SUCCESS OF THE STATE FAIR. We attended the State Fair in Columbia last week, and are glad to say that, it every respec, it was a very commendable success. On this occasion, there was the largest num ber of exhibits ever collected at any previous State Fair, the total number of entries being over 2,000. The (xhibition of horses was undoubtedly very fine, and that of cattle, particularly those of fine breeds, better than heretofere. The hogs, of which there were a great many, were in excellent condition. There were a considerable number and creditable display of sheep and goats. The department of agricultural implements was well represented. In the household and fancy department the exhibits were full and the articles of a high order of merit. There were some fine specimens of choice breeds of poultry. There was a fine exhibit of pumpkins some weighing eighty pounds apiece. The field crop department, including small grain and samples of cotton, contained a very good collection. The only deficiency is said to have been in the department of garden products, owing to the extreme dry weather during the last summer.

The race horses were incomparably fine and the racing was on a grand

Thursday, the third day, was the most successful day of the Fair, the cash receipts being more than $2,000 and from all accounts the officers of the society are to be congratulated on its management. The people did well in turning out in such large numbers and the exhibitors deserve thanks for their energy.

In the mechanical department there was much worthy of study and attention-many new inventions and many improved agricultural implements.

THE WAY FOR THE SOUTH TO ESCAPE MAHONEISM.

The Columbia Register commenting upon the late disastrous political result in Virginia, concludes as follows: "Mahoneism in the South is a dreadful thing-an unmitigated curse. There is but one way we can see to escape it, and that is to let the pecple make their own nominations in perfect good faith. The day of settling the tickets to be put before nominating conventions is over. These conclaves of a dozen men or less in somebody's "room" setting up one and putting down another is about played out, and the people of South Carolina won't stand it any longer. There is a fair, honest way of consulting the popular wish and in making nominations-not over the people's heads, but such as they will unite upon with heart and hand. Do this and we are safe, but otherwise in debt for a house may have cause heaven. We warn the people of that "fools build houses and wise South Carolina against sending men to their conventions who can be led by the nose in the interest of heartless, ambitious, foolish public leaders, who imagine that their promotion the situation.

The substance of the situation as we understand it is a united people in full accord as to the nominations put before them. Let us all hear and heed.'

THE SOUTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

We are informed, says the Charles ton News and Courier, that a basis of settlement between the Purchasing Committee of the South Carolina Railroad and the Charleston Syndigate, involving the claim of the latler for expenses, &c., has been agreed upou, and that a final adjustment of the matters so long in dispute is now inent gentlemen held an informal

' is being so, the only unsettled question will be the appeal of Cockroft, who claims that the bidding at the sale of the road was chilled by sudden settlement made with one of the creditors who had determined to bid high for the property. We suppose that the 'Cockroft appeal can be disposed of, and in that event the road will soon be at the end of complications which promised to be interminable. Time is money, especially in railroad management, and too much time has been lost already.
