She was a creature full of pride. And full of lofty airs beside-She would not smile on any. Her suitor watched her every gaze, Her glances set their hearts ablaze, And these were rich and many.

She walked with grace, and polka'd, too, There were no figures but she knew, How stately were her motions! Her taper fingers, sweetly gloved, Seemed all the things in life she loved, All else was simply "notions."

Thus whirling in the graceful dance, And trying every charm t' entrace-She paused! and blushed! while o'er Her cheeks ran tears!-how pride was crushed The string she trusted, too, had burst-

Her hoops lay on the floor ; She gathered them up and ran as speedily as possible to the dressing-room, and from there home, and for several weeks was seen no more.

FIGHTING THE TIGER.

Some years ago, says a writer in the Philadelphia Dispatch, I was in a gambling house in Cincinnati, a silent looker-on at a game of faro. In those days such operations were carried on rather openly, and almost under the eyes of the authorities, with unbarred doors, so that any one could walk in, either in the capacity of a better, or a mere spectator. In the latter capacity I found myself, near midnight, when the door of the den opened. Just as the game began to flag, and not a sound was heard but the click of the checks and the rattle of some dishes a darkey was placing on a table, in walked a tall, rawboned, country-looking chap, in a gray satinct coat and a coon-skin cap. He walked right up to the only vacant place at the table, and drawing from a side-pocket an enormous calfskin wallet, which looked as if it might contain at least a thousand, in fives and tens, addressed the dealer;

"Look here, Mister, I'm going to fight this here tiger up to the nines? Understand me, I allers fight to the death; that is, until I break you or you break me!"

"Very good," said the dealer, "you are one of the kind we like to deal for." And his eyes fairly danced at the certainty of depleting the plethoric-looking pocket-book.

"But, understand me," continued the rough customer, "there is one thing you must first agree to; and that is, if you break me, you must "I'll do it," said the "leg."
"You all on you hear, gentlemen," said Rough,

"that I have the word of an honorable sporting man, that if he wins all the money in this yere pocket-book, he gives me money enough to carry me home.

"Yes! yes! yes!" responded the entire party. Here the darkey announced supper, and the keeper of "the tiger" announced a recess for half an hour. The crowd went into the good things prepared, and Rough was not a whit behind the rest. He dived into the venison, the oyster pie, and the "chicken fixins," until he could eat no more with any degree of safety to himself—not forgetting to wash down the whole with liberal potations of brandy. Refreshment over, labor bade fair to commence in right down earnest. The dealer took off his coat; rolled up his sleeves, and seated himself Rough squared himself at the table, and again drew the ponderous wallet. All eyes were now turned upon him; for spectators, patrons of the establishment, and even bankers themselves, looked for a tall game. Rough drew from one of the pockets of the wallet a greasy and rather suspicious looking five dollar bill, and called for the worth of it in chips. After scrutinizing it a moment, the dealer tossed it into his drawer, and passed over a stack of ten chips to Rough He next gave the cards sundry scientific "flirts, placed them in the box, and announced "All ready!" Rough placed his ten chips on the ace, and the deal went on. Some eight or ten cards were drawn out, when an ace came to view, on the top of the box, and the dealer immediately put ten more chips on the top of Rough's pile. Rough let the twenty chips lay upon the ace, and it was not long before another one made its appearance, but this time it fell by the side of the box, and the dealer "raked down" the entire pile. He then waited a few moments in expectation that Rough would open the pocketbook again, but that individual continued resting his chin on the palm of his hand, and gazing abstractedly on the acc.

"Well," said the "leg," "aint you going to bet any more?"

"Nary red-I'm broke-flat!" said Rough. The "leg" laid back in his chair, and in a tone of the most profound astonishment, said, "The deuce you are! And I pledged myself to give you money enough to carry you home, in case you got broke?"

You did that same, old hoss."

"Where do you live?" "At Brownsville, up the river."

"What will it cost to take you there?" "At the present stage of water, I think I can get up for about fourteen dollars."

Such a shout as went up at this juncture was never before heard within the walls of a faroroom!-while with great good humor the "leg' counted out the fourteen dollars. "My friend," said he to Rough, "it is not every day one meets a patron like you. Go and help yourself to another drink of brandy, and a cigar. Whenever you come to town again, give us a call. Call often-you will find the latch-string out. I wish you a safe journey. Give my res peets to your wife and the children. Bye, bye!' "Rough didn't shrink one iota from this raillery, but took the proffered drink and cigar. "I say, said he, as he held the door ajar, "I wish you better luck with the next green-looking customer that comes along; but before you make such a bargain with him, jest ascertain where he lives, and the size of his pile!"—and so saying, he disappeared amid the guffaws of the crowd, in which the dealer himself heartily

-, I want to buy a shilling's worth of hay." "Very well, you can have it. Is it for your father?" "No, 'taint. It's for the hoss. Dad don't eat hay."

The proprietor of a forge, not remarkable for correctness of language, but who, by honest industry had realized a comfortable independence, being called upon at a social meeting for a toast, gave 'Success to forgery.'

Two Irishmen, on landing in this country, and sitting down to their first dinner, found on the table a dish of prepared mustard, which neither of them had ever happened to meet before. One of them took a spoonful at a venture, which quickly brought a deluge of tears to his eyes. "What are you crying about?" asked his companion.

"I was crying at the recollection of my poor father, who was hung about 20 years ago."

The dinner proceeded, and soon the other made a dip into the mustard with a similar effect.

"What are you crying about?" was the grave inquiry of his comrade.

I am crying because you were not hung when your father was."

As two of our children were playing together, little Jane got angry and pouted. Johnny said to her, "Look out, Jane, or I'll take a seat up there on your lips." "Then," replied Jane, quite cured of her pouts, "I'll laugh and you'll fall eff."

A gentleman who, under the least excitement would exclaim, "there's a crisis coming!" was considerably amused at being gravely informed by a little four year old "son," that the cry-sis had come, and was in the bed with mother."

ENTHUSIASM .- Wilson and Phinny are the ending members of the Washington county bar. Sitting opposite one another at the dinner table -they are always opposite at practice at the bar in the court-house, and agreed as to the bar in the hotel-Wilson was describing the effects of a speech he made a few nights before at a great GOOD BARGAINS.

political meeting in the village where Phinney resides. "Indeed," said he, "I never saw the people so filled with enthusiasm!" "Filled with what?" cried Phinney. "With enthusiasm," repeated Wilson. "Oh, ah!" said Phinney, "I understand, but I never heard it called by that name before; we call it' rum?"

An assembled family, as the legacy to each was read aloud, sobbed and wished that the father had lived to enjoy his own fortune. At last came the bequest to his heir: "I give my eldest son Tom, a shilling to buy a rope to hang "Would to God," said Tom, sobbing, like the rest, "that my poor father had lived to enjoy it

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hourseness.

HORISCHESS.

BRIMTIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.
DR. J. C. ATER: I do not heeltate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoursenss, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your Cherry Percoral. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A.B. MORTLEY, Esc., of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup. Whooping Cough. Influenza. Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGPILLD, Miss., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER Aren: I will cheerfully cortify your Pectoral is the bost remedy we possess for the cure of whooping cough, croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D. AMOS LEE, Esq., Montreet, I.a., writes, 3d Jan., 1856:
"I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without rollef; finally tyied your l'ectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first does relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis. ASIMMA OF P'Athisic, and Bronchitis.

West Manchester, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.

Sir: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., Albion, Monroe Co., Iowa, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving case and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remely has ever been known which oured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pretoral affords relief and comfort.

Peteral affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITT, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Peteral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dungerons symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for salvice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill; for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, OF SHELBYHLE.

Chasumptices, do not despair till you have tried Ayen's Chemny Pectonal. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us beepenk the high merits of its virtues. — Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills. THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these Pills have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disor-dered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not sub-stantiated by men of such exalted position and character stantiated by men of such exasted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to tertify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sont me the assurance of their conviction that my reparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men. The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and sertificates of their cures, of the following complaints: eartificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Coativeness, Billous Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Nauson, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowols and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant medicine, Scrofula or King "Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Bilindness, Neuraigia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other nill they make more profit on. Ask for Aven's other pill they make more profit on. Ask for Aran's Prills, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them,

PIANO FORTES from the celebrated manufactories of RAVEN BAZ CON & CO., HAZELTON, BROS., and A. II. GALE & CO., New York, for whom they are sole Agents. These Instruments having already won such far famed celebrity, it is only necessary for us to repeat that for strength, durability and finish, together with power, depth, sweetness and soft-ness of tone, they challenge competition. Persons wanting a superior would do much better to call and select from a large ossortment, than by dealing with Pedlars and Agents of inferior makers, where they have no choice, and have often to pay higher prices for inferior Instruments, than fine ones of superior makers can be bought for. Every PIANO FORTE sold by us is warranted in every respect, so the purchaser runs no risk whatever.
