GREAT AND UNEXPECTED DEMOCRATIC VICTORY IN OHIO.

The Republicans Carry Iowa, but by a Vastly Reduced Majority.

The result in Ohio on Tuesday, the 9th, was a grand victory for the Democracy.

The Republicans up to the day of election seemed confident, and the upshot is as much of a surprise to them as it is gratifying to the Democrats.

Judge Hoadley, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is elected by 12,000 majority, and the Legislature becomes largely Democratic.

As regards Iowa, the Republicans carry it, but by only 5,000 majority, a Republican loss of 25,000 since 1880.

These first signs of the campaign of 1884 boom out glorious hope for the Democracy.

On Thursday afternoon last, at a meeting of the Ohio Court House, Senator Callison gave an interesting account of the late Narrow Gauge Railroad Meeting.

Ohio's New Governor.

It is a mistake, says the Columbus Register, to suppose that Judge Hoadley is a recent convert from Republican morals and methods to the Democratic faith.

The following short sketch will serve to place this eminent citizen before our readers in a truer light than many of our people have been inclined to view him.

Judge Hoadley was born at New Haven, Conn., July 31, 1826, of which city his father was at one time Mayor.

He received elementary education at Cleveland, Ohio, and was graduated from the Western Reserve College at Hudson, Ohio, in 1844.

After a year he studied at the Cambridge Law School, and entered the office of Chase & Ballin in Cincinnati, and was admitted to the bar in August, 1847.

In 1849 he was admitted as a partner in the firm. He was elected in 1851 as Judge of the Superior Court of Cincinnati, and was City Solicitor in 1855.

Two years later he succeeded Judge Goshon on the bench of the same court, and was City Solicitor in 1855.

He was elected Governor of Ohio in 1867, and was re-elected in 1871. He was elected Governor of Ohio in 1867, and was re-elected in 1871.

The Outlook for Cotton Grows Worse and Worse.

WASHINGTON, October 10.—The cotton returns of the department of agriculture show that the condition of the crop on the first of October was worse than on the first of September.

The continuance of drought at many places, the ravages of worms in regions most infested, and the more visible results of previous injuries have reduced the general average of condition from 74 to 65.

In October of last year 88 forewashed a crop of seven millions. In October of 1881 the average was 66, and the crop less than five and a half million bales.

The rate of yield per acre was a third greater than last year. The indications point to a crop a little larger than that of 1881, but falling short of the last crop by more than one million bales.

The highest condition is in Florida where the small quantity that is planted and an early and favorable start. The lowest condition is in Texas.

The entire Gulf coast suffered both from drought and caterpillar. The more Northern States of the cotton belt escaped insect injuries and the worst severity of the dry season.

The averages of condition are as follows: Virginia 67, North Carolina 69, South Carolina 67, Georgia 65, Florida 52, Alabama 67, Mississippi 75.

An attempt was made for the first time in October to get an estimate of the probable yield of counties in hundredths of a bale per acre. The result after correction of obvious errors is stated as follows:

Virginia 36 hundredths of a bale per acre, North Carolina 37, South Carolina 32, Georgia 29, Florida 24, Alabama 31, Mississippi 35, Louisiana 43, Texas 32, Arkansas 46, Tennessee 33.

The State Convention of Baptists in South Carolina. Will meet with the first Baptist Church, Charleston, on Wednesday, November 21, 1883, at 10 o'clock a.m.

The Greenville and Laurens Road. Special Dispatch to the News and Courier, GREENVILLE, October 11.—Capt. Kirk, chief engineer of the Carolina Division of the Chicago, Carolina and Cumberland Gap Railway, has been chosen superintending engineer of the Greenville and Laurens Road.

The Citadel Academy.—The South Carolina Military Academy has opened with 150 cadets. Major Del Kemper, professor elect, is at the head of the school.

The marriage of Mr. John Robinson of Wadesboro, N. C. to Miss Harriet Adela Coleman, of Newberry, by the Rev. J. B. Wooten, in the Methodist church, Wednesday afternoon, was a highly interesting and happy event.

The growth of the South in material and industrial progress is illustrated by the great exposition, and the fact that the Louisville Exposition is the best thing ever done for the advancement of the South.

Florida has redeemed millions of acres of swamp land, and turned them into fertile fields and orchards. It has given its school and territory a new lease of life.

Alabama is rapidly developing mines of coal and iron that are making it the Pennsylvania of the South. Georgia is at once the New York of the South.

Massachusetts of this region, having taken the lead in the commercial and manufacturing departments of industry. Arkansas is rapidly paying off its debt, and has almost doubled its railroad mileage in two years.
