A LESSON.

A little elbow leans upon your knee, Your tired knee that has so much to bear; A child's dear eyes are looking lovingly From underneath a thatch of tangled

Perhaps you do not heed the velvet touch Of warm, moist fingers holding yours so tight: You do not prize the blessing overmuch-You are almost too tired to pray to-night

But it is blessedness! A year ago I did not see it as I do to-day. We are all so dull and thankless, and too

To catch the sunshine till it slips away. A d now it seems surpassing strange to me That while I wore the badge of motherhood I did not kiss more oit and tenderly The little child that brought me only

And if, some night, when you sit down to You miss the little elbow on your tired

This lisping tongue that chatters con stantly; If from your own the dimpled hands had alipped, And ne'er would nestle in your palm again; If the white feet into the grave had trip-

I could not blame you for your head ache then.

I wonder that some mothers ever fret, Their little children clinging to their gowns; Or that the footprints, when the days are

Are ever black enough to make them frown;
If I could find a little muddy boot,

Or cap, or jacket on my chamter floor—
If I could kiss a rosy, restless foot
And hear it patter in my hous; once

If I could mend a broken cart to-day To-morrow make a kite to reach the sky There is no woman in God's world could

She was more blissfully content than I. But ah! the dainty pillow next my own Is never rumpled by a shining head. My singing birdling from its nest has flown The little boy I used to kiss is—dead.

A Carolinian's Death

Blows Out His Brains Without Apparent Reasons. Baltimore Sun.

Justice Dorsey held an inquest on Saturday afternoon over the remains of young Maham Lee Ward, of South Carolina, who shot and killed himself, Friday night, at the residence of Mr. R. J. Capron, the husband of the young man's aunt, Woodlawn, Rowland avenue, Baltimore county. Mr. Capron testified that his nephew had made his home at his house for the past five years. He was of a gay and genial disposition. He indulged in liquor at times, but not to excess. He suffered greatly from headache, which he inherited from his mother. To cure this he had of late taken large quantities of bromide of potassa.

His nephew had said in a joking way that he thought he would kill himself. Of late he had been stopping in Baltimore all night. On Friday he came home all right, dined at o'clock and ate a hearty meal. Before the dessert was served he left the table and retired to his room, complaining with his head. Mrs. Capron, his aunt, followed him to his room and remained with him half an hour. When she returned to the table she remarked that Lee might shoot himself. She had scarcely made the remark when a crash was heard upstairs. He and Mrs. Capron at once ran up the steps and found Lee lying at full length on the floor. A Smith & Wesson 32 calibre revolver was by his side. His head was lying in a pool of blood. Mr. Capron also stated that his nephew had an interest in a large estate, which dies with him Mrs. Lee, his grandmother, holds a life estate in his property. At her death the property would go to heirs in Ohio. His nephew was engage to be married Oct. 28. Mrs. Capron corroborated the statement of her husband. Dr. R. B. Norment told how the body was lying when he saw it. The indications were that Ward stood before the mirror when he shot himself. He said the following note was found in his pocket addressed to a friend, Mr. Stone:

"October 7 .- My dearest friend: I am to be married on the 28th to the lady of my choice. She has just lost her father, and the wedding will be a quiet one. Can you come to it? I would dearly love to go to your place on my wedding trip, but as I cannot you must come in time to see the boy of old tied up. Answer if you can. M. L. W."

The jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by his own hands during a temporary aberration of the mind. Young Ward had made the request to the Capron family that when he died he wanted to be laid beside his father and mother in South Carolina. To carry out this wish Mr. Capron and his entire family have gone with the remains to South Carolina, where the funeral will take place. It is stated that both families approved of the marriage of young Ward and his fiance.

Two Very Ugly Twins. They 70 hand in hand, and lead their victims a terrible trot down into the valley of the shadow of death.
One is neuralgia, the other rheumatism.
These generally proceed from disordered blood. Brown's Iron Bitters knocks out these ugly twins by setting the blood spirit and increase. ting the blood aright and invigorating the system. Mr. W. T. Osborne, of Coxville, Ala., used Brown's Iron Bitters for rheumatism and neuralgia with most happy effect. It also cures dyspepsia. It Shall Put Sickness and Suffering

Under Poot! It shall cure all the people and put sickness and suffering, under foot! We mean Penn's Bitters, the comfort, the refuge, the salvation of millions. Add disease upon disease, and let the worst come, we are safelf we use Penn's Bitters. Though thou diest with dyspepsia, torpid liver, billousness and headache yet shall thou live if thou takest Penn's Bitters. What woman is there, weak, feeble and sick, who useth Penn's Bitters, and is not made strong and cheerful by it? Indeed all our pains and aches and diseases go like chaff before the wind whenever we wisely have recourse to Penn's Bitters.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The dectors gave me up. 1 tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced eleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old. bu'e and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.

One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The door or said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no suc-cess, I was cured by the use of Ayer's CHER-RY PECTORAL JOSEPH WALDEN." Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AVER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRAGDON." Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882. ATLANTA, GA., Feb. 20, 1884. DR. J. KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purifica-tion of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tu-mors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Phy-sical Collapse, etc. If allowed to con-tinue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Ca-tarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and vari-ous other dangerous or fatal muladies, are produced by it.

Ayer's Sarsaparina

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it cradicates from the system Hereditary Serofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Lodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world. Ayer's Sarsaparilla
