We had almost said a nasty, dirty, filthy dog. And so he is. And what is the use of gentility or logic in such a case as this? His name is Emory Speer, a North Georgia renegade who tried to play the role of Mahone in our sister State, but had not weight enough to carry through his traitorous schemes. In lieu of playing Mahone in Georgia, he is now coming to South Carolina to work with Sam Melton-and with drilled witnesses and packed juries-

This man Speer-he is of Athens if we mistake not-has been tendered by Attorney-General Brewster the position of special United States Attorney in the South Carolina election cases; and he has accepted. He is now in Washington studying the cases—as prepared by Butterworth, the special United States Attorney of last spring, and will arrive in Columbia Ti the latter part of the present week. The preparation of the cases on the part of the government is said to be complete, and it now looks as if the trials will be begun on Monday next. -And now let the hearts and hands of all Edgefield men-yea, and women-be open. The stirring appeal of County Chairman Bettis is before you. Hasten forward with your contributions, and teach Emory Speer and all other wretched renegades that the people of Edgefield stand by their fellows through thick and thin, and scorn to tremble before Melton, Speer, or any or all minions of the Radical Federal Adminis-

Proud and Emphatic Success of the ed on Friday afternoon last, after continuing four days, verified all predictions, and showed the most splendid exhibition and the vastest crowd any South Carolina Fair his ever had. A simple statement will prove the latter assertion. On Thursday -the great day-the gate receipts were $3,800, demonstrating a pay attendance of 7,000 adults. Making a just allowance for children at half price, there were 8,000 tickets sold. The exhibitors, attendants and members of the Society added at least a thousand to the list. A crowd of 9,000 people is large. And notwithstanding the crowding thousands that came from every quarter, everybody was provided for, and no one had cause to complain. Columbia spread herself for once in the way of fur nishing hospitable and generous accommodations, and we think all will concede her others. The process of ginning cotton by improved machinery seemed to excite general interest. The stock exhibit was more than fine; cattle attracted much attention and were universally admired. The number of this this Fair. The poultry department was particularly fine and extensive. The number and quality of fowls placed it in advance of anything of the kind that has preceded it. The variety seemed almost endless, and all were surprised and delighted at the magnificent display. The varieties exhibited by Col. A. P. Butler, of Edgefield, and Mr. Pelham-Clinton, of Richmond, Va.,

But it is vain for us to essay a protracted account of this great Fair. To do it justice would require the whole of a daily paper for one solid week.

All of the amusements were eminently beautiful and successful-the Governor's Guard's Hop, the Promenade Concert, the State Ball, the Japanese Pyrotechnics, the Grand Fire Works, the German of the South Carolina Club.

All South Carolinians may well feel proud of the State Fair just closed.
