IT ONLY SEEMS THE OTHER DAY.

Though swiftly Time, and rapid wings,
Has borne us from old scenes we knew,
Yet memory oft the picture brings
In glowing colors back to view;
Thus early friends remember when
They first as school-boys met in play,
And yet, though years have passed since then,
It only seems "the other day."

The form of her we loved of yore,
To whom we pledged affection's vow,
Will glide before our eyes once more,
Though but in memory living now;
Of that dark hair one tress alone—
A treasured gift—is spared decay,
Yet words in that familiar tone
Seem only breathed "the other day."

Those friends appear no more the same
That shared our mirth and dried our tears,
Or taught us childhood's favorite game—
The dear old friends of early years;
But when we ask if they forget
Those memories of the past, they say—
"Tho' time has wrought some changes, yet
It only seems "the other day."

Humorous Reading.

HOW BEN PURTLE GOT HIS WIFE.

The very climax of ugliness was Ben Purtle. He was red haired, and each stood as if it cherished the supremest contempt for its next neighbor. His face was freckled as the most bespotted turkey egg. His nose supported at the bridge a large lump, while the end turned viciously to one side. His mouth had every shape but a pretty shape. His form was as uncouth as his face was ugly. The very climax of ugliness was little Ben Purtle—what was more still, Ben had a handsome, bouncing, blooming wife—such as can only be grown upon a country lawn.

"How the deuce," said I to Ben one day, "did you ever get such a wife, you uncouth, misshappen, quintessence of monstrosity?"

Ben was not at all offended by the impertinence of my question, and forthwith began to solve the mystery thus:

"Well, now, gals what's sensible aint touched by none of your purty, and hifalutin airs. I've seed that tried mor'n once. You know Kate was allers considered the purtiest girl in these parts, and all the young fellers in the naborhood use to try to cotch her. Well, I used to go over to old Sammy's too, just to kinder look on, you know, and cast a sheep's eye at Kate. But marsy sakes! I had no more thought that I could get Kate than a Jerusalem cricket could hide in the hair that wasn't on old Sammy's head—no siree. But still I couldn't help going, an' my heart would kinder flutter, and my eyes would burn all over, whenever I'd go to talk with Katy. And one day when Kate sorter made fun of me like, it almost killed me sure; I went home with something like a rock jostling about in my breast, and declared I'd hang myself with the first plow line I found."

"Did you hang yourself?"

"No; daddy blazed out to me for not taking old Ball to the pasture in the morning, and scared me so that I forgot it."

"Go on," said I, seeing Ben pause with apparent regret that he had not executed his vow.

"Well, so one Monday morning—(I reckon it was a year after that hanging scrape)—I got up and scraped my face with daddy's old razor; and put on my new copprus britches, and a new linsy coat mammy had dyed with sassafras bark, and went over to Uncle Sammy's. Now, I'd got to loving Kate like all creation, but I never cheeped to anybody about my feelings. But I knowed I was on the right side of the old folks.

"Well, now, ain't it queer," continued Ben; "How a feller will feel sometimes? Something seemed to say as I went along, "Ben Purtle, this is a great day for you," and then my heart jumped and fluttered like a jay bird in a trap. And when I got there and seed Kate with her new checked homespun frock on, I raily thought I should take the blind staggers, anyhow."

Ben paused again to brush the fog from his eyes, and then continued:

"Well, I found the order of the day, was to go muscandine hunting. Jo Sharp and his two sisters, and Jim Bowels was thar. I'd knowed a long time that Sharp was right after Kate, and I hated him worse than a hog hates to find his way out of a tater patch; but I didn't let on. Sharp had on white britches and fine shoes, and broadcloth overcoat, but every body knowed he wasn't worth a red cent. He walked with Kate and you ought to have seen the airs he put on. It was "Miss Kate" this, and "Miss Kate" that, and all such nonsense. After a while we come near a slough whar we had to cross on a log, and I'd a notion to push the sassy good-for-nothing feller into the water."

"Why didn't you?"

"Stop, never mind," said Ben, giving me a nudge, "Providence done all up brown. Nothing must do but Joe Sharp must lead Miss Kate across fust. He jumped on the log in high glee and took Kate's hand, and they put off. Just as they had got half way across, a tarnation big bull frog jumped off into the water—you know how they holler—"Snakes!" screamed the fool, and knocked Kate off up to her waist in the nasty, black, muddy water. And what d'ye think he done? Why he run backwards and foreds, a hollerin' for a pole to help Kate out of the water. Kate looked at me, and I couldn't stand it no longer. Cur chuck I lit ten feet from the bank at the first jump, and had Kate out of there in no time. And d'ye think the scamp didn't come up after we'd got out, and said: "Ar you hurt, Miss Kate?"

"My dander was up. I couldn't stand it; I cotched him by the seat of his white britches and his coat collar, and gin him a toss. Maybe he didn't go clear under when he hit the water. I didn't see him out. Me and Kate put for the house. When we started off, Kate said:

"Ben, just let me hold on to your arm, I kinder feel sorter weak."

Great Jiminy! I felt so quar when she took hold. I tried to say something nice, but my drotted mouth would not go off, no how. But I felt as strong as an elephant, and helped Kate along. Bimeby Kate said:

"Ben, that Joe Sharp's a good for nothing, sneaking, cowardly nobody; ef he ever puts his head inside of our house again, I'll souse him with dish-water, sure."

I tried to say something again, but hang the luck, I couldn't say nothing, but squeezed Kate's hand, and sighed like a cranky bellus.

When we'd got clean out of sight of the others, Kate says:

"Ben, I feel that you are my protector, and believe daddy's right when he says you're worth all the rest of the boys in the naborhood."

Ben Purtle, says I, this is a great day for you, and I made a tremendous effort to get my mouth off again, and out it popped, sure enough.

"Kate," said I, trembling all over, "I love you to destruction, and no mistake. I've loved you long and hard. My heart's been almost broken for years; and I want you to say right straight up and down, whether you're a-going to have me or not?"

Kate hung down her head and didn't say nothing, but I felt encouraged, for she kinder sighed. Says I, "Kate ef you're a gwine to have me, say so, and ef you don't want to say so, just squeeze my hand."

Well she squeezed my hand right off, Lorry how I did feel. I felt like as a stream of warm water or sassafras tea, sweetened with molasses, was running through my bones! and I just cotched her in my arms and kissed her, and she never tried the first time to get loose.

Ben was so overcome with this narration of courtship, that a pause for breath was necessary.

"How long after that," said I, "before you were married?"

"Old Sammy was mighty proud, and so was the old 'oman, about the thing, and we married next fall after the muscandine scrape."

"Do you think your wife loves you yet?" I asked.

"Why, Lordy, yes. She thinks I'm the purtiest and best feller in the world. I tell you, sir, it's no use talking; highfalutin airs, and quality dressing, and cologne, and such things, ain't gwine to go down with sensible gals, sure."

A COOL APOLOGY.

They had a ball down at Waverly, the other night, which brought out some remarkable experience. Among other events, the following instance of a cool apology took place:

Bill P. is known all over, and Bill was at this ball in all his glory. All of his necessaries for pleasure on hand—good music, pretty girls and excellect whiskey. The evening passed off rapidly, as it always does, and Bill had at about one o'clock become pretty happy. Stepping up to a young lady, he requested the pleasure of dancing with her. She replied she was engaged.

"Well," said Bill are you engaged for the next set?"

She said she was.

"Can I dance with you the next then?"

"I am engaged for that also."

"Can I dance with you to-night?"

"No, sir," with some hesitancy.

"Go to Boston," said Bill, highly indignant, and turned on his heel.

After a few moments, Bill is accosted by the brother of the young lady, and charged with insulting his sister. Bill denies but professes himself willing to apologise, if he has done wrong, and accordly steps up to the lady, when the following conversation ensued:

"Miss L., I understand I have insulted you?"

"You have, sir!"

"What did I say, L?"

"You told me to go to Boston."

"Well," said Bill, "I have come to tell you that you needn't go!"

IN A BAD BOX.—A man pretty comfertably drunk was holding on to a post at Burlington Slip, when a friend inquired what was the matter. "Matter," said the fellow, "I'm in a quandary?" "What do you mean by a quandary?" said his friend. "Why, if I hold on here I shall freeze to death, and if I let go I shall fall into the dock."

EDGEFIELD FIFTY YEARS AGO!

Life and Death of Beck Cotton.

THE DEVIL IN PETTICOATS

OR,

God's Revenge Against

HUSBAND KILLING!

WE have just printed a few hundred copies of the above pamphlet written by Rev. W. L. WEEMS, author of the "Life of Washington," "Life of Marion," and other lesser productions, and said by some to have been the most peculiar writer of any age. This work is replete with interest, especially so to the citizens of this District, as it contains quite a fair "showing up" of the dark days and murderous deeds of old Edgefield a half century since.

☞ For sale at this Office. Price 20 cents per copy. Liberal deductions will be made to those buying by the wholesale.

PLAN OF THE LOTTERY.

The Numbers from 1 to 50,000, corresponding with those Numbers on the Tickets printed on separate slips of paper, are encircled with small tin tubes, and placed in one wheel.

The first 457 prizes, similarly printed and encircled, are placed in another wheel.

The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of numbers, and at the same time a prize is drawn from the other wheel. The number and prize drawn out are opened and exhibited to the audience, and registered by the Commissioners; the prize being placed against the number drawn. This operation is repeated until all the prizes are drawn out.

Approximation Prizes.—The two preceding and the two succeeding Numbers to those drawing the first Prizes will be entitled to the 29 Approximation Prizes. For example: If Ticket No. 11,250 draws the $70,000 Prize, those Tickets numbered 11,248, 11,249, 11,251, 11,252, will each be entitled to $400. If Ticket No. 550 draws the $25,000 Prize, those Tickets numbered 548, 549, 551, 552, will each be entitled to $300, and so on according to the above scheme.

The 5,000 Prize of $20 will be determined by the last figure of the No. which draws the $70,000. For example, if the No. drawing the 74,000 prize ends with No. 1, then all the Tickets where the Number ends in 1 will be entitled to $20. If the Number ends with Number 2, then all the Tickets where the Number ends in 2 will be entitled to $20, and so on to 0.

CERTIFICATES OF PACKAGES will be sold at the following rates, which is the risk:

Certificate of Package of ten Whole Tickets	$80
Certificate of Package of ten Half Tickets	40
Certificate of Package of ten Quarter Tickets	20
Certificate of Package of ten Eighth Tickets	10

In Ordering Tickets or Certificates,

Enclose the money to our address for the Tickets ordered, on receipt of which they will be forwarded by first mail. Purchasers can have Tickets ending in any figure they may designate.

☞ The List of Drawn Numbers and Prizes will be sent to purchasers immediately after the drawing.

☞ Purchasers will please write their signatures plain, and give their Post Office, County and State.

☞ Remember that every Prize is drawn and payable in full without deduction.

☞ All prizes of 1,000 and under, paid immediately after the drawing—other prizes at the usual time of thirty days.

☞ All communications strictly confidential.

☞ Address orders for Tickets or Certificates to

STOVES, GRATES, RANGES, &C., &C.

S. S. JONES & CO.,

AUGUSTA, GEORGIA.,

BEG AGAIN to call the attention of their numerous customers and the public generally to their extensive assortment of

STOVES, GRATES, RANGES,

and a complete variety of everything pertaining to a FIRST CLASS House Furnishing Store.

Stoves.

Our assortment in this department is all that the most fastidious can desire. We have nearly every style of COOK, OFFICE and PARLOR STOVES kept by any other house in the City, and many desirable patterns that are to be found exclusively at our establishment.

Grates.

Of these Goods, we have some thirty different patterns, all bought within the last sixty days and from the latest designs. We think we hazard nothing in saying that we can offer a MUCH GREATER VARIETY in this line than all other dealers in the city combined.

Ranges.

Having tested nearly all the different styles of Ranges extant, we have for two years past sold MOTTS' PATENT INVINCIBLE RANGE exclusively, believing them to be the very best article offered. We have sold some twenty of these Ranges in Augusta and vicinity, and they have never failed to give perfect satisfaction. We will sell to any customer with a full guarantee that these Ranges are perfect in their operation in every particular.

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

In this department enumeration is out of the question. Our assortment is, as usual complete, and no effort will be spared on our part to retain for our house the position it has occupied for five years past. It is well known that we keep MORE THAN DOUBLE the stock and variety of any house in the city, and ours is, in fact, THE PLACE to purchase House Furnishing Goods. The increase of our business in this department has entirely exceeded our expectations. Our efforts to establish a FIRST CLASS HOUSE-FURNISHING STORE have been crowned with success by an appreciating public, and our motto is "Upward and onward!"

TINNER'S GOODS.

We have in store an unusually heavy stock of Tin Plate, Sheet Iron, Sheet Copper, Iron Wire, Block Tin, Pig and Bar Lead. Also, a large stock of Japanned Ware, Pressed Covers and Plates of every description, Bucket Ears, Rivets, Tinners' Tools and Machines, &c., which we offer to the trade on the very best terms.
