Our Agents in Charleston.

The Advertising Agency of Messrs. Walker, Evans & Cogswell, represented by Roswell T. Logan, Esq., is the only authorized Agency for this paper in Charleston.

Our Dry-Goods Men.

MR. J. H. CHEATHAM.—This gentleman is lately back from New York, and that he accomplished worthy work while there, is fully attested by his novel and attractive list in another column. All that is newest and most popular in ladies' Dress Goods &c., may now be seen at Mr. J. H. Cheatham's, while his other departments, as usual, are most admirably filled. Consult his lists.

GRIFFIN & COBB.—Who does not feel the liveliest interest in these brave boys—even if they did not have as beautiful Goods as were ever brought to Edgefield? But with themselves all right, and their Goods more than right, they have a double claim. Mr. Cobb is also just from New York, and the firm speak for themselves in this issue.

MR. C. F. CHEATHAM.—And this one too has been ransacking New York for comforts, novelties and beauties for his customers. And has succeeded to a very T! At all points and in every department he is fully equipped and ready for the campaign. Among his specialities are exquisite Kid Gloves and Ready-Made Dresses. He also speaks for himself to-day.

Murder Near Ninety-Six.

We learn that in the course of a quarrel on Sunday last, between Adam Hacket and Jerry Coleman, both colored men, and living on the plantation of Dr. Stewart, near Ninety-Six, Coleman seized a club and struck Hacket a fatal blow, from the effects of which he died on the following day. Coleman was promptly arrested and carried to Abbeville jail.

A Chapter for Sharp-Eyed People.

The great advertisement of G. L. Penn & Son, in this week's Advertiser, is emphatically a chapter for sharp-eyed people. Groceries and Drugs are a weighty problem for most families, and anything bearing upon the question, as does the great advertisement of the Penns, deserves the careful scrutiny of the public. In those lists there are many good things you know of already, and there are also many good things which you do not know, but which you would like to know. A very worthy, a very solid, a very complete Establishment, is that of the Messrs. Penn.

Further of the Dark Corner Difficulty.

On the 10th inst, Trial Justice Ramey held an inquest upon the body of Henry Fobb, the white Georgian killed by the negroes at Sharpton's in the Dark Corner. Subsequent to the inquest, three negro men, found to be most seriously implicated, gave themselves up, were brought to our jail, and released on bail. Their names are Hal. Bussey, Isaac Davey, and Dan. Hardy.

Local Items.

Heavy frost on Sunday morning last, and another, not quite so heavy on Monday morning. The damage to gardens, however, is by no means so great as might have been expected. And so of the fruit. The fruit prospect, though, is not good. So little cotton is up that the frost had but little scope in this respect.

The floral decorations and music at the Episcopal Church on Easter Sunday, were befitting the joyful season.

We have noted the presence of an unusual number of strangers in our midst during the past week. There was our lively and cavalier friend, A. Baron Holmes, Esq., of the famous Charleston Book House—come to bring his lady on a visit to her family. And Mr. Edward Magrath, of Charleston, on a visit to his brother—our honored townsman. And Genl. M. C. Butler—on law business—and quite at home of course. And Capt. Murdough, of Norfolk, Va., a gallant and distinguished officer of the Confederate Navy—on a visit to old friends, Mrs. and Miss Pickens. And Wm. Talbert Esq., of Alabama—one of our Talberts, and looking so like them that it is hard to believe you don't see him every Sale-day—on a visit to his brother Capt. Bart—many old friends delighted to welcome him.

The free schools hereabouts, which means the negro schools, closed on yesterday, the 15th, and will not open again, we believe, until fall. It seems to us, considering all the talk, and the laws, and the money, and the fuss and confusion, that the little negroes are taught in a very scratchy and jumpy manner.

Our young people have had no pic-nics or fishing-parties this spring. What do our young men mean? Have they settled down into a regular set of "gourds"? Poky young men, you know, are called "gourds" now-a-days—and very properly. It's almost better to be a "hoodlum" than a "gourd!"

We have have had a liberal and lively experience of the "Belle Marie" lately—the famous Mathis wine. And how pure and delicious it is! This wine-making in our section is one of the brightest features of the times. Who will bear off the palm in this line this summer? As for us, we swear by the "Belle Marie!"

It is gratifying to note—and deserves public commendation—with what spirit of accommodation, energy and efficiency the Messrs. Grice, father and son, keep up their Hack Line between this and the Pine House. Their efforts should be duly appreciated.

Since the fees of the Sheriff have been so seriously cut down by Act of the Legislature, Hardy Wall, our Sheriff, has bravely resumed the plough-handles—by which meritorious proceeding Mr. Wall certainly sets a very good example.

Our honored neighbor, Mrs. B. M. Talbert, has had the first Green Peas of the season, in Edgefield. Or rather, she has had them. And if any one else has, then we don't know it.

Every afternoon, certain prisoners in our jail, sing, in a very lusty manner "O who will come and go with me? I'm bound for the Promised Land." Strange it is how singing lightens the burden of life!

"Odontolina."—An Excellent Preparation.

We have recently tested the "Odontolina,"—the new and popular Mouth Wash recently introduced in this market by Mr. A. A. Clisby, Druggist. The Odontolina leaves a most pleasant flavor in the mouth—pure and sweet—superior to anything of the kind we have ever used. It is said to be a combination of the bark of the South American Soap Tree, with other cleansing and preserving ingredients, delicately flavored; and as above stated, imparts a sense of cleanliness to the Mouth and teeth altogether delightful. Give the Odontolina a trial, and you will thank us for advising you to do so.

☞ The next Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Graniteville Manufacturing Company will be held at their Office, in Graniteville, on Thursday, the 24th instant.

Our New Town Council.

On Monday last, occurred our annual Municipal Election. Our citizens, white and colored, wisely combined in support of one and the same ticket—a ticket upon which both parties and both races are ably represented. This is exactly as it should be, and will undoubtedly lead not only to harmony and mutual good feeling, but also to increased public efficiency. The Council of the past twelve months was a good and an active one—the best perhaps we have had for years. And we hope, and believe, that the new one will not only follow in its footsteps, but, with a better and broader chance, outstrip it far. The result of the election was as follows:

For Intendant.
O. F. CHEATHAM.

For Wardens.
D. L. TURNER,
ROBT. GREEN,
A. A. CLISBY,
GEO. SIMKINS.

A Partial Settlement.

On yesterday, the 15th, Mr. P. A. Eich Berger, the late County Treasurer, had a partial settlement with the County Commissioners, and took their receipts for $10,752, which amount he had paid out, according to vouchers, for the County. He says that he is owing the Commissioners some few hundred dollars yet, and that he will settle in full at the next meeting of the Board.

When You go to Augusta, Visit These Places.

MRS. LECKIE'S.—As usual, Mrs. Anna Leckie has imported and prepared miracles of Millinery for the delectation of the fair ones. Fashion was never less exclusive than now. Almost every age of history contributes its models for the present styles; and from these Mrs. Leckie, with the rare taste which characterizes her, has selected and gracefully combined all the best ideas. See Mrs. Leckie's new card. Our ladies, therefore, must visit Mrs. Leckie's, or die!

JORDAN'S.—Jordan is an Edgefield man who set up in the Clothing Business a year or so ago—but with the experience of years to back him—and with a personal character to attract many customers, and hold them fast forever. His Clothing for Men and Boys is not surpassed in style and quality by any in the city. So read Jordan's advertisement and put his name high up on your card.

ROGERS'.—Mr. E. G. Rogers is the proprietor of the grand new Furniture Establishment. And you must not forget that fashions change in furniture as well as in raiment. For instance, you might step into Rogers' and behold many beautiful things without having an idea of what they were, and yet they would turn out to be new and improved chairs, sofas, bureaus, bedsteads, and the like. Wonderful it is to view the new things at Rogers'. But Rogers keeps all styles of furniture—from the handsomest to the plainest from the oldest to the newest patterns. He has a new announcement in this week's Advertiser.

THE PEOPLES CLOTHING STORE.—This is Ramsay's where Edgefield people will find not only their old friend, Ramsey, but also their older friend, John Lyon. For many and many a year Ramsay has had a hand (and an able one at that!) in clothing the citizens of Edgefield and their children. And surely no man deserves kinder remembrance from customers than Ramsay. His present Stock is Large, Varied and Complete beyond all description. And his Tailoring Department is unrivaled. Read his new card, and write his name in the palms of your hands.

COOKE'S.—Certainly no one in Edgefield will ask what Cooke's is! For did not our great-grandfathers buy their Clothing from Cooke? And our grandfathers, fathers and uncles since? And ourselves still later? And will not our children and childrens' children do the same thing after us? Certainly they will. We have no doubt the Day of Judgment will find Cooke's crowded with delighted men buying Coats, and Pants, and Vests, and Hats, and Shirts, and all that. And Blanchard arrayed in Cooke's mantle! How well he wears it! Of course we will all go to Cooke's.

NEBLETT & GOODRICH'S.—It is only the Cotton magnates who need go to Neblett & Goodrich, the great Southern Manufacturers of Cotton Gins. And by the by, speaking of cotton magnates, look at the list of them contained in the new card of Messrs. Neblett & Goodrich in another column. They are men who know a good cotton gin from a poor one. But all sharp men buy Neblett & Goodrich's Gins, any way, now-a-days; so there is no use saying any more on the subject.

PRONTAUT'S.—Prontaut, the magnificent Jeweller. But you will not find him where you have found him for twenty-five years past. He has moved further up town—between the Central and Globe Hotels—where he has opened a new establishment which you can scarcely believe to have been produced except by a vigorous rub of Aladdin's lamp. Prontaut has a magnificent Regulator which gives time to all Augusta. So step in and set your watch.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA STORE.—This is Powell & Muller's; and recreant to country and to kin is the Edgefield man or woman who does not go thither, and leave there a considerable moiety of his or her cash. Powell & Muller are South Carolinians—first cousins to all of us. So let us do our duty by them. In to-day's Advertiser they give forth pleasant "sounds." Turn to their new card, and listen!

A Correction.

In our last issue, in noticing the presence of certain negroes on the front seats at the Chiriki Entertainment, and immediately adjoining those occupied by ladies and gentlemen, we said one of the party was "a colored woman of doubtful character." In using these two latter words we doubtless did the person in question an injustice; as we have since been shown high commendations in her behalf from prominent gentlemen of Columbia—stating that she had been reared in that city, and had ever borne a good moral and religious character. Our information, authorizing the use of the words alluded to, was based on the assertion of a colored member of the Legislature from Edgefield; but from the testimonials which have been placed in our hands, we are satisfied that he was wrong in his assertions; and therefore, whilst we still condemn the conduct of those colored people, in forcing themselves where they were not wanted, yet we readily make the above correction as to the colored woman, as we would not, under any circumstances, cast a doubt upon or damn the character of any one.

The Trap Door Down and Another Old Bach Caught.

Married, at Newberry, S. C., on the 6th inst, hard and fast by two preachers, T. P. SLIDER, Esq., of the Progressive Age, and Miss WILLIE GILDER, of Newberry County.

And Tom Slider we congratulate you—and now that you have a guiding "Star" of your own, we trust your future career may be crowned with the most perfect peace and soul-satisfying prosperity.

WHOSE HANDSOME HOUSE IS THAT?—Such was the inquiry of the traveller, as he passed an unusually well finished residence not many miles from here. The style of the sashes, the clearness of the glass, the beauty of the blinds and doors, the neatness of the columns and balusters around the piazza, the perfect proportion of the brackets and mouldings, all struck the traveller with pleasure and admiration. All the above were furnished by Mr. P. P. Toale, of Charleston, S. C. Prices sent free on application.

Notice.—Two Silver Medals and four Diplomas were awarded to Alfred C. Force, 268 Broad St., Augusta, by the Cotton States Fair Association, for the largest, finest and best assortment of Boots and Seoes. 6m 6.
