L. B. WHATLEY, Troy. Terrible and Melancholy Death of Licut. John Butler.

J. S. MERCHART, Merchant. T. R. WHATHEY Parksville.

As we write, on Tuesday afternoon, the body of one of the noblest young men of our acqueintance is being laid among the ashes of his kindred at old Sweetwater Church—the body of Lieut. John Butler, of the Edgefield Hussare, who, on yesterday, met his death by a terrible accident-cut almost in twain and almost instantly killed by a circular saw. As yet we do not know the details of this terrible casualty. By it a large and devoted family loves an idolized member, while South Carolina is deprived of a citizen whose tone was incomparably high. Lient, John Butler was the second son of Col. A. P. Butler, our State Commissioner of Agriculture, and was about thirty years of age. His loving comrades, the Edgefield Hussars, are in attendance upon his funeral obse

And as regards Dr. Burt, the spokesman and scientific man of the troupe, he is a born comic actor, and one of brilliant gifts. He would make Job forget his troubles and laugh, and the Mother of the Maccabees, and Lazarus, and Poe's Raven, and all the other melancholy characters of sacred and secular history. Tax Sales.

MESSR3. EDITORS: The County Anditor has advertised, in the columns of the Edgefield Chronicle, for sale, under the head of "Delinquent Land Sales." a certain "House and Lot." described as situated in "Wise Town ship," which said property the undersigned, as guardian, had returned. I will, by way of explanation, submit the following brief statement:

For the Advertiser.

Concerning Certain Belinquent

In the month of October of last year, and before the time for the payment of taxes had expired, I offered to pay, and tendered in lawful money, at Bethany. The Rev. J. P. Mealing will to the County Treasurer at his office, the full sum of all taxes assessed and at Horn's Creek in the afternoon. The charged against said property, as lying and being in the said Wise Township; that is to say, all State and County taxes. But the said Treasurer refused to receive and receipt for the same. The correctness of this statement, I apprehend, will not be denied.

In view of the above, will any fair minded man say that said property is delinquent, or that I am in default. as to said State and County tax? Will the executive branch of the govern ment force to sale said property on account of State and County taxes? Has the administration of the affairs of this State fallen into the hands of men so unmindful of the principles of justice and the property rights of individual citizens, as to permit such

The Lutheran Church at Leesville Wins an Injunction Case in Court.

Hon. Wm. T. Gary received intelli gence to day from across the river of winning an important case, in which he represented in his able, earnest and eloquent way, the Lutheran church and congregation in Leesville, S. C. The issue was the settlement of the church and school property in Leesville, school trustees having taken charge of the property and the con-gregation having brought a bill of inunction restraining the school trustees n their action.

The church and congregation were represented by Major Gary, of Au gusta, and H. A. Meetze, Esq., of Lexington, the counsel on the other side being B. W. Bettis, E-q, of Eige-field, and Attorney General Youmans, of South Carolina. The bill of in-junction was argued before Judge Kershaw, in Camdem, a few days ago by Major Gary and Attorney General Youmans, and after reserving his opinion the Judge has given his decision in favor of the church and congregation.-Augusta Evening News.

To the Southwest. where a large Mexican trade is growing year by year, this will be a serious nless the action of the Schate Edmunds got pretty badly gored by is reconsidered and the treaty con firmed, but the vote does not give much promise of such a result .- Req ister.

> Three homicides in South Carolina were reported in the News and Cou rier yesterday. One was in Richland, where an old and inoffensive man was beaten to death, and two were in Lancaster. No one of the accused has been arrested so far; but, in the Richland case, the constables are hunting for the offender, and, in the Lancaster cases, warrants have keen issued. Nothing less than the hanging of some specimen whiskey drink ing man-killers will put a s op to the ploody work .- News and Courier.

There is some surprise among Sen ator Butler's friends at his modified attitude on the repeal of the internarevenue laws. He appears to have adopted the views of Mr. Phil Thompson, of Kentucky, whose bill is said to be really that of Speaker Carlisle, and represents a compromise that the whiskey men agree to. As Senator Butler is to make a speech upon this subject, it may be just as well to wait until he defines his position; but I am pretty confident that it will not differ materially from his published opinion in the News and Courier of last week .- Augusta Chroni-
