EXORBITANT FREIGHT CHARGES

If any further argument were required to convince the people of Edgfield and Charleston that direct railroad communication between the two places is desirable, it is absolutely necessary, it will be found in the following freight charges on a single ton of Ash Element Fertilizer, from Charleston to Trenton.

The ton cost in Charleston $20.00; freight charges to Columbia by S. C. R. R. $2.00; from Columbia to Trenton, $5.40; from Trenton to Edgfield at 20 cents a hundred, $4.00, making $11.40, more than half what the Guano costs. This is simply intolerable; and the people, the consumers, have to pay the piper.

Distance from Charleston to Columbia, 130 miles, $2.00 freight; from Columbia to Trenton, about 60 miles, freight charges, $5.40, one-fourth the value of the article; from Trenton to Edgfield, 6 miles, one-fifth more. Read and ponder! We're on the sun and see what would be saved to the people, in freight on guano alone, if we had direct railroad communication with Charleston.

In this case we have seen the freight bill with our own eyes, and we make no mistake.

Atlantic and French Broad Valley Railroad.

We are reliably informed that a direct proposition has recently been submitted to this Company by capitalists North, to build and equip the road, under certain conditions, within eighteen months. The conditions imposed are such, we are informed, as the Company can comply with, but other corporations are also negotiating with the Company and it is not yet determined which of them shall be awarded the prize. This, we suppose, depends upon the terms offered by each of them. Senator Butler has recently visited New York in the interest of the road, and through him certain propositions have been submitted.

We also received last Sunday, a telegram from a prominent railroad man, with whom we had a personal conference in Cincinnati last February, and with whom we have since had correspondence, stating that he was now ready to submit propositions to the Company, and was ready to visit our section for that purpose. We presume he will be in our midst in the course of a few days. The syndicate this gentleman represents proposes to build and equip.

THE MOST DESIRABLE Purchase Yet Offered.

NEAR THE RAILROAD.

234 ACRES OF LAND—150 OF WHICH IS cultivated, and is good cotton and grain land, with branch bottoms. This tract is situated three miles from Dorn's Gold Mine, one and a half miles from the Greenwood and Augusta Railroad, and two miles from probable deposit on said road. Dwelling house and two cabins. For terms, see R. G. M. DUNOVANT, Real Estate Agent, Edgfield, S. C., Oct. 20-11.

THE SEDGWICK STEEL WIRE FENCE.

THE above cut represents a section of the Sedgwick Steel Wire Fence, and is the best made at the North and Northwest in preference to any other kind of fencing. It is made of the best iron wire, and is of a size that has been tried and found to give the most satisfaction.

It is a net work without tarls and will keep out small pigs or any other animals that might injure gardens or farm crops. It makes no shade and shelters no enemies to crops or poultry.

It is just the fence for Gardens, Lots, Lawns, Parks and Cemeteries. Being dipped in Rust-proof paint it will last a life time, and is better than board fence in every respect. It is easily and quickly put up. Specimens of Fence and Gates Can be seen at the Advertiser's building, where a stock is kept on hand, and where all information as to price, etc., can be obtained. R. G. M. DUNOVANT, Edgfield, S. C.

COTTON TRADE OF THE WORLD.

Starting Facts for our English Country's Consideration.

The Department of State has issued an exhaustive statement of the cotton goods trade of the world, giving the report of forty six countries, and other interesting information. The raw cotton product of the several countries is estimated at about 3,500,000,000 pounds, viz: United States, 2,770,000,000; East Indies, 407,000,000; Egypt, Smyrna, &c., 269,000,000; Brazil, 44,000,000; and West Indies, 16,000,000. These figures show that the United States produces nearly four-fifths of the cotton crop of the world, and that it is beyond the productive power of any other country to compete with the United States in this direction.

The value of the cotton manufactures of the world are $1,348,310,000 according to a recent English publication, as follows: United Kingdom of Great Britain, $561,170,000; France, $37,200,000; Germany, $106,920,000; Russia, $102,000,000; Belgium and Holland, $63,180,000; Austria Hungary, $63,180,000; Italy, $24,300,000; Spain and Switzerland, $63,000,000; the United States, $233,230,000; and India, $34,000,000. This estimate does not include the goods manufactured by the other nations on the primitive hand looms, which in China alone amounts to 7,300,000,000 yards annually. The number of operatives in European cotton mills is estimated at 1,250,000, with 59,100,000 spindles; in the United States, 131,000 with 10,930,000 spindles. But the United States, with about one-fourth the number of operatives running in the United Kingdom, and with 181,000 operatives against 500,000 British operatives, is credited with a production, the value of which is more than one-half that of the United Kingdom, although in piece goods the American output was only as one yard to about two and a half yards of British. In confirmation of this startling exhibit, it appears from our census returns that the annual consumption of raw cotton by the mills of the United States amounts to 724,800,000 pounds or more than one-half the consumption of the British mills in 1870. From these returns it is seen that every American spindle consumes sixty-six pounds of raw cotton, while each British spindle consumes only thirty-two pounds, or less than one-half the American consumption per spindle.

The value of the imports of cotton goods into the United States is given as $29,929,000, as against $9,981,000 of exports. The excess of imports, however, consists of fancy goods, the domestic manufacture of which has not reached the perfection toward which it is tending.

England is the leader of the cotton goods trade of the world, her exports of raw cotton are 1,592,000, and in 1878 at 1,483,500; corn area at 2,218,000 in 1879 and 2,218,000 in 1878. North Carolina's cotton area is given at 625,900 in 1879 and at 500,500 in 1878; corn area at 1,711,900 in 1879 and at 1,662,000 in 1878. The whole thing from beginning to end looks to us like Departmental hush. If Georgia was planting 700,000 more acres in corn than in cotton in 1879, what was the ground of complaint about diminished corn area?

We are convinced that the statement of cotton area is absurdly under what it was for South Carolina as well as Georgia.

Now, as to yield per acre, we find this Department Report puts North Carolina for 1879 at 156 pounds lint per acre; South Carolina at 143 pounds, and Georgia at 156. So for 1878 we have North Carolina at 169 pounds, South Carolina at 163 pounds, and Georgia at 161 pounds.

We thus have South Carolina put in 1879 at an average of five pounds less than the worst average of twelve years in the cotton belt, which was in 1871-72.

The absurdity of the Department statement is shown in the fact that the accepted crop for South Carolina in 1879 is 522,000 bales, whilst the Agricultural Department figures are 135,077,800 pounds, or 337,694 bales of 400 pounds each—some 200,000 bales short.

In view of the whole matter we are not prepared to dispute, but rather to sustain, Lathan & Alexander's area figures for South Carolina in 1881-82, given at 1,656,000 acres. We are prepared to accept at the least 1,300,000 acres as South Carolina's cotton area in 1879. This, with an increase of 20 per cent on area of 1879 for 1880, would give South Carolina a cotton area of 1,560,000 acres in 1880, and with an increase of 6 per cent on area of 1880 for 1881 would give the State 1,652,000 acres cotton area for 1880-82.

We find the increase of area for cotton belt, as given by "Cotton Movement," was for 1880 over 27 per cent on 1879, and for 1881-82 some 1 per cent on 1880. We think, then, we may fairly take the area assigned South Carolina by the great New York banking house as not far from the truth.

With 1,656,000 as our cotton area, then, what of the crop? Taking the lowest average yield in twelve years of cotton belt, viz: 148 pounds per acre, we would have as South Carolina's crop 605,280 bales of 400 pounds each. Seventy-five per cent of this would give us a crop of 454,000 bales of 400 pounds each. Now, if South Carolina's area is correctly given by "Cotton Movement," it is impossible for the crop of the State to fall below these figures. We shall see.—Regis.

AN ENTIRELY NEW CABINET.

Even Secretary Lincoln to Retire—Longstreet for the Navy.

WASHINGTON, November 19.—It is reported that Secretary Lincoln will shortly retire voluntarily from the Cabinet, that Hon. Emory Storrs will be the new Attorney-General, and ex-Senator Chaffee, of Colorado, will succeed Mr. Kirkwood as Secretary of the Interior. Mr. Chaney of Illinois is mentioned as Postmaster-General, General Longstreet as Secretary of the Navy, and Gen. Peck, of this city, as Secretary of War.

A FATAL AFFRAY.—The late Barnwell Sentinel says: "A very unfortunate difficulty occurred near Bamberg on Saturday last between Mr. Frank Brabham, of Buford's Bridge, the particulars of which we have not been able to learn, other than that Brabham was shot with a double barreled shot-gun loaded with duck shot, some sixteen of which entered his side, inflicting a mortal wound from the effects of which he died on Monday last. Mr. Brabham is the third son of Major J. J. Brabham, our highly esteemed clerk of court, who has the sympathy of the entire community. Probery came up to Bamwell on Sunday last, surrendered himself to the Sheriff and is now in jail to await his trial, claiming to have acted in self-defense."

The Longley Manufacturing Company run the public school four months in the year at their own expense and give two hundred dollars annually to the ministers who officiate at the beautiful Union Church, which has been lately built.

Master's Sale. State of South Carolina. EDGFIELD COUNTY. In Common Pleas. D. R. Devisee, Plaintiff, against Z. T. Harris, Defendant. NOTICE is hereby given that by virtue of a decretal order of the Hon. Judge J. S. Cochran, dated Oct. 12, 1881, I will sell at Edgfield, S. C., on the first Monday in December next, the following described mortgaged premises, viz: That tract or parcel of land situated, lying and being in the county and State aforesaid, containing one hundred and twenty-six acres, more or less, and bounded by lands of W. Harris, Geo. Bland, and other lands of said D. R. Devisee.

Terms of sale.—One-half the purchase money and the cost to be paid in cash, and the balance on a credit of one year, with interest from date of sale. The credit term to be secured by the bond and mortgage of the purchaser. Titles and mortgage extra. S. S. TOMPKINS, Master E. C. November 19, 1881.

State of South Carolina. EDGFIELD COUNTY. In Common Pleas. Ezra B. Horton, Plaintiff, against Alexander Sharpton and Mary F. Holson, Defendants. NOTICE is hereby given that by virtue of a decretal order of the Hon. Judge J. S. Cochran, dated October 12, 1881, I will sell at Edgfield, S. C., on the first Monday in December next, the following tract of land, viz: A certain tract of land, situate in your corner area. We find, in Georgia's cotton area in 1879 given in this Department Statement at 1,592,000, and in 1878 at 1,483,500; corn area at 2,218,000 in 1879 and 2,218,000 in 1878.
