LOCAL ITEMS.

The Churches. On Sunday next, the Baptist, alone of our churches, will be open for divine service.

Meeting at Johnston. On Saturday next, the Rev. Mr. Leard will begin a protracted Meeting at Johnston.

Death of Mrs. Goggans. Emma Goggans, the very handsome and unfortunate young woman of our County, who was tried for her life eighteen months ago, upon the charge of murdering her husband, is dead.

Hand in Your Bills. See the notice from Mr. W. F. Roach, Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners.

Must be a Hoax! Mr. Alvin Hart's announcement in another column, of his new 5 cents counters, must be a hoax.

A Pine Ceiling. The old ever-falling plastering (overhead) in our Court House has finally been knocked down forever, and Messrs. Cook and Morris have replaced it with a handsome pine ceiling, elaborately stripped.

Verbum Sap. If the retail merchants of Augusta, Grantville, Trenton and Johnston wish to get more trade than they can attend to, they should at once place their business cards in the Edgefield Advertiser.

A Ewing Man. Gen. Gary thinks that should Gen. Thomas Ewing be elected Governor of Ohio—the election comes off during this month—he will be the Democratic nominee for the Presidency next year; and he thinks too that Ewing is the right man.

Johnston. Can't disguise the fact, Johnston sells goods tremendously cheap, and pays the highest price for cotton.

For Ladies. Chameleon silk, as revived in richest dyes, in such contrasts as olive and gold, dark blue and gold, garnet and gold, garnet and blue, dark green and gold, pink and silver gray.

Be Considerate. Now that the season for realizing on cotton has rolled around we have a right to expect that those indebted to this office will come forward and settle up; and we hope they will not wait for a personal d.n.

For the Hood Children. On Friday night last, the ladies of Meeting Street, led by Mrs. D. C. Tompkins and Mrs. John Tompkins, of Mobile, gave a pleasant entertainment, musical and dramatic, in behalf of the Hood children.

New Steam Gin. Dr. Jas. H. Strom passed through our town last Saturday with a new Steam Gin which he proposes to put into operation at once. Dr. Strom is one of our most successful farmers and we are glad to see this in indication of his continued prosperity.

Home Again. Mr. Lebeschultz is back from New York, and the most elegant stock of goods in his line that was ever seen in Edgefield, is fast following him.

Not So Puffed Out. The inflation of ladies' dresses has been arrested in its development and the ladies are not to wear hoops just yet, despite all the predictions. Trained dresses will be slightly bouffant; short ones not at all so. We get this out of Demorest.

Episcopal Entertainment. The entertainment of the Episcopal ladies, in behalf of their church and rectory, will probably take place on the 16th or 17th of this month, October. A definite announcement, however, will be made next week.

Piano Tuning. Mr. Schmitt, the piano tuner and repairer, is still in Edgefield, doing the best work that was ever seen, or heard, or known.

Dark Corner. The article signed "Dark Corner," which reached us too late for publication in this issue, shall appear next week. And we return many thanks to our kind friend for his valuable remembrance of us.

Sunday School Union.

On Sunday last there was a large and very successful Union Sunday School Meeting at Spann's Church. The union was called to order by the singing of a very appropriate hymn by the choir, and prayer by Rev. J. L. Stokes, the pastor of the church. After this the audience was addressed by Mr. A. B. Watson, Superintendent of Providence Sunday School, in a very beautiful and eloquent style. The next address was delivered by R. B. Watson, Esq., Superintendent at Ridge Spring Baptist Sunday School, who is an earnest Sunday School man. If all denominations had such men as him, our Sabbath Schools would be more prosperous. He remarked that parents should teach their children to give, give to the "Master." After his address, the congregation had an intermission for one hour. In the afternoon the audience was addressed by W. J. Reedy, Esq., in a very forcible manner, after which they were dismissed to Capt. C. Ward and his pleasant lady.

Court.

Our fall term of the Court of General Sessions will begin on Monday morning next. In addition to the prisoners we named last week, must now be added John Simkins the negro man accused of shooting his wife. This is an ugly and a mysterious case.

Mr. Tillman.

The Hon. G. D. Tillman thinks that Tilden is undoubtedly and inevitably the coming man for the Democratic Presidential nomination. We do not say that Mr. Tilden is actually Mr. Tillman's choice, for on this point we are not certain; but either or no choice, Mr. Tillman thinks that Uncle Sammy is to be the man. And he seems to think that Uncle Sammy's being an enormously wealthy man adds tremendously to his chances.

Tom Butler's Dogs.

A full description of Mr. Thomas Butler's trained dogs, and his anticipated Northern tour, was given in the Evening News about five or six weeks ago. He left on Saturday with his troop of yelpers, and the boy who leads the trail for an exhibition through the North. His trip has nothing to do with the Hamburg riot or the Southern bloody shirt.—Augusta News.

A Warning.

Atlanta has a young woman who lacks consideration. On Wednesday last she met a prominent young lawyer on the street and presented him a baby two weeks old. He declined to receive it when she laid it on the pavement at his feet. He walked away when she picked up the child and walked with it by his side to his office. To say that social circles at Atlanta are stirred to their lowest depths but half expresses the truth.—Augusta Gazette.

It will occur to bondsmen, at once, that we cannot possibly go on without their substantial support; and that necessity is now upon us to urge upon them the payment of their bonds. We hope that no stronger influence than that of appeal to your love of the Institution will be necessary to prompt you to make as large payments as possible this Fall, and to continue payments until your obligations are fully discharged. We feel bound to accept nothing as an excuse for doing less, except absolute necessity. We have no word to fill into your hearts, if the repeated appeals we have made do not move you; and when we shall have exhausted all the means in our power, the responsibility will rest with you.

THE BONDSMEN OF FURMAN UNIVERSITY.

On the 20th of May last a Circular was issued announcing the necessity of reorganizing the University, fresh-making some changes, and requesting bondsmen to release us from the obligation to furnish further free tuition, upon specified conditions. It was proposed, however, though favorable in nearly every case, have not been sufficiently numerous to warrant the Trustees in assuming the responsibility of discharging the free system. It is our purpose, to continue the plan proposed when the bonds were signed.

THE BONDSMEN OF FURMAN UNIVERSITY.

On the 20th of May last a Circular was issued announcing the necessity of reorganizing the University, fresh-making some changes, and requesting bondsmen to release us from the obligation to furnish further free tuition, upon specified conditions. It was proposed, however, though favorable in nearly every case, have not been sufficiently numerous to warrant the Trustees in assuming the responsibility of discharging the free system. It is our purpose, to continue the plan proposed when the bonds were signed.

It will occur to bondsmen, at once, that we cannot possibly go on without their substantial support; and that necessity is now upon us to urge upon them the payment of their bonds. We hope that no stronger influence than that of appeal to your love of the Institution will be necessary to prompt you to make as large payments as possible this Fall, and to continue payments until your obligations are fully discharged. We feel bound to accept nothing as an excuse for doing less, except absolute necessity. We have no word to fill into your hearts, if the repeated appeals we have made do not move you; and when we shall have exhausted all the means in our power, the responsibility will rest with you.
