

"We will cling to the Pillars of the T s, and if it must fall, we will perish amidst the Ruins."

SMITHS, DURISOE & CO., Proprietors.

EDGEFIELD

TEMBER 2, 1857.

VOL. XXII.—NO. 34.

Choice Poetry.

LOVE AND THEE. Oh! would I had the wealth of worlds, The monarch's crown of gold— And all the gems in secret caves...

A Life-Like Story.

GOING DOWN HILL. BY SOLOMON HOWITT. "That looks bad," exclaimed farmer White with an expressive shake of the head, as he passed a neglected garden and broken down fence...

ing to be said, and she soon took leave. Another application proved how busy the village dressmaker had suddenly become. On her return home, the poor shoemaker's wife met the teacher of a small school in the neighborhood...

the great press of work, and in a friendly tone expressed her desire to oblige Mrs. Thomson in any way in her power. "Just as I expected," exclaimed Uncle Joshua, rubbing his hands excitedly, as the grateful shoemaker called upon him, at the expiration of six months...

quency is, we have been taxed to feed the North, and to build up Northern manufactures, and to support a stupendous system of internal improvements in the free States, unsurpassed in the annals of the human race. As the Northern States were the first to get control of the commerce of the country and of the carrying trade, and as some of their large ports were best adapted for ports of entry, all or nearly all the immigration into the country first touches their shores...

JOHN A. CHAPMAN, Esq.—We notice with pleasure that John A. Chapman, Esq., has become associated with Thomas P. Slider, in the editorial management of the Sun. This copartnership cannot result in anything but good for the readers of the Sun; and we mistake us greatly if it do not rebound to the improvement of the Sun itself. Mr. Chapman is a man of sound ability, patient energy, faithful devotion to letters, and withal modest. We welcome him into the profession and entertain the hope that he may be long and pleasantly identified with the newspaper interests of the South...

THE COOLIE TRADE IN NEW YORK.—The following appears in the New York Express of last Wednesday's issue. It needs no comment: "Among the charters at this port Monday, we saw a large ship 'Entombee' from China to Cuba, with Coolies at $70 per head. This is better for the ship-owner than carrying corn at 2 1/2 per bushel, or flour at rates that will hardly pay for loading and unloading. 'This coolie' business, it has been shown, is a time to live, is quite as bad as the African slave trade. The horrors of the passage from China to Cuba are said to be but a repetition, in an aggravation of the awful middle passage from Africa. Haven't black-republican friends a word of sympathy for the poor Asiatic? Or is it the Coolie's misfortune not to have an ebony face and a woolly head?"

GOV. WALKER'S EXPLANATION. WASHINGTON, August 20.—Governor Walker in his official dispatches recently received, says that in one point he has been grossly misrepresented, namely: as desiring that every man should vote who happened to be in the Territory on the day of the election for the ratification of the Constitution. This, he remarks, would be desirable if there were no candidates of whom there were any, but the only sufficient and usual proof of such a fact would be some previous residence. On this point, which is one of detail, he had never proposed to make suggestions to the convention, although, when asked his opinion by the members of that body, he had indicated a previous residence of three or six months, and that the same qualifications should be adopted in the case of future elections; and in his judgment, one or other of these terms of residence will be adopted by the convention, from which he anticipates cordial co-operation. "It is somewhat extraordinary," he adds, "that while this accusation of letting every man vote who may happen to be in the Territory on the day of the election, has been preferred in the press, indicating a desire on my part to let in the Abolition vagrants and interlopers to control the result, the Republicans of Kansas have drawn an entirely different conclusion, viz: That I designed in this manner to bring many thousands of Missourians in the Territory to decide the contest."