Their Daty.

It will clearly be the duty of our Senator and Representatives, when they take their seats in the General ty, in person and by counsel, and Mr. after reside. They were led by a luli fledged Mormon apostle, who gath-Assembly, to work for an appropriation sufficient to pay the Commissioners, Managers and Clerks of Election, and all other necessary expenses in connection therewith.

The Spekership of the House.

The Speakership of the House of Representatives, which he been held so brilliantly for three successive Edgefield, is now vacant. The struggle for this place will be sharp. The most prominent candidates are James Simons, of Charleston, George Johnstone, of Newberry, E. B. Murray, of Anderson, and Knox Livingstone, of Marlboro.

The Transit of Venus.

After being industrial, musical and artistic in Charleston this week, let Edgefield be scientific next week, and send a delegation to Aiken to see the Transit of Venus. This great astronomical event is to take place on Wednesday the 6th December. The delegation of German astronomers and the delegation of French astronomers are both in the field, vieing with each other. Both delegations, if we mistake not, have erected observatories; and their telescopes and instruments, lately arrived, are said to weigh thousands of pounds. We outside people, so it is said, will observe nothing strange, as it is only by means of powerful instruments that the Transit can be seen. The transit occurred last in 1874-eight years ago. Before that, it had not occurred in 1201 years. And after this, it will not occur again until the expiration of 125½ years.

The Greenville News warmly a vocates the election of E. B. Murral Esq., of Anderson, to the Speak in of the House of Representative the following from the News: "He will safely undergo the keenest scrutiny of his character and qualifications, and we do not know of a test that can be properly applied to one asking the office which he will not satisty. His natural ability is unquestioned, his integrity beyond question or doubt, and his long service as a member of the Legislature has given him an experience in parliamentary law and usage which, combined with his well known characteristics of close, careful study, energy and diligence, makes his equipment for the work of the Speakership complete and perfect."

Meeting of Co. "I," 24th S. C. V.

The survivors of this gallant old Company held an informal meeting in one of the rooms of the ADVER TISER building on Saturday the 18th November. Mr. E. Keese was chosen chairman, and Mr. S. C. Cartledge Secretary. Seventeen members were present. The Roll of the old Company was read and approved. On motion of Capt. J. P. Blackwell, a For Comptroller General: Committee of seven, consisting of J. P. Blackwell, Lieut. L. J. Miller, S. C. Cartledge, T. P. Robertson, Jesse Prince and J. W. Delaughter, was appointed to prepare a roll for the Adjutant and Inspector General. Co. "K" was requested, by resolution, to unite with Co. "I" at their next meeting-December 28th, 1882. On motion of Capt. Biackwell, the Rev. E. Capers, as well as the commission ed officers, was requested to be with "I' on that day. On motion, a of the ADVERTISER room.

Mr. Jabez Lanier was the first man and Mr. Press Anderson was the second, lost by this company. Much interesting information was elicited; and at the next meeting of the Company we hope to give it to our readers in detail. The meeting adjourned to meet on Thursday, 28th Decem-

Andrew J. Hammond, Esq., was the first Captain; L. B. Wever, second; James Tillman, third. Companies "I" and "K" were both from Edgefield, and both in the 24th Regiment. Jabez Lanier died first; Preston Anderson, second. Capt. James Tillman, Marbry Lanham and Oscar Quarles, of Co. "I," have died since the surrender. The Rev. Ellison Capers, at first, was Lieutenant-Colonel of the 24th Regt., and afterwards Colonel; and he was made a Brigadier towards the close of the late war. C. H. ### Col. O. F. Cheatham Holds the Clerk's Office.

The question involving the legality of the elections held for clerk of court, sheriff and coroner in several of the counties of the State came up before the State Board of Canvassers in Columbia on Friday last. Some time ago A rney-General Youmans announced it as his opinion that under the statute no election could be This week we publish a late ad- held this year for clerk of court in ent Mr. Simkins contended that the Constitution fixed the term of office for clerk of court at four years and that the Legislature could not interfere with it. Col. Cheatham, the terms by the Hon. J. C. Sheppard, of present incumbent of the office of clerk of court for Edgefield County, was elected in 1878.

Col. McMaster argued for the Horry contestant upon the same general line, and contended that the Legislature could not change the term of office of officers elected under the Constitution without violating their constitutional rights.

After discussing the points involved in these cases, the board of canvassers disposed of the matter by adopting a resolution to the effect that elections for clerk of court in counties other than Berkeley were not held in accordance with the statute laws and are illegal.

The cases arising out of the elec tions for clerk of court in Horry and Edgefield Counties will very likely be taken to the Supreme Court and argued upon the constitutional questions involved. The board of canvassers were not unanimous in their views upon the questions involved.
