The Situation.

The situation of military matters in South Carolina is wrapped in mystery impenetrable to the ken of human experience.

One of the Best and Bravest.

Our good and brave friend, Capt. G. S. TOURKINS of Co. B. Hampton Legion, is at home for a few days.

Troubles Times in Edgefield.

During this war, we people of Edgefield have had, compared to hundreds of other places in the Confederacy, a very calm and pleasant walk on the highway of life.

Edgefield Female College.

One of the most advantageous and attractive features of Edgefield in these days, is the large and flourishing Female College, conducted by the Rev. MARION SAMS.

Public Meeting in Richmond.

In pursuance of a call of Gov. Smith an immense public meeting was held at the African Church.

The Anderson Intelligencer.

The publication of this excellent journal, suspended four years ago, by the departure of both its editors to the field of battle, has lately been resumed.

What, a name for Rich, does it mean?

We are glad to see the most brilliant and broadest strategy of the war, as it streams in every page of the Intelligencer.

The Militia Again.

We call special attention to the orders of Gen. GARLAND and Lieut. Col. ADDISON, concerning the organization of the Militia.

See notice of Rev. Mr. SAMS, concerning the exercises of the Female College.

Vic Victims.

In Savannah the Yankee rule is getting gradually more and more rigid. The poor deluded wretch who tried to make peace with his foes by a course of generally friendly overtures to his friends and country, are beginning to feel the reward they so richly deserve.

Execut Peace Rumors.

The little private unofficial preliminary talk about peace, between our Commissioners on the one side, and Lincoln and Seward on the other, was "short sharp and decisive".

Luckless Wayfarers.

For more than a week past, the roads leading from Aiken to Ninety Six, have been lined and crowded with hapless refugees from the lower districts—particularly from Barwell.

Ann Hartz.

Ann Hartz (Major McKinnon), who is a perfect Marcia, whose exhilarating humor and good tempered wit, as exhibited in his irresistibly clever and funny letters, make us read on with laughing, has lately achieved matrimony.

Religious Notice.

By Divine permission, there will be preaching at Mt. Zion Church on the third Saturday and Sabbath in Feb. inst.

Retirement of General James Jones.

The retirement of General James Jones from his position as Chairman of the Board of Visitors of the Military Academy of South Carolina, is an event, which at any other time, would have elicited one universal expression of regret from the country and the press.

OBITUARY.

DIED, at Stanton, Va., on the 7th January, 1865, Capt. JAMES WESLEY OHEATHAM, in the 31st year of his age, from a wound received whilst leading his Company in battle.

His affectionate young wife had the mournful privilege of ministering to him in his last moments—heard his last prayer for his country, and his wife and his two little boys. His remains were buried in the Church-yard at Dilgal with Masonic honors.

The deceased possessed qualities of mind and heart which the vicissitudes of his short life had shown to be of sterling worth. Modest and retiring in his manner, determined and firm in his purpose, without affectation, he was strong and firm in his attachments. He entered the Confederate service as a Corporal in Company K, 7th Regiment, S. C. V., and by regular steps of promotion was in command of his Company when wounded.

He was baptized as a member of the Church of Christ at Dilgal when quite a youth, and exemplified, by a well ordered life the religion he professed. As a husband and parent he was affectionate and kind. His death is a loss—a loss which is felt and known to all who knew him. His family has received a wound which time may ameliorate but never can erase. Their consolation and solace is that "he was guided by the council of God and received up to glory."

DEPARTED this life, at his residence in Edgefield District, Dec. 25th, 1864, Mr. ROBERT QUARLES, in the 39th year of his age, leaving an affectionate wife, and seven dutiful children, with numerous friends to mourn his loss, though they mourn not as those who have no hope; for he had been a consistent member of the Baptist Church of Christ at Mountain Creek for several years.

He was not slain upon the battle-field by an enraged foe, but his life was devoted to our struggle for Independence. He is done with the clamors and hardships of this world. Sometimes we think he cannot be forever gone; and then the sad truth tells that he is sleeping in the cold and silent tomb. Yes, he fills a patriots grave. Nothing will disturb that rest but the great Judgment day; when he will rise clothed in immortality.

Special Notice.

THE exercises of the Edgefield Female College are not suspended, nor will they be unless it is positively known that the enemy are advancing upon the town.

M. W. SAMS, Principal.
