Hath once again begun : The dew drops sparkling, glistening Like d amonds in the light, Gemming the trees in pendant, rich And radiantly bright.

Sweet flowers in glowing b auty, Shake off the drowsy chain The night zephyrs flung around them, And wake to life again. The tear-fring'd petal opening, Expanding 'neath the ray The warm and genial sunbeam Hath brought in active play. Young birds are softly carroling

Their early matin song, And numberless the echoes that The joyous strains prolong. Now, a rich thrilling melody Is wasted far and near.

And then a low, sweet warbling Is all that meets the ear. Oh birds, and flowers, and sunb-ams, With beauty now and rife, . Casting a brighter radiance

Upon the path of life. And holier aspirations Within our hearts are stirr'd, Lifting the soul from Nature, In praise to Nature's Lord.

faith and feelings. The sentiment of religion is indeed, both as to belief and the outward form universal sentiment and belief? How shall we account for its universality? It is either natural:

implanted in every individual man by the Creator; or it is to be attributed to an early supernatural revelation communicated by the inspiration of the infinite spirit, to the first parents o the human race; and it is at the same time to be assumed, (and justly so, as the sentiment is universal,) that we have a capacity for it-a na ture adapted to receive and cultivate it. In truth and in effect, then, it amounts to the same on either hypothesis; that the Deity inspires every rational soul with a sense of religion; or that he made a revelation to our common progeni tors, and gave us all a nature, or a capacity, to receive it, when communicated to us, by our parents and teachers, as readily as the recep

The Building is situated corner of Jackson and Fenwick Streets, between the Georgia and the Savannah Rail Road Depots; and in sight of both. It is therefore convenient for the reception of patients from a distance. In its construction, throughout the entire plan, was kept in view the special purpose to which it is applied; being furnished with everything which can conduce to the COMFORT OF THE SICK. It is supplied with hot and cold baths and shower baths-and has water-closets in each story to avoid fatigue and exposure to the patients. It is also we'll ventilated and lighted with gas. With the constant attendance of experienced male and female nurses, the patient will be saved much of the suffering which too often is the result of unavoidable neglect in the treatment of NEGROES in ordinary private practice.

TERMS—For Board, Lodging and Nursing, per month, $10. For all necessary Medical attendance, Surgical Operations, &c., the same as in ordinary city practice.
