CANDIDATES and their Friends will remember that Resolutions or Communications endorsing particular individuals must be paid for, and in transmitting them to us by mail, or otherwise, do not forget this all important prerequisite.

☞ The Washington Post says that Senator Butler has quietly, but successfully, labored for the advancement of the material interests of South Carolina during the present session of Congress. An appropriation of $200,000 for the improvement of Charleston harbor, $20,000 for the erection of a light house on Paris Island, $5,000 for the improvement of the navigation of the Pee Dee River, and the restoration to the State of the Charleston citadel—the military college of South Carolina—together with the refunding of $1,500 import duties on the historic St. Michael's chime of bells, are referred to by his friends with pride as being more than has been accomplished for that State in the past fifty years.

State Sunday School Convention.

This body will meet in the city of Greenville on Wednesday and Thursday, the 21st and 22nd of August. The County Chairmen will attend to the appointing of delegates as soon as practicable. Should there be any counties in which the Chairmen do not act, we would request the Sunday School Superintendents living at the Court Houses to appoint delegates. It is very desirable that every county be represented. The local committee of arrangements and the terms offered by railroads to visitors will be published in due time.

Failure of a Grange Enterprise.

The last number of the Warrenton Clipper contained the following item:

"The Planters Union Agency, of Augusta, has failed. Two of our citizens are heavy losers Mr. William Hart lost 41 bales of cotton."

A Chronicle reporter called upon officers of the Agency yesterday, and learned that its affairs were embarrassed on account of advances made to planters, and of the failure of many of the subscribers to the stock of the corporation to pay up their subscriptions. The total number of shares is 1,512, of which the par value is ten dollars each. About 600 shares have been paid up The Agency owes about $3,000, the principal part of which, or about $1,800 is due to Mr. William Hart, of Warren county. About $500 is due Mr Neal, of the same county. The Agency owes several other parties amounts from $100 to $250. The officers here are confident that when the Directors hold a meeting, which will be soon, means will be devised to pay off the indebtedness at once The Agency was established in November, 1874, by the Grangers. We understand that the rates charged for storing and selling cotton have been so low that the receipts have been insufficient to meet expenses. It is possible that a Receiver may be appointed to take charge of the Agency, and enforce the payment of the unpaid subscriptions to the stock.—Chronicle & Constitutionalist of Saturday.

CHARLESTON'S INTERIOR CONNECTIONS.

The Aiken correspondent of the News and Courier, himself a Charlestonian, presents in forcible language the necessity of activity on the part of Charleston, with the object of retaining and augmenting our trade with the interior.

The railroad from Edgefield to Pine House (now Trenton) will certainly be built, and a railroad from Edgefield to Aiken is looked for in the near future Charleston's interest is in the connection with Edgefield and the extension to Greenwood. Our correspondent gives clearly his reasons for believing that it must be to the advantage of Charleston to control the business of Edgefield, Abbeville and Anderson, which will be diverted from her, by the present Augusta and Greenwood Railroad, to Savannah, Port Royal or Wilmington if she did not place herself promptly in position to command the situation. It is not now a choice between bringing business to Charleston by one or other of two routes, but between securing the business and losing it. From Aiken the persons interested in Port Royal can readily make a connection with the Port Royal Railroad. Spartanburg will be tapped by a proposed extension of the Augusta and Greenwood Railroad. Charleston has at stake, therefore, both the trade of the fertile country along the Savannah River, and the trade expected from the West when the Spartanburg and Asheville Railroad shall have made connection with the Tennessee roads.

The subject is one that demands serious and early consideration, for Charleston has to all appearance, an opportunity to obtain at a small cost, the control of large and profitable business. No large expenditure is needed, as is explained by our correspondent. With little effort and no risk worth naming, the prize can be won.

The Inscriptions on the Augusta Confederate Monument.

The Ladies' Memorial Association have decided to place the following inscriptions on the Monument, one on a tablet on each side of the shaft:

"Erected by the Ladies' Memorial Association of Augusta, A. D. 1878, in honor of the men of Richmond County, who died in the cause of the Confederate States."

"OUR CONFEDERATE DEAD."

IN MEMORIAM.

"No nation rose so white and fair,
None fell so pure of crime."

This was furnished by Colonel C. C. Jones.

The following was presented by Gen. C. A. Evans:

Worthy
to have lived and known
Our Gratitude;
Worthy
to be hallowed and held in tender remembrance;
Worthy
the Fadeless Fame which
CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS
WON.
Who gave themselves in life
and death for us;
For the Honor of Georgia,
For the Rights of the States,
For the Liberties of the People,
For the Sentiments of the South,
For the Principles of the Union,
As these were handed down to us
By the Fathers of our Common Country.

PROBABLE INSTITUTION IN OUR MIDST OF A LODGE OF THE KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

Mr. R. O. Sams, now of Spartanburg, but formerly so well and favorably known among us, has been appointed Deputy Grand Dictator for the purpose of instituting Subordinate Lodges of the Knights of Honor within the boundaries of South Carolina. And for this purpose, Mr. Sams will visit Edgefield on or about the 11th or 12th instant.

Having been requested at the last moment to make this notice, we have time now only to state very briefly the objects of this noble and rapidly growing order:

1st, To unite fraternally all acceptable men of every profession, business or occupation.

2nd, To give all moral and material aid in its power to members of the order, by holding moral, instruction and scientific lectures, by encouraging each other in business, and by assisting one another to obtain employment.

3rd, To establish a Benefit Fund, from which a sum not exceeding $2000, shall be paid at the death of a member, to his family, or to be disposed of as he may direct

4th, To establish a fund for the relief of sick or distressed members.

For the Advertiser.

Come up, Gentlemen, and Toe the Mark.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Inasmuch as there are a host of candidates in the field, and but few to be elected, I wish to propound a few questions to them. And the public demands them to answer. The voters in the coming campaign ask them to respond. The good of the country requires that a strict adherence be had, and properly answered. As voters in the primary election, we will not, nor cannot, support, any candidate for the Legislature who refuses to answer explicitly the questions that may follow, viz:

1st. Are you in favor of the Democratic plan of election, I mean by Primary; and have you declared yourselves candidates, or did the people bring you out?

2nd. Are you in favor of reducing the pay of Representatives from five dollars per day to three? If so, speak out!

3d. Are you willing to lose all lost time without pay, during the sitting of the Legislature?

4th. Are you willing that the jurors who are compelled by law to attend court, shall get three dollars per day for their services; and that the State witnesses who are bound over to court, shall receive one dollar and fifty cents per day?

5th. Will you, if elected, do all you can in the Legislature to bring about these important changes?

There are other questions, of minor importance, that might be asked just here, but we deem them unnecessary at this time. The ones we allude to must be answered and fully endorsed, either in the affirmative or in the negative.

I am confident that I express the wish and desire of a majority of the white voters in the coming election.

I cannot exactly understand why it is there are so many aspirants for office, unless it is in hope of great gain. Before the war men were elected to the Legislature by merit, and they went there for the sake of honor and not of gain.

I would also remark that we wish not more than one lawyer in our Legislative body from each County.

The interest of the people is to be equally divided, in representation. The majority being farmers, let us send farmers to enact our laws. You may be sure that if you fail to look after your own interest, no one else will do it for you. In conclusion let us adopt the plan of Gov. Hampton: That is, to send our best men to the Legislature.

Why Longer Remain Fat?

Obesity was considered by the ancients as evidence of coarseness. Even yet the slim forms of the Grecian God desses are regarded as models of female beauty. Corpulence is now held to be a disease, and Allan's Anti-Fat has fully demonstrated it to be curable. The Anti-Fat chemically neutralizes in the stomach all glucose, saccharine, and oleaginous substances, thus preventing the formation of fat. Its use insures a loss of from 2 to 5 pounds per week. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

STATE NEWS.

The State Grange meets this year in Spartanburg, August 13th.

A scaffold is being erected around the State House preparatory to repairing the roof.

Hon Wm. Hood, a member of the House, from Abbeville County, in the last Legislature, positively refuses to be a candidate for re election.

Mr Luther Hankinson, of Beech Island, S. C., has sent to this office a cotton stalk about four feet in height, on which are eighty four bolls and forms. This is certainly very early. Mr. Hankinson has forty acres of this cotton.—Chron. & Consti.

On Wednesday evening the 19th of June, a negro, David Crawford, killed his wife in Beech Island, South Carolina, and then killed himself. Thursday morning a white man named Terry, a short distance from where the tragedy occurred, chopped a woman with whom he was residing in the head, and then shot her. Afterwards he shot and killed himself.

Col. J. S. Murray, of Anderson, chairman of the Committee charged with the duty of visiting Augusta and conferring with the citizens in the interest of the Savannah Valley Railroad, will visit that city on the 10th of July. Arrangements will be made to bring the committee face to face with the people, to the end that the advantages which may accrue to Augusta by the construction of the Savannah Valley, may be made known. It is proposed that this road shall tap the Augusta and Greenwood at Doris's Mines.

Rev. Dr. Plumer has received a call to return to the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church at Alleghany, Pennsylvania, which he gave up sixteen years ago. Dr. Plumer has resigned his professorship in the Theological Seminary at Columbia.

Winnsboro ladies are busily engaged making preparations for the Fourth of July dinner in aid of the Confederate monument to be erected at Columbia.

A decree of divorce was granted to Mrs. F. J. Moses at the recent term of the court in Sumter. This is the instance in which the law proved a blessing.

Gov. Hampton has bought a summer residence in Salem, Va.

The Press and Banner has entered its twenty-seventh year. Very long may it wave and make its favorable impression on the public mind in the fearless expression of the right and suppression of the wrong.—Newberry News.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Ramey, the colored Congressman from South Carolina, has assured a Tribune correspondent of the ability of the Republicans to carry three of the five Congressional Districts of that State, if not prevented by fraud and intimidation. There will be neither the one nor the other, and the Democrats will certainly carry every district but one. They may carry the Charleston District also, but too many fusionists and doughfaces may cause defeat in that quarter.

The Richmond Dispatch says a person who was present and witnessed the scene, says that on Thursday last, when Gen. Joe Johnston was upon the floor of the United States Senate by invitation of a Senator, the scene in that grave body was almost like a levee. Senators from all parts of the United States came up to be introduced to him and to shake his hand. Not once in a generation is such a scene witnessed. Business was almost suspended.

The New York Tribune says: In view of the exposition of bribery and corruption in the election of Patterson, of South Carolina, to the United States Senate, the Senate not only disgraces itself and the country by allowing him to retain his seat, but also robs the penitentiary of South Carolina of one of the most distinguished personages entitled to its hospitality.

The Washington correspondent of the Charleston Journal of Commerce thinks the Democratic Presidential ticket in 1880 will be Thurman and Gordon. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the second place will be given to the South, and no one would fill the bill better than the soldier Senator from Georgia.

The United States Senate has refused by a tie vote to restore the franking privilege, so far as relates to letters. Speeches and public documents go free.

Hon. H. A. Herbert, member of Congress, from Alabama, and Hon. Edward Hooker, member of Congress, from Mississippi, are both natives of Laurens District South Carolina.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA SOCIETY'S BARBECUE.

The South Carolina Society and a number of invited guests had quite a merry time up the canal yesterday. The usual methods of making the day pass pleasantly were freely resorted to, and, about 4 o'clock, p. m., a grand barbecue dinner, under the supervision of Mr. P. Promrose, was served. At the close of the meal, Mr. W. M. Dunbar, in the absence of President Gary, read out some regular toasts which were responded to in the following order:

1. The Day We Celebrate—Hon. Robert Aldrich, of Barnwell, S. C.
2 Our Mother State—Mr. F. W. Capers
3. Our Adopted State—Captain C. E. Coffin.
4. The Press—Mr. J. R. Randall.
5 The Women of the South—Hon. Patrick Walsh.

Mr. Aldrich's response was very beautiful and eloquent. His complimentary allusions to Georgia and South Carolina were received with hearty applause. The responses of Messrs. Capers and Coffin were in excellent taste and most happily delivered.

On the return trip the "Augusta Estes" injured her propeller by striking a snag.

All who participated in this excursion will remember it most gratefully. Capt. Land and his committee conduc ed everything in first-class order, and it is to the credit of the chivalric South Carolinians who have made Georgia their home, that they have had a festival quite equal to anything of the kind in our annals, with nothing to mar its features in the slightest degree.—Chronicle and Constitutionalist.

ACKLEN AND ROSSER.

THE TOPIC OF THE WASHINGTON GOSSIPS.

The Louisiana Congressman Returning to the Capital.

[Correspondence Philadelphia Times.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.

The Acklen excitement, which was beginning to die out, promises to be revived again by the presence here of the gentleman himself. Just what he intends doing here can scarcely be surmised. He cannot want to find General Rosser, for that loud-talking gentleman is in another part of the country, which could be reached more easily from New Orleans than from Washington. He cannot want to see the lady in the case, for she, too, has left town. Mrs. Weicker can scarcely be said to have brought Acklen back to the scene of his disgrace, for she has done all she could to throw discredit upon the whole story by publishing a card denying that such a scene ever occurred in her house, and also asserting that there were no ladies in her house on the evening in question. The names of Senator and Mrs. Gordon have been mentioned in connection with the affair, but all they know of it is from third and fourth parties, and the only connection they had with it is ridiculous. They merely intended to join General Rosser at the restaurant late in the evening, a purpose that was interrupted by the alleged Acklen transaction. The whole affair is very strange and inexplicable, but it it has not two sides it was differ from anything of like nature that has ever occurred. Thus far the public has been informed that Acklen, accompanied by a very beautiful lady, standing high in social centres and the sister-in-law of a member of Congress, went to a fashionable restaurant, called for and obtained a private room and subsequently ordered refreshments; that later in the evening, impelled by the cries of the lady, General Rosser broke into the room and rescued her from Acklen's insults. There are circumstances which go to show that Rosser was an intruder in the room and that his course was unwarranted. It is said, and generally believed here, that Mr. Acklen and the lady were subsequently seen in a carriage together and that the lady two days afterwards went to the station to bid Acklen good-bye on his quitting the city. Had Rosser borne himself properly three reputations would have been saved that are now more or less shattered, namely, the handsome young widow's, Mr. Acklen's and his own. The subsequent conduct of the lady would suggest the belief that it was no a case for interference on Rosser's part or anybody's.

ACKLEN AS A MAN.

Acklen is a dashing fellow, but nobody accuses him of having the ability of Webster, Clay or Calhoun. Indeed, I am rather inclined to believe that he is by no means strong in the upper story. He is too frivolous and self conscious. According to his biography, written by himself, he was born in 1850, and he is, therefore, the youngest man in Congress. The sketch of his life is rather pretentious. It says he was educated partly by a private tutor at Belmont, the summer home of his parents, at Nashville; then at Burlington College and, finally, graduated successively at two foreign universities. Returning to America, he graduated in the law department of Cumberland University, at Lebanon, Tennessee, and later at Memphis, Tennessee, and abandoned the practice of the law to superintend his sugar plantations in Louisiana A distinguished resident of Louisiana gives some interesting points about Acklen. He says the young Congressman is the most profligate of spendthrifts; that he inherited several very large and very valuable plantations from his father who was a very rich man, at one time owning nine hundred slaves. Young Acklen ran through this immense property with the rapidity of a locomotive, spending his money in a most foolish manner. It is said he married a lady worth more than half a million of dollars, and that he ran through with that in a short time. His wife died some time ago, and the children were sent to the home of their mother. The gentleman from whom these facts come says he does not think the stories are true about Acklen's great wealth. He does not think Acklen has anything in the way of property except his personal effects and the big diamond he wears in his shirt-front.

MRS. TILTON AND BEECHER.

LETTERS THAT THE EXAMINING COMMITTEE KEPT SECRET.

A Reaffirmation that her Confession of Adultery with Henry Ward Beecher is the Truth and Nothing but the Plain Truth.

[New York Sun of June 26th.]

The charges that Mrs. Barbara Walton made to the Examining Committee of Plymouth Church against Mrs. Elizabeth R. Tilton, the summons to Mrs. Tilton to attend the meeting of the Examining Committee and reply to those charges, and the pointed reply of Mrs. Tilton to the summons are given below in full. The last named document, which has been the one most eagerly sought for, has been jealously guarded by the Examining Committee, and it was omitted from the report which they made to the church on last Friday night, when Mrs. Tilton was excommunicated. It contains the reaffirmation of Mrs. Tilton that her acknowledgment of adultery with Henry Ward Beecher was the truth and nothing but the truth. The action of the church on Friday night is deemed final, and Mrs. Tilton is hereafter to be enrolled on the small list of excommunicated members, with Henry C. Bowen.

The following are the letters:

To the Examining Committe of Plymouth Church:

I charge Elizabeth R. Tilton, a member of this church, with unchristian conduct and wilful violation of her covenant obligations with the church.

Specification I.—That on or about the 15th day of April, 1878, in the city of Brooklyn, she said in my presence that the statements contained in a certain card, which was the following day published in the daily newspapers of New York and Brooklyn, and of which a copy is here to annexed, were true; whereas the statement therein contained that she had committed adultery with the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was false.

Witnesses: Barbara Walton, 22 Orange street, Brooklyn; Henry W. Sage, 755 St Martin avenue, Brooklyn.

Specification II.—That on or about the 16th day of April, 1878, she caused to be published, the said card, in several newspapers in the city of New York, with the intent and purpose of bringing this church into scandal and disrepute, and without communicating the pretended facts therein alleged to any officer of this church, or giving to the church any opportunity for investigation into such pretended facts, or for exercising discipline in the case, before such publication was made.

Witnesses; Barbara Walton, 22 Orange street, Brooklyn; William Young, 24 Orange street, Brooklyn.

(Signed) MRS. B. WALTON.

Dated May 28, 1878.

Mr Ira B. Wheeler:

MY DEAR SIR:—A few weeks since, after long months of mental anguish, I told, as you know, a few friends, whom I had bitterly deceived, that the charge brought by my husband of adultery between myself and the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was true, and that the lie I had lived so well the last four years had become intolerable to me,

That statement I now solemnly reaffirm and leave the truth with God, to whom also I commit myself, my children, and all who must suffer.

I know full well the explanations that will be sought by many for this acknowledgment: a desire to return to my husband, insanity, malice, everything save the true and only one—my quickened conscience, and the sense of what is due to the cause of truth and justice. During all the complications of these years you have been my confidential friend, and therefore I address this letter to you, authorizing and requesting you to secure its publication. ELIZABETH R. TILTON.

BROOKLYN, April 15th, 1878.

BROOKLYN, May 30, 1878.

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Tilton:

MADAM:—In pursuance of a resolution passed by the Examining Committee of Plymouth Church, at a meeting held last evening, I enclose a copy of the charge and specifications made against you by Mrs. B. Walton, and which the committee have voted to entertain. I am requested to inform you that a meeting of the committee will be held at the church parlors on Monday evening, June 10th, at 8 o'clock, at which time they will receive any reply you may desire to make to the charge and specifications, and will proceed with the trial of the same.

THOMAS J. TILNEY, Clerk.

To the Examining Committee of Plymouth Church:

I have before me a copy of the charge and specifications made against me by Mrs. B Walton, and signed by her, under date of May 28, 1878, and also a letter accompanying the same, wherein you express a willingness to receive any reply I may desire to make.

Therefore I answer, 1st, that in my house on the evening of the 15th day of April, 1878, I did say in the presence of Mrs. Walton that the statement contained in a certain card which she held in her hand was true; a correct copy of the same being annexed to the charge and specifications.

Second—I did authorize the card to be published in several newspapers in the city of New York the following day.

And I now repeat and reaffirm that the acknowledgment of adultery with the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, pastor of Plymouth Church, was the truth and nothing but the truth; and that having previously published a false statement denying the charge, I desired to make the truth as world-wide as the lie had been.

I have no further or other statement to make to the committee.

ELIZABETH R. TILTON.

BROOKLYN, June 18th, 1878.
