HAMPTON STILL ALIVE.

GOD BE PRAISED!

The Old Hero Thinks "He Has Turned the Corner."

For three days after the amputation of his leg, Gov. Hampton's condition was extremely critical. Then, for three or four days, he was reported as steadily improving-past the crisis. Then again, on Monday, the sudden and horrifying announcement was made that he was certainly dying-was beyond all hope. And now, as we go to press on Wednesday at noon, comes the cheering news that he has again rallied We subjoin the very latest telegrams that we can obtain. They are from the Augusta Chronicle and Constitutionalist, of Tuesday and Wednesday:

COLUMBIA, December 16.—Hampton's condition is deplorable. The absent members of his family have been summoned to his bedside, and the worst may be expected. We are to lose h.m. COLUMBIA. December 17.-Governor Hampton's symptoms are said to be unfavorable to day and his general condi-tion an improvement on yesterday. He has certainly been much worse for the past two days; but to day has rallied

COLUMBIA, December 17, 9 P. M .-Gov. Hampton's condition is still critical. He, however, told a gentleman who saw him at six this evening that he thought he had turned the corner. He takes nonrishment in moderation and alto-gether his condition is more hopeful.

THE VICTIMS.

It is now ascertained that no less than forty Protestant ministers died of the yellow fever during the epidemic in the South. This is a sad mortality. Whilst a few may have run from the pestilence the ministers generally must have stood manfully at their posts, or there could not have been any such mortality among them. As far as we have been able to learn only their flocks and forty of them died on the field of duty. All honor to their memory. A splendid shaft, or a grand free memorial church should be erected to the memory of the forty martyrs. Some eight Mississippi alone of the fearful scourge, we believe.

We have recorded the fact that thirtytwo Catholic priests are reported as having perished from the same destroyer. The physicians, too, were great sufferers, and very many of them died. We have not seen an exact statement of the number. The scourge brought out some of the noblest traits of humanity, whilst also revealing some of the ugliest and most repellant characteristics of poor fallen hu

"HARD TIMES."

A recent trip to Charleston revealed to us, more clearly than we have before seen or felt it, the utter stagnation prevailing is business. Not alone in commercial circles is this depression felt. First, the chants who have sold them goods upon time fall behind with their factors, and from these two centres of prosperity the sluggish streams of stagnant business permeate to all industries and all trades and our immediate locality, where severe droughts cut short our crors, but from all parts of the State the cry is the

The cuestion is not how "to tide ourselves along," "waiting for the better stantial, firm prosperity. The reply is an old one, so often heard that our farmers are grown weary of its repetition. Nevertheless, so full is it of importance, so pregnant of possible good results, that we repeat it. Omit planting so much cottonraise more hogs, oats, wheat and corn. a pound if it would force our people to investments in the line of manufactures, where our cotton would be converted into cloths, and towns would spring up whose inhabitants would consume the surplusage of other product: which we could raise .- Ninety-Six Guardian.

NEGROES IN CONGRESS.

It is said that in the Forty-sixth Congress there will be but one negro-Senator Bruce, of Mississippi, unless our O'Hara should gain the seat from the Sec ond District. In Washington it is freely predicted that Bruce will be the last of his race who will ever get to Congress. The Radicals of the North who control matters in some States and cities will not elect the "colored man and brother," and in the South it looks as if he did not stand much chance of political promotion. In 1870, there were nine blacks in Congress; in 1872, seven; change with a bale of cotton to be in 1874, four; in 1876, three; and in 1879 the prospect is tlat there will be but one. After that the place that knows him no more forever. In the next House there will be one hundred and fifteen new members out of two hundred and ninety-three. Of these some have served in former pears.

FIVE DOLLARS A DAY FOR THIRTY DAYS.

The House of Representatives has made a good compromise by passing a bill al lowing members five dollars a day for not more than thirty days. The reaction from the exorbitant rates of previous sessions led many to demand that the pay should be fixed at three dollars a day; but several members showed that this reduction would practically prevent poor men from to limit the length of sessions. A PICTURE GALLERY OF PLOWS -- THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

Have our farmers and planters noticed the beautiful card of Hart & Co, of Charleston, in another column? This cardwith its eighteen cuts of famous Plows, makes a very pretty picture. The pretty picture, however, is the least part of the matter. The Plow is the thing. Well, among the eighteen, certainly every one may be pleased. The Plows are made by Avery & Sons, of Atlanta, and sold by Hart & Co., of Charleston.

A NEW PAPER IN COLUMBIA-THE WEEKLY HERALD.

A new paper, in eight-page form, has been started in Columbia. It is called he Columbia Herald, and issued every Saturday. The editors and proprietors are Messrs Daley & Haves. Price of subscription, one year, $2.00; six months $1.00. The Herald starts off dec dedly well; and its arrangement and execution strike us as being admirable. Its columns are filled with politics, religion, literature, art, science, agriculture, poetry, finance, humor and chit-chat.

CHRISTMAS HORNS ARE A ... READY SOUNDING MERRILY.

Sounding merrily at Mr. Willie Mc-Cullough's, under Masonic Hall. Merrily! merrily! merrily! An I in the Advertiser this week, Mr. McCullough himself announces to his patrons and the public that he is ready at all points for the great christmas anniversary. In all lines - good things to eat, lovely things to wear, pretty things to play with. - MrMcCullough is alike prepared. When you swing around the circle, be sure that? you swing into McCullough's; for there you will stick we know; and there will 'you spend your last Christmas nickel.

FOR THE ADVERTISEB. STRONG SUGGESTIONS TO OUR MEMBERS OF THE GENE-RAL'ASSEGBLY.

Editors Edgefield Advertiser:

While the members of the Legislature are wrangling over the "State's Indebtedness," could you not suggest to our immediate Representatives the propri- ers. Mr. J. A. Richardson was asked to ety, the justice and the honesty of doing something toward paying the honest and bona fide debts due by Edgefield County some few Northern Methodist preachers to its long suffering and impoverished fled. The Southern born remained with creditors-some of whom will have to witness the sale of their lands for taxes in consequence of trusting the financial integrity of the County? We have already had two investigations by gentlemen whose ability and honor are beyond question. Now, if there are any opor nine Prosbyterian ministers died in posed to the payment of the amount reported under the last investigation, let us have the reason for it; if none be given, we can assume that those opposed to its payment are "repudiators," and wish their neighbors to be defrauded of their honest debts. No one wishes the fraudulent debt to be paid. I do not believe the people desire the County either to repudiate or evade its indisputable and well established indebtedess; but, it this be so, how are we to act as to debts due from one citizen to another? Above all, what kind of morality is thus to be inculcated? And there is another matter, Messrs

Editors, that I wish to call the attention of our Representatives to-of far greater importance, and more lasting in its results than any before the Legislature It is what is commonly called the "Stock" or improperly, "No Fence Law"-a law each individual fence his pasture landsplanters are falling behind, then the mer | enclose his stock--keep them from inva ding and trespassing upon his neighbor's land and crops. It is altogether superfluous to go over the threadbare arguments in favor of, or to state objections to the law here. I simply add one reason for the passage of professions. The cry of "hard times" is such a law, not heretotore given by its universal. Not alone is it heard here in advocates. It is this: Very many of our "public highways," or "public roads," are twice as old as our oldest inhabitants. built when the people were but thinly settled, with but few towns and villages as objective places, and with but little reference to avoidance of hills, bogs, or crossing of streams. Our condition is entir ly times." but it is what policy to pursue by altered. Villages have sprung up over the which we can regain a plane of solid, sub- entire country, and our old roads, after wearing out our wagons and carriages, have become worn out themselves. At present we need more public roads, shorter and better ones-thereby saving money and time. These we will gby the passage of the "Steck Law," with but little inconvenience or injury to any one, and with 'he greatest benefit, not For ourselves, we believe it would be a only to the majority, but almost to the good thing if cotton went to three cents whole people. This question is solved by the conflict of our old and new systems; it is irrepressible, inevitable, and the advocates of the change must win

> The progress, agriculturlly, and the improvdd financial condition of the people of those counties that shall adopt this "Stock Law," I am confident, will finally force us, through pride, if not through interest, to abandon the "fences of our fathers," give up our old system, and adopt the new. And we furthermore believe that, if not equal to it will be almost equivalent in its beneficial results in building up the County, to an entire exemption from our annual taxes for many years to come. I have yet to hear of a single land owner who wishes or intends to deprive his tenants of pasturage of their stock; it is emphatically a poor man's law, without injury to any. H. W. ADDISON.

Everything is progressing as well here as could be expected, and the members of the General Assembly are working hard to close the session on the 23rd If this is done, there will be a great volume of business that must go over. On account of a clerical error in the minority report and a defect in the Act of the last General Assembly, a considerable portion of the funds due creditors is locked up in the hands of the County Commissioners. The dele gation met and agreed to provide for the minority report, a majority of them, and introduced a bill to cover the minority report. And yesterday afternoon, at the suggestion of Gov. Bonham, I presented the said bill. The bill which had been referred to the Committee of Ways and Means was withdrawn from the files of the House. But I fear the passage of any bill in reference to this vexed matter will be endangered by the shortness of our time. HORSE THIEF.

On last Saturday afternoon a suspicious looking character passed through town, and was carried before Trial Justice Rogquestion the prisoner. He gave his name as John Freeman, from Spartanburg County; said he had gone to Greenville, sold his oxen and wagon, and had gone on a spree to Atlanta, where he was robbed came from there to Augusta, and being out of morey was compelled to 'foot it' nome. He carried a policeman's club in his boots under his pants, and wore a policeman's coat. He was released for want of evidence. Mr. Richardson, as usual, was not content. He wrote to an acquaintance of his in Spartanburg and made juiries, and asked, by way of postscript if there had been any horses stolen there He received a telegram from a detective at Spartanburg Tuesday afternoon that he enew him (Freeman) well, and that a iorse was stolen the night he left. THE U. S. SIGNAL SERVICE.

Gradually, the wild and ungovernable forces of nature are, through science, made of use to man. Following in the wake of the ingenious inventions for the use of steam and electricity, comes the Is it not wonderful that a system could be originated and perfected whereby an operator can accurately predict the weather of a distant locality? And yet experience proves our "storm signals" to be reliable. Equally great are the advances made in the science of medicine. Step by step, uncertainties and doubts have yielded to absolute certainty. The dis-coveries of Harvey and Jumer have been succeeded by the Golden Medical Discovery of Dr. R V. Pierce. No longer need people despair because some physician has pronounced the lungs unsound Hundreds of testimonials are on file in the office of Dr. Pierce from those who had abandoned all hope, and had been given up to die by physicians and friend. Incipient consumption, bronchitis, and scrofulous tumors, speedily, surely, and permanently, yield to the healing influences of the Discovery. If the bowels be constipated, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. For full particulars, see Pierce's Memorandum Book, given away by all druggists.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver. DAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to
