

THE ADVERTISER.

Terms, $3.00 per Annum.

We have received an interesting Railroad article from an esteemed friend in Aiken, and will take pleasure in giving it publicity in our next issue. Regret that it is out of our power to do so this week.

"SHATTERFIELD" on the Free School law will appear next week.

Gorgeous Display at Oscar Cheatham's.

Oscar is the latest arrival from New York, and "his works do follow him." And women follow him, (evil to him who evil thinks!) and men follow him, and children follow him, and negroes follow him, and cotton-sellers follow him—and altogether he is the best followed man we know of. Why do all these people follow him? Why look at his new advertisement to-day, and you will see that he offers them all immense inducements—yes, even to the cotton-sellers. Don't go into Oscar's lightly or unadvisedly; for once in, and having looked around, you will undoubtedly either buy or steal!

A Negro Man Shot and Wounded. On Tuesday night last, our fellow-townsmen, Mr. Lebeschultz, shot and wounded a negro named Pickens Stuart, who was beating his wife in a shameful manner in Mr. L.'s yard. Mr. L., after making vain efforts to rescue the woman and quell the disturbance, was forced to use his pistol. The negro is wounded in the neck or throat, but not very dangerously, we believe.

Neither Winds, nor Rains, nor Floods, nor Hales, nor Bulls.

None of these strong motive powers can prevail against the States' Patent Portable Fence.

The fence is built in separate panels, and can be moved hither and thither at will. A fair specimen of it now stretches across our public square, terminating in a pen for animals. Messrs. Colby & King possess the right for the United States, and wish to sell State and County rights. Messrs. Colby & King, clever and intelligent men, are now in our town, exhibiting this admirable fence. Come and see them—near the fence. "The Plantation" a distinguished agricultural paper of Atlanta, commends the States' Patent Portable Fence in the strongest manner. This fence is attracting great attention in our midst.

Planting Irish Potatoes in Mid-September.

Mr. J. F. Boykin, son-in-law of Dr. M. W. Abney, a gentleman devoted to agricultural and horticultural interests, sends us a basket of fine Irish Potatoes as we ever laid our eyes upon. These Potatoes were planted on the 25th of June. Mr. Boykin has our best thanks.

Tremendous Real Estate Sales in Edgefield on Sale-day Next.

Two of the largest and finest private residences in our town are to be sold on the first Monday in November next—that of the late Col. Marshall Frazier, and that of Mr. Charles A. Cheatham. Both these houses may be called mansions, and in each case their surroundings are uncommonly beautiful. Mr. Cheatham's has been lately thoroughly painted and repaired within and without. The famous Saluda plantation of Col. Frazier, at Island Ford, is also to be sold in two tracts. No lands this side of Louisiana are more valuable than these.

And also Mr. C. A. Cheatham's plantation three or four miles West of the village—of the finest Cotton places in this range of country—and having on it a mill site not to be surpassed anywhere. The advertisements of these sales, to be found in other columns of the Advertiser, are worth the attention of all desiring to purchase homes or plantations in a fertile and healthy country.

Admitted to the Bar.

Our young townsman, Mr. Wm. S. Tillinghast, a son of the late Hon. R. L. Tillinghast, of Beaufort, was admitted to the bar, before Judge Moses, at Newberry, a few days since.

On last Thursday night, in the Mt. Taber vicinity, a negro by the name of Aaron Stalaker was called upon and required to pay the penalty of an old debt somewhat on a novel if not severe plan. It appears that Aaron was indebted to one Abram Miles, another colored friend, in the sum of $5.00, for a pair of boots that Abram had loaned to Aaron. Time had again to settle for the boots, but that Aaron wouldn't pay, and failed to make any satisfactory arrangement; and that finally Abram's patience became exhausted, and securing the assistance of three sympathizing friends, they all four "went for" Aaron; arming themselves each with a hand full of hickory switches, they marched up to Aaron's house, took him out, carried him to a swamp about a mile off, and then there they "hit him" two hundred stripes—cancelled the debt, and left Aaron to his reflections, a sadder if not a wiser man.

At the Railroad meeting held in Laurens on last sale-day to send Delegates to the Railroad Convention to be held in Columbia, on the 10th November, the following gentlemen were authorized to represent Laurens County, in said Convention, viz: Hon. W. D. Simpson, Col. R. P. Todd, Capt. H. L. McGowan, Dr. S. M. Hunter and Col. J. W. Watts.

There were slight frosts in several Counties in this State on the 29th.

The Port Royal Railroad will be completed to Beaufort by the 1st Nov.

The business part of the town of Crockett, Texas, has been visited. Insurance, $50,000. Loss not stated.

A curious incident of the Nelson-Clanton killing affair in Tennessee is that an old man named W. B. Smith, at whose house the sheriff stopped to ask after the fugitive Nelson, when informed of the affair, evinced high excitement and died in five minutes.

In Robeson, N. C., a United States soldier belonging to company "G," 4th United States Artillery, while in a state of intoxication shot and killed a negro man sixty four years of age, without the slightest provocation.

The Palatka (Fla.) Herald says: "Miss Prescott, of this County, killed a large bear on Thursday night last. Bruin had made an attack upon the swine, and was in the act of carrying off a large sized snout, when the young Miss pitched into him and killed him with a light-wood knot."

Mims' post office, or Ninety Six Station, in Barnwell County, has been changed to that of "Elko." There is a Mims' station on the Augusta and Columbia Railroad, and a Ninety Six station on the Greenville and Columbia Railroad, and this change of name will prevent confusion.

Newspaper Matters in Lexington. Lexington, which was so fearfully ravaged and desolated during the six years we were exiled to it, has now a fine County paper as any in the State. The Lexington Dispatch, started only a year ago, entered upon its second volume last week, much enlarged, with considerable new type, and decidedly improved in many respects. We congratulate our friends, the Messrs. Harman & H. W. Rice Esq., very cordially upon the happy result of their useful labors. The Dispatch is published every Wednesday at Two Dollars per annum.

Augusta Still, With Its Alluring People and Places.

MRS. LECKIE AND THE OMAHEA LION GODDESS.—The chameleon goddess is, of course, Fashion, ever changing. And so Mrs. Leckie—the gentle, refined and tasteful lady, unchangeable and unchanging—lives there a woman with soul so dead as not to know who she is? Not in Edgefield, we mean! No indeed! for every woman in Edgefield—and every decent man too—knows that Mrs. Leckie is a leading Modiste of the bright city of Augusta—a Modiste who has the chameleon goddess under her thumb, moulding her as a potter does his clay.

And on this very day, Tuesday, Oct. 10th, Mrs. Leckie is making her first Grand Display of Fall and Winter Fashions. And, oh! what a day in Augusta! And, oh! what a Divinely Beautiful Stock of Feminine Frivolities! And, oh! how our fair patriots of Edgefield will pore over Mrs. Leckie's charming New Advertisement, and flock to her shop with pockets full of money, and come back home with the Most Ravishing Millinery Articles beneath the sun!

MR. JAMES M. ANDERSON TO HIS EDGEFIELD FRIENDS.—In our advertising columns stands a card from Mr. James M. Anderson to his old friends in Edgefield. We bespeak for it the most particular attention. No youth ever grew up in Edgefield, in our day and generation, more deservedly honored and beloved for all good qualities, than "the noble Anderson." For a year past he has been living in Dearing, Ga., but lately he has returned to Augusta, and is now ready to serve his friends at Kean, Landrum & Co.'s—old stand of H. F. Russell & Co.—a new Dry Goods Establishment, and one of the handsomest in the city.

THE CAROLINA DRY GOODS STORE.—Messrs. Walter Powell of Barnwell, and Wm. Muller of Columbia, have lately established a First Class Dry Goods Store in Augusta, and we take great pleasure in introducing the New House to our people, and recommending it to their patronage. The Establishment of Powell & Muller is complete in all its various and well-stocked departments, and affords to purchasers means of selecting choice articles from large varieties of similar classes of goods. A visit to Powell & Muller will prove the truth of our assertions. Read the Advertisement of the new Firm, and, remembering that they are South Carolinians, always leave part of your money with them!

THE BAILIE BROTHERS IN ANOTHER CAPACITY.—Last week we spoke of Jas. G. Bailie & Bro., of Augusta, as famous dealers in Carpets and Upholstery. This week we present them to their old friends in Edgefield as Family Grocers. Not that this is anything new, for numerous people in these regions have bought Groceries, Plantation Supplies, and Wines and Liquors from the Bailies for many a year past. And in no single instance have these numerous people been disappointed or dissatisfied. Jas. G. Bailie & Bro. stand proudly on the topmost round of the ladder in their reputation both as gentlemen and business men, dealing always fairly and liberally with all who purchase goods from them. Do not overlook their new Grocery advertisement.

A New Editor.

Mr. T. Ross Robertson succeeds Mr. Ben Stuart as Editor of that popular paper, the Fairfield Herald. We beg leave to offer Mr. Robertson kindest greetings and welcome. In his salutatory, he says: "The political tone of this Journal will be uncompromisingly Conservative. The abuses in the government, both State and National, will be fearlessly and unceasingly denounced."

FOR HOUSE CLEANING, washing dishes, floors, oil cloths, tables, cleaning windows, paint, knives and polishing tin, brass and all metals, use Enoch Morgan's Sons' Sapolio. It is cheaper and better than soap. Get it from your grocer, or at 211 Washington street, N. Y.

Special Notices.

Trust what Time has Sanctioned. The maxim that the voice of the people is the voice of the deity, may in some cases, be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened men extending through a series of years, and all of the same tenor, is a weight of evidence, admits of no question. Upon such testimony the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an antidote and cure for many ailments is based. During the twenty years that it has been before the world, its numerous preparations intended to compete with it, have gone up like rockets, and come down like extinguished sticks. Meanwhile the progress of that incomparable tonic has been swift and steady—up ways upward and onward like the eagle's flight. Its introduction produced a revolution in therapeutics, and it proved to be one of those salutary revolutions that cannot go backward. Today Hostetter's Bitters is one of the most popular remedies in the world, and commands a larger sale than any other medicinal preparation, domestic or imported, on this side of the Atlantic. As a cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affection, general debility, and as a preventive of epidemic fevers, it takes precedence of every other remedy. This fact should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to foment their local abortions on the public in its stead, how futile their small attempts to injure the community must necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the "suckers."

Improvement in CHARLESTON.—Among the recent improvements in Charleston is the ware house and builders' depot of Mr. P. P. DALL, the manufacturer of Doors, Sashes and Blinds, extending through from No. 20 Hayne street to No. 35 Pinckney street, and said to be the most extensive as well as the most complete establishment of the kind South of Baltimore.

And those seeking good farming Lands will do well to examine this plantation, and inspect the crops raised there the present year.
