PEOPLE OF EDGEFIELD LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST!

It is a well known fact that since the close of the war there has been more deception practiced in the manufacture of Shoes, than in any other article of real necessity; and that the people have well-nigh lost confidence in those who sell them. I propose, as far as in me lies, to remedy this evil, and to proclaim to the

GOOD PEOPLE OF EDGEFIELD,

And all who honor me with their patronage, that I will never engage in such a traffic; that I will hold myself accountable for the faithful representation of every article sold, and never permit the slightest infraction of the principles of Honor and Fair Dealing. Never before has a better class of goods been brought to this market. They will be sold 10 Per Cent. lower than at any period since the war. Reclamation will be made in every instance when

BOOTS AND SHOES

Bought of me, do not give ENTIRE SATISFACTION. Shoes cheerfully EXCHANGED, or MONEY REFUNDED. Come and buy your Shoes, where you have the Positive assurance of being Honorably and Fairly dealt with. No Second Price. No "drummers" employed. Fair dealing or none.

Salvation Through Poverty.

Dying alone Because he is poor, Going through the invisible door To the unknown, All unattended— No one to see it all over and ended. No one to pray, No one to lay, Good-bye to the spirit departing to-day Because he is poor.

Open your doors, Ye angels that take Unfriendly mortal for charity's sake Up to your floors; Say, have ye places Shall welcome him, freed from the earth's cold embraces, Where he was torn By talons of scorn— Manfully borne All night through, though evermore crying for more? Because he is poor?

He died alone, Because he was poor; None lingered or watched at the sad earthly door. For hearts are stone Not one to ache For his pitiful sake— Ah! well that the morning was only to break There by his bed. None at his side Save invisible dead— Who come in our places to watch, it is said— Because he is poor.

I see how it is— How it seems to me, He treads the bright floors, which I barely see, And the Heavens are his; His sickness, health— His penury, wealth— And bliss inopportune comes, as by stealth From endless skies, This is the prize Of one who dies Unsummed in the warmth of our human eyes Because he is poor.

Ku-Klux in Indiana.

Governor Baker, of Indiana, has issued a proclamation in reference to the organized band that recently lunged the three negro murderers in that State, in which he says:

Whereas, organized bands of armed and masked men have recently usurped the functions and powers of the Judiciary in the counties of Franklin and Clarke, and have assumed the right to forcibly take prisoners from the jails of said counties and execute them for offences against the laws of this State, charged to have been committed by such prisoners, and in the latter county three negro men were taken from the jail and executed by one of these lawless organizations, and it has been made known to me that proclamations have been published in said county of Clarke, purporting to emanate from one of these men, notifying all colored persons who have settled in said county since the close of the late war, to leave said county on pain of death; and being also informed that there now are colored prisoners in the jail of Clarke County, who may be in danger of mob violence:

Now, therefore, I, Conrad Baker, Governor of the State of Indiana, do hereby call upon the local authorities and people of said county, and of all other counties where these illegal organizations may exist, to use all the lawful means in their power for the suppression of the same, and for the speedy arrest and trial of those who have been engaged in the recent terrible tragedy before mentioned, etc., etc.

From the above it appears that notwithstanding Illinois is a loyal State there is great and serious opposition on the part of some of her citizens to the presence of colored people within her borders.

A NEW STRANGE AND TERRIBLE DISEASE IN NORTH CAROLINA.—We learn (says the Weldon North Carolina News) of a disease that has existed for some time past in certain portions of Northampton County and elsewhere, which is terrible in its results. It has been known in those sections before to a limited extent, but not until this fall has it been general in its character. The symptoms are exactly similar to those of yellow fever, and the patient suffers almost as much as with the latter disease. There have been some thirty cases in Northampton recently, some of them fatal, but the physicians have learned to treat the disease, and thus stop the fatality. It is not thought to be epidemic, but to result from several material causes.

Of the severity of the forest fires, the Green Bay, Wisconsin, Advocate, relates the following in describing the fire of "Pestigo": "The cooled-headed survivors of the great fires at Pestigo and other points agree in the statement that the fire did not come upon them generally from burning trees and other objects to the windward, but the first notice they had of it was a whirlwind of flame in great clouds from above the tops of the trees, which fell upon and enveloped everything. The atmosphere seemed one of fire. The poor people inhaled it, or the intense heat, and fell down dead. This is verified by the appearance of many of the corpses. They were found dead in the roads and open spaces, with not a trace of burning upon their bodies or clothing. At Sugar Bush, which is a clearing four miles wide at some points, corpses were found in the open road between fences which were only slightly burned. No mark of fire was upon them, but they laid there as if asleep. This seems to explain why so many were killed in compact masses. Fences and cleared fields were burned in spots and elsewhere not touched. Fish were killed in the streams."

A STRANGE ACCIDENT.—A strange and extremely unpleasant mistake occurred in East Boston recently. A new domestic had just been engaged by a family on London street. The lady of the house had occasion to use an application of kerosene oil, and had let a bottle of it in the kitchen. The new girl supposed it to be hair oil, and thought an application would benefit her hair. So she poured on a good quantity of it—she seldom do anything of the kind by halves—and went to bed. The effect of it was not only very surprising, but very painful. When she arose in the morning her head was as bald as the traditional billiard ball, and the oil, which had trickled down her face, had run into her eyes, burning her face and seriously endangering her eye-sight. She was removed to the city hospital for treatment.—Boston Advertiser.

From the Planters' (La.) Banner, 20th. White vs. Negro Labor in Louisiana. Mr. Louis Grevenberg has about twenty-one field hands at work on the share system on the west side of the Teche, in the parish of St. Mary, all of them white men, and they will make over ten hogsheads of sugar and fifteen barrels of molasses to the hand this year, besides corn enough for their own use. They raise chickens to sell, eggs, vegetables, and other things nearly enough to pay their own accounts. The twelve white families on his place have this year bought two barrels of pork, about two hundred pounds of bacon, about thirty-six barrels of flour, and coffee and salt. They furnish their own teams, which they keep fat and strong, and they give Mr. Grevenberg very little trouble.

They work in the field every month in the year, and their doctor's bills do not amount to more than a dollar a head yearly for each member of their families. They are thrifty, and some of the families will, in a few years, have money enough to buy homes of their own.

Dr. Bussey sent to the New Orleans German Immigration Society last spring for white laborers. They sent him fifteen hands. They worked the crop through June, and till laid in July, did well, were not sick more than the negroes, worked side by side with the negroes in the field, the negroes working better than when working by themselves.

Dr. Bussey said the could not have made his crop without these white men, and will never attempt to make a crop without white laborers. He says that white labor will come, and must be used. He has about fifty white men at work in sugar making.

THE BOND HOLDERS GETTING ALARMED.—We find the following telegraphic dispatch in the New York Standard, of Tuesday last, under the caption of "The South Carolina Legislature to be bought":

WASHINGTON, November 27. It has come out that a lobby is in the process of organization in this city and New York, for the purpose of bribing the members of the South Carolina Legislature to secure financial legislation favorable to the interests of the holders of fraudulent bonds. It is presumed that thirty thousand dollars will constitute sufficient funds.

HOW GOVERNOR SCOTT STANDS.—The Columbia Plaindealer very truthfully says: "In Governor Scott's report to the Ku-Klux Committee on the State debt, as is now exhibited, he stands self-convicted of falsehood before the United States. In the matter of his promise to the Tax-payers' Convention, he stands self-convicted before the Stand of the same offence. He denied to the Auditor that he made the promise alleged. He now admits the promise, but alleges that he had no right to make it, and thus goes back upon it."

THE POLITICAL COMPLEXION OF THE NEXT CONGRESS.—As Congress assembled on Monday last, the 4th instant, a brief statement of its political complexion will be of interest to the general reader.

With the exception of two vacancies in the Senate, the Forty-second Congress, which did commence its second session on Monday last, is now complete. In the Senate there are fifty-six Republicans and fifteen Democrats. The two vacancies in the Senate will probably be filled by Democrats, making in that case, seventeen Democrats to fifty-six Republicans. The House will be composed of one hundred and forty Republicans and one hundred and three Democrats, giving the Republicans a majority of thirty-seven in the House, and a majority of seventy-six on joint ballot.

The Republican strength of the House shows a marked falling off compared with the Forty-first Congress, when the Republicans numbered one hundred and seventy-six to sixty-nine Democrats.

The young ladies of Waterville, Me., having recently organized an anti-tobacco society, a young man of that town have organized an anti-consect society.

Fifty young widows reside in the small town of Cereville, Ind., and it is unsafe for an unprotected man to pass through there.

"Padded steps" are announced as fashionable in Boston.

The Girls (Ga.) Star has the following: "Old Jim Smith, of Butts, who lives on the 15th Street, was called on to subscribe for the riot of the Chicago people. He subscribed a hundred bundles of fodder to throw that kicked over the kerosene lamp that burned this modern Sodom."

An Iowa woman recently presented her happy husband with a divorce which she had procured while on a visit to Minnesota.

Young ladies now-a-days make a big bustle over newspapers, and many a one gets her back up on them.

A young lady pianist who has been practicing "Let me kiss him for his mother" might more safely try to kiss her father.
