or think, most desolate of saints, None bring good gifts to thee. We place no candles in thy crypt, No gold upon thy shrineou bringest us the frankincense,

The tapers and the wine. rer gifts, good Nicholas, these, thy children bring, p and down an echoing world hristmas bells all ring.

our brightest, truest love To cro in thy happy brows; No monarch wears a coronet So light as holly-boughs.

We bring our gayest, fairest hopes, With smiling memories spun; o rich a robe has never shone Earth's proudest King upon.

We bring our truest, childhood faith, And place it in thy hand; No jeweled sceptre has such power To rule on sea or land.

Then stay, O dear St. Nicholas! Look on thy heaped-up shrine; Our hearts, our hopes, our memories Our trusts, our faith are thine!

There's not in all the calendar One saint whose altars shine With such gav throngs of worshipers Such precious gifts, as thine!

STATE NEWS.

In the case of Messrs. D. S. Hen lerson, O. C. Jordan, A. P. Brown nd D. F. Myers, of Aiken, arrested ten days ago, charged with intimidation, a preliminary hearing was had before Commissioner Poiner in Columbia. Mr. Myers was bound over and the others were released.

James Mayor, the Radical supervisor of elections at Aiken, caused the arrest of the above lawyers for intimidation at the late election. He is the individual who destroyed the Republican tickets and would not allow his fellow-Radicals to vote.

About noon yesterday, while the South Carolina Legislature was voting for Governor Hampton to be United States Senator, the surgeons were engaged in amputating his leg So it was only a part of the man which was only a part of the man which was made a Senator, but then it is more desirable that even a piece of Hampton should go to the Senate than the whole body of any ordinary man.-Register.

Governor Hampton, immediately after his second inauguration, issued a second proclamation turning the State Government over to Lieutenant Governor W. D. Simpson.

There is now practical evidence that the efforts of the South Carolina Agricultural Society to encourage the growth of jute in South Carolina re not unavailing. Mr. D. O. Haworn, of Due West, has sent to Charton the first bale of Carolina jute, own from seed furnished him. This ttles the question that jute can be own in this State.

The reports from all portions of e State show the cotton crop for his year to be about two per cent. arger than that of last year.
