the Committee when it was approved Surely, if he neglects his duty by not at tending the meetings of his Committee, not neglect theirs! Sir, the Rail Road proposed to be built Act will supply a want which has long been felt by the community living along the line of its proposed route. I am my self a resident and one of the Representatives of the County through which that route runs; and I speak of my own knowledge when I say, that many of my constituents are obliged to haul their Cotton 50 miles to reach the nearest Rail Road station, and, of course, have to haul the fertilizers they purchase the same distance back. Thus, the transportation, not only of the crop but of the chief means of raising it, swallows up a large portion of its proceeds. And the same disadvantage attends the transaction of all their business which involves either transportation or travel.

Sir, we esteem it a hardship, that while other Companies not only receive Charters from the General Assembly but obtain loans and guarantees beside, this Company, which asks no loans or guarantees, has the greatest difficulty in even obtaining a Charter. And we are com pelled to wonder, whether this difficulty arises from the fact, that this Company has no political combinations, and appeals to no political considerations. Sir, the Governor gives no other reason for vetoing this Act, than that its material portions were incorporated in the Act to premote the consolidation of the Greenville and Columbia Rail Road Company and the Blue Ridge Railroad Company," and that it is, therefore, unnecessary to re enact them. I answer that reason by saying, that it is really no reason at all,-and for this reason, that the incorporation of the material portions of this Act in the Act passed last winter has served no practical purpose, and is not likely to serve any. By that Act, the Greenville and Columbia Railroad Com pany was empowered to build a branch of their Road "f.om some point on the line of their Road. at or east of Anderson Court House and West of the Salm

By motion of J. D. Talbert, Esq., of the Edgefield bar, W. K. Blake, Esq., of Abbeville, was called upon to address the meeting. Mr. Blake spoke of the advantages of the proposed railroad from Greenwood, of the ways and means to build it, and reviewed the whole field in a very thorough manner, and also in a very comprehensive spirit. His remarks were well received. At the close of which Maj. Wright, who is in charge of the mining operations in the interest of Mr. McCormick, was introduced to the meet-ring. He spoke with effect.

Capt. W. K. Bradley was next called upon, and addressed the meeting in tell ing words. A more spirited and manly effort we never heard.

Dr. Joseph Jennings followed in a happy manner. He is a live man—sagacious and fondly devoted to the present enterprise We would say more for him, but his brains and heart are too well known.

Mr. Wm. Parks, Mr. Simms and other distinguished gentlemen addressed the meeting, with much force, and held that they and their all belonged to the company of the Greenwood and Augusta Railroad.

Upon motion, the general meeting adjourned, and at request of Mr. Wright, the Executive Committee convened in his sitting-room. For the encourage ment of the friends along the route, we are authorized to say, that all things work well, and a forward move will be made soon. The Executive Committee is alive, and knows its full duty.

The message of the Governor of North Carolina shows the debt of that State to be thirty-four millions eight hundred thousand dollars. The people are unable to pay the interest on this sum, and the Governor recommends the sale of the railroad interests of the State to prevent repudiation, but at the same time says no financial policy should be determined upon until the facts connec-ted with the debt are ascertained, in order that some conclusion may be reached as to the disposition of the liabilities of the State. A letter from brought him to the authorities here by one of the refugees, confirms that portion of the statement.
