

BY BURISOE, KEESSE & CO.

M. C. BUTLER, ATTORNEY AT LAW, AND Solicitor in Equity, EDGEFIELD, S. C.

M. L. BONHAM, ATTORNEY AT LAW, AND Solicitor in Equity, EDGEFIELD, S. C.

WILL Practice in the Courts of this State and in Augusta, Ga. Also, in the United States District and Circuit Courts for So. Ga., giving special attention to cases in Bankruptcy.

W. J. READY, JAS. T. CULBREATH, READY & CULBREATH, Attorneys at Law, AND SOLICITORS IN EQUITY, EDGEFIELD, S. C.

Law Notice. THE Undersigned has prepared the following opinion upon the proposed Act...

Law Notice. THE Undersigned has associated themselves as Partners in the PRACTICE OF LAW AND EQUITY.

Medical Card. DR. T. J. TEAGUE has moved to the D-welling, recently occupied by Mr. J. R. Corwile, near the Episcopal Church.

DENTISTRY. DR. H. PARKER respectfully announces that he is well prepared to execute in the best manner and promptly all work in the business.

For Sheriff. The Friends of Capt. A. P. WEST respectfully announce him as a Candidate for Sheriff of Edgefield at the next election.

For Tax Collector. The Many Friends of D. A. J. BELL, Esq. respectfully nominate him as a Candidate for Tax Collector at the next election.

For Tax Collector. The Many Friends of Capt. JAMES MITCHELL respectfully nominate him as a Candidate for TAX COLLECTOR at the next election.

For Tax Collector. We have been authorized by the friends of Capt. STUART HARRISON to announce him as a Candidate for re-election to the office of Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for this District, at the next election.

For Tax Collector. We have been authorized by the many friends of Capt. L. YANCEY DEAN to announce him as a Candidate for Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for Edgefield District at the next election.

CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY. THE Undersigned respectfully announce that they are now prepared to do all work in the COACH MAKING and REPAIRING BUSINESS that may be entrusted to them.

WAGON AND BLACKSMITH SHOPS. THE Undersigned notice that he is now prepared to have REPAIRED in a good and workmanlike manner, WAGONS, CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, and other Vehicles that may be brought to his Shop, at fair and reasonable prices.

Bar Room. FOR the real pleasure and comfort of those who sometimes indulge in a social glass, I have opened in the Plaster's Hotel, a FINE CLASS BAR, well supplied with a VERY VARIETY of the BEST WINES, LIQUORS, SEGARS, &c., and under the management of a gentleman, courteous and attentive, who will at all times be at hand to give entire satisfaction to his customers.

From The Land We Love. "The Land We Love," by Rev. Father A. J. Ryan—author of the "Conquered Banner." Land of the Gentle and Brave! Our hearts are drawn to thee, O Land of the Gentle and Brave! It depends beside every grave, Where the heart of a hero lies low.

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. WASHINGTON, May 25. The Attorney-General has prepared the following opinion upon the proposed Act...

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The first section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The second section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The third section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The fourth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The fifth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

question as to the right to vote, arises upon the registration of voters; the question of qualification or disqualification is not a question of registration, but a question of qualification or disqualification, and is to be determined by the authority of the registration officer, and not by the authority of the registration board.

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The sixth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The seventh section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The eighth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The ninth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The tenth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The eleventh section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

however, arise, whether a Convention held in a State, or an amendment of its Constitution, would answer to the description of a State Legislature within the meaning of the Act. Such a Convention, although it is clothed with legislative powers, cannot properly be denominated a State Legislature, and is not to be considered as such for the purposes of the Act.

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twelfth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirteenth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The fourteenth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The fifteenth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The sixteenth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The seventeenth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

others, although the appointment was left to the Governor. The officers of whom I am speaking are often described in Acts of Assembly by the name of Commissioners, such, for instance, as are employed in the laying out of roads, and canals, and other works of public utility. Yet all these perform a duty, or in other words exercise an office.

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The eighteenth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The nineteenth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twentieth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twenty-first section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twenty-second section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twenty-third section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twenty-fourth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twenty-fifth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twenty-sixth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twenty-seventh section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twenty-eighth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The twenty-ninth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirtieth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirty-first section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirty-second section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirty-third section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirty-fourth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirty-fifth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirty-sixth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirty-seventh section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirty-eighth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The thirty-ninth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The fortieth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The forty-first section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The forty-second section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The forty-third section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The forty-fourth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The forty-fifth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The forty-sixth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The forty-seventh section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."

THE RECONSTRUCTION LAW. Attorney-General Stanbery's Opinion. The forty-eighth section of the original Act, and the Act of March 23, 1867, entitled "An Act supplementary to an Act entitled 'An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' upon which questions military commanders of districts in the rebel States are authorized to exercise control and supervision."