

Farmer's Department.

Messrs. Colter & Scooter, Editors.

Let idle ambition her banishes pursue, While Wisdom looks down with disdain, The home of the farmer has charms ever new, Where health, peace and competence reign.

It will be seen by close observers that a considerable mistake was made, in the figures representing the crop made by LIBERTY HILL.

EVERY MAN FOR HIMSELF. This is one of the extraordinary springs and as every man's crop is in a different fix, owing to difference of locations and different soils, every man must farm on his own judgment, according to circumstances, and so we advise one and all to "push along keep moving" every man for himself, and corn, cotton, and grass, all together, for us all.

THE WHEAT CROPS. Notwithstanding the severity of the winter, by which many of the crops of wheat were seriously injured, the warm weather for two weeks past, has made the crop look quite cheering, and the prospect for a fair yield, (provided the rust does not injure it) is quite flattering.

TRAFFICKING WITH SLAVES. This is a subject in which every farmer is deeply interested. Although the law has placed a penalty upon the perpetrators of this nefarious crime, it is obvious that the penalty is not sufficient to secure farmers from many great injuries.

THE PAPER PLANT IN WISCONSIN. Under this head (says the Boston Post) we have before us a description of a plant discovered in this country by Mrs. A. L. Beaumont, of Arena.

REMEDY FOR INDIGESTION. A friend has handed to us for publication, the annexed remedy for indigestion, a complaint which is so generally prevalent in this country.

FOR THE LADIES! WE have on hand a great variety of Colognes, Handkerchief Extracts, Toilet Powders and an assortment of Fancy and Toilet Soaps; Pomades, Pure Bears Oil, Hair Tonics, Restoratives and Hair Dye; Preston Sals and Aromatic Vinegar; Cream of Beauty, Curative Rouge, Hair Depilatory, &c., to all of which the attention of the Ladies is respectfully invited. For sale by A. G. & T. J. TEAGUE, Druggists, August 23, 1855.

THE ARTESIAN WELL. Major Wellton, the gentleman under whose direction the Artesian Well has progressed to its present condition, is now superintending the work upon another well of 12 inch bore, within a few feet of the first one, and has already reached the depth of 134 feet.

PAINTING FARM IMPLEMENTS. A great saving may be made by keeping implements constantly under shelter when not in use. But this is nearly impossible; and besides, many of them must of necessity be exposed during their employment, to many days of hot sun and occasional showers. It is therefore very important to keep them well painted.

TO CURE BROKEN HORNS. Remove the mutilated horn, and bind the stump with cloth well tarred or pitched; any fabric will do to bind with, if the wounded part be first well covered with warm pitch.

For the Advertiser. WAIT FOR THE WAGON? Messrs. Colter & Scooter.—Gents, I don't know whether you will allow us, away down here in this "Independent Sovereignty," to be put in competition with you up-country folks, but I thought that as we have to pay double or triple land tax, down here, (I suppose for the accidental privilege of living below an imaginary line,) I would let you know that we are trying to make old mother earth, disgorge herself the more freely in return.

I see through your paper, that PINEX Woods, in the way of a crop—is some, and that CAMBRIDGE, has given him Jessy, but Good old DARK CORNER, has overshadowed them both. I think however, that I can stick them all, with my Rowell.

I have a little place on the Savannah; part upland and part bottom, which under the management of Mr. GEO. R. POWELL, last year, did the following, notwithstanding one third of the crop in the bottom land was destroyed by the Summer freshets.

There were one hundred acres lowland, and fifty acres upland planted in Corn, besides, a field of Oats, a patch of Potatoes, and one each of Turnips and Peas, on upland and an abundance of Pumpkins, made in low grounds.

The force employed in making the crop was seven hands, all told, and seven Horses and mules, besides Overseers horses.

The following crop was gathered; 4,100 bushels corn at 75 cts. $3200.00 40,000 lbs. Fodder 125 per hundred 500.00 250 bushels Oats 50. 125.00 50 do Potatoes 75. 37.50 15,000 lbs. shucks 50. 75.00 75 bushels Peas 80. 60.00 30 loads Pumpkins $5 per load. 150.00 6327 lbs net Pork 9 cts. sold for. 569.43

Gross amount. $4716.93 EXPENSES. Interest on Capital. $1190.00 Overseer's wages. 250.00 Feeding & clothing negroes. 253.00 Do 8 head horses and mules 600.00 Implements, Blacksmith bill 35.50 Deduct. $2928.50

Nett amt. per hand. $341.20 Mode of cultivation; Both lowlands and upland broken up deep, with large two horse cast turning plough in the Spring. Upland planted 4 by 5 feet with two stalks in every other hill, and 3 by 5 feet with one stalk. Lowland, 5 by 5 feet with three and four stalks in each hill. Upland cultivated by three ploughings, with sweep, and Lowland had one harrowing, and two ploughings, with small wrought, Allen Ploughs. Had no rain from 2d July, until 18th August.

The upland yielded on an average, per acre, equal to the lowland, (exclusive of what was lost by freshets on the latter,) and was much heavier and finer corn. Used no Guano. And only manured poor spots on upland, with cotton seed and stable manure. With the exception of about ten acres, the upland has been cleared from time immemorial.

We don't expect to get the Col's Watch, didn't try for that, only write this, as a sort of accompaniment to PINX Woods, JESSEY and DARK CORNER. Like to be in good company. By the bye, send friend O'CONNOR, down this way, if PINEX Woods, can't manage him, we will try and do for him.

We have got the Grape Fever, down in these parts somewhat. Expect that some of these days, the Savannah will become as celebrated for fine vines, as the Rhine in the "Faderland," about which time Cotton and Corn will be no where.

Yours truly PROGRESS. (P. S.) His friends down here, are very anxious to know, how Col. G. D. M., of Ed. comes on raising sheep, now a days. Has he made any attempts lately to improve his breed.

SHORT WEIGHT IN STAR CANDLES.—The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce has published a report on this subject, from which it appears that the short weight, as compared with the brands upon the boxes of the various kinds of candles manufactured in that city, has for a long time been a cause of complaint amongst dealers, whilst the consumer has at the same time been subjected to a loss of from 1 to 2 ounces on each pound he purchases. Lately, however, this deficiency has become so great, and so important in the article of star candles, as to awaken the attention of the Chamber, and hence the appointment of a committee to investigate the subject, and to suggest a remedy. It is well known that most of the manufacturers of this article pack into boxes by count (say four to six to the pound), and as the candles are from one to two ounces short of full weight per pound, by count, it follows that in a box of forty pounds, there are deficient forty to eighty ounces—say three to five pounds, or at present quotations, an average value of about $1 per box lost to the purchaser. It is said that some of the heavy manufacturers realize from $20,000 to $30,000 per year by this unjust tax, (to use no harsher term) upon the consumer. A resolution was adopted calling upon the Legislature of Ohio to pass a law to put a stop to the practices complained of. This is but another argument in favor of a general system of inspection.

This is certainly a progressive age, when such down-right thieving is denominated an "unjust tax." If the Chamber of Commerce had acted in good faith to the public, they would have given publicity to the names of these manufacturers. That would at once correct the evil, and make them more honest.—Chronicle & Sentinel.

CHURCH MUSIC.—The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, with all his fanatical enthusiasm, says a great many true and good things; and he never uttered a greater truth or a better thing, than the following description of fashionable Church music in the cities, large towns, and villages.—Chronicle & Sentinel.

"A new choir is inaugurated, a new leader, a new dispensation of ambitious display, of musical sensitiveness, of quarreling and disgust, of revolution and quartette, until at length, in some congregations all that any one hopes or dreams of, is, singing that shall not damage all the rest of worship. In other churches, having lost every vestige of sanctity, music is regarded outright as one of those forms of moral amusement in which men may indulge without sin, in the church and on the Sabbath, and they plunge their hands into their pockets and pay for professional singing. Then King David finds himself in the hands of the Philistines. The unwashed lip that all the week sang the disgusting words of glorious music in operas, now sing the rapture of the old Hebrew bard, or the passion of the suffering Redeemer, with all the inspiration of vanity and brandy. When the exquisite mockery is done, and the opera glasses are all closed, the audience close their eyes too, and the sermon proceeds. Thus, music, apostatizing from piety, is no longer a heavenly bird, but a peacock; that struts and flares her gaudy plumes in admiration."

[From the Journal of Commerce.] THE FARMER Does the farmer dig the dirt? Aye, aye; Does he wear a coarse shirt? Aye, aye; And if his cheek is brown With the kisses of the sun, Is he less a gentleman? Nay, nay.

Does the farmer plow and sow? Aye, aye; Does he wield the spade and hoe? Aye, aye; And if his hand is hard, And his feet roughly shod, Shall we give him less regard? Nay, nay.

Does the farmer work for all? Aye, aye; Labors he for great and small? Aye, aye; If from out the farmer's store Comes the bread for rich and poor, Should we honor him the more? Yea, yea.

Give the farmer then his due; Aye, aye; Though he serves, he's master too, Aye, aye; And may Heaven his blessings shed Down upon the farmer's head, Till we cease our cry for bread, Aye, aye.

From the Genesee Farmer. ASHES AND PLASTER IN THE HILL FOR CORN. An article headed "Thou art the Man," perhaps, in some respects, may apply to myself. I have for a number of years, in raising Indian corn, experimented with plaster, (gypsum) ashes, and so on, in various ways, and although I can not tell by a measurement of the different crops in experiment yet, from observation, I should judge that the experiment of mixing plaster and ashes of about equal weight, and then dropping a table spoonfull of the mixture in each hill, instead of on it, has increased the crop one-quarter, and the present season, perhaps one-half. Any one seeing my corn-field this season, could tell to a hill where this mixture was put into the hill, instead of on it. If plaster or ashes, or both, are to be used, it requires no more time to put it in the hill than it would on it. Corn, when young, has many enemies, and it may be that those that attack it in the roots, find this mixture placed in contact with their point of attack an objection. Those that never tried it, try it in some way, and this article may pay you a hundred fold for taking a paper devoted to the interests of farming.

ALEXANDER TITUS.

THE PAPER PLANT IN WISCONSIN.—Under this head (says the Boston Post) we have before us a description of a plant discovered in this country by Mrs. A. L. Beaumont, of Arena. She has furnished us with a fine sample of cotton, and also of flax, from the same plant which she describes as follows: "I discovered, two years ago, a plant that yields both cotton and flax in the same root, and believe I am the first person that ever cultivated, spun, or knit from it. I am persuaded that any article that will make as good cloth as can be made from this plant will make good paper; hence I call it the paper plant. It can be planted in the spring, and cut in the fall or winter. It bleaches itself white as it stands, and will yield at least three or four tons to the acre. From a single root I transplanted last spring, there grew twenty large stalks, with three hundred and five pods, (containing the cotton,) with at least sixty seeds in each. From this root I obtained seven ounces of pure cotton and over half a pound of flax. It is a very heavy plant, and grows from six to seven feet high."
