society, Farmer and Planter in the State of South Carolina.

BROTHERS OF A COMMON CALLING: We, the Greenwood Agricultural Society, do now earnestly and respectfully call your thoughtful attention to the subject of an Agricultural Convention, to meet in Columbia on the second Wednesday of August of this year, for the purpose of founding a State Agricultural Society, on a liberal utilitarian and comprehensive scale, to meet the wants and interests of agriculture in all its details. We think the time is past to use any argument for the improvement of our business and the amelioration of the soil. To look sturdily and knowingly at our present condition, should convince the most sceptical, and remove all fears and prejudices from the minds of all who dread innovations. There is a fearful magnitude in the destructive tendencies of our present system, that requires to be met and stayed. Under this conclusion, the Greenwood Agricultural Society do most earnestly call upon every agricultural society, farmer and planter, and all other professions, arts and trades, by their delegates, to meet us in Columbia, on the day previously specified, to there work out the basis of a future improvement of this great interest of the State, and the permanency of society.

We most respectfully ask of every newspaper in the State, that feels an interest in the social condition of our people and their well being, so deeply connected with the agricultural improvement of the State, to copy this short and to the point, and to send it to the hands of the many-tongued presses of the State. By order of the Greenwood Agricultural Society.

JOHN P. BARRATT, JAMES GILLAM, THOMAS B. BYRD, Committee.

ABBEVILLE, June 17, 1855. Committee.

A MODEL DUE.—An Editor "out west" thus thanks the Edgewood subscribers and patrons. If his appeal does not bring the "pewee," we think he need never try again:

"Friends, Readers, Subscribers and Advertisers. Hear us for our debts, and get ready that you may pay; trust us, we are in need, and, have regard for your need, for you have been long trusted; acknowledge your indebtedness, and we will not speak to you again, but you may promptly work over. If there be among you, one single patron that don't say us something, then to him we say—step aside; consider yourself a gentleman. If the rest wish to know why we dun them, this is our answer! Not that we care about cash ourselves, but our creditors do. Would you rather that we go to jail, and you go free, than you pay your debts, and we all keep moving? As we would, we have worked for you; as we contracted, we have furnished our paper to you; as we promised, we have waited upon you; but as you don't pay, we dun you! Here are agreements for job work; contracts for subscription; promises for long credits; and dues for deferred payment. Who is there so mean he don't take a paper? If any, he needn't speak—we don't mean him. Who is there so green that he don't advertise? If any, let him slide—he ain't the chap either! Who is there so bad that he don't pay the printer? If any, let him shout—for he's the man we're after. His name is Legion, and he's been owing us for one, two, three, four, five, six, seven and eight years—long enough to make us poor. If the same appeal to his conscience doesn't work, we'll appeal to his conscience doesn't wake him to a sense of justice, we shall have to try the law and see what virtue there is in writs and constables."

The movement in land warrants is increasing, this being a busy time in making locations on the new lands. A few days ago, a report was given, owing to the recent large issues by the government. Thompson's New York Reporter says the buying price in the street is $1.07, and selling at $1.10 per acre. The new warrants are 80, 120 and 160, acres.

THE CANAL RIOTS IN INDIANA.—Further outrages.—We have already briefly noticed, says the Baltimore Sun, the outrages of a mob in Clay and Vigo counties, Ind., in cutting away the canal in these counties. They have since committed various other outrages, and threatened the lives of the officers, they undertook to resist the damage done. A few days ago Gov. Wright issued his proclamation warning the mob of the consequences, as he should enforce obedience if he had to order out the whole militia of the State. This but exasperated them, and they have since driven off all the workmen, destroyed several locks; threatened to lynch every living man in the vicinity who opposed them, and have offered a reward for the Governor's head. The origin of all these outrages, is not clearly stated.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.—Edmund Lafayette, grand old man of the Republic, was distinguished as the brave and generous champion of American Independence has been spending a few days in Delaware with the Du Ponts, who were the early friends of the General.—The Wilmington Journal says:

In company with a few friends, he has visited all the places of interest in the vicinity, one of which is the scene of the battle of the Clouds, in which his ancestor first shed his blood in our cause. The very spot upon which the General was standing when he was wounded, was pointed out by some of the old residents.

Mr. Lafayette is about 28 years of age, of fine countenance and engaging manners. He bears some resemblance to his grandfather, though not so much handsome man.

NOT MUCH LIKE FAMINE.—The receipts of breadstuffs at the upper lake ports are tremendous, and in the face of the immense receipts of corn, and the export demand but nominal, with a limited distilling business, the present prices of this description of grain cannot be maintained. 103,436 bushels were received at ports on the Upper Lakes in one day. At Buffalo and Oswego the receipts reported on Monday reached 7,824 bushels flour, 82,897 bushels of wheat, 180,227 bushels corn, and 193,275 bushels oats.

THE NEBRASKA KANSAS BILL.—The New York Journal of Commerce estimates that 100 members are already elected to Congress (or to be elected from the South) opposed to the repeal of the Nebraska bill, and but 18 more are needed to make a majority against touching it. We quote:

"It is not impossible, nor very improbable, that this number will be found, (among the 134 members not included in the above calculation,) will oppose repeal, although some of them voted against the bill on its passage. In other words, it is by no means certain that a bill to repeal the Nebraska law can pass the house. But if it should, it will be defeated by a large majority in the Senate. And before a new Congress is elected, Nebraska will probably be knocking for admission into the Union as a State."

COMPLIMENTARY.—In the brilliant debate that took place in the recent General Assembly, between the intellectual giants of the Church, on the subject of extra-church organizations, Dr. Thornwell, of South Carolina, being named by Dr. Boardman, in reference to the political history of South Carolina, replied:

"He could not conclude these remarks without an allusion to what he considered the highest compliment ever paid him, when his brother said he occupied the same position in the Church that was occupied by a distinguished politician of his State, (South Carolina). He believed that ever was a man upon whom every god had set his seal to give the world assurance of a man, that man was John C. Calhoun."

A NOBLE EXAMPLE.—The Presbyterian Church of Marietta, after raising a considerable amount of money for building their new and commodious brick church, found a debt of about $3,500 remaining. At a recent meeting, we understand that members agreed that an assessment should be made upon them in proportion to their property, referring to the tax-book if necessary, and that they would then pay off the church debt. We do not remember having ever before known this principle of contributing according to means, and ability adopted, and carried out by any body of Christians or others.

It is the correct principle, and the church thus acting has set an example worthy to be followed in other parts of our land, and by all denominations.—Atlanta Intelligencer.

SOUTHERN COLLEGES.—There are one hundred and thirty-four students in Howard College, Marion, Alabama.

There are one hundred and twelve students in the University of Alabama.

In Europe, people take off their hats to great men; in America, great men take off their hats to the people.

OBITUARY. For the Advertiser.

MR. EDITOR:—It becomes our painful duty, as a friend, to record the death of OWEN CLARY, second son of Col. M. W. and Dempsy Clary. He departed this life on the 7th inst., at his father's residence, Edgewood District, in the 19th year of his age. While in a state of health, and enjoying the bright prospect of a long and useful life, he fell a victim to that awful disease (Dysentery), which so long baffled the skill of the Medical Faculty, and in a few days was taken from time to eternity. We seldom notice the death of a young man of such an exemplary character. He was a dutiful and obedient son, a kind and affectionate brother, and was never known to utter a profane word in his life. The awful solemnity that pervaded the assembly of friends and relatives who accompanied his remains to their resting place, and the many tears that were shed over his tomb, clearly evinced their love, and showed to plain their loss was irreparable. Could the sighs and groans, and prayers and tears of an affectionate father and a loving mother have raised him, or the kind and encouraging attention of Friends and relatives have lengthened his life, he would have been the universal esteem of both children and parents. His rare talent, unobscured application, and the diffusion of knowledge, which naturally flow from so pure a fountain, makes his loss irreparable. In his death the school has lost one of its brightest ornaments. Edgewood and the whole country mourn. We deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Death is the common lot of all,
Both young and old must die;
And, like the leaves of autumn, fall,
And there forgotten lie.

HIS TEACHER.

DIED, at her residence in Edgewood District, on the morning of the 13th inst., of dysentery, Mrs. NANCY WATKINS, in the 84th year of her age. The subject of this notice attached herself to the Republican Church some forty-five years ago, and notwithstanding the affliction which was her lot to suffer during the latter part of her life, she manifested a meekness and resignation worthy of the dearest admiration. She has left behind sons and daughters, with numerous relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. But those who mourn, should not mourn in vain, as their loss is her eternal gain. While we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family, and trust their loss is eternal gain. Let us submit to the will of Him who has power to give life, and power to take it away, knowing that:

Edgewood Flying Artillery, ATTENTION!

YOU are hereby summoned to be and appear at your parade ground (Edgewood C. H.) for Drill and Instruction, on Saturday the 20th inst. Business of importance will also be brought before the Company, and it is earnestly requested that every member, together with as many as are desirous of joining the Company, be in prompt attendance. W. C. MORAGNE, Capt. E. H. COVARR, Clerk. June 27 3m

Edgewood & Aiken Rail Road. NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made at the next Session of our Legislature for a Charter incorporating a Company to build a Rail Road from Aiken to Edgewood C. H. June 27 3m

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, EDGEEFIELD DISTRICT, IN COMMON PLEAS.

HENRY H. MAYSON, who is in the custody of the Sheriff of Edgewood District, by virtue of a Writ of Capias ad Satisfaciendum, at the suit of R. L. WASH, Plaintiff, vs. my Office, together with a Schedule on oath of his estate and effects, his petition to the Court of Common Pleas, praying that he may be admitted to the benefit of the Acts of the General Assembly, made for the relief of insolvent debtors. It is ordered, that the said Henry H. Mayson, is in anywise indebted, and they are hereby summoned and have notice to appear before the said Court at Edgewood C. H., on the first Monday in October next, or on some other convenient day to be set apart and appointed during the sitting of the said Court, to show cause, if any they can, why the prayer of the petitioner aforesaid should not be granted. THOS. G. BACON, c. c. e. p. Clerk's Office, June 23, 1855. 15t 3d

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, EDGEEFIELD DISTRICT, IN COMMON PLEAS.

JOHN H. TERRY, who is now in the custody of the Sheriff of Edgewood District, by virtue of a Writ of Capias ad Satisfaciendum, at the suit of R. M. FULLER, Plaintiff, vs. my Office, together with a Schedule on oath of his estate and effects, his petition to the Court of Common Pleas, praying that he may be admitted to the benefit of the Acts of the General Assembly, made for the relief of insolvent debtors. It is ordered, that the said John H. Terry, is in anywise indebted, and they are hereby summoned and have notice to appear before the said Court at Edgewood C. H., on the first Monday in October next, or on some other convenient day to be set apart and appointed during the sitting of the said Court, to show cause, if any they can, why the prayer of the petitioner aforesaid should not be granted. THOS. G. BACON, c. c. e. p. Clerk's Office, June 23, 1855. 15t 3d

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, EDGEEFIELD DISTRICT, IN COMMON PLEAS.

JOHN H. TERRY, who is now in the custody of the Sheriff of Edgewood District, by virtue of a Writ of Capias ad Satisfaciendum, at the suit of R. M. FULLER, Plaintiff, vs. my Office, together with a Schedule on oath of his estate and effects, his petition to the Court of Common Pleas, praying that he may be admitted to the benefit of the Acts of the General Assembly, made for the relief of insolvent debtors. It is ordered, that the said John H. Terry, is in anywise indebted, and they are hereby summoned and have notice to appear before the said Court at Edgewood C. H., on the first Monday in October next, or on some other convenient day to be set apart and appointed during the sitting of the said Court, to show cause, if any they can, why the prayer of the petitioner aforesaid should not be granted. THOS. G. BACON, c. c. e. p. Clerk's Office, June 23, 1855. 15t 3d

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, EDGEEFIELD DISTRICT, IN COMMON PLEAS.

ABSALOM T. HODGES, who is now in the custody of the Sheriff of Edgewood District, by virtue of a Writ of Capias ad Satisfaciendum, at the suit of JOHN COLGAN, Plaintiff, vs. my Office, together with a Schedule on oath of his estate and effects, his petition to the Court of Common Pleas, praying that he may be admitted to the benefit of the Acts of the General Assembly, made for the relief of insolvent debtors. It is ordered, that the said Absalom T. Hodges, is in anywise indebted, and they are hereby summoned and have notice to appear before the said Court at Edgewood C. H., on the first Monday in October next, or on some other convenient day to be set apart and appointed during the sitting of the said Court, to show cause, if any they can, why the prayer of the petitioner aforesaid should not be granted. THOS. G. BACON, c. c. e. p. Clerk's Office, June 18, 1855. 16t 2d

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, EDGEEFIELD DISTRICT, IN COMMON PLEAS.

ABSALOM T. HODGES, who is now in the custody of the Sheriff of Edgewood District, by virtue of a Writ of Capias ad Satisfaciendum, at the suit of JOHN COLGAN, Plaintiff, vs. my Office, together with a Schedule on oath of his estate and effects, his petition to the Court of Common Pleas, praying that he may be admitted to the benefit of the Acts of the General Assembly, made for the relief of insolvent debtors. It is ordered, that the said Absalom T. Hodges, is in anywise indebted, and they are hereby summoned and have notice to appear before the said Court at Edgewood C. H., on the first Monday in October next, or on some other convenient day to be set apart and appointed during the sitting of the said Court, to show cause, if any they can, why the prayer of the petitioner aforesaid should not be granted. THOS. G. BACON, c. c. e. p. Clerk's Office, June 18, 1855. 16t 2d

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, EDGEEFIELD DISTRICT, IN COMMON PLEAS.

ABSALOM T. HODGES, who is now in the custody of the Sheriff of Edgewood District, by virtue of a Writ of Capias ad Satisfaciendum, at the suit of JOHN COLGAN, Plaintiff, vs. my Office, together with a Schedule on oath of his estate and effects, his petition to the Court of Common Pleas, praying that he may be admitted to the benefit of the Acts of the General Assembly, made for the relief of insolvent debtors. It is ordered, that the said Absalom T. Hodges, is in anywise indebted, and they are hereby summoned and have notice to appear before the said Court at Edgewood C. H., on the first Monday in October next, or on some other convenient day to be set apart and appointed during the sitting of the said Court, to show cause, if any they can, why the prayer of the petitioner aforesaid should not be granted. THOS. G. BACON, c. c. e. p. Clerk's Office, June 18, 1855. 16t 2d

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, EDGEEFIELD DISTRICT, IN COMMON PLEAS.

ABSALOM T. HODGES, who is now in the custody of the Sheriff of Edgewood District, by virtue of a Writ of Capias ad Satisfaciendum, at the suit of JOHN COLGAN, Plaintiff, vs. my Office, together with a Schedule on oath of his estate and effects, his petition to the Court of Common Pleas, praying that he may be admitted to the benefit of the Acts of the General Assembly, made for the relief of insolvent debtors. It is ordered, that the said Absalom T. Hodges, is in anywise indebted, and they are hereby summoned and have notice to appear before the said Court at Edgewood C. H., on the first Monday in October next, or on some other convenient day to be set apart and appointed during the sitting of the said Court, to show cause, if any they can, why the prayer of the petitioner aforesaid should not be granted. THOS. G. BACON, c. c. e. p. Clerk's Office, June 18, 1855. 16t 2d