The Cadenhead Plowstock.

Col. JOHN D. WILLIAMS, of Laurens, one of the best, most successful and scientific farmers in the State, has tried the "Cadenhead Plowstock," and speaking of

A week or so ago, a very intelligent gentleman from Alabama, Mr. W. Felton, came to my house and exhibited a Patent Plowstock, known as the "Cadenhead Piowstock;" at first, I looked upon it as I had upon many other patents, with but little interest. But as soon as I heard the explanation of its merits, and saw its performance, I saw the great advantages in the Plowstock, for ease to the plower, labor saved to the horse or mule, and a glow that would do much better plowing two generations.

This plow was patented on the 4th of such as Mr. Jas. Creswell, Dr. Abner Teague, Maj. R. A. Griffin and others, as the very best plowstock they had ever used, and I was so pleased with it, I determined to purchase plantation rights for all of my farms.

Farming is my delight, and to see a well properly cultivated, speaks great praise flats and hollows and washed in gullies, and oftener than otherwise plowed when the land is entirely too wet, condemns the owner, and in my judgment shows he that he feels but little interest in those that come after him.

There is nothing more ruinous to land and so much as it is the improper management and cultivation of it, and I often wonder when riding about over the counry if the farmers never will learn how to cultivate and save their lands.

DEAR SIR-I have very great pleasure in writing you, touching the effects of your Superphos-phate of Lime on our Cotton Crop. Having tested it against four other preparations, the appearance of the plant is most hopeful and promising, as regards a large and remunerating yield. I feel certain your manure will give from one hundred to one hundred and thirty pounds of Cotton more than any other preparation, per acre.

It is a remarkable fact that no Rust is seen in the

CLAYMONT, DELAWARE, Nov. 28th, 1859. MR. JAMES J. MAPES: Dear Sir-On Saturday evening I received a request from Mr. Paschall you, the results of my use of Phosphate of Lime made after your receipe, and comply with pleasure. I have used the improved, and also the Nitrogenized, principally for root crops, and they have both given me satisfaction. The improved I used in two instances for wheat, putting on about 250 to 300 lbs per acre; in one case after corn, and another after potatoes; the result was respectively 47 bushel red wheat, weighing 64 lbs. per bushel, and the other 44 bushels white wheat. These are better than any thing I have done with stable manure. My ruta begas and carrots have always done as well with the Superphosphate as with any application of manure, and I still use considerable of it. I have tried several different makes, but so far, yours is the only one that I have found any advantage from. Since you introduced the Nitrogenized, I have not used so much of the Improved, and have not tried wheat with it except as a top dressing, when the wheat seemed back-ward. I intend the coming spring to try it on corn, using some 600 lbs. per acre, and if my life is spared, will give you the result. I put in this fall for the first, a small piece of wheat with the Nitrogenized, but of course cannot say any thing At present I do not know of any special manure
