As our readers have no doubt ob served for themselves, the hope of our enemies is that, the arbitrary measures inaugurated in certain parts of South Carolina may provoke the citizens to some measure of resistance This hope is indulged, to the end that an excuse may be furnished for still further fightening the "coil of empire" around the South. President Grant wants this excuse, and they who in South Carolina have se cured Federal intervention and mili tary law for purposes of their own. also want this excuse. As to the South Carolina faction, headed by A S. Wallace, the utterance of Mr Hoge discloses their animus. Their motto is, "Cry havoc! and let slip the dogs of war," upon this State, or at least, upon certain parties thereof. In view of this, as we have before said, it is incumbent upon us to act circumspectly, to take no untenable ground, to keep ever—even techni-cally—right. We are certainly in a deplorable condition. Whilst the prospect is dark indeed, we see no occasion for nervous fears or unmanly misgivings. We see no occasion for inactivity or despondency. As well as we may, let us, with heads erect and "level" and spirits undaunted pursue each of us his daily avocations. Let the business of the State be prosecuted to the best advantage.
